Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller,
8 Fed. Prac. & Proc. Civ. § 2016.6 (3d ed. 2014) 11

Pursuant to Commission Rules of Practice 300 and 320, 17 C.F.R. §§ 201.300, 201.320, the Division of Enforcement (“Division”) respectfully submits this motion to exclude from the hearing on this matter scheduled to commence on August 11, 2014, the testimony of Tonya Grindon (“Grindon”), a partner at Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell & Berkowitz, PC (“Baker Donelson”) who serves as outside counsel to Respondent Clean Energy Capital, LLC (“CEC”). Additionally, the Division seeks to exclude the testimony of Respondent Scott Brittenham (“Brittenham”) or any other of Respondents’ witnesses, with respect to the communications with counsel over which Respondents have previously asserted attorney-client privilege. In the alternative, the Division seeks an order permitting it to take the testimony of Grindon and Brittenham on these issues before trial.

Throughout the Division’s investigation, Respondents refused to waive privilege regarding any legal advice received from Baker Donelson. Although Respondents did not withhold communications with counsel from CEC’s document production, they expressly limited any waiver associated with such production to the documents themselves. All of the Division’s attempts during testimony to inquire about legal advice received by CEC were consistently rebuffed.

In their Answer filed March 26, 2014 (“Answer”), however, Respondents assert reliance on counsel in defense of at least four of the seven areas of misconduct alleged by the Division. Respondents have listed Grindon as one of their witnesses in this matter, and have identified as hearing exhibits all of the CEC invoices produced by Baker Donelson in response to the subpoena issued to it on April 3, 2014 (the “Subpoena”). Notwithstanding their reversal on shielding from disclosure the contents of their attorney client privileged communications, Respondents recently refused the Division’s request for an opportunity to examine Grindon and Brittenham before hearing.

Given Respondents' prior—and continuing—refusal to divulge the legal advice they purportedly received, it would be fundamentally unfair to permit Grindon and Brittenham, or any other CEC witness, to testify regarding advice from Baker Donelson concerning the issues that are the subject of this proceeding. Simply put, Respondents should not be permitted to use their privileged communications with counsel as both sword and shield. The Division therefore requests that this evidence be excluded from hearing of this action, or in the alternative, that the Division be granted the opportunity to examine Grindon and Brittenham before the hearing in this matter concerning any legal advice on which Respondents seek to rely.

I. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The Order Instituting Proceedings in this action was filed on February 25, 2014 (“OIP”). The Division alleges that Respondents committed multiple violations of the antifraud and advisory fraud provisions of the securities laws. The alleged violations arise from CEC’s provision of investment management services to a group of twenty limited partnerships (the “ECP Funds”) founded by Brittenham and a co-founder, of which CEC is the general partner.

At the center of the Division’s claims are the allegations that Respondents: (1) misappropriated several million dollars from the ECP Funds over at least three year period by allocating the operating expenses of CEC to the Funds, contrary to CEC’s disclosures to Fund investors and the ECP Funds’ Limited Partnership Agreements (“LPAs”); (2) without disclosure to or consent from the investors, issued millions of dollars in interest-bearing loans from CEC to the ECP Funds in the form of promissory notes secured by pledges of the Funds’ assets; (3) retroactively and in contravention of the LPAs, changed the calculation of carried interest and dividend distributions to CEC’s benefit and to investors’ detriment; (4) violated the custody rule, under an internal compliance policy that ineptly described the rule’s obligations, commingled assets, and failed to use a qualified custodian; and (5) omitted the SEC disciplinary history of CEC co-founder Gary Schwendiman (“Schwendiman”) from certain of the ECP Funds’ Private Placement Memoranda (“PPMs”). (OIP ¶ 2.)¹

A. Respondents’ Assertions Of Privilege During The Division’s Investigation

When CEC produced documents in response to the Division’s investigative subpoena, it did so, at its own request, pursuant to a Confidentiality Agreement dated September 6, 2012 (the “Confidentiality Agreement”; attached hereto as Exhibit 1). The Agreement provides that, as to any documents that “may” contain attorney client privileged information or attorney work product, CEC intended to “limit waiver of the protections of the attorney work product doctrine,” and that the Division staff would not “assert that CEC’s production of the Communications to the Commission constitutes a waiver of the protection of the attorney-client privilege or attorney work-product doctrine...”. (Id. at 1.) CEC requested this accommodation from Division staff, rather than conduct a pre-production document review, “because [Respondents] thought [reviewing documents] was too costly and [Brittenham] decided not to pay the cost of it.” (Exhibit 2, excerpted testimony of Gary Schwendiman dated April 4, 2013 (“Schwendiman Tr.”), 53:24-55:22.)

Throughout the Division’s investigation, CEC and its officers repeatedly and uniformly invoked the attorney client privilege regarding the substance of all communications with counsel—typically following an admonishment by Baker Donelson. These invocations of privilege pertained to the very issues with respect to which Respondents now seek to assert the advice of counsel in defense to the Division’s claims, including: the allocation of CEC’s expenses to the ECP Funds, CEC’s issuance of loans to the ECP Funds, disclosure of Schwendiman’s disciplinary history, and others.

¹ The Division further alleges that Respondents misrepresented Brittenham’s and Schwendiman’s planned investment in Series R to investor Steven Roth. (Id.) However, Respondents do not appear to assert the advice of counsel with respect to this claim.

1. Respondents' Assertions of Privilege re: Allocated Expenses

Brittenham (who, during his testimony, was simultaneously represented in his individual capacity by CEC's current trial counsel, Stern Tannenbaum & Bell), was asked what legal advice CEC received on expense allocations, and was instructed not to answer:

Q: So what do you remember your counsel advising you about expense allocations?

MR. SHERMAN: Objection, and I would instruct you not to answer.

(Exhibit 3, excerpted testimony of Scott Brittenham dated March 14-15, 2013 ("Brittenham Tr."), 314:7-10, 315:3-4.) Brittenham abided by his counsel's instruction and refused to answer this question. He was also asked how often he talked to Gary Riggs, CEC's outside auditor, about CEC's 70/30 allocation of expenses to the Funds, in response to which counsel objected "to the extent that is (sic) any conversations that included counsel, there is a good faith argument that those would be covered by attorney-client privilege..." (Id. 307:21-308:2; see also id. 313:3-4 (Brittenham cautioned not to reveal attorney client privileged communications amongst him, Riggs and Grindon on expense allocation).) Again, Brittenham followed his counsel's instruction, and refused to answer the Division staff's questions on this point.²

2. Respondents' Assertions of Privilege re: Loans to the Funds

Brittenham was asked if he received legal advice pertaining to CEC's issuance of loans to the Funds. He was instructed not to divulge the contents of the communications:

Q: And did [Baker Donelson] give you advice on this loan issue?

MR. SHERMAN: I'm going to object because that's asking a question on attorney client privileged communications. And as we talked about earlier, I think you can ask the subject, if it was discussed, but if you're going to ask, "Did you get advice?" that gets into the discussions. So I would instruct you not to answer that question.

² Counsel also interposed a privilege objection during the testimony of CEC CFO Jonathan Henness concerning legal advice about expenses. (Exhibit 4, excerpted Testimony of Jonathan Henness dated March 25-26, 2013 ("Henness Tr."), 63:14-23.)

(Brittenham Tr. at 131:5-14.)³ As before, once instructed by his attorney, Brittenham did not answer the Division staff's questions regarding this issue.

3. Respondents' Assertions of Privilege re: Disclosure of Schwendiman's SEC Disciplinary History

Brittenham was asked if he discussed with counsel whether CEC co-founder Schwendiman's disciplinary history could be omitted from the ECP Funds' PPMs. He was instructed not to answer, and did not answer, these questions. (Brittenham Tr., 76:15-77:12, 77:10-12, 79:11-22, 82:14-16.) Schwendiman himself was also instructed not to answer the same line of questioning:

Q: Can you describe, from beginning to end, the process for updating a PPM so that it is for a new series?...

A: ...Then, once Tonya [Grindon] reviewed it, if there were changes to be made, she commented on those changes and—

MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into any specifics of it now.

A: —suggested that we make—

MR. SHERMAN: I don't want you to get into specifics. There is a discussion here that you will have about this specific email. But we're not waiving—there is not a general waiver of privilege. So just be careful. You can talk generally about that Tonya was involved. But I don't want you to get into specific discussions generally about your discussions with Tonya [Grindon].

(Schwendiman Tr., 60:1-61:22; emphasis added.)⁴

Respondents' counsel interposed similar objections regarding legal advice about CEC's adherence to the custody rule and its compliance policy. (See Brittenham Tr., 269:21-22; Black Tr., 151:21-152:1). Their counsel also objected to questions about CEC's changes to the distribution of dividends to the ECP Fund limited partners. (Brittenham Tr., 335:17-18; Hennes Tr., 302:14-303:7, 306:4-15).

Respondents subsequently declined to make any submissions during the Wells process, where they were advised of the potential charges against them and provided the opportunity to present information to the Commission in response. Thus, despite many opportunities, Respondents never raised the defense of advice of counsel prior to the institution of this proceeding.

B. Respondents' Assertions Of Advice Of Counsel In This Proceeding

In stark contrast to their zealous protection of attorney client privilege during testimony, Respondents in this proceeding have sounded heavily the theme of reliance on counsel as a defense to many of the Division's claims. In their Answer, in addition to asserting globally that each PPM and LPA was "drafted" by counsel and then "reviewed" and "finally approved by such counsel before being distributed" (Answer ¶ 7), Respondents assert reliance on counsel in defense to at least four subject areas of the Division's claims, including:

- Expenses: "CEC consulted legal counsel concerning both the allocation of expenses to the ECP Limited Partnerships and the amendment of the partnership agreements to authorize the ECP Limited Partnerships to authorize [] secured promissory notes") (Answer ¶ 1(b)); and the “Split Ratio was adopted by CEC after being advised by its legal counsel that doing so was permitted by the ECP LPAs and Delaware law” (id. ¶ 11) (emphasis added);

⁴ CEC's former CCO, Patricia Black, was similarly instructed. (Exhibit 5, excerpted testimony of Patricia Black dated April 1, 2013 ("Black Tr."), 67:25-69:6.) Brittenham was also admonished not to disclose privileged communications concerning why his own history was omitted from Series L. (Brittenham Tr., 93:13-19, 119:24-120:1).

- Loans: “CEC was advised by accounting and legal counsel that it was necessary to document the obligations of the ECP Limited Partnerships to CEC” (id. ¶ 24(g)); and the process of amending the LPAs was “taken in consultation with accounting and legal counsel, and no actions were taken against any such advice” (id. ¶ 28) (emphasis added);
- Disclosure of disciplinary history: CEC “relied in good faith on such counsel’s advice regarding whether disclosure of the Sanction Order was required” (id. ¶ 54) (emphasis added); and
- Custody/compliance: CEC’s “compliance policies were prepared by its legal counsel” (id. ¶ 52) (emphasis added).

Respondents have included Tonya Grindon on their Witness List, disclosed on June 23, 2014.

Their Exhibit List, disclosed on June 25, 2014, contains all of the CEC invoices produced by Baker Donelson in response to the Subpoena.⁵

The day after receiving Respondents’ Witness and Exhibit Lists, the Division requested that Respondents agree to make Grindon and Brittenham available for depositions before trial. (See Exhibit 6, June 26, 2014 email from Amy Longo to Aegis Frumento). Counsel for Respondents refused, on the grounds of time constraints, and also because of the asserted “fair clarity of the nature of their testimony from the Answer and the depositions already had.” (Id., July 2, 2014 email from Aegis Frumento to Amy Longo). As noted, however, Respondents’ counsel repeatedly refused to allow any such testimony about the substance of legal advice during the investigative depositions.

II. LEGAL ANALYSIS

The advice of counsel may not be invoked during trial absent full pretrial disclosure of the advice in question. “A party who intends to rely at trial on the advice of counsel must make full disclosure during discovery; failure to do so constitutes a waiver.” Contour Design, Inc. v. Chance Mold Steel Co., Ltd., 2011 WL 6300622, at *8 n.5 (D.N.H. Dec. 16, 2011) (citing Vicinanzo v. Brunshwig & Fils, Inc. 739 F. Supp. 891, 894 (S.D.N.Y. 1990)), overruled on other grounds, 693 F.3d 102 (1st Cir. 2012); see also In the Matter of Miguel A. Ferrer and Carlos J. Ortiz, 104 S.E.C. Docket 3960, 2012 WL 8751437 (Nov. 2, 2012) (attached as Exhibit 7).

Given their refusal to waive privilege during the Division’s investigation, during the Wells process, or during this proceeding, Respondents should be precluded under Commission Rules of Practice 300 and 320 from alluding to such advice as evidence of their purported good faith conduct. 17 C.F.R. §§ 201.300, 201.320. In the alternative, they should be compelled to make full disclosure of any legal advice before trial.

A. Respondents May Not Assert Defenses Based On Advice Of Counsel Without Providing Full Disclosure Of The Alleged Advice

“[I]n order to establish good faith reliance on the advice of counsel, [a party] must show that they (1) made a complete disclosure to counsel; (2) requested counsel’s advice as to the legality of the contemplated action; (3) received advice that it was legal; and (4) relied in good faith on that advice.” SEC v. Goldfield Deep Mines Co., 758 F.2d 459, 467 (9th Cir. 1985); see also SEC v. Caserta, 75 F. Supp. 2d 79, 95 (E.D.N.Y. 1999) (same).⁶ Even where a party establishes the elements of good faith reliance on counsel, such reliance does not operate as an automatic defense, but rather as a factor pertinent to scienter. SEC v. Retail Pro, Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 68238, 16-17 (S.D. Cal. June 23, 2011), citing Goldfield Deep Mines, 758 F.2d at 467 (“Even if appellants had established a claim of [good faith] reliance [on professionals], such reliance does not operate as an automatic defense, but is only one factor to be considered in determining the propriety of injunctive relief.”); United States v. Bush, 626 F.3d 527, 540 (9th Cir. 2010) (“[A]dvice of counsel is not regarded as a separate and distinct defense but rather as a circumstance indicating good faith which the trier of fact is entitled to consider on the issue of fraudulent intent....”).⁷

Thus, a party who seeks to introduce evidence of its good faith reliance on counsel must disclose not only the counsel involved, but also the exact content of the legal advice that was supposedly received:

When a party intends to rely at trial on the advice of counsel as a defense to a claim of bad faith, that advice becomes a factual issue, and ‘opposing counsel is entitled to know not only whether such an opinion was obtained but also its content and what conduct it advised.’

Trouble v. Wet Seal, Inc., 179 F. Supp. 2d 291 (S.D.N.Y. 1999) (citations omitted) (holding that advice of counsel defense had been waived by objections to discovery); see also Arista Records, et

a single proposed trial exhibit of all, rather than selected excerpts of, the Baker Donelson legal invoices, the Division would, apart from this Motion, object to the invoices’ en masse introduction as irrelevant under Rule 320, absent some showing that the billing records bear on the subjects at issue. 17 C.F.R. § 201.320 (permitting exclusion of evidence that is irrelevant).

al., v. Lime Group LLC, et al., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 42881 at *8 (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (“A party who intends to rely at trial on the advice of counsel must make a full disclosure during discovery; failure to do so constitutes a waiver of the advice-of-counsel defense.”).

Applying similar reasoning, Chief Administrative Law Judge Brenda P. Murray excluded evidence of advice of counsel due to a prior failure to disclose the advice in Ferrer. See 104 S.E.C. Docket 3960, 2012 WL 8751437. In that case, the respondents sought to introduce evidence of their employer’s legal department’s involvement in the subject areas at issue, despite the Division not having been permitted to inquire about this advice during the investigation. Because the advice of counsel was first introduced during trial, there was no opportunity for pretrial disclosure. Under Commission Rule of Practice 300, which requires that hearings be conducted in a “fair, impartial, expeditious and orderly manner,” Judge Murray found that the evidence should be excluded:

The testimony that Respondents want in the record could have considerable probative weight. Since UBS prevented the Division from investigating the Legal Department’s involvement in these issues, the Division is unfairly prejudiced if Respondents are allowed to show that they consulted UBS’s Legal Department and it allowed or approved use of the materials.

Ferrer, 2012 WL 8751437, at *4 (noting that while the language of Rule 320 does not address unfairly prejudicial evidence, “[o]ther knowledgeable authorities take a different position,” and finding that Rule 300 barred introduction of the previously-undisclosed legal advice); see also In the Matter of Thorn, Welch & Co., Inc., 58 S.E.C. Docket, 1995 WL 148989 (Mar. 28, 1995) (overruling privilege objection, finding that “the concept of fairness require[d]” disclosure of exam report where witness referred to it at trial, to give a “full and fair opportunity” for examination of witness).

The same is true here. Respondents’ communications with counsel could have significant probative weight, yet Respondents prevented the Division from investigating these communications (and counsel’s communications with their outside auditor). To allow Respondents to now, at this late stage, assert a defense directly based on those communications would be unfairly prejudicial to the Division. Evidence of these communications in support of such a defense should therefore be excluded.

B. Respondents Should Be Compelled To Divulge The Alleged Advice Of Counsel, Absent Its Exclusion From This Proceeding

“A defendant may not use the privilege to prejudice his opponent’s case or to disclose some selected communications for self-serving purposes.” United States v. Bilzerian, 926 F.2d 1285, 1292 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 502 U.S. 813, 112 S. Ct. 63, 116 L. Ed. 2d 39 (1991) (affirming ruling that if defendant put his reliance on counsel at issue to demonstrate good faith, he would waive privilege); accord Chevron Corp. v. Pennzoil Co., 974 F.2d 1156, 1162 (9th Cir. 1992) (“Where a party raises a claim which in fairness requires disclosure of the protected communication, the privilege may be implicitly waived.”). To allow a respondent to maintain assertions of attorney client privilege throughout the Division’s investigation, then abandon the privilege and rely on advice of counsel at trial without first making full pretrial disclosure, would be both inefficient and unfair:

[C]ourts should look with skepticism on efforts by parties to reserve decision whether to use privileged material as evidence in their case-in-chief at trial... [T]he use of some privileged material as evidence provides a basis for insisting that all related material also be disclosed.

Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller, 8 Fed. Prac. & Proc. Civ. § 2016.6 (3d ed. 2014) at 2; see also Sidco Industries Inc. v. Wimar Tahoe Corp., No. 91-110-FR, 1992 WL 58732, at *1 (D. Or. Mar. 19, 1992) (for a defendant “to rely on the advice-of-counsel as a defense to a claim of bad faith or willfulness, it must make a full disclosure of the discovery supporting this defense”).

To redress the prejudice the Division will suffer if Respondents are permitted to submit previously undisclosed evidence of advice of counsel at trial, the Division should be permitted to examine Grindon, and to re-examine Brittenham, to learn the substance of their testimony on this issue.⁸ Having refused the Division's request for these depositions, Respondents should not be permitted to stand on their prior refusal to waive the attorney client privilege, nor to ambush the Division by waiving privilege over that advice for the first time at trial.

III. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, the Division respectfully requests that the Court exclude from the hearing on this matter any evidence, including testimony or documents, relating to the advice of counsel; or in the alternative, order full disclosure of the testimony of Grindon and of Brittenham (solely with respect to attorney client privileged communications) before trial.

DIVISION OF ENFORCEMENT

As part of Clean Energy Capital, LLC's ("CEC") efforts to respond to the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's (the "Staff") subpoena dated March 14, 2012 in the above referenced investigation, CEC intends to produce to the Staff certain communications which CEC believes may contain, among other documents, a variety of attorney-client communications and attorney work-product (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Communications"). In light of CEC's desire to respond to the subpoena in as timely a manner as possible, it will produce these Communications without (i) review of all Communications to determine whether they are, in fact, privileged or attorney work-product and (ii) withholding any such Communications it could have determined to be privileged and work-product documents. CEC will provide a privilege log for any documents withheld on the basis of attorney-client privilege and/or work product doctrine.

Please be advised that, by producing the Communications pursuant to this Agreement, CEC intends to limit waiver of the protections of the attorney work-product doctrine, the attorney-client privilege, and any other privilege applicable as to third parties. CEC believes that some of the Communications are protected by, at a minimum, the attorney-client privilege and attorney work-product doctrine. CEC believes that some of the Communications warrant protection from disclosure.

The Staff will maintain the confidentiality of the Communications pursuant to this agreement and will not disclose them to any third party, except to the extent that the Staff determines that disclosure is otherwise required by law or would be in furtherance of the Commission's discharge of its duties and responsibilities.

The Staff will not assert that CEC's production of the Communications to the Commission constitutes a waiver of the protection of the attorney-client privilege or attorney work-product doctrine, or any other privilege applicable as to any third party. The Staff agrees that production of the Communications provides the Staff with no additional grounds to subpoena testimony, documents or other privileged materials from CEC (e.g., the SEC will not claim that the production discussed herein creates a subject-matter waiver for all subjects discussed in any privileged and/or work-product document produced), although any such grounds that may exist apart from such production shall remain unaffected by this Agreement.

CEC recognizes and agrees that in the event the Staff receives privileged documents that are produced as part of the Communications, the SEC's receipt and review of such documents in accordance with this agreement will not serve as a basis to disqualify the SEC or its staff that received or reviewed such documents from participating in the investigation or any further related proceedings.

The Staff's agreement to the terms of this letter is signified by your signature on the line provided below.

 10 A I know that there was some allocation mechanism
 11 for expenses generally, but I don't know the specifics.
 12 Q Okay. Have you ever heard of like a 70/30
 13 split in terms of allocation to the ECP funds and CEC?
 14 A Yes, I've heard discussions about that. But I
 15 don't know what 70/30 means or with regard to allocation.
 16 Q And I'm not sure if you were answering my
 17 question when I asked you if you knew the employee
 18 compensation and benefits was actually being expensed to 19 some degree to the ECP funds?
 20 A I don't know that.
 21 Q Do you know what the rationale behind a split
 22 of expenses was?
 23 A No.
 24 Q So just to be clear, you were present during
 25 some discussions regarding a split of expenses but you

1 cannot recall what the rationale for that split was?
 2 A I can't recall. And if I had been present in
 3 any discussions, it would have been after we had talked
 4 about some of the research I was doing.
 5 Q Do you know of any basis why Clean Energy
 6 Capital would charge the ECP funds a management fee and
 7 on top of that also allocate a percentage of employee
 8 compensation and benefits to the ECP funds?
 9 MR. SHERMAN: That assumes facts that he says
 10 he's not aware of generally, and so it makes a general
 11 statement. But I think it assumes facts not in evidence,
 12 is the best way I can describe it.
 13 THE WITNESS: I know that in the PPM, there was 14 some discussion of operational expenses, administrative 15 expenses and expenses generally, but I don't know what 16 the details were.
 17 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 18 Q So to your knowledge, does the PPM actually
 19 disclose employee compensation or health benefits as an
 20 operational or administrative expense?
 21 MR. SHERMAN: Are you asking him whether he
 22 recalls whether any PPM specifically uses those words?
 23 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 24 Q If any PPM discloses that, not by use of those
 25 specific words, but to your knowledge?

1 A I'm not certain, but I have great confidence
 2 that the affairs of the business were conducted according
 3 to regulations, the law and the statements in the PPM.
 4 Q Did you ever look at the PPMs for the purposes
 5 of determining whether they actually disclosed such 6 things as employee compensation or health benefits as an
 7 operational or other expense?
 8 A No.
 9 Q Did you ever look at the limited partnership
 10 agreements to see if they disclosed whether employee
 11 compensation or health benefits would be an operational
 12 or other expense?
 13 A No.
 14 Q Now, we talked about the Pozee Kleinman
 15 lawsuit.
 16 A Um-hum.
 17 Q Was the issue of expenses being allocated to 18 the ECP funds one of the actual allegations that they 19 made?
 20 A I'm not certain.
 21 Q Does that sound familiar?
 22 A I can't recall.
 23 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Let's go off the record.
 24 It's 10:28.
 25 (Recess.)

1 MR. DANIALYPOUR: We are on the record. It's
 2 10:46.
 3 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 4 Q Mr. Schwendiman, did you have any substantive
 5 conversations with anyone from the Staff during this 6 break?
 7 A No.
 8 Q Okay, would you like to clarify anything?
 9 A Yes. I was thinking about the answer I gave to 10 what I had learned or what I had studied or my 11 conclusions after the last matter with the SEC. And one
 12 of the things I said was with regard to using the word
 13 "fiduciary."
 14 And I think I overstated that, because I do
 15 realize that fiduciary responsibilities are larger than 16 financial responsibilities. But what I really meant to 17 say was financial. I didn't want any financial decision
 18 making or any decision making with regard to any matters
 19 that I had encountered with the SEC in the previous one.
 20 So that's what I wanted to clarify.
 21 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Okay. And during this break,
 22 your counsel and I discussed a particular issue. Scott,
 23 do you want to --
 24 MR. SHERMAN: Sure. As the SEC is aware, we 25 have a confidentiality agreement in this case that

1 relates to some part of our production in this case. The
 2 agreement was, as I understand it -- I don't want to
 3 speak out of turn and the agreement speaks for itself in 4 a sense. But just to be clear, there may be some
 5 documents that my client Mr. Schwendiman was shown that
 6 are between counsel, Tonya Grindon, and you or others it
 7 could be. We had an agreement and Clean Energy agreed,
 8 because of an inability from a cost perspective to review
 9 all emails that were requested, there was not an ability
 10 from Clean Energy's perspective to review all emails for 11 privilege.

12 So the agreement we entered into with the SEC
 13 was for limited purposes for producing in the context of 14 this case, and there's various caveats, but for producing 15 in this case, if an email from outside counsel was 16 produced that would normally be privileged, there would
 17 be a limited waiver in the sense that, not for subject
 18 matter, all subjects related to that email, but for that 19 email, could be presented by the SEC in testimony or used
 20 in this case. And so that was the general agreement, as 21 I understood it. There's some caveats, as it doesn't 22 apply to third parties and other things. But it can be
 23 used in the context of this investigation.

24 That is my understanding. I don't know if 25 that's Clean Energy's discussions. I believe I had

1 discussions with Mr. Schwendiman about that. But tell me
 2 if you have a difference of view or any clarifications
 3 that you have. That's my understanding of what we agreed
 4 to.

5 MR. DANIALYPOUR: I'm not going to agree to all
 6 of that. I'll just agree to the extent that it is my 7 understanding that documents that were produced pursuant
 8 to that confidentiality agreement could be used by us
 9 during testimony. Why don't I just leave it at that.

10 THE WITNESS: I did want to add a clarification
 11 to what you said. And I believe that you said we didn't 12 do it because of our inability to do it.

13 MR. SHERMAN: No, I said there was a decision
 14 made from the likely cost of reviewing, there was a
 15 decision not to undertake.

16 THE WITNESS: You used the word "inability."

17 MR. SHERMAN: Okay, well --

18 THE WITNESS: And it wasn't because of
 19 inability. It was because we thought it was too costly
 20 and Scott decided not to pay the cost of it.

21 MR. SHERMAN: Okay, I apologize if I used the 22 word "inability." That's what I meant to say.

23 (SEC Exhibit No. 165 was 24 marked for identification.)

25 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

1 Q Mr. Schwendiman, I am handing you what has now
 2 been marked as Exhibit 165. It is a three-page document
 3 that was identified with a Bates stamp of [REDACTED]
 4 Please take a moment to review it.

5 A Oh, Steve Schoffman.

6 Q Is this an email from you to Tonya
 7 Mitchem-Grindon dated February 28, 2007?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay.

10 MR. SHERMAN: Is there a Bates number you said?
 11 Sorry.

12 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Yeah, the Bates number for 13 this is [REDACTED]

14 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

15 Q I'm not sure if I mentioned the date. The date
 16 is February 28, 2007. I'm just going to read from here.
 17 It says, "Hi, Tonya. Thanks for reviewing this. You
 18 caught some very important points. The SEC and 19 Washington disclosures need to be in the PPM. They were 20 somehow not included when it was redone. I'm very glad 21 you caught that." Do you see that?

22 A "Thanks for" -- yes. "You caught some very 23 important points. The SEC and Washington disclosures
 24 need to be in the PPM. They were somehow not included
 25 when it was redone. I'm very glad you caught that."

1 Q So when it says -- when you wrote the SEC
 2 disclosures, is that that SEC case that you were involved
 3 in? Is that what you're referring to?

4 A I'm referring to -- yes, the SEC. And I think
 5 the Washington comment is with regard to the case that
 6 Scott had in Washington.

7 Q Right. And again, the SEC comment refers to 8 your SEC matter; is that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So is it fair to say that you were discussing
 11 what actually goes in the PPM with counsel for Clean
 12 Energy Capital?

13 MR. SHERMAN: Objection as kind of vague and to 14 the extent it mischaracterizes what the document says.
 15 But you can answer as to what you understand the email is 16 about.

17 THE WITNESS: Yes, I remember this issue. It's 18 primarily about a blind pool.

19 But I would like to take just a minute and read
 20 the prior emails.

21 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Please take your time.

22 THE WITNESS: Okay, Pat had sent this for 23 review --

24 MS. O'RJORDAN: Just so you know, as you speak
 25 out loud to yourself, it's being recorded, so --

1 THE WITNESS: Oh, I'm --
 2 MR. SHERMAN: Thank you.
 3 You may need to repeat the question after he
 4 finishes.
 5 THE WITNESS: I'm familiar with it now.
 6 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 7 Q Let's start from the very beginning. Just
 8 turning to the last page, I see an email from Patricia
 9 Black to Tonya Mitchem, where you are CC'd. And it says,
 10 "Tonya, attached PPM, LP agreement and subscription
 11 document for Series M and N. Please review."
 12 Did Patricia Black or CEC generally create the 13 first draft of the PPM and LP agreement for the various 14 ECP funds?
 15 A No.
 16 Q Who did?
 17 A The initial PPMs for the first series were 18 created by an attorney in New York whose name, I believe,
 19 was Geffner. We at some point engaged the services of 20 Mr. Friedman in Phoenix who, I think, had a hand in 21 correcting or changing the PPM that Mr. Geffner had 22 drafted.
 23 MR. SHERMAN: I don't want you to disclose any 24 attorney-client privilege. I understand you're talking
 25 generally about what was done. But just be careful not

1 to discuss any conversations you may be aware of from
 2 those folks.
 3 THE WITNESS: We then transitioned to Tonya at
 4 Baker Donelson, and she was then the person who reviewed
 5 the PPMs that were prepared.
 6 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 7 Q So, for example, for Series M and N, it looks
 8 like Patricia Black is sending actually to Tonya these 9 documents for her review.
 10 A Yes.
 11 Q So was there a draft that was like initially 12 done at CEC, which was then sent to the attorneys, such 13 as Tonya, for review?
 14 A No. The draft that was sent was this -- to 15 some extent the same as what the previous series would 16 have been. That's the origin of the next series. You
 17 start with the last series and then make changes or 18 alterations or something in it.
 19 Q So who had the task of actually changing the 20 last series's PPM or LP agreements to make it the next
 21 series's PPM or LP agreement?
 22 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you know.
 23 THE WITNESS: Pat would have been the person
 24 who made the changes in the document.
 25 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

1 Q Can we just back up a little bit? Can you
 2 describe, from beginning to end, the process for updating
 3 a PPM so that it is for a new series? So let's just say
 4 the last series you did was Series L. You have decided
 5 to do Series M. Can you walk me through the process how 6 that new PPM was created?
 7 A I wasn't involved to a great extent in that
 8 process, but I can give you a description of what I
 9 think --
 10 MR. SHERMAN: Don't guess.
 11 MS. O'RIORDAN: I don't want him to guess.
 12 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 13 Q But based on your work -- let's back up --
 14 A Based on what I know --
 15 Q That would be helpful.
 16 A Based on what I know, Scott would have decided 17 that a new series should be offered. He would review the 18 current PPM and instruct Pat to make whatever changes
 19 were -- whatever changes he decided should be made in the 20 PPM.
 21 He would ask me to review the information on 22 ethanol that appeared in the front of the PPM. And if he 23 were absent, he would ask me to look at the rest of the 24 document and see if I saw anything that didn't match or 25 was somehow inconsistent. And there were some things

1 that I paid attention to and other things that were kind
 2 of boilerplate and I didn't pay attention to.
 3 Q And then what happened?
 4 A Then those changes or recommendations or
 5 comments would have been given to either Pat or to Scott.
 6 If they were given to Pat, she would review them with 7 Scott and then decisions would be made with regard to the 8 final preparation of the PPM. And then it would be sent 9 to Tonya for review.
 10 Q Then what happened?
 11 A Then, once Tonya reviewed it, if there were 12 changes to be made, she commented on those changes and --
 13 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into any
 14 specifics of it now.
 15 THE WITNESS: -- suggested that we make --
 16 MR. SHERMAN: I don't want you to get into 17 specifics. There is a discussion here that you will have
 18 about this specific email. But we're not waiving --
 19 there is not a general waiver of privilege. So just be 20 careful. You can talk generally about that Tonya was 21 involved. But I don't want you to get into specific
 22 discussions generally about your discussions with Tonya.
 23 THE WITNESS: There were conversations between
 24 Scott and Tonya and there was some written communication.
 25 And once the final decisions were made, then the PPM was

1 Q Do you have any reason to believe that Exhibit
 2 28 does not contain the PPM for Series T?
 3 A No.
 4 Q Please turn to previously marked Exhibit 29.
 5 (SEC Exhibit No. 29 was
 6 referred to.)
 7 Q Do you have any reason to believe that Exhibit
 8 29 does not contain the PPM for Series V?
 9 A No.
 10 Q And please turn to newly marked Exhibit 83.
 11 (SEC Exhibit No. 83 was marked
 12 for identification.)
 13 Q Do you have any reason to believe that Exhibit
 14 83 does not contain the PPM for Tennessee Ethanol
 15 Partners LP?
 16 A No.
 17 Q Okay. Mr. Brittenham, was Gary Schwendiman
 18 previously charged by the SEC as having violated the 19 securities laws?
 20 A I believe there's some issue with regard to --
 21 in connection with the SEC at his previous employment,
 22 which was Schwendiman Funds.
 23 Q When you say there was some issue, are you
 24 aware that he was actually charged by the SEC as having 25 violated the securities laws?

1 A I'm aware -- vaguely aware of the situation.
 2 Q In reading some of the PPMs for the ECP Funds,
 3 I noted that Mr. Schwendiman's SEC history was disclosed
 4 in the PPMs. However, in reading some of the other PPMs,
 5 I could not find any similar disclosure.
 6 I'd like to direct your attention to -- and you
 7 may find this behind Tab R, which has previously been
 8 marked as Exhibit No. 5.
 9 Does Exhibit No. 5 contain any disclosure
 10 regarding Mr. Schwendiman's disciplinary history -- of 11 SEC history?
 12 A Do you want me to look through it?
 13 Q Yes, sir.
 14 (The witness reviewed the document.)
 15 A Okay, I've looked through it.
 16 Q Do you see any disclosure about Mr.
 17 Schwendiman's disciplinary history in Exhibit 5?
 18 A No.
 19 Q Okay. I'd like to direct your attention to 20 Exhibit 73, which is behind Tab E and ask you the same
 21 question.
 22 Is Mr. Schwendiman's disciplinary history
 23 disclosed in Exhibit 73?
 24 (The witness reviewed the document.)
 25 A Yeah, it is in there.

1 Q Okay. Do you believe that Mr. Schwendiman's
 2 SEC history should have always been disclosed to
 3 investors?
 4 A We --
 5 MR. SHERMAN: Objection to the extent you are 6 asking for a legal conclusion.
 7 MR. DANIALYPOUR: I'm asking for his opinion on
 8 whether he thinks it should have been disclosed.
 9 MS. O'RIORDAN: You can go ahead and answer the
 10 question.
 11 THE WITNESS: We made every effort to comply
 12 with disclosure requirements and we consulted counsel on 13 that matter.
 14 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 15 Q So you made a conscious decision to actually
 16 not disclose this to investors?
 17 A I'm saying we complied -- we made a good faith
 18 effort to comply with all disclosure requirements on 19 advice of counsel.
 20 Q But you actually discussed this issue with
 21 counsel?
 22 MR. SHERMAN: Objection to the extent it's 23 going to attorney-client privilege.
 24 MS. O'RIORDAN: So are you going to instruct 25 him not to answer?

1 MR. SHERMAN: If it's going to attorney-client
 2 privilege communications.
 3 MS. O'RIORDAN: Okay. Topics are allowed.
 4 As to what you covered with your counsel, but
 5 we're not going to ask about the substance.
 6 MR. SHERMAN: That fine. I mean --
 7 MS. O'RIORDAN: I do need to make that clear.
 8 MR. SHERMAN: Yeah, to clarify.
 9 The concept of if you discussed an issue with 10 counsel, like he asked you, "Did you talk about X?" You
 11 can say, "I talked about generally --" But you can't 12 talk about the substance of the conversation.
 13 THE WITNESS: Okay. Yes, I discussed broadly
 14 speaking this issue.
 15 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 16 Q And then you made a conscious decision to 17 actually exclude Mr. Schwendiman's SEC history from the 18 PPM?
 19 A I can't sitting here today tell you the exact
 20 decision that was made, however long ago this was,
 21 probably seven years ago, six years ago. Sitting here
 22 today, I can't recall the specific decision that was made
 23 in the substance of those conversations.
 24 Q You said that you can't recall the specific 25 decision that was made, but you recall that you spoke to

1 your attorneys about this issue?
 2 MS. O'RIORDAN: You can answer the question.
 3 Do you understand the question?
 4 THE WITNESS: Yes, I understand the question.
 5 MS. O'RIORDAN: Okay. You can go ahead and 6 answer it then.
 7 THE WITNESS: Yes.
 8 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 9 Q So why did you not disclose Mr. Schwendiman's
 10 SEC history?
 11 A Again, like I said, sitting here today, I can't 12 tell you specifically why.
 13 Q Do you feel that that is a fact that investors
 14 should be aware of?
 15 A As I said, we've made a good faith effort to 16 disclose -- to comply with disclosure requirements.
 17 Q That wasn't my question.
 18 Do you believe that that is a fact that 19 investors should be aware of?
 20 A Not necessarily.
 21 Q And why not?
 22 A Because if it's not part of the disclosure
 23 requirement, then there's no reason to disclose it.
 24 Q So if Mr. Schwendiman was found to have 25 breached his fiduciary duty to investors, that is not

1 something that you felt was important to disclose to
 2 investors?
 3 A If the law requires us to disclose it, we would
 4 disclose it.
 5 Q Okay.
 6 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 7 Q Now, you said you don't remember why you took 8 Mr. Schwendiman's SEC disciplinary history out of the 9 PPM, is that correct?
 10 A I don't remember the specific reason.
 11 Q Okay. Is there anything that would help
 12 refresh your memory? Any document or person or anything
 13 like that that would help you refresh your memory?
 14 A Probably a conversation with my counsel.
 15 Q Anything else?
 16 A That would be the bulk of it.
 17 Q And why would a conversation with your counsel
 18 help you remember why you removed Mr. Schwendiman's SEC
 19 disciplinary history from the PPM?
 20 MR. SHERMAN: As long as you're not asking what 21 your discussions with counsel were, to the extent you can
 22 remember.
 23 THE WITNESS: All I can say is that if I were 24 to consult with my counsel, I would be able to tell you
 25 the reason we took it out.

1 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 2 Q So was it based on advice of counsel that you
 3 removed Mr. Schwendiman's SEC disciplinary history from
 4 the PPM?
 5 MR. SHERMAN: I think he already testified he
 6 doesn't remember specific discussions from 2007.
 7 MS. O'RIORDAN: Right. And I asked him --
 8 well, I asked him if there was anything that would help
 9 refresh his memory and he said, "Discussion with
 10 counsel."
 11 So I'm trying to understand why talking with 12 counsel would help him remember.
 13 THE WITNESS: Because we made every effort to 14 comply with disclosure requirements, I am not an 15 attorney. I don't know the exact disclosure laws and 16 regulations pertaining to that. But I'm sure talking to 17 counsel I would be able to determine why the decision was 18 made.
 19 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 20 Q Okay. And I'm sorry. Maybe my question was 21 not clear.
 22 I'm trying to understand -- one of the 23 questions I asked you, because you did say you can't
 24 remember why, but talking to your counsel might help you
 25 -- my question was following up from that was, whether or

1 not you made the decision not to include Mr.
 2 Schwendiman's SEC disciplinary history based on the
 3 advice you received from your counsel.
 4 And do you not remember that either?
 5 A Again, this goes back a long time ago, but the 6 decision to take that out would have been based on advice
 7 from counsel.
 8 Q And is there anything else other than talking
 9 to your counsel that would help you remember why Mr.
 10 Schwendiman's SEC disciplinary history was removed from
 11 the PPM?
 12 A Sitting here today, I can't think of it
 13 exactly, but I'm going to reserve that comment to say
 14 that I can't say for sure.
 15 Q But sitting here today, you can't think of 16 anything else that would refresh your memory?
 17 A I would have to think about it.
 18 Q You can think about it now.
 19 But my question is, sitting here today, you
 20 can't think of anything to help refresh your -- 21 A I think I could perhaps go back and look at the 22 documentation surrounding Series E. Perhaps there's some 23 documents that have some note or some notation in the 24 file. I can't say for sure.
 25 Q And would have been produced to the SEC

1 pursuant to the subpoena?
2 A It should have been.
3 MR. SHERMAN: Just to clarify.
4 I think -- I'm just going to object to the
5 extent there's a mischaracterization of the documents. I
6 think there was a comment that says, "Taking out."
7 And you started with a later series document,
8 and then went back to an earlier one. And I think there
9 was a question of the decision to take out --
10 MS. O'RIORDAN: You know, I think you're right.
11 I think it would be the decision not to include it.
12 How about that? Is that a fair
13 characterization?
14 MR. SHERMAN: Yeah. I mean obviously he still 15 has the same answer, he doesn't remember. And obviously
16 attorney-client privilege.
17 But I think that's a better -- whether to 18 include it in the question of how that decision was made
19 is probably a more fair way of characterizing, since we 20 weren't looking at a previous document that therefore 21 would mean it was taken out. If that makes sense.
22 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
23 Q So, Mr. Brittenham, did you make a conscious
24 decision to no longer include Schwendiman's SEC history
25 in the more recent private placement memorandum

1 specifically -- I believe it was Exhibit 5?
2 A Which --
3 Q Behind Tab R.
4 A Which one is that?
5 Q Behind Tab R. It's the first one we started
6 with.
7 A Oh, the first one I read. Yeah.
8 MR. SHERMAN: I think he's answered that 9 question already.
10 MR. DANIALYPOUR: No, actually we rephrased it
11 pursuant to your comment. So I'm not describing it as 12 "taken out."
13 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
14 Q I'm just saying, did you decide not to include
15 it?
16 A Oh, I think it's pretty obvious we did.
17 Q Did Mr. Schwendiman ask for this disclosure to 18 be excluded?
19 A No.
20 Q Did the CCO at the time raise any concerns
21 about not including this disclosure about Mr.
22 Schwendiman's SEC history?
23 A I don't remember exactly.
24 Q And who was the CCO at the time of Series R?
25 A Oh, this would have been -- this would have

1 been I believe Howard Schildhouse, but I'm not positive.
2 Q Okay. Can you recall if Mr. Schildhouse ever
3 objected to not disclosing this about Mr. Schwendiman's
4 SEC history?
5 A I don't recall.
6 Q Okay. Mr. Brittenham, please turn to Exhibit
7 77, which is behind Tab L.
8 I'd like to direct your attention to what has
9 been numbered as page 8. It has a Bates stamp of [REDACTED]
10 [REDACTED]
11 And I'm just going to read here, sort of like 12 in the middle of the page --
13 A Which page again?
14 Q Page 8, [REDACTED]. Under the heading that 15 has your name, the third paragraph. It says, "Mr.
16 Brittenham graduated with honors from the University of 17 Nebraska in 1980, with a business degree specializing in 18 finance and economics."
19 Are you following me?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Okay. "He was named to the Dean's List of 22 Outstanding Students. He served as assistant to the dean
23 of the Business College for two years. He then went on 24 to the New York University Graduate School of Business."
25 Do you see that?

1 A Yes.
2 Q Okay. And then it follows. "Mr. Brittenham is
3 a member of the National Dean's List Omicron Delta
4 Epsilon National Honorary Society of Economics and Phi
5 Kappa Psi Fraternity."
6 And then it says, "After graduating, he joined 7 the Wall Street firm Salomon Brothers."
8 Mr. Brittenham, doesn't this imply that you
9 graduated from the New York University Graduate School of 10 Business?
11 A No. Not at all.
12 Q Why is that?
13 A Well, because it's very clear. It says that I
14 graduated with honors from the University of Nebraska.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A "He then went on to New York University Grad
17 School of Business."
18 It does not say "He then graduated from the New 19 York University Graduate School of Business."
20 Q So the fact that it says "After graduating --"
21 A Yeah, graduating is tied in with graduate,
22 which is the third word on that paragraph. "Mr.
23 Brittenham graduated." "After graduating."
24 Q So do you feel that what's disclosed there
25 regarding NYU Graduate School of Business fairly

Page 90

1 Q Okay. But you --

2 A But if you actually read the entire file, you

3 should see that we were not personally the ones that

4 conducted this activity. It was our employees.

5 Q But didn't you personally write letters to the 6 individuals who complained?

7 A We -- the letters were sent out with our

8 signatures on them.

9 Q So does that not mean that you personally wrote

10 letters to them?

11 A Well, if my signature is on it, then I wrote

12 it.

13 Q Okay.

14 MR. SHERMAN: I'll object to your latter

15 question. It didn't appear to connect to the first

16 question. You asked about letters written as opposed to 17 what the allegation of the charge was.

18 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Okay. Well, there's no

19 pending question, so I'm just going to move on.

20 MS. O'RIORDAN: And that's really not a form

21 objection or anything like that. So I'm not really

22 clear.

23 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

24 Q Mr. Brittenham, what happened to your job at

25 Fidelity after this disciplinary action was taken against

1 you by the State of Washington?

2 A What happened to my job?

3 Q Yes.

4 A What do you mean?

5 Q Were you fired?

6 A No.

7 Q Did you remain at Fidelity?

8 A Yes, I remained at Fidelity.

9 Q For how long?

10 A I don't recall.

11 Q Okay. Did you resign?

12 A No.

13 Q Do you believe that an investor in one of the 14 ECP Funds should be aware of your prior disciplinary

15 action by the State of Washington?

16 A If according to the disclosure law and

17 regulations it's required, then it would be disclosed.

18 Q But do you believe that that's something that

19 an investor might want to know?

20 A Again, if it's disclosable, it would be in the 21 PPM.

22 Q Okay.

23 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

24 Q Did you consider disclosing that information in

25 the PPM?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And how did you go about deciding not to

3 include it in the PPM?

4 MR. SHERMAN: Which PPM are you talking about?

5 MS. O'RIORDAN: Go ahead. Sorry, Payam.

6 MR. SHERMAN: So you're withdrawing the 7 question for the moment?

8 MS. O'RIORDAN: We're going to withdraw that

9 question, yes.

10 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

11 Q Mr. Brittenham, let's just stick to Exhibit 77

12 for a moment.

13 A What tab is that please?

14 Q That's Tab L, sir.

15 Was this prior disciplinary history by the 16 State of Washington disclosed in this PPM, Exhibit 77?

17 A I'd have to look through it.

18 (The witness reviewed the document.)

19 A Okay. I've been through it.

20 Q Is that disciplinary history disclosed in the 21 Series L PPM, sir?

22 A I didn't see it.

23 Q Okay. I'd like to direct your attention to 24 Exhibit 78, which is behind Tab M.

25 A M as in --

1 Q Mary.

2 MR. SHERMAN: Do you want him to look through

3 it?

4 MR. DANIALYPOUR: I'm going to point out a

5 page.

6 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

7 Q Mr. Brittenham, I know you're busy, so I'm just

9 [REDACTED] of Exhibit 78,

10 Do you see that this Fidelity Mortgage case was 11 disclosed there?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. Can you tell me why it is that the PPM

14 for Series M discloses your previous -- I'll just call it

15 Washington -- State of Washington disciplinary history,

16 but the Series L PPM does not?

17 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting involved in

18 attorney-client privilege discussions, you can answer

19 that question.

20 THE WITNESS: I can't say for sure sitting here

21 today.

22 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

23 Q Do you have any reason, like any idea, why it's 24 in one but not the other?

25 A No, not without doing more research, I couldn't

1 6.2(d).
 2 Do you recall that discussion?
 3 A Yes.
 4 Q I believe it was your testimony that although 5 the words were different, the meaning was essentially the 6 same, is that correct?
 7 A Yes.
 8 Q If the meaning was the same, then why change
 9 the words?
 10 A Well, the meaning could be the same, but there
 11 may be the need to clarify some of the language, just so
 12 that it's clearer what the -- you know, the message.
 13 Sometimes that's necessary. The meaning, the general
 14 meaning, could be the same, but to clarify the language
 15 may make it easier for everyone to fully understand what 16 it's saying.
 17 Q Well, I would like to focus on Exhibit 61 and 18 58.
 19 Why in this instance were the words changed?
 20 A I don't know.
 21 MR. SHERMAN: Are you asking if he remembers?
 22 BY MR. HINSON:
 23 Q Do you recall changing the language?
 24 A No.
 25 Q Do you recall any discussions about changing

1 the language?
 2 A No.
 3 Q I also want to go back to something that was 4 discussed earlier this morning, in particular regarding 5 certain disclosures about Gary Schwendiman's prior SEC
 6 action and your prior involvement with the Washington
 7 issue.
 8 You said that information -- or disclosures
 9 about these two instances, the Washington State issue and
 10 Gary Schwendiman's prior SEC action, was not included
 11 after a discussion with counsel, and advice of counsel,
 12 is that correct?
 13 A Could you read back my answer to that question
 14 please?
 15 MS. O'RIORDAN: We can't read back.
 16 THE WITNESS: Oh, sorry.
 17 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 18 Q Is that consistent with your memory of what 19 actually happened?
 20 A It sounds generally like what my answer was,
 21 but I still would like to hear my answer specifically.
 22 And if you can't do that, then --
 23 MR. HINSON: Well, let me ask you a question.
 24 MR. SHERMAN: I'm just going to object to the 25 extent it gets into attorney-client privilege

1 communications.
 2 MR. HINSON: I haven't gone into anything that
 3 touched on attorney-client privilege yet.
 4 THE WITNESS: Actually you just did, but that's 5 okay.
 6 BY MR. HINSON:
 7 Q Without disclosing any discussions, or the 8 content of any discussions that you've had with counsel,
 9 did you initiate changes to the LPAs or the PPMs
 10 regarding the communications about -- or the prior SEC
 11 action with Gary Schwendiman?
 12 MR. SHERMAN: Objection to the extent it
 13 doesn't define the time period.
 14 BY MR. HINSON:
 15 Q At any point in time, did you initiate 16 discussions with counsel regarding modifications of the 17 PPMs to not include Gary Schwendiman's prior SEC action?
 18 A I don't recall.
 19 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 20 Q And, Mr. Brittenham, you testified that Baker
 21 Donelson was your counsel I believe when Series L, M and 22 Z were offered.
 23 Were they also the counsel that you actually 24 consulted with with respect to the disclosures in the 25 PPM?

1 A Yes.
 2 Q And can you recall which of the attorneys at 3 Baker Donelson you consulted with?
 4 A It would be predominately Tonya Grindon.
 5 Q Okay. Prior to the --
 6 A Let me just clarify one thing.
 7 There are multiple attorneys we work with
 8 there. So the main contact was Tonya Grindon, but there
 9 could have been other counsel involved in those 10 discussions.
 11 Q I'd like to direct your attention back to the 12 big binder in front of you. And as I go through these 13 various exhibits, if you don't mind going through them as 14 well and checking to see if you signed the particular
 15 documents.
 16 So Exhibit 88, on the cover it says, "Agreement
 17 of Limited Partnership of Series D. It has a Bates stamp
 18 through [REDACTED]
 19 (SEC Exhibit No. 88 was marked
 20 for identification.)
 21 Q Exhibit 89 from the cover, it says, "Agreement
 22 of Limited Partnership of Series E.
 23 (SEC Exhibit No. 89 was marked
 24 for identification.)
 25 A Do you want me to do these one at a time as

1 really, really terrible time to try obtain credit, you
 2 know, in this country for any asset.

3 Q But why do you not apply for a loan of this
 4 nature?

5 A This is an institutional loan, and you don't
 6 apply for a loan like you would in a home loan. You
 7 know, it's not like you go into Citibank and say, "Can I
 8 have a loan application for a loan for $1.5 million or 9 three-quarters of a million for a private equity fund,
 10 Series M, that has assets invested in these three ethanol
 11 plants." That's just not the way it's done.

12 Q So was it your idea to have CEC loan money to 13 the ECP Funds?

14 A It was the only option left.

15 Q Did any of the CEC's chief compliance officers
 16 ever raise a concern with CEC loaning money to the ECP
 17 Funds?

18 A When you say "concern," regarding --

19 Q Did they ever see a problem with that?

20 A I don't recall that ever occurring.
 21 And let me make one point for clarification.
 22 We did consult with our legal counsel before we 23 ever made any loans.

24 Q And who was your legal counsel?

25 A Baker Donelson.

1 Q And previously you mentioned a name. Was it --

2 A Tonya Grindon.

3 Q So Tonya Grindon at Baker Donelson?

4 A We consulted.

5 Q And did they give you advice on this loan
 6 issue?

7 MR. SHERMAN: I'm going to object because
 8 that's asking a question on attorney-client privileged 9 communications. And as we talked about earlier, I think
 10 you can ask the subject, if it was discussed, but if 11 you're going to ask, "Did you get advice?" that gets into,
 12 the discussions.

13 So I would instruct you not to answer that
 14 question.

15 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

16 Q On what basis did you decide that it was okay
 17 to issue loans to the ECP Funds?

18 A The PPM allows us to obtain credit to make 19 loans, to obtain loans for the Funds. And then in 20 addition to the consultation we did with our legal
 21 counsel.

23 A No.

24 Q Was there any effort to get a loan from an 25 outside party, maybe not a bank, but a credit union or

1 anything like that?

2 A Yeah. The 40 institutions, I don't recall all
 3 -- you know, the exact names, but they were banks, they
 4 were credit companies, I believe there were some credit
 5 unions in there. It was a fairly diversified group of 6 financial institutions. But we did extensive research to 7 determine what institutions would lend for this type of 8 asset. And those institutions were the ones that we 9 approached.

10 Q: Was there any effort made to obtain a loan from 11 an investor, like an individual?

12 A We talked to some of our investors, but they 13 were, you know, they were stretched, I think like most 14 people in this country were at that time.

15 Q Do you remember which investors you spoke to?

16 A No, I don't remember exactly, but I know we had 17 some brief discussions.

18 Q And backing up just a little bit.
 19 You mentioned that if you had sold the assets
 20 of the funds, you might obtain I think 30 percent, based 21 on a 70 percent discount that you would have to see it
 22 for.

23 Who calculated, you know, that discount?

24 A Well, it's fairly well known in the investment
 25 world that if you have an illiquid investment, a non-

1 majority position, that you're going to get -- today,
 2 even in a good environment, you're going to give probably
 3 a 30 or 40 percent discount. We actually confirmed this
 4 with a number of valuation firms in the United States,
 5 and that's today.

6 Now, if you talk about an asset that is in 7 somewhat of a stressed situation, which is what this
 8 would have been, then you're probably going to have to 9 apply another 20 or 30 percent discount, and then if you
 10 take into account the environment that we're in, you're 11 probably adding another 20 percent, so you're down to 12 probably 70 or 80 percent discount.

13 If we even could have gotten it. I frankly
 14 don't think -- I'm not sure we could have even got that 15 discount.

16 Q So was there anyone at CEC who actually 17 calculated what the potential loss would have been?

18 A We did.

19 Q Who did it?

20 A Our financial staff, my CFO.

21 Q And who was that?

22 A At that time, it would have been I believe Neil
 23 Hwang.

24 Q And are you aware of any documentation that 25 memorialized this analysis?

1 was a question about whether the special purpose
 2 vehicles, Highwater Investment Partners, ECG and EIP,
 3 whether they were ever subject to a surprise examination.
 4 Do you understand --
 5 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Actually, I think the
 6 question was whether any of the ECP funds were subject to 7 a surprise examination.
 8 MR. SHERMAN: I think you said by an auditor or 9 accountant?
 10 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Right, by any auditor or 11 accountant. Anyone.
 12 BY MR. HINSON:
 13 Q Do you understand what a surprise examination
 14 is?
 15 A Yes.
 16 Q What is your understanding of what a surprise
 17 examination is?
 18 A It's an examination that occurs without any 19 advance notice.
 20 Q In the context of a surprise examination of the 21 ECP funds, do you understand what we are referring to?
 22 A Yes, it would be an examination without any 23 prior notification by the surprise examiner.
 24 Q Are you aware of a rule that is generally
 25 referred to as the custody rule?

1 A Generally, I've heard of it and I'm aware of
 2 different aspects of it.
 3 Q Are you aware that the custody rule requires an
 4 annual surprise examination, which is an unannounced
 5 examination of the assets that are under management?
 6 A I'm not aware of that.
 7 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 8 Q Can you recall if anyone at CEC ever contracted
 9 with any auditor or an accountant for a surprise
 10 examination of the ECP funds?
 11 A I can't say for sure.
 12 Q Who authored the Form ADVs?
 13 MR. SHERMAN: At what point in time?
 14 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 15 Q Did you ever author the Form ADVs?
 16 MR. SHERMAN: You mean him, personally?
 17 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Yes, personally.
 18 THE WITNESS: I would review them. They were 19 prepared in connection with consultation of our outside
 20 counsel.
 21 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 22 Q Didn't you sign some Form ADVs?
 23 A I believe so.
 24 Q Who historically has had the job of actually
 25 creating the Form ADVs since 2007?

1 A It would be the chief compliance officer.
 2 Q And what was the purpose of the review that you
 3 conducted?
 4 A Just so that I was familiar with it and if
 5 there were any changes that were made, I was made aware
 6 of those.
 7 Q Did you ever make any changes yourself to the 8 Form ADVs?
 9 A Not that wasn't signed off by our outside
 10 counsel.
 11 Q So was one of the purposes of your review to 12 determine whether what was in the Form ADV was accurate?
 13 A I would review it just for, you know,
 14 authenticity and factual information but, again, all of 15 the form was ultimately signed off on by our outside
 17 BY MR. HINSON:
 18 Q What do you mean, signed off?
 19 A Well, before we submitted it, we would submit 20 the final copy to them and they would --
 21 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into
 22 attorney-client privileged communications.
 23 THE WITNESS: -- give us their final approval.
 24 BY MS. O'RJORDAN:
 25 Q So you did make changes to the Form ADV over

1 time, you personally?
 2 A No, I never -- that's what I said. I don't
 3 recall ever making any changes. I would review it. If 4 there were -- look for any changes that were made, just
 5 for the facts and information that was in the Form ADV,
 6 just so I was familiar with it.
 7 Q Did you ever note any inaccuracies in the Form
 8 ADV that you reviewed?
 9 A I don't recall.
 10 (SEC Exhibit No. 20 was 11 referred to.)
 12 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 13 Q I am handing you what has previously been
 14 marked as Exhibit 20. Please take a moment to review
 15 Exhibit 20. I think that's Tab 5.
 16 Do you recognize Exhibit 20?
 17 A Yeah, it appears to be the ADV, the application
 18 for registration.
 19 Q And you signed Exhibit 20, didn't you?
 20 A Are you saying my signature is in here?
 21 Q You can turn to page 37 of 40.
 22 A Okay.
 23 Q Do you see your signature?
 24 A No.
 25 Q Okay, do you see a typewritten signature?

1 Q And do you recall anything more specific about
2 expense allocations for how -- like the 30/70 split that
3 we were talking about yesterday? Do you remember any 4 discussions with Mr. Riggs about that?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And what do you recall from those
7 conversations?

8 A Well, that was the genesis of the whole
9 discussion, is how expenses should be allocated.

10 Q So I need you to walk me through those 11 conversations. How often did you talk to Mr. Riggs about 12 the 70/30 split?

13 A Again, I don't remember specific conversations.
14 And as I stated before, the conversations that I was 15 involved in were sporadic. They would -- you know, had 16 me get on a conference call. He would be in the office
17 and they have a discussion with him and they would ask me
18 to join. But I don't recall the specific dates or 19 anything else, other than it was a discussion about the 20 expense allocation.

21 MR. SHERMAN: And just to preserve the record,
22 to the extent that is any conversations that included
23 counsel, there is a good faith argument that those would 24 be covered by attorney-client privilege. And so I'm just 25 going to object to the extent you were trying to infer

1 conversations that -- I know you didn't say it, but infer
2 conversations that included counsel and Mr. Riggs.

3 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

4 Q So Mr. Riggs was the independent auditor for 5 CEC and the ECP funds, right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Did he have any employment role at CEC or ECP?

8 A Was he an employee? Is that what you're 9 asking?

10 Q Yeah, was he an employee?

11 A No.

12 Q And what other services other than audit
13 services did Mr. Riggs or his firm provide to ECP or CEC?

14 A As I stated before earlier, he provides 15 services as it pertains to the quarterly report that we 16 do and the valuation of those ethanol assets.

17 Q And, I'm sorry, what quarterly report are you
18 referring to?

19 A Our quarterly investment report.

20 Q Okay, and is that in his role as your 21 independent auditor?

22 A I'm sorry?

23 Q Is that in Mr. Riggs's role as your independent
24 auditor?

25 A Yes, he reviews our valuation.

1 MS. O'RIORDAN: So, counsel, is it your
2 position that Mr. Riggs being present during
3 conversations with counsel, there is still a privilege to 4 that conversation?

5 MR. SHERMAN: There may be, depending on -- I
6 mean, I don't have every e-mail and every conversation.
7 And I think it's impossible to say here today that if
8 there was a role that he undertook doing one thing
9 specific and whether Ms. Grindon asked him to participate
10 or otherwise depending on the situation, I can't speak to 11 everything.

12 So we're talking generally, in generalities of 13 conversations from four years ago. So I could say there
14 could be a situation where, once I analyzed the e-mails
15 or whatever there was, where attorney-client privilege
16 could be claimed. But I can't speak -- I can't say one
17 way or the other.

18 MS. O'RIORDAN: But we're not talking about
19 e-mails. We're talking about conversations.

20 MR. SHERMAN: Well, conversations. I mean,
21 well, if there is a specific situation and a specific
22 discussion, I would have to assess it on an individual
23 basis. I can't make a general comment. I'm saying that
24 there could be conversations that have a good faith
25 argument that attorney-client privilege applies.

1 MS. O'RIORDAN: Even when Mr. Riggs was
2 present?

3 MR. SHERMAN: Yes, because he was part of a
4 discussion -- he could be asked to be part of a
5 discussion. You asked a general question about in his
6 role as an independent auditor. But you asked him before
7 possibly other roles that were not in connection with his
8 role, you know, possibly as -- I'm just saying I'm 9 guessing. But I wasn't there, so I can't make a specific 10 statement that there can't be a possible time where 11 attorney-client privilege could be claimed when Ms.
12 Grindon was on the phone with Mr. Riggs. I just can't 13 say that.

14 So I made a general comment that I'm preserving
15 an objection to the extent a specific discussion comes up
16 at some point that we want to talk about and it turns out
17 after reviewing it that there's an attorney-client
18 privilege communication that can be claimed. That's all
19 I'm saying.

20 MS. O'RIORDAN: Are you instructing him not to 21 answer any questions at this point?

22 MR. SHERMAN: No.

23 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

24 Q Okay, so for conversations --

25 MR. SHERMAN: Because we're talking generally,

1 by the way.

2 MS. O'RIORDAN: We are talking generally, but
3 I'm going to now ask the more specific question, so then
4 we can bring up the topic.

5 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent he remembers a
6 specific discussion.

7 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

8 Q So, can you convey to us what was discussed
9 with Mr. Riggs when your counsel was present?

10 A Specifically?

11 Q Generally.

12 A As I said, generally, it was around the 13 allocation of expenses.

14 Q Do you remember in any of those instances in 15 which Mr. Riggs was present, if your counsel said, you
16 know, those expenses, this is good to allocate this way?

17 A I don't remember specific discussions but we 18 made every good faith effort to ensure that both our 19 auditors and our outside counsel were supportive of what 20 we were doing.

21 Q And what was the reason for having counsel on 22 the phone or present when you were consulting with Mr.
23 Riggs about expense allocations?

24 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into the specific
25 conversations.

1 allocations, whether or not Mr. Riggs participated in
2 those discussions or not?

3 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into any
4 attorney-client privileged communications.

5 THE WITNESS: Repeat your question. I didn't
6 really understand.

7 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

8 Q Sure, I'm just trying to make sure I understand
9 your testimony. So are you saying that you cannot 10 remember in your consultations with counsel regarding 11 expense allocation, what meetings Mr. Riggs was present
12 and those meetings he was not present for?

13 A No.

14 Q Is there anything that would help refresh your 15 memory about that?

16 A I don't -- I don't know how I would do that.

17 BY MR. HINSON:

18 Q Are there meeting notes, minutes?

19 A No.

20 Q Does anybody take notes at these meetings?

21 A I -- I mean, I don't think -- I mean, again,
22 we're in conversations with our outside counsel,
23 auditors, you know, constantly. And it may be a
24 two-minute phone call, it may be a 10-minute phone call.
25 I mean, there's just -- you know, I just remember

1 THE WITNESS: Well, just to have her weigh in
2 on how we were doing things.

3 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

4 Q So it was to provide advice?

5 A Well, I mean, call it whatever you want. I
6 mean, we have our outside counsel weigh in on everything
7 we do. I mean, I'm on the phone with her a lot.

8 Q And that includes conversations with Mr. Riggs,
9 you have counsel on the phone?

10 A Well, no, I have -- we have conversations with 11 Mr. Riggs without our counsel on the phone.

12 Q Right, but some of the conversations with Mr.
13 Riggs does include your counsel, correct?

14 A It has in the past, yes.

15 Q Okay. And then is it my understanding that you
16 also consulted with your counsel without Mr. Riggs's
17 presence regarding expense allocation issues?

18 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you remember.

19 THE WITNESS: What's that?

20 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you remember.

21 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I could have. I just don't
22 remember.

23 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

24 Q So you can't remember one way or another if, in 25 your consultations with counsel regarding expense

1 generally speaking, we have discussions with our auditors
2 about this on an annual basis and during the year.
3 Sometimes discussions would involve our outside counsel,
4 but it's not obviously all the time, not even close to 5 all the time.

6 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:

7 Q So what do you remember your counsel advising
8 you about expense allocations?

9 MR. SHERMAN: Objection, and I would instruct 10 you not to answer.

11 MS. O'RIORDAN: Okay, we're going to have to 12 have a discussion about this. We can do this afterwards.
13 But it's your burden to prove privilege and that the 14 privilege applies. If he can't remember who was present
15 when, but he does know Mr. Riggs was present during 16 conversations with counsel --

17 MR. SHERMAN: You had made a general comment
18 about -- do you remember generally about what your 19 counsel advised. You're saying my burden to prove that 20 there's attorney-client privilege. We're talking about a
21 general concept. And right now you just asked him a
22 straightforward question of if -- what did your counsel
23 advise you on expense allocations. He said that there
24 were sometimes when he talked to his counsel separately.

25 MS. O'RIORDAN: Yes, but he said also that he

1 could not remember or distinguish those times he did and
2 those times he didn't.

3 MR. SHERMAN: Right now, I'm going to instruct
4 my client not to answer.

5 MS. O'RIORDAN: Okay, so we will have to deal
6 with this later and we will just bring your client back
7 at some point in time to try and address this issue.

8 MR. SHERMAN: Well, we can also talk -- I can 9 also talk with -- we can have a separate discussion where 10 I can try to figure this out while we're here so that we 11 don't have to come back.

12 MS. O'RIORDAN: Okay, fair enough.

13 MR. SHERMAN: Because I don't think, quite 14 frankly, of everything else that happened, I don't think
15 for some questions specifically on this one issue people
16 have to be flying back to LA for one question or two 17 questions. I'm willing to work with you. I'm just 18 trying to preserve and I have the right to preserve. But 19 I will try to figure this out while we're here.

20 MS. O'RIORDAN: That's fine. I don't have any 21 more questions on that.

22 BY MR. HINSON:

23 Q Mr. Brittenham, do you take notes during 24 meetings?

25 A Sometimes, I do.

1 Q And how do you take those notes?

2 A With my hand.

3 Q In a notebook?

4 A I will just write it down on a piece of paper.

5 Q And do you save those pieces of paper?

6 A Sometimes.

7 Q Typically, how do you save them?

8 A What do you mean?

9 Q Do you put them in a file folder?

10 A I will just put them in one of my drawers in my 11 desk in a file.

12 Q And are there times in which you do not
13 maintain those notes.

14 A Yeah, I will go through them on an -- you know,
15 just periodically and look at them and if it's something
16 I don't need to keep. But I don't keep a lot of them,
17 though. Because I don't take a lot -- I don't take a lot
18 of notes.

19 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Okay, we're going to go off
20 the record. It is 11:47.

21 (Whereupon, at 11:47 a.m., a luncheon recess 22 was taken.)

23 AFTERNOON SESSION

24 (Ms. O'Riordan is not present.)

25 MR. DANIALYPOUR: We're on the record at 12:52.

1 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

2 Q Mr. Brittenham, during this break, did you have
3 any substantive conversations with anyone from the Staff?

4 A No.

5 Q Did anything happen during the break that would
6 keep you from giving your best testimony today?

7 A No.

8 Q Okay. Who at CEC would make the decision as to 9 whether a particular ECP fund would pay out a dividend
10 distribution to the limited partners?

11 A Well, as a group decision between myself and 12 the CFO and sometimes the controller.

13 Q Did the ECP funds have a tiered structure in 14 terms of how dividend distributions would be made to the 15 limited partners?

16 MR. SHERMAN: Objection to the extent tiered
17 structure is not defined.

18 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I don't understand the 19 question. Sorry.

20 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

21 Q Okay, is there any kind of description in terms
22 of how a dividend would be distributed to the limited
23 partners, in terms of the extent of the dividend
24 distributions to the limited partners?

25 MR. SHERMAN: Do you mean how or when?

1 MR. DANIALYPOUR: How.

2 MR. SHERMAN: Like the process of?

3 MR. DANIALYPOUR: The process, yes.

4 THE WITNESS: You mean like was it by check or 5 wire?

6 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

7 Q No. So how would it be decided how much a
8 limited partner would receive as part of a distribution?

9 A Oh, generally speaking, if -- as long as we had
10 sufficient reserves in the fund, as I said I think 11 yesterday, we try to keep 30 months of reserves in the 12 fund. Anything above that, we would distribute.

13 Q Okay, would all of that go to the limited
14 partners?

15 A Yes. Unless, of course, carried interest pay
16 part of that to the general partner.

17 Q Okay, so did the ECP funds have a structure
18 where each fund would have a preferred return that would 19 initially go to the limited partners?

20 A Yeah, many of our funds do have a preferred --
21 well, we call it -- it's not a -- we call it a hurdle
22 rate.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Yeah. And it varies from fund to fund and 25 there are some funds with no hurdle rate.

1 MR. SHERMAN: Same objection as before.
 2 THE WITNESS: That's correct.
 3 MR. FURMENTO: Is not -- I'm sorry. I have to 4 object. I am looking at this thing and I'm reading it as 5 English sentence, and it seems to me that reserves and 6 disbursements are treated the same way and therefore they
 7 are deducted from available receipts in order to come up
 8 to the definition of distributable cash.
 9 Now if I understood what the two of you were 10 saying, it sounded as though you were saying just the 11 opposite, which doesn't make sense to me. Because that's 12 not what the sentence says.
 13 THE WITNESS: I just want to make one point
 14 also. When we went through this process at the end, we 15 did have our outside counsel review the PPM in connection
 16 with this letter from Gary Riggs.
 17 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into
 18 attorney-client privilege,
 19 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 20 Q You're referring to PPM, but you're -- 21 MR. SHERMAN: You said PPM. This is --
 22 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, LPA. I apologize.
 23 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 24 Q Okay. And Exhibit 56, was it sent to all
 25 investors of Series A?

1 A Yes.
 2 Q And who sent that letter? Who sent what's been
 3 marked as Exhibit 56 to the limited partners of Series A?
 4 A You mean physically who sent it?
 5 Q Yes.
 6 A I think -- I don't know for sure. Normally,
 7 that would have been sent out by our chief compliance
 8 officer, Pat Black.
 9 Q So it was sent internally by CEC, then?
 10 A You know something? I have to retract that. I
 11 can't remember if it was sent by Gary Riggs's office or 12 our office; I just don't remember.
 13 Q Now, this change in distribution methodology or 14 calculation, was it unique to Series A or did it apply
 15 for the other ECP funds?
 16 MR. SHERMAN: Objection to the term used,
 17 change.
 18 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Your client testified that
 19 this was a change in distribution methodology.
 20 MR. SHERMAN: I think the letter specifically
 21 says correction. And you didn't say based on what he 22 testified. So I'm just trying to be specific and I can
 23 only guess, because you didn't specify.
 24 THE WITNESS: Well in this, this is the 25 document I just gave you, then this would have been sent

1 clearly to Series A.
 2 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 3 Q Was a similar letter sent to investors in the 4 other ECP funds?
 5 A I -- I don't recall.
 6 Q So do you know if any investors in any other
 7 ECP funds other than Series A may have received this
 8 letter?
 9 A I -- you know, ask Jonathan Henness; I just 10 don't remember. It seems to me that there were several 11 series where this was done incorrectly, as I recall. But 12 again, I can't say for a hundred percent certain.
 13 Q And so based on this new distribution
 14 calculation, did the limited partners owe any of their 15 distribution back to the general partner?
 16 A No.
 17 Q So what was the result of this change in 18 distribution calculation?
 19 MR. SHERMAN: Objection, vague.
 20 THE WITNESS: When you say what was the result,
 21 what do you mean by that?
 22 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 23 Q So there was this change in distribution
 24 calculation and a letter sent. Was this change in 25 distribution calculation retroactively applied?

1 A Well, I'm not sure I understand what you mean
 2 by retroactively applied.
 3 Q Do you know what retroactively applied means?
 4 A Yes, but there is no -- you can't retroactively
 5 apply this. I mean, the reserves are what they are. We 6 did -- yes, the calculation did go back and take into 7 account those reserves that were not used in the 8 calculation of the rate, for sure.
 9 Q Okay, so based on going back and calculating
 10 the reserves, did CEC believe that the limited partners
 11 were overpaid?
 12 A Yeah, based on that. So now you've got a new 13 calculation, you've got a new numerator from which to 14 calculate the hurdle rate.
 15 Q Okay, so this corrected distribution
 16 calculation, it didn't just apply going forward; it was 17 applied retroactively?
 18 A That's correct, absolutely.
 19 Q Okay, so based on that new calculation, how 20 much did CEC consider that the limited partners were 21 overpaid?
 22 A I don't remember.
 23 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. For Series A?
 24 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 25 Q For Series A.

EXHIBIT 4

1 management monitor fee and cumulated interest. And then
 2 revolving credit -- actually, I'll slip that around real
 3 quickly. If we go to the far right, accrual of monitor,
 4 is the summary of all monitor fees.
 5 Q I'm sorry, is the what?
 6 A The summary of all monitor fees.
 7 Q Okay.
 8 A The accrual of management is the accrual of all
 9 management fees. And then the sum of all other columns,
 10 which is allocated direct credits and accumulated
 11 interest, is the revolving credit balance.
 12 Q I'm sorry. Can you explain what the revolving
 13 credit column is again?
 14 A Sure. So there are two general kinds of 15 revolving credit or owed expenses. So there are certain 16 ones that are done on a pure accrual basis, which are 17 non-interest bearing, and that is the management fee and 18 the monitor. And that's why it says accrual management
 19 and accrual monitor. The remaining are done on an 20 interest bearing basis. So the revolving credit is the 21 sum of allocated expenses, direct expenses netted against 22 any credits and with the accumulated interest to add on 23 top.
 24 Q Now has it always been the case that management
 25 fees and monitor fees were not subject to interest?

1 A No. Originally they were treated as part of
 2 the interest bearing balance.
 3 Q And when was that change made?
 4 A That change was made, to the best of my
 5 knowledge, in roughly September/October of 2012. And 6 they were removed in -- basically everything that had 7 been charged on them had been removed.
 8 MR. SHERMAN: For both management and --
 9 THE WITNESS: For both management and monitor
 10 fees.
 11 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 12 Q You mean it was retroactively?
 13 A Yes, retroactively stated.
 14 Q And why was that decision made to retroactively
 15 not charge interest on the management fee and the 16 monitoring fee?
 17 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you know.
 18 THE WITNESS: To the extent that I know --
 19 MR. SHERMAN: Amid the legal attorney-client
 20 privilege.
 21 THE WITNESS: Yeah. Without getting into legal
 22 attorney-client privilege, it was a decision that Scott
 23 Brittenham made in the best interests of our investors.
 24 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 25 Q Were you involved in that decision?

1 A No.
 2 Q Who was?
 3 A To the extent that I know, it was Scott
 4 Brittenham and our legal counsel.
 5 (SEC Exhibit No. 139 was marked
 6 for identification.)
 7 MR. DANIALYPOUR: I'm handing you what has been
 8 marked as Exhibit 139. Please take a moment to review
 9 Exhibit 139. I printed Exhibit 139 from [REDACTED]
 10 This time the worksheet tab is "2012."
 11 MR. BUTLER: I'm sorry. Could you give us the 12 Bates number again.
 13 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Sure.
 14 MR. SHERMAN: It's [REDACTED]. Is that right?
 15 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Right.
 16 MR. BUTLER: Okay.
 17 MR. DANIALYPOUR: And the worksheet tab was 18 2012. And for 138, I think I said it, but I'm not sure,
 19 but the worksheet tab was -- I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I
 20 made a mistake. For Exhibit 139, it is [REDACTED] but it's 21 the "Summary-Series" worksheet tab that was printed.
 22 Whereas, for 138, it's the 2012 worksheet tab that was 23 printed.
 24 MR. SHERMAN: Can you repeat the last one, the 25 139 I mean?

1 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Yeah. 139 is the
 2 Summary-Series worksheet tab.
 3 MR. SHERMAN: And just to be clear, for the 4 record, that was an Excel document that had a label on
 5 the file name and when you opened it, it had different
 6 tabs. And then you printed off different tabs under the 7 same Bates number.
 8 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Right. So the different
 9 tabs, I'm referring to them as worksheet tabs.
 10 MR. SHERMAN: Right. Okay.
 11 MR. DANIALYPOUR: So 138 is worksheet tab 2012,
 12 139 is worksheet tab Summary-Series.
 13 MR. SHERMAN: Okay.
 14 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 15 Q Okay. Mr. Henness, do you recognize
 16 Exhibit 139?
 17 A Yes.
 18 Q Okay. What is it?
 19 A This is the same summary we saw in Exhibit 138,
 20 but there are some additional lines at the bottom that
 21 break it out by series that are invested in it says ABE
 22 only, which is Advanced BioEnergy, LLC. And then it
 23 further breaks that out according to the major investment
 24 entities. The top one, EIP only, is the Ethanol
 25 investment partners conduit, and then after that, it has

1 whether — with respect to asking or not asking limited
 2 partners to consent to this amendment to the limited
 3 partnership agreement?
 4 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. Calls for a legal
 5 conclusion.
 6 THE WITNESS: These are disclosed in the 7 audited financials.
 8 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 9 Q What are disclosed in the audited financials?
 10 I'm sorry.
 11 A The revolving credit loans.
 12 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 13 Q Right. But you just testified that you acted
 14 in good faith pursuant to your disclosure obligations.
 15 I'm asking what is your basis for saying that?
 16 A Those are GAAP disclosures. I have had a
 17 discussion with the CPA since I've been in charge. They 18 were disclosed, and the financials want to know it was 19 declared. And so when we have a new note declared, we 20 disclose them in the financials as well.
 21 Q But other than the financials, did you ever
 22 think that maybe limited partnership consent was required
 23 for this amendment.
 24 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. I think it still
 25 calls for a legal conclusion.

1 THE WITNESS: To the extent that I'm aware, we
 2 were acting in good faith and complying — or in
 3 compliance with our disclosure obligations, which would
 4 be a discussion with Scott Brittenham and legal counsel.
 5 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 6 Q And did you actually have legal — discussions
 7 with legal counsel regarding the disclosure?
 8 A I did not personally.
 9 Q Okay.
 10 A I was primarily preparing the loans.
 11 MR. SHERMAN: Clarification. Revolving credit.
 12 THE WITNESS: Revolving credit, yes.
 13 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 14 Q So when you said that there were discussions
 15 with counsel, what are you basing that knowledge on?
 16 A General discussions with Scott Brittenham where 17 he just kind of alluded to discussion with counsel.
 18 Q And what do you mean by alluded to?
 19 A He said it generally in the conversation.
 20 Q And can you just be more specific about what he 21 said?
 22 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into the
 23 specifics of what legal discussions from attorney-client
 24 privilege.
 25 THE WITNESS: Without getting into anything

1 specific, he had just said, you know, he generally had a
 2 discussion of whether it needed to be disclosed or not.
 3 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 4 Q With counsel.
 5 A With counsel.
 6 Q With anyone else?
 7 A Not that I'm aware of.
 8 Q And did Mr. Brittenham just mention that to you
 9 on his own sui sponte or was this in response to a
 10 question that you had?
 11 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you know what sui
 12 sponte means.
 13 THE WITNESS: Yeah. Can you define what that 14 means?
 15 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 16 Q Sure. I can define sui sponte very easily. Is 17 this something that Mr. Brittenham just blurted out to 18 you out of the blue or was this in response to a
 19 conversation that you were having that he said that he 20 had talked to counsel about?
 21 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you recall
 22 specifically.
 23 THE WITNESS: To the extent I recall
 24 specifically, it was just something that he had mentioned
 25 while I was getting him to fill the documents out.

1 BY MS. O'RIORDAN:
 2 Q So it wasn't in response to a question you had?
 3 A No.
 4 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 5 Q Sticking with Exhibit 121, please turn to
 6 [REDACTED] Do you recognize the document that starts
 7 on [REDACTED] of Exhibit 121?
 8 A Yes.
 9 Q And what is that?
 10 A This is the written consent to amend the LPA.
 11 Q Okay. And did you similarly —
 12 A This was a form document provided by legal
 13 counsel.
 14 Q That you completed for Mr. Brittenham's
 15 signature?
 16 A Yes.
 17 Q Okay. And according to this exhibit, it says
 18 that the manager is relying on Section 14.2 of the LP
 19 agreement to amend it without consent. Is that right?
 20 MR. SHERMAN: Are you asking him if that is 21 what it says?
 22 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 23 Q Is that your understanding?
 24 MR. SHERMAN: Of what it says?
 25 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Yes.

1 Q I just want to know, you know, what change
2 occurred. Was there a change that occurred in the 3 distribution, you know, provisions of the limited
4 partnership agreement for Series A?
5 A Are you asking me, is there an amendment?
6 Q Is there an amendment to the distribution
7 provisions of Series A?
8 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. Vague as to
9 "distribution provisions."
10 THE WITNESS: Yes, there is an amendment
11 sitting in front of us that is the amendment you're 12 talking about.
13 BY MR. HINSON:
14 Q What's your understanding of the effect this 15 amendment had on the limited partnership agreement?
16 MR. SHERMAN: If any.
17 THE WITNESS: The understanding that was
18 communicated to me was that it would have no effect; it
19 was just closing a circular loop.
20 BY MR. HINSON:
21 Q What was your understanding of the circular
22 loop?
23 A That was the only understanding that I had, was 24 that there was a circular loop, that this was coming from 25 a discussion that Scott had with legal counsel and would

1 close the circular loop.
2 Q Did you inquire as to what the circular loop
3 was?
4 A No, pursuant to discussions that Scott had had
5 with legal counsel.
6 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into any
7 attorney-client privileged communications.
8 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
9 Q Turn to Exhibit 85 again.
10 MR. SHERMAN: Which one is that again? Is 11 that A?
12 MR. DANIALYPOUR: That's the first document
13 behind Tab A.
14 THE WITNESS: Is there a particular page?
15 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
16 Q Yes, so I think it would be page 29. Okay.
17 So is Section 6.2(C) the section that describes
18 distributions of distributable cash attributable to a
19 disposition?
20 MR. SHERMAN: Are you asking him to read the 21 document, because you just read what it says.
22 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
23 Q I am asking you if that's the section.
24 A Yes, it is.
25 Q These aren't hard questions, okay? These are

1 sort of simple questions.
2 And I just want to talk about the very first
3 part. It says in Exhibit 85, not any amendments, Exhibit
4 85. It says, "Return of Capital and Costs. First, 100
5 percent to such limited partner until such limited
6 partner has received, pursuant to this clause, 6.2(C)(I),
7 cumulative distributions attributable to all realized
8 investments in amount equal to the sum of such limited
9 partner's capital contributions and such limited
10 partner's pro rata share of all amounts applied to the 11 payment of partnership expenses." Do you see that?
12 A Yes.
13 Q Okay. And then on Exhibit 105, it says that,
14 "Section 6.2(C)(I) of the partnership agreement is 15 deleted in its entirety and in lieu thereof replaced,
16 "Return of Capital, first, 100 percent to such limited
17 partner until such limited partner has received, pursuant
18 to this clause, 6.2(C)(I), cumulative distributions
19 attributable to all realized investments in an amount
20 equal to such limited partner's capital contribution."
21 So it does not appear that the limited partner
22 is able to capture their pro rata share of all amounts
23 applied to the payment of partnership expenses. Do you
24 read that differently?
25 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. Are you asking him to

1 interpret the document generally or just what the
2 difference between the provisions are?
3 THE WITNESS: I can read you the differences.
4 I guess -- are you saying do I read it differently. Are
5 you saying, do I understand it differently?
6 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
7 Q Do you understand it differently?
8 A From the understanding that was communicated to 9 me, this was purely an adjustment to close a circular
10 loop, and that is the understanding that I have. Other
11 than that, I wasn't involved in the discussions.
12 Q Have there been distributions of cash
13 attributable to a disposition since you have been at 14 Clean Energy Capital?
15 A To my knowledge, no, there have not.
16 Q Did the partnerships, any of them, in the ECP
17 funds, sell their interest in Advanced BioEnergy?
18 A They effected into a partial sale of the assets
19 of Advanced BioEnergy. They still own their same amount
20 of the same assets that are left, I guess, in the field
21 or in play.
22 Q So when they sold their interest partially, did
23 they receive enough cash as part of that sale to make a
24 distribution?
25 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. Distribution to whom?

1 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 2 Q To the limited partners?
 3 A Certain series did.
 4 Q Okay, so there have been distributions
 5 attributable to a disposition?
 6 MR. SHERMAN: Objection as to the term --
 7 vague. Vague as to the term "disposition."
 8 THE WITNESS: In discussions with legal 9 counsel, they --
 10 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into privileged
 11 communications.
 12 THE WITNESS: Without getting into privilege,
 13 they advised that it was actually a distribution of 14 distributable cash, because there were assets still in 15 play, and not a distribution of disposition.
 16 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 17 Q Okay, and was there any limited partner consent
 18 received for this amendment, Exhibit 105.
 19 MR. SHERMAN: To your knowledge.
 20 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 21 Q Everything is to your knowledge, in case -- I
 22 know your attorney likes to chime in, you know, every 30
 23 seconds or so. But if it's not clear to you, let me make 24 it clear, it's to your knowledge; it's not to Mr.
 25 Hinson's knowledge; it's not to the court reporter's

1 A Not in relation to this amendment.
 2 Q That investor that you just mentioned, what
 3 series is he invested in?
 4 A To the best of my knowledge, it was Series C.
 5 Q And which amendments did he question whether 6 there was -- whether it was appropriate or not
 7 appropriate to get limited partner consent?
 8 A It would be the same amendment that we have in
 9 front of us, but for Series C.
 10 Q Can you repeat his name again?
 11 A It should have been Fred Langley.
 12 Q Langley?
 13 A L-A-N-G-L-E-Y, if I can spell it correctly.
 14 Q And how did he find out about this amendment?
 15 A I believe his -- we were looking at evaluating
 16 a potential sale of Series C and, to the best of my 17 knowledge, his lawyer had requested the updated LPA with 18 any amendments before a sale discussion.
 19 Q So after this amendment was made, was there any 20 general notice given out to the Series A investors or the 21 Series C investors?
 22 A To the best of my knowledge, no.
 23 Q Did you ever object to this change in the 24 distribution provision of Section 6.2(C) that was made by 25 the general partner?

1 knowledge. It's to your knowledge. Is that clear?
 2 A Yes.
 3 Q So, was there limited partner consent received
 4 for this amendment that's reflected in Exhibit 105?
 5 A To my knowledge, no.
 6 Q Do you know why not?
 7 A CEC, as the general partner, you know,
 8 endeavors to comply with its general disclosure
 9 obligations and comply in good faith and full credit --
 10 good faith and full credit -- in good faith with the 11 agreements. And so, to my understanding, if that was 12 needed, then we would have done that and, if it wasn't
 13 needed, then we didn't do it.
 14 Q Did the issue of getting limited partner
 15 consent ever come up?
 16 A It was raised by one investor's counsel.
 17 Q Which investor was that?
 18 A It was a Fred Langley.
 19 MR. SHERMAN: To this document?
 20 THE WITNESS: Do you mean -- sorry about that.
 21 Do you mean specifically for Series A or do you mean if 22 this ever came up in all of Clean Energy Capital?
 23 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 24 Q I was speaking about just this amendment,
 25 Exhibit 105.

1 A No, per my understanding that it was just
 2 closing a circular loop in the distribution calculation.
 3 Q Did the CCO at the time object to this change
 4 in the limited partnership agreement without any limited
 5 partner consent?
 6 A To the best of my knowledge, no.
 7 Q Have any of the ECP funds' term been extended?
 8 A Yes.
 9 Q Which funds?
 10 A Series -- and this is to the best of my 11 knowledge -- Series A, B, C, TEP, E, H and I believe I as 12 well.
 13 Q And do you know the reason for the extension of 14 the terms of those partnership?
 15 A Do I know --
 16 MR. SHERMAN: Objection. The reason, vague.
 17 Why people signed? The reason it was requested?
 18 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 19 Q Do you know why the general partner sought to 20 extend the term of those partnerships?
 21 A Yes. To the best of my knowledge, we were 22 coming up to the end of the time period of the funds and 23 it would be a position where you would kind of be forced 24 to consider a sale option. And currently the U.S. is in 25 a drought where we have seen valuations for ethanol

1 A No, sir.
 2 BY MR. HINSON:
 3 Q Did you as the CCO play any role in the 4 decision to include or not include that information in 5 the PPMs?
 6 MR. SHERMAN: You mean for an open fund when
 7 she was the CCO?
 8 MR. HINSON: That is correct.
 9 THE WITNESS: It was not my -- I'm sorry, Ryan,
 10 my decision in my role? Can you repeat the question?
 11 BY MR. HINSON:
 12 Q Yes. During the time in which you were the 13 chief compliance officer, for those funds that were still 14 open to new investors at that time, did you play any role
 15 in the decision to either include or not include those 16 prior disciplinary histories?
 17 A My role was probably just asking for legal 18 advice. Probably. I don't recall right at the moment.
 19 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 20 Q Okay, I just want to sort of make clear that we 21 want to -- we're trying to find out what you actually do
 22 recall. Okay?
 23 A Okay.
 24 MR. SHERMAN: Don't guess.
 25 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

1 Q If it's something that, you know, you think
 2 probably happened, don't want to know that, really,
 3 because --
 4 MR. SHERMAN: If you don't remember, just say,
 5 I don't recall. Because then it gets confusing because 6 then he doesn't know if you really knew it or not or 7 remember it or not.
 8 THE WITNESS: Okay. Okay. I don't remember.
 9 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 10 Q Do you have a personal view as to whether
 11 Schwendman's SEC history should have been disclosed?
 12 A I wouldn't have a personal opinion on that.
 13 That would be -- legal would be the one that would be --
 14 I'm not an attorney.
 15 BY MR. HINSON:
 16 Q But you are the chief compliance officer.
 17 A That is correct.
 18 Q So do you have a professional opinion?
 19 A Today? Sitting here today?
 20 Q Sure.
 21 A Or, you know, when we had the funds open?
 22 Q Sitting here today.
 23 A Okay. I couldn't give you an answer.
 24 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:
 25 Q Do you see that as something that is within

1 your, you know, role as chief compliance officer to
 2 decide, whether someone's disciplinary history should be
 3 disclosed or should not be disclosed?
 4 A I believe, as CCO, that -- I take the lead from 5 discussions that have been made and then from legal that,
 6 as I mentioned, I'm not an attorney and we looked to them
 7 for advice. And this is the way -- this is what was done
 8 at the time, and that has been vetted out and this is 9 what I believe.
 10 Q Okay, so you mentioned, you know, attorneys and 11 advice. So I have to ask you, what did your legal 12 counsel tell you?
 13 MR. SHERMAN: Well, I'm going to object,
 14 attorney-client privilege.
 15 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Are you instructing her not 16 to answer?
 17 MR. SHERMAN: Well, I am. But also I want to 18 make clear that -- just so we don't get into an argument
 19 on it, like make sure that if you had a specific 20 conversation or if you're talking about what you know.
 21 Because I'm not clear, at least from her testimony,
 22 whether or not she's talking about a personal
 23 conversation she had with outside counsel, or if she's 24 just saying what she heard from somebody else.
 25 So, before we get into an argument about

1 whether to instruct not to answer, because we've had some 2 issues with whether it's her own personal knowledge or
 3 not, I just want to make sure I understand what she's 4 testifying.
 5 THE WITNESS: Right, I do not have -- I was not
 6 the person having the conversation with legal. I
 7 BY MR. HINSON:
 8 Q Who would?
 9 A I'm sure that it would have been Mr. Brittenham
 10 speaking with them. But I'm not going to guess. I'm 11 just going to say I was not the one having the 12 discussion.
 13 Q Do you consider it part of the chief compliance
 14 officer's role to have discussions with outside legal 15 counsel when it involves a compliance matter?
 16 A Yes.
 17 Q Then why would you not be included in those 18 conversations?
 19 A Right sitting here today, I do not remember
 20 having a conversation with legal when we were putting 21 together those LP agreements for those particular series.
 22 Q So is it possible that you did have
 23 conversations with outside legal counsel?
 24 A I can't guess, Ryan. I do not remember.
 25 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

1 our GP, that the -- let me think of some of the other
2 items on there. I believe it also has something to do
3 with the securities.

4 Q Would it help you if I showed you a copy of the
5 compliance manual?

6 A Sure, thank you.

7 (SEC Exhibit No. 55 was
8 referred to.)

9 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

10 Q I don't have the most recent compliance manual
11 right now but I'm handing you what has previously been 12 marked as Exhibit 55. Do you recognize what has 13 previously been marked as Exhibit 55?

14 A Yes, I do.

15 Q What is it?

16 A This was the compliance manual from March of 17 2010.

18 Q Have the rules relating to or the firm's
19 procedures relating to custody changed since then?

20 A I would have to review it. I don't really 21 recall from 2010. I wasn't the CCO right at that time.
22 But I'd be happy to go through this with you.

23 Q Okay, well, let's turn to the section on 24 custody, if you don't mind, and maybe that will refresh
25 your recollection whether if it's the current custody

1 understanding of what you guys are doing.

2 THE WITNESS: Right. Well, generally what
3 we're doing is we're reviewing our compliance manual to 4 be sure that we are following, you know, all of the 5 rules. And because it's also the time that the ADV is 6 revamped, so that's why we're making sure that we're 7 following all the rules on it and we're reviewing our
8 compliance manual.

9 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

10 Q Okay, so just to the best of your knowledge,
11 sitting here right now, you mentioned something about 12 like audited financial statements?

13 A That is correct.

14 Q Okay, so -- and I wish I had the most current
15 compliance manual in front of you but I don't think I
16 ever received it from Clean Energy Capital. I'm not sure
17 if it was one of our requests.

18 So what can you tell me that you remember about 19 what Clean Energy Capital is doing to comply with the 20 custody rule?

21 MR. SHERMAN: You mean today?

22 MR. DANIALYPOUR: Today.

23 THE WITNESS: Today, we are providing the 24 audited financials to our investors and we're trying to 25 keep it in the area of the 120 days. I understand that

1 rule that Clean Energy Capital currently has in place.
2 So I see it on page 9 but feel free to point out some
3 other section.

4 A Um-humm.

5 Q Okay, do you know if that's the current custody
6 rule in place as of right now, what's shown on Exhibit
7 55, page 9?

8 MR. SHERMAN: Are you asking her if she knows
9 whether the current custody rules, the legal custody rule
10 is this custody rule?

11 MR. DANIALYPOUR: No, the current custody rule
12 in the most current compliance manual, because I don't 13 have that.

14 THE WITNESS: Okay.

15 MR. SHERMAN: Do you know off hand, basically?
16 Do you recall if this is --

17 THE WITNESS: I don't recall right at this time
18 if this is exactly what's in my current compliance
19 manual.

20 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

21 Q So you said that legal is looking into, you
22 know, compliance with the custody rule. But what can you
23 tell me about that?

24 MR. SHERMAN: Without getting into attorney-
25 client privilege, but you can talk about generally your

1 is one of the rulings.

2 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

3 Q Has Clean Energy Capital ever had an internal
4 control report prepared by an auditor?

5 A What type of internal control report?

6 Q Any. Any kind of internal control report.

7 MR. SHERMAN: To the extent you know.

8 THE WITNESS: I don't recall.

9 BY MR. DANIALYPOUR:

10 Q Okay, has a surprise examination ever been 11 conducted by an auditor?

12 A No.

13 Q And is the auditor that Clean Energy Capital
14 currently has registered with the PCAOB?

15 A That is something that we're looking into right
16 now.

17 Q So is that a no?

18 A I -- I believe that he is not, and this is why
19 we are pursuing this right now.

20 Q Okay, when you say you are pursuing this, how 21 are you pursuing that?

22 A With our legal counsel.

23 Q To do what? I'm sorry. Because I'm asking
24 whether the auditors --

25 A Right, right. But we are reviewing this and

Aegis and Stephanie,
We wanted to advise you that the Division plans to request a pretrial subpoena for Ms. Grindon's deposition, as well as a pretrial subpoena in order to re-examine Mr. Brittenham as to any advice of counsel Respondents received. In connection with our anticipated request, please advise whether Respondents would object to the subpoenas or whether we may reflect that our request is unopposed. We plan to seek to take the depositions the week of July 14th, subject to the availability of the witnesses and counsel. If you have any questions or require further information about our request in order to respond, please let us know and we are available to discuss.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS RULINGS

Release No. 730 / November 2, 2012

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING

File No. 3-14862

In the Matter of :
: ORDER ON EVIDENTIARY ISSUE
MIGUEL A. FERRER and :
: CARLOS J. ORTIZ :

The Securities and Exchange Commission (Commission) issued an Order Instituting Administrative and Cease-and-Desist Proceedings on May 1, 2012. I held nine days of hearing between October 9 and 19, 2012, in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The hearing scheduled to resume on October 29, 2012, in Washington, D.C., has been postponed because of Hurricane Sandy. At the hearing on October 11, 2012, the Division of Enforcement (Division) objected to a question posed to Carlos J. Ortiz (Ortiz) by his counsel as to whether the document that Ortiz used in making a presentation, and the underlying policy described in the document, were reviewed by UBS Financial Services Inc. of Puerto Rico's (UBS) Legal and Compliance Departments. Tr. 720. According to the Division:

During the investigation of this matter UBS asserted privilege and refused to allow us to question any witness about any matter involving - - I let this go a little bit yesterday - - involving their lawyer's review of documents or comments on any documents. And now Mr. Ortiz's counsel is attempting to introduce comments or reference to Legal's review of things. I think it's inappropriate. Tr. 720.

Ortiz's counsel responded that: (1) Ortiz has no power to assert or waive UBS's attorney-client privilege and has not asked UBS to do so; and (2) the evidence is not being used to show that UBS's Legal counsel approved the documents, but rather to show that Ortiz checked with Legal and Compliance to refute the Division's expected claim that Ortiz was negligent. Tr. 721-22. UBS is Ortiz's employer and is providing him with legal counsel. Tr. 725. I sustained the Division's motion to strike Ortiz's answer and sustained several similar objections during Ortiz and Miguel A. Ferrer's (Ferrer) testimony; I also allowed Respondents' counsel to make offers of proof of the material sought to be introduced. Tr. 732-33, 1486; 17 C.F.R. § 201.321. After some on-the-record discussion on October 15, 2012, it was decided that the Division should make a filing to support its position that during the investigation it was not allowed to question witnesses about their communications with lawyers, and that Respondents would submit offers of proof. Tr. 1071-77.

On October 23, 2012, the Division sent me a Submission in Support of Its Objection to Respondents' Testimony on Consulting with Legal Department (Division Support), with Exhibits 1-3. Exhibit 1 contains about twenty transcript references involving four witnesses, including Ortiz, where the Division claims UBS lawyers would not let witnesses answer questions about discussions with lawyers. Exhibit 2 cites about fifteen situations where the Division, in response to UBS's regular warnings, told witnesses to exclude discussions with lawyers from their answers. Exhibit 3 contains about eight letters between the Division and UBS counsel addressing UBS's exercise of privilege.

The Division's position is that it "was prevented on several occasions from inquiring into matters involving discussions with lawyers," during the investigation; therefore, witnesses should not be allowed to testify "about consulting with UBS' legal department." Division Support at 1.

On October 26, 2012, Ortiz submitted his Offer of Proof Regarding Consultations with Counsel (Ortiz Offer of Proof) with Exhibits A-E. Ortiz argues that the Division Support Exhibits 1 and 2 are irrelevant and Division Support Exhibit 1 shows the Division was allowed to ask questions about non-privileged communications and UBS "merely objected to questions regarding the substance of witnesses' discussions with lawyers." Ortiz Offer of Proof at 3, 5. Ortiz maintains that he is not asserting a reliance-on-counsel defense but that he should have the opportunity to defend himself by showing that before he made any kind of statement or presentation concerning the securities that are the subject of this proceeding he had the underlying information checked by the Legal Department. Tr. 724.

On October 26, 2012, Ferrer submitted a Submission in Support of Offer of Proof and Joinder to Respondent Carlos J. Ortiz's Offer of Proof Regarding Consultations with Counsel (Ferrer Support), with Exhibits A and B. Ferrer cites to his investigative testimony on December 16, 2009, and James Price on February 23, 2010, as additional material supporting Ortiz's claim that the Division was permitted to explore the circumstances surrounding consultations that Ferrer and Ortiz had with counsel. Ferrer requests that his answer at the hearing on October 16, 2012, Tr. 125, lines 7-13, should be allowed to stand or, alternatively, that counsel's offer of proof at Tr. 125, lines 14-22, be accepted as evidence in the proceeding. Ferrer Support at 2.

Ruling

Rule 320 of the Commission's Rules of Practice, which allows the admission of relevant, material, and not unduly repetitious evidence, does not prohibit unfairly prejudicial evidence. Other knowledgeable authorities take a different position. The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) provides for the exclusion of evidence that is "unduly prejudicial." FINRA Rule 9263(a). "Undue prejudice" is defined as "The harm resulting from a fact-trier's being exposed to evidence that is persuasive but inadmissible (such as evidence of prior criminal conduct) or that so arouses the emotions that calm and logical reasoning is abandoned." Black's Law Dictionary 1198 (7th ed. 1999). And, perhaps more significantly, Rule 401 of the Federal Rules of Evidence provides that:

The court may exclude relevant evidence if its probative value is substantially outweighed by a danger of one or more of the following: unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, misleading the jury, undue delay, wasting time, or needlessly presenting cumulative evidence.¹

“Situations in this area call for balancing the probative value of and need for the evidence against the harm likely to result from its admission,” and “‘Unfair prejudice’ within its context means an undue tendency to suggest decision on an improper basis, commonly, though not necessarily, an emotional one.” Fed. R. Evid. 403, Advisory Committee Notes 2012, Revised Edition, West.

Respondents seek to use evidence of UBS’s Legal Department’s involvement or participation in the matters at issue as part of their defense. My concern is that if the Division was not allowed to explore the Legal Department’s involvement because of objections by UBS counsel based on an undue exercise of the attorney-client privilege during the investigation, it would be unduly prejudicial for Respondents to use as a defense what the Division was not allowed to investigate. The attorney-client privilege is the “client’s right to refuse to disclose and to prevent any other person from disclosing confidential communications between the client and the attorney.” Black’s Law Dictionary 1215 (7th ed. 1999).

Witnesses answered some questions about involvement with the Legal Department without objection during the investigation and the hearing. Division Support Exhibit 1, October 26, 2009, at Tr. 408-09; Ferrer Support at 1-2. There are other situations where there was simply dialogue over privilege. Division Support at Exhibit 1, June 22, 2010, Tr. 35-37. And there are situations where the attorney-client privilege was simply stated or appropriately invoked. Division Support Exhibit 1, October 8, 2009, Tr. 17; October 26, 2009, Tr. 239, 389; February 22, 2010, Tr. 74, 92. None of these situations are problematic.

The Division does, however, identify problems. For example, Ortiz interprets Division Support Exhibit 1, October 8, 2009, Tr. 190-92, as showing that “UBS expressly instructed Ortiz that he could testify to the fact that he conferred with persons in the Legal department, when he conferred, and with which lawyers.” Ortiz Offer of Proof at 4. I read the material as showing that UBS effectively squelched the line of interrogation. UBS only allowed Ortiz to describe what was discussed on a phone call “if there were no lawyers involved.” Tr. 190. After a lot of back and forth among UBS lawyers, they permitted the Division to ask “just who [was on that call], not what was said, just who.” Division Tr. 191-92. UBS established there were two lawyers on the phone call and the Division stopped asking questions. Tr. 192.

Division Support Exhibit 1, October 8, 2009, Tr. 206, lines 16-19, shows a brief discussion of a document that required consultation before it was used with the witness because it “has a lawyer[’s name] on it.” At Division Support Exhibit 1, October 26, 2009, Tr. 368, lines 2-11, the Division struck use of an exhibit because UBS was concerned that an e-mail used to question the witness was “possibly privileged and as Counsel would agree, if it was produced, it was an inadvertent production.” At Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 80, lines 22-24, a witness was cautioned “not to testify about the substance of what was discussed at that meeting,” because one of the participants was an attorney. At Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 84, lines 14-15, a witness was instructed not to answer anything related to the substance of a call “to the extent there were lawyers present on the call.”

At Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 87, line 2, UBS counsel advised the witness to exclude whatever he learned from conversations with UBS lawyers in answering the questions. After which, the witness’s response to the question of how he had come to learn of an inventory limit on the desk trading of the closed-end funds was “I don’t have a specific recollection of conversations or parsed conversations with whether an attorney was there or wasn’t there.” At Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 121, a witness was asked what caused his efforts at changing customer disclosure and was cut off and told not to testify by UBS counsel when he began his answer with “My legal colleagues had asked me –.” It appears that the same witness was not allowed to testify about conversations in which Ortiz participated because there may have been lawyers on the phone. Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 175-76. When asked if he was aware that investor conferences were held in Puerto Rico, a question without any confidential ramifications, the witness was warned that “Other than what you may have discussed with counsel.” Division Support Exhibit 1, February 22, 2010, Tr. 197.

My review of the Division Support shows that UBS counsel, on occasion, over-zealously invoked the attorney-client privilege to prevent the Division from exploring how and to what extent UBS’s Legal Department participated in the events at issue. While Ortiz and Ferrer are not making a technical reliance-on-counsel defense, they are attempting to defend themselves by showing that the UBS Legal Department reviewed and presumably approved materials. The Division has the burden of showing that the allegations in the OIP are true by a preponderance of the evidence. Steadman v. SEC, 450 U.S. 91, 101-02 (1981). The testimony that Respondents want in the record could have considerable probative weight. Since UBS prevented the Division from investigating the Legal Department’s involvement in these issues, the Division is unfairly prejudiced if Respondents are allowed to show they consulted UBS’s Legal Department and it allowed or approved use of the materials, which are the bases of the allegations.

On these facts, the unfairly prejudice standard is a valid consideration in determining admissibility as part of conducting a fair, impartial hearing. 17 C.F.R. §§ 201.111, .300. For these reasons, I sustain the Division’s objections to questions about clearance of material by UBS’s Legal Department. I will not use that material in making a decision. Respondents may make offers of proof so that the material is available in the event that others that may examine these issues later in the process may decide to use the material in making a decision. 17 C.F.R. § 201.321.
