Blueprint Financial Advisors, LLC

Form CRS Customer Relationship Summary (November 25, 2024)

Blueprint Financial Advisors LLC ("BFA") is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at <https://www.investor.gov/CRS>, which also provides educational materials about broker dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

BFA offers different tiers of investment advisory services to retail investors (families, individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable organizations, business entities, trusts and estates) which include, depending upon portfolio size: portfolio management, financial planning and consultation services, retirement plan consulting, and estate planning. Our services are tailored to your needs and specific investment objectives. BFA provides ongoing monitoring and maintenance of account performance, asset allocation and client investment objectives. Prior to providing investment advisory services, a BFA investment adviser representative will ascertain each client's current financial situation, investment objectives, risk tolerances, restrictions and determine the scope of services. We typically recommend investment allocation among mutual funds, exchange traded funds, structured notes, stocks (common or preferred), bonds, option contracts, certificates of deposit and other related securities.

BFA manages its client's advisory accounts on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis, according to each client's advisory agreement-meaning that we either recommend investments to you and you will make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments (non-discretionary), or we will make the investment decisions on your behalf without speaking to you prior to doing so (discretionary). Engagements are typically subject to an annual investment advisory fee based upon a percentage of the market value of the assets under management. There is no account minimum requirement. Account supervision is guided by the client's financial situation and investment objectives, which are subject to change at the client's discretion. For additional information, please see Blueprint Financial Advisors LLC' Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure, items 4 and 7 at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov>

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional – Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

For investment advisory services, BFA typically charges a tiered ongoing management fee based on a percentage of assets under management, which is billed on a quarterly basis according to the fee schedule in your advisory agreement. For an asset-based fee, the more assets that are in a client's advisory account, the more a client will pay in fees. Therefore, we may have an incentive to encourage clients to increase the assets in his or her account. For financial planning and consulting services, we charge a fixed or hourly fee, which is generally billed at the end of the engagement. However, the client and BFA may also negotiate alternative payment arrangements at their discretion.

BFA is under common ownership with affiliates Blueprint Fund Management LLC ("BFM") and Blueprint Investment Partners LLC ("BIP"). BFM is paid a fee to provide advisory services to the Blueprint Adaptive Growth Allocation Fund and the Blueprint Chesapeake Multi-Asset Trend ETF (the "Affiliated Funds"). If affiliated funds are used in conjunction with any BFA-related services, please note that both BFA and BFM will charge an advisory fee on a portion of or all of the same assets. BFA also pays BIP to help administer its investment strategies in client accounts. No additional fee is charged to client accounts for this service. In addition to the advisory fees assessed, all BFA clients will also incur an annual technology fee of $50. The specific fees charged by BFA for services provided will be set forth in each client's Agreement.

Clients are generally responsible for paying brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees incurred in connection with transactions in their accounts (e.g., transaction fees are typically charged for certain no-load mutual funds; commissions are charged for options transactions). In addition to BFA's management fee, brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees, clients will also incur, relative to all mutual fund and exchange traded fund purchases, charges imposed at the fund level (e.g. management fees and other fund expenses) and, for independent investment managers, the fees charged by each separate manager who is engaged to manage the assets. In either case, all fees and expenses paid to the firm are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by custodians and individual mutual funds or ETFs.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For additional information, please see Blueprint Financial Advisors LLC' Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure, item 5 at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov>

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional – Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

Blueprint Financial Advisors, LLC

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- In addition to BFM and BIP, our firm is under common ownership with Robinson-Langley Capital Management, LLC ("RL Capital"), CapInsights Partners, LLC ("CapInsights"), Blueprint Insurance Services ("BIS"), Maplewood Investments Inc. ("MPLW"), and MIAI, Inc. ("MIAI"). A conflict of interest exists if our financial professionals recommend investment activities or other business engagements with RL Capital, CapInsights, BIS, BFM, MPLW, MIAI and/or BIP.
- As stated above, our firm is under common ownership with advisory affiliate BFM. BFM manages Affiliated Funds, which creates a conflict of interest when our financial professionals recommend Affiliated Funds to client accounts.
- Certain firm personnel are registered representatives of Kingswood Capital Partners and/or MPLW, both SEC-registered broker-dealers. A conflict of interest exists if such persons receive compensation or commissions in connection with the purchase of securities in mutual funds or other investment products.
- In select situations, BFA enters into loan agreements with certain of its Investment Advisor Representatives ("IAR") to ensure the IAR has adequate resources and financial support during their transition to BFA to continue providing advisory services in the best interest of BFA clients. This arrangement creates a conflict of interest for the IAR to favor transactions and strategies that increase revenue in firm strategies.
- In select situations, BFA will enter into a written agreement with other third parties for consulting services provided in support of BFA's portfolio management services for certain accounts. In these situations, a portion of the client's advisory fee may be shared with the third-party consultant.

For additional information, please see Blueprint Financial Advisors LLC' Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure, item 10 at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov>

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional – How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are primarily independent contractors, although a portion are employees or employees of an affiliated company. The agreement between each financial professional and BFA sets out the payments we make to them. Those who provide investment advisory services receive a portion of the advisory fee you pay. Financial professionals that are registered representatives of Kingswood Capital Partners and/or MPLW, receive a portion of the commissions or markups/markdowns from your trades. (see the previous section for more information). Receiving a portion of the advisory or commissions or markups/markdowns creates an incentive for them to encourage you to increase your investment account size or trade more frequently.

Certain firm personnel are licensed insurance agents of BIS. In such a capacity, persons will receive a portion of any commissions or additional compensation on the sale of certain annuities and insurance products including but not limited to fixed annuities, life and health insurance. Such payments create a conflict of interest by giving such persons an incentive to recommend the purchase of annuities and insurance products where a commission or other compensation is received.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes, some of them do. Visit <https://www.investor.gov/CRS> or a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional – As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
