

Form CRS Client Relationship Summary

Cabana LLC d/b/a Cabana Asset Management

March 26, 2024

Item 1 – Introduction: Is an investment advisory account right for you?

Cabana LLC, doing business as Cabana Asset Management, is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Please be aware that brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and that it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 – What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Principal investment advisory services offered to retail investors include portfolio management and financial planning.

As part of our standard portfolio management services, we monitor your portfolio(s) and provide regular account supervisory and management services. Our portfolio management services are offered either on a discretionary basis or, in limited circumstances, on a non-discretionary basis. For most retail clients, the investment services we provide are discretionary and include our proprietary Multi-Strategy Professional Series, Target Drawdown Series, Target Beta Series, and Target Income. Some may include customized Fixed Income Strategies, including Treasury Ladders.

Discretionary authorization allows us to determine the specific securities and the amount of securities to be traded for your account, without your approval prior to each transaction. Separate account clients may limit our discretion by providing written restrictions or guidelines. Non-discretionary arrangements require us to obtain your approval prior to executing transactions on behalf of your account. We do not monitor the investments made as a result of a financial plan unless you have hired us for portfolio management services. We do not limit our advice to proprietary products, or a limited menu of products or types of investments. We do not require a specific minimum account size to establish a relationship with us but investment in our proprietary products is subject to minimum investment amounts. We reserve the right to waive the minimum investment amount.

For additional information regarding our services, please refer to Items 4, 7, & 13 of our Form ADV Part 2A, available here.

Conversation starters (additional follow-up questions you may want to ask your financial professional):

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – What fees will I pay?

Our fee is usually based on a percentage of assets under our management and varies based on the services you receive and is negotiable depending upon the complexity and scope of the service, your financial circumstances, your objectives, and the amount of assets under management, among other factors.

Our fee is usually payable in arrears, either monthly or quarterly depending on the custodian's practices. We have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account because the more assets there are in your account, the more fees you will pay.

We may provide financial planning services, on a case-by-case basis, complementary to our investment advisory services. We reserve the right to charge hourly or fixed fees or other fee payment arrangements for financial planning services.

For additional information regarding our fees, please refer to Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A, available here.

Description of other fees and costs:

The fees that you pay to us are separate from the fees and expenses charged by investment companies (e.g., mutual funds, exchange traded funds, unit investment trusts). Those fees are described in each fund's prospectus and will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. You may also incur transaction charges or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities, typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian that executes the trade. The broker-dealer or custodian may also charge your account for custodial fees, retirement account fees, trust fees, exchange fees, redemption fees that may be assessed on investment company shares, transfer fees, account termination fees, or other special service fees and charges. We do not share in any portion of these fees. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by investment companies, broker-dealers, our firm, and others. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand your fees and costs.

For additional information about fees charged by third parties, please refer to Item 5 of Form ADV Part 2A, available here.

Conversation starters (additional follow-up questions you may want to ask your financial professional):

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

All investment advisers face conflicts of interest, which are inherent in the business. Our primary source of compensation is through asset-based fees. Therefore, we are incentivized to acquire new clients and to increase assets under management. Other conflicts of interest result from other business activities we engage in and from relationships we have with business partners and third parties, or affiliations we have established with other financial institutions.

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts.

Cabana serves as sub-advisor to a suite of ETFs ("Cabana ETFs") launched in partnership with private label ETF advisor Exchange Traded Concepts ("ETC") and is responsible for the Cabana ETF investment strategies. Cabana receives an asset management fee for its investment advisory services related to the Cabana ETFs. The investment strategies in the Cabana ETFs are similar to that of Cabana's other core portfolios and are managed via Cabana's proprietary algorithm. Additionally, Cabana's Multi-Strategy Professional Series of Portfolios primarily invests in Cabana ETFs. Cabana has implemented procedures designed to disclose, minimize, and mitigate, as applicable, any conflicts arising from using its proprietary products within Cabana's portfolios or to minimize operational and trading issues that may arise from operating similar strategies.

For further information on our conflicts of interest and how we address them, please refer to our Form ADV Part 2A, available here.

Conversation starters (additional follow-up questions you may want to ask your financial professional):

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals receive a percentage of advisory billings. Therefore, our financial professionals have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. Some of our financial professionals are insurance agents, which creates a conflict of interest because these persons will receive additional commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of insurance products they sell to you. Financial professionals who are also lawyers or CPAs also receive separate fees for legal or accounting services that are separate and distinct from our advisory fees. You are not obligated to purchase insurance or utilize non-advisory services offered by any of our financial professionals.

Item 4 – Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No for our firm, yes for some of our financial professionals. ~~All of those matters are resolved.~~

For a free, simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals please visit Investor.gov/CRS.

Conversation starters (additional follow-up questions you may want to ask your financial professional):

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Item 5 – Additional Information
