Order on Status

The Securities and Exchange Commission issued an order instituting proceedings (OIP) on June 18, 2015. The only respondent remaining is GC China Turbine Corp., a revoked Nevada corporation located in Wuhan, China, with securities registered with the Commission.¹ The proceeding has been on my docket since September 12, 2018. Pending Admin. Proc., Admin. Proc. Rulings Release No. 5955, 2018 SEC LEXIS 2264 (ALJ Sept. 12, 2018).

In response to notice from the Division of Enforcement that it intended to file for default against GC China Turbine pursuant to Article 15 of the Hague Convention on the Service Abroad of Judicial and Extrajudicial Documents in Civil or Commercial Matters,² I issued an order suggesting that the Division might consider Nev. Rev. Stat. § 14.030(1) to achieve service because I know of no Commission proceeding where a default has issued relying on Article 15 of the Hague Convention and the Chinese Ministry of Justice's return of service under the Convention stated that service was not made on GC China

Turbine due to a bad address.³ Bio Coral Inc., Proc., Admin. Proc. Rulings Release No. 6395, 2018 SEC LEXIS 3477 (ALJ Dec. 11, 2018).

I have heard nothing from the Division since my order. Now that the five-week government shutdown has ended and the stay of administrative proceedings has been lifted, I would like the Division to let me know how it intends to proceed by February 28, 2019. See Pending Admin. Proc., Securities Act Release No. 10603, 2019 SEC LEXIS 37 (Jan. 30, 2019).

³ I also suggested that the Commission might modify the Rules of Practice to prevent companies headquartered outside the United States from avoiding service.
