

Riggs Asset Management Company, Inc.– Form CRSItem 1 – Introduction

Riggs Asset Management Company, Inc. (“we” or “us”) is registered with the Securities Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. Investment Advisors have services and compensation structures that differ from a registered broker-dealer, and it is important for you to understand the differences between those structures. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS. The site also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing. The italicized sentences appearing in text boxes below are intended to be “conversation starters” for you to have with us, as required by the instructions to Form CRS.

Item 2 – Relationships and ServicesWhat investment services and advice can you provide me?

As fiduciaries, we offer to provide discretionary investment management and limited financial consulting services to individuals and their trusts and estates (“clients,” “you,” or “retail investors”). We manage portfolios based on each client’s unique investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, withdrawal requirements, and other special circumstances. We monitor portfolios periodically and make changes to them as we determine necessary. If we manage your portfolio on a discretionary basis, we have the authority to buy and sell investments in your accounts without speaking to you before doing so. If you would like to place a reasonable restriction on the securities that we buy, you must notify us ahead of time, in writing. If we manage your portfolio on a non-discretionary basis, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments, and we cannot execute any account transactions without obtaining your prior consent. If we cannot reach you to get your consent, we would not be able to execute that transaction which could put your portfolio at a disadvantage. We do not have to limit the type of securities we trade to proprietary products or a limited group or type of investment. We generally construct and manage portfolios consisting of various individual equity and fixed income securities, mutual funds, and/or exchange traded funds (“ETFs”). Upon request, we may also provide limited financial consulting services on a stand-alone, separate fee basis. When we provide those services, we rely upon the information clients provide and do not verify or monitor it. We do not have any requirements for retail investors to open or maintain an account or establish a relationship in order to receive those services. For more detailed information about our Advisory Business and the Types of Clients we generally service, please see Items 4 and 7, respectively in our Form ADV Part 2A.

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of ConductWhat fees will I pay?

We are fiduciaries. We do not accept commissions from third parties for the services we provide to you. For investment advisory services, our fee is generally based on upon a percentage of the market value of each account placed under our management according to the following fee schedule: 1.00% on the first $5M of portfolio market value; 0.85% on the next $5M of portfolio market value; 0.75% on the next $5M of portfolio market value; and a negotiable percentage applied on the value of portfolios exceeding $15M. We deduct our fees from one or more of your investment accounts, or bill you for our services on quarterly in advance. Because this fee is based on the amount of your assets under our management, the more assets you designate for our management, the more you will pay for our services. Therefore, we may have an incentive to encourage you to increase the amount of assets that you designate for our management. However, under the fee schedule, as the value of assets under our management increases, the applicable fee percentage decreases incrementally. For stand-alone financial consulting services, we generally charge $300 per hour.

Your account will be held with a qualified custodian. You will also be responsible for the fees and expenses charged by qualified custodians and imposed by broker dealers. Those fees and expenses include but are not limited to, transaction charges, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. If your assets are invested in mutual funds, ETFs, or other registered and unregistered investment companies, you will bear your pro rata share of the investment management fees and other fees of the funds, which are in addition to the fees you pay us. These fees and expenses are described in each fund’s prospectus or other offering documents. Those fees are during the time period you own those investments.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For more detailed information about our fees and costs related to our management of your account, you can read Item 5 in Form ADV Part 2A.

Conversation Starters:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- * We may recommend a particular custodian from whom we receive support services. This presents a conflict of interest, because our receipt of their support makes us more inclined to continue using and recommending them.
- * We may recommend rollovers out of employer-sponsored retirement plans and into Individual Retirement Accounts that we manage for an asset-based fee. If we do not currently manage your account held with your employer's plan, this will increase our compensation.

Conversation Starters:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

For more detailed information about our conflicts of interest, please review Item 4, 11, 12, and 14 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are generally compensated on a salary basis and are eligible to receive discretionary bonuses that can be but are not necessarily based on the acquisition of new clients and their growth of assets. In addition, some of our financial professionals are equity owners of the firm, who stand to receive a share of the firm's profits. This structure presents conflicts of interest, because it can incentivize our financial professionals to recommend that you place additional assets under our management. We mitigate that conflict by adhering to our fiduciary duty. Our fiduciary duty mandates us to make recommendations in conformity with each client's investment strategy. If you have questions about our compensation, you should discuss it directly with us.

Item 4 – Disciplinary History

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?
