Management Report to Accompany the Office of Inspector General Semiannual Report to Congress

October 1, 2024–March 31, 2025

The Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended (Inspector General Act), requires the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to transmit to the appropriate committees or subcommittees of the U.S. Congress a Management Report, containing certain statistical tables and any comments deemed appropriate, to accompany the Office of Inspector General's (OIG's) Semiannual Report.¹ This Management Report presents the required information for the reporting period of October 1, 2024, through March 31, 2025.

I. Overview of SEC Audit Follow-up Activities

The SEC is committed to timely completion of corrective actions on OIG audit, inspection, and evaluation recommendations. At the commencement of this semiannual reporting period, there were 26 open OIG recommendations. During the period, management succeeded in obtaining OIG concurrence to close 19 recommendations. Of the 19 closed recommendations, management submitted 15 (or 79 percent) requests for closure in less than one year. The SEC also received three new OIG reports during the reporting period, one of which contained no recommendations and two of which contained a combined total of 15 recommendations for improving the agency's processes and programs. At period-end, final action was pending on 22 recommendations from five reports.

II. Reports on Instances of Whistleblower Retaliation

The Inspector General Act requires the SEC Management Report to include a statement with respect to any settlement agreement entered into by the agency with an official found by the Inspector General to have engaged in retaliation against a whistleblower. The SEC has no such settlement agreements to report.

III. Reports with Monetary Savings

The Inspector General Act requires the SEC Management Report to include statistical information regarding any management decision or final action taken on each audit, inspection, or evaluation report on which final action had not been taken before the reporting period. The information required to be reported includes the dollar value of any “disallowed cost” or “recommendation that funds be put to better use.”

The Inspector General Act defines a “disallowed cost” as a cost questioned by the OIG that agency management has decided should not be charged to the agency. The Inspector General Act defines “recommendation that funds be put to better use” to mean an OIG recommendation that funds could be used more efficiently if management took actions to implement and complete the accompanying recommendation. During the reporting period, OIG did not issue a report that contained any questioned costs or any recommendations that funds be put to better use. In addition, there are no outstanding management decisions on questioned costs or recommendations that funds be put to better use identified in OIG reports from prior reporting periods.

Additional information regarding management decisions and final actions taken during the reporting period for reports on which final action had not been taken before the reporting period began is included below in the next section and Table 1.

IV. Reports with Pending Corrective Action

The Inspector General Act requires the SEC Management Report to include a statement with respect to each audit, inspection, and evaluation report on which a management decision has been made but final action has not been taken. Table 1 presents the required information.

All management decisions for the listed reports were made during prior reporting periods. For the two reports listed in Table 1 for which final action was taken during the reporting period, none of the reports involved any questioned costs or recommendations that funds be put to better use.

The Inspector General Act states that a report may be excluded from the list of reports pending final action if (i) a management decision was made on that report within the preceding year or (ii) the report is under formal administrative or judicial appeal or management has decided to pursue a legislative solution. In this report, the SEC did not exclude any such reports from this list.
