

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
Before the
SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934
Release No. 106539 / September 30, 2026

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING
File No. 3-22760

In the Matter of

TYLER MACKECHNIE,

Respondent.

ORDER INSTITUTING
ADMINISTRATIVE AND CEASE-AND-DESIST PROCEEDINGS PURSUANT TO SECTIONS 15(b)(6) AND 21C OF THE
SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934,
MAKING FINDINGS, AND IMPOSING
REMEDIAL SANCTIONS AND A CEASE-AND-DESIST ORDER

I.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission”) deems it appropriate and in the public interest that public administrative and cease-and-desist proceedings be, and hereby are, instituted pursuant to Sections 15(b)(6) and 21C of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Exchange Act”) against Tyler MacKechnie (“MacKechnie” or “Respondent”).

II.

In anticipation of the institution of these proceedings, Respondent has submitted an Offer of Settlement (the “Offer”) which the Commission has determined to accept. Solely for the purpose of these proceedings and any other proceedings brought by or on behalf of the Commission, or to which the Commission is a party, and without admitting the findings herein, except as to the Commission’s jurisdiction over him and the subject matter of these proceedings, which are admitted, and except as provided herein in Section V, Respondent consents to the entry of this Order Instituting Administrative and Cease-and-Desist Proceedings Pursuant to Sections 15(b)(6) and 21C of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Making Findings, and Imposing Remedial Sanctions and a Cease-and-Desist Order (“Order”), as set forth below.

III.

On the basis of this Order and Respondent’s Offer, the Commission finds¹ that:

¹ The findings herein are made pursuant to Respondent’s Offer of Settlement and are not binding on any other person or entity in this or any other proceeding.

Summary

1. These proceedings arise out of unregistered broker activity by MacKechnie who, between 2020 and 2025 (the “Relevant Period”), solicited U.S. retail investors to trade in security-based swaps. MacKechnie owned and operated Envi LLC (“Envi”), an unregistered entity that held itself out as a broker and offered customers the ability to trade “contracts for differences” or “CFDs,” based on stocks, commodities, and other assets. A CFD is an agreement to exchange the difference in value of an underlying asset between the time at which a CFD position is established and the time at which it is terminated. Because the values of the stock-based CFDs were based on a single security, including the value thereof, they qualified as security-based swaps under the federal securities laws.

2. During the Relevant Period, MacKechnie violated Section 15(a)(1) of the Exchange Act by effecting transactions in, and inducing, or attempting to induce, the purchase or sale of security-based swaps for the account of others without being registered with the Commission as a broker-dealer or being associated with a registered broker-dealer.

Respondent

3. Tyler MacKechnie, age 32, resides in Miami Beach, Florida. From 2020 to 2025, MacKechnie owned and operated Envi. MacKechnie has never been registered with the Commission in any capacity and has never been associated with any entity registered with the Commission.

Other Relevant Entity

4. Envi is a privately-owned entity incorporated in St. Vincent and the Grenadines with operations in the United States. Envi operated the branded online brokerage located at www.envifx.com from 2020 to 2025 and is no longer in operation. Envi has never been registered with the Commission in any capacity.

Facts

5. In 2020, MacKechnie, a prominent figure in online trading communities, launched an unregistered online broker called Envi. To launch Envi, he contracted with third parties providing ready-to-operate, online white-label brokerage services (“white-label service providers”) to obtain the necessary technology and infrastructure to host a broker under the Envi brand. The white-label service providers introduced MacKechnie to other service providers for the purpose of establishing an overseas corporate entity for Envi. The white-label service providers then designed a website for Envi that offered CFDs for trading issued by the white-label service providers, including stock-based CFDs, and provided back-office systems, sub-licenses for a third-party trading application, pricing and liquidity for the trades, custodial services for customer funds, trading support, and Know Your Customer (“KYC”) verification. The white-label service providers provided the default CFDs offered for trading on Envi’s website.

6. MacKechnie was responsible for marketing Envi and soliciting customer interest in trading through Envi. MacKechnie marketed Envi by promoting the broker to his online network, which included U.S. residents. MacKechnie also recruited affiliates, who received transaction-based compensation, to promote using Envi to trade, including stock-based CFDs, to their own networks. MacKechnie used the Envi website and social media, such as Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter, to promote using Envi to trade, including stock-based CFDs. Following these efforts, customers deposited approximately $34 million into their Envi trading accounts during the Relevant Period.

7. To trade, customers registered on the Envi website, funded their trading accounts with Bitcoin or other crypto assets that were custodied in a margin account by the white-label service providers, and then received access to trading products and services provided by the white-label service providers. Envi agreed to maintain the balance of the margin account by adding funds when the margin account fell below a prescribed threshold. While trading occurred through the third-party trading application, customers viewed their trading history and account balances through the Envi website. Customers understood their trading to be done through Envi as the broker.

8. MacKechnie further engaged in operational efforts to support Envi's brokerage business and customer experience. MacKechnie interacted with Envi customers, raised questions and issues on behalf of customers to the white-label service providers, and processed certain withdrawals by customers. He also monitored the business in coordination with the white-label service providers.

9. Envi offered CFD trading based on a variety of financial assets, including stocks traded on U.S. and European exchanges, foreign currency exchange, crypto assets, broad-based equity indices, such as the Nasdaq-100, and commodities. Specifically, Envi offered trading in stock-based CFDs based on 37 different equities listed on European and U.S. exchanges. The majority of the CFD trading activity was based on foreign currency exchange, but customers were able to, and did, regularly trade stock-based CFDs. The CFD trading allowed customers to speculate on the price of the underlying asset without taking ownership of that asset—the asset was not bought, sold, or custodied anywhere. When trading the CFDs, customers selected whether they wanted to take a long or short position. Customers who purchased a “long” CFD profited if the price of the corresponding asset increased and incurred a loss if it decreased. Customers who purchased a “short” CFD profited if the price of the corresponding asset decreased and incurred a loss if it increased. Customers were offered significant leverage for these trades with large potential upside, but also significant downside.

10. Envi charged customers a commission per trade, which was collected by the white-label service providers and shared with Envi. Envi also received a portion of fees paid by customers for “swaps” (i.e., when a customer held a trade open past market close) and “spreads” on the trading activity (i.e., the difference between the buying and the selling price). MacKechnie received a portion of these commissions and spreads from trading activity as compensation.

11. While trading by customers in certain countries was restricted as part of Envi's KYC process, U.S. residents were permitted to register and trade stock-based CFDs through Envi.

12. MacKechnie and Envi never registered with the Commission in any capacity.

13. In late 2023, MacKechnie and Envi terminated their relationship with the white-label service providers. Thereafter, MacKechnie continued to operate Envi with new service providers, until he ceased his involvement in 2025. In connection with ceasing his involvement, MacKechnie facilitated the processing of customer withdrawals and the return of customer balances.

Violation

14. The CFDs based on stocks offered for trading on Envi were security-based swaps as defined by the federal securities laws. The Securities Act of 1933 ("Securities Act") and the Exchange Act define a "security-based swap" in relevant part as any agreement, contract, or transaction that is a swap, as defined in Section 1a of the Commodity Exchange Act, and is based on a single security or a narrow-based security index, including any interest therein or on the value thereof. See 15 U.S.C § 77b(a)(17) (Securities Act Section 2(a)(17)); 15 U.S.C. § 78c(a)(68) (Exchange Act Section 3(a)(68)).

15. As a result of the conduct described above, MacKechnie willfully violated Section 15(a)(1) of the Exchange Act, which prohibits any broker or dealer from making use of the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce, to effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security unless the broker or dealer is registered in accordance with Section 15(b) of the Exchange Act or is a natural person who is associated with a registered broker or dealer.²

IV.

In view of the foregoing, the Commission deems it appropriate and in the public interest to impose the sanctions agreed to in Respondent's Offer.

² "Willfully," for purposes of imposing relief under Section 15(b) of the Exchange Act, "means no more than that the person charged with the duty knows what he is doing." Wonsover v. SEC, 205 F.3d 408, 414 (D.C. Cir. 2000) (quoting Hughes v. SEC, 174 F.2d 969, 977 (D.C. Cir. 1949)). There is no requirement that the actor "also be aware that he is violating one of the Rules or Acts." Tager v. SEC, 344 F.2d 5, 8 (2d Cir. 1965). The decision in The Robare Group, Ltd. v. SEC, which construed the term "willfully" for purposes of a differently structured statutory provision, does not alter that standard. 922 F.3d 468, 478-79 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (setting forth the showing required to establish that a person has "willfully omit[ted]" material information from a required disclosure in violation of Section 207 of the Advisers Act).

Accordingly, pursuant to Sections 15(b)(6) and 21C of the Exchange Act, it is hereby ORDERED that:

A. Respondent cease and desist from committing or causing any violations and any future violations of Section 15(a)(1) of the Exchange Act.

B. Respondent be, and hereby is:

barred from association with any broker, dealer, investment adviser, municipal securities dealer, municipal advisor, transfer agent, or nationally recognized statistical rating organization with a right to apply for reentry after two (2) years.

C. Any application for reentry by the Respondent will be made to the appropriate self-regulatory organization, or if there is none, to the Commission by contacting the Division of Enforcement's Office of Chief Counsel at ENF-Reentry@sec.gov, and will be subject to the applicable laws and regulations governing the reentry process. Reentry may be conditioned upon a number of factors, including, but not limited to, compliance with the Commission's order and payment of any or all of the following: (a) any disgorgement or civil penalties ordered by a Court against the Respondent in any action brought by the Commission; (b) any disgorgement amounts ordered against the Respondent for which the Commission waived payment; (c) any arbitration award related to the conduct that served as the basis for the Commission order; (d) any self-regulatory organization arbitration award to a customer, whether or not related to the conduct that served as the basis for the Commission order; and (e) any restitution order by a self-regulatory organization, whether or not related to the conduct that served as the basis for the Commission order.

D. Respondent shall pay a civil money penalty in the amount of $85,000 to the Securities and Exchange Commission for transfer to the general fund of the United States Treasury, subject to Exchange Act Section 21F(g)(3). Payment shall be made in the following installments: $30,000 within 10 days of the entry of the Order; $30,000 within 180 days of the Order; and final payment within 365 days of the Order. Payments shall be applied first to post order interest, which accrues pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3717. Prior to making the final payment set forth herein, Respondent shall contact the staff of the Commission for the amount due. If Respondent fails to make any payment by the date agreed and/or in the amount agreed according to the schedule set forth above, all outstanding payments under this Order, including post-order interest, minus any payments made, shall become due and payable immediately at the discretion of the staff of the Commission without further application to the Commission.

Payment must be made in one of the following ways:

- (1) Respondent may transmit payment electronically to the Commission, which will provide detailed ACH transfer/Fedwire instructions upon request;
- (2) Respondent may make direct payment from a bank account via Pay.gov through the SEC website at <http://www.sec.gov/about/offices/ofm.htm>; or

- (3) Respondent may pay by certified check, bank cashier's check, or United States postal money order, made payable to the Securities and Exchange Commission and hand-delivered or mailed to:

Enterprise Services Center
Accounts Receivable Branch
HQ Bldg., Room 181, AMZ-341
6500 South MacArthur Boulevard
Oklahoma City, OK 73169

Payments by check or money order must be accompanied by a cover letter identifying Tyler MacKechnie as a Respondent in these proceedings, and the file number of these proceedings; a copy of the cover letter and check or money order must be sent to Laura D'Allaird, Division of Enforcement, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F St., NE, Washington, DC 20549.

E. Amounts ordered to be paid as civil money penalties pursuant to this Order shall be treated as penalties paid to the government for all purposes, including all tax purposes. To preserve the deterrent effect of the civil penalty, Respondent agrees that in any Related Investor Action, he shall not argue that he is entitled to, nor shall he benefit by, offset or reduction of any award of compensatory damages by the amount of any part of Respondent's payment of a civil penalty in this action ("Penalty Offset"). If the court in any Related Investor Action grants such a Penalty Offset, Respondent agrees that he shall, within 30 days after entry of a final order granting the Penalty Offset, notify the Commission's counsel in this action and pay the amount of the Penalty Offset to the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such a payment shall not be deemed an additional civil penalty and shall not be deemed to change the amount of the civil penalty imposed in this proceeding. For purposes of this paragraph, a "Related Investor Action" means a private damages action brought against Respondent by or on behalf of one or more investors based on substantially the same facts as alleged in the Order instituted by the Commission in this proceeding.

V.

It is further Ordered that, solely for purposes of exceptions to discharge set forth in Section 523 of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 523, the findings in this Order are true and admitted by Respondent, and further, any debt for disgorgement, prejudgment interest, civil penalty or other amounts due by Respondent under this Order or any other judgment, order, consent order, decree or settlement agreement entered in connection with this proceeding, is a debt for the violation by Respondent of the federal securities laws or any regulation or order issued under such laws, as set forth in Section 523(a)(19) of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(19).

By the Commission.

Vanessa A. Countryman
Secretary