

Robert K. Jamieson
Direct Dial: 813-347-5110
rjamieson@wiandlaw.com

November 12, 2014

Via E-Mail and U.S Mail

Judge Jason S. Patil
Administrative Law Judge
Securities and Exchange Commission
100 F Street, NE, Mail Stop 2557
Washington, D.C. 20549-2557

Re: In re: Dennis J. Malouf
SEC Administrative Proceeding No. 3-15918

Dear Judge Patil:

We are in receipt of UASNM, Inc.'s Notice of Compliance and Request for Reconsideration with respect to the subpoena issued to it, along with the bills UASNM has submitted. Although we have started to review UASNM's bills, we are currently occupied with our preparation for the hearing commencing next week. Therefore, we will not have an opportunity to complete our review of UASNM's bills and prepare a response before the hearing begins. Based upon our partial review, we believe a substantial portion of the costs and fees claimed are unreasonable, objectionable, and not recoverable under any circumstances, and we would like an opportunity to fully address those issues by way of a written response once the hearing has concluded. A sampling of the issues we have identified so far includes, but is not limited to:

- The format of the production, i.e. producing the documents, which comprise 4.86GB of data, on hard-drives purportedly costing $118.11, when it could have just as easily been produced on one or two DVDs at a cost of $0.25 to $0.75 each;
- UASNM's apparent production of duplicate documents previously produced which UASNM was repeatedly instructed not to produce; and
- Fees and costs wholly unrelated to the production of documents which are clearly not recoverable, e.g. fees for attorney time spent researching grounds to object to Respondent's subpoena and time spent drafting and revising UASNM's motion to quash.

Judge Jason S. Patil
November 12, 2014
Page 2

In light of the above, and so that we have an adequate opportunity to review the bills and prepare a response after the hearing,¹ we would respectfully request until Wednesday, December 10, 2014, to provide you with our written response to UASNM's Notice of Compliance and Request for Reconsideration.

Sincerely yours,

Robert K. Jamieson

RKJ/nac

cc: Stephen McKenna, Esq.
Dugan Bliss, Esq.
James Boone, Esq.

¹ After the hearing has concluded Respondent's counsel will be out of the office through December 3, 2014.