SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-104439; File No. SR-CBOE-2025-069]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Cboe Exchange, Inc.; Order Instituting Proceedings to Determine Whether to Approve or Disapprove a Proposed Rule Change to Amend Rule 5.4

to Change the Minimum Increment for Options on the Cboe Magnificent 10 Index

December 17, 2025.

I. Introduction

On September 24, 2025, Cboe Exchange, Inc. ("Exchange" or "Cboe") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1)¹ of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")² and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,³ a proposed rule change to amend Cboe Rule 5.4(a) to change the minimum increment for all series of options on the Cboe Magnificent 10 Index ("MGTN index," and options thereon, "MGTN index options") to $0.01 for series trading lower than $3.00 and $0.05 for series trading at $3.00 or higher. The proposed rule change was published for comment in the Federal Register on September 30, 2025.⁴ On November 3, 2025, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(A)(ii)(I) of the Act,⁵ the Commission designated a longer period within which to approve the proposed rule change, disapprove the proposed rule change, or institute proceedings to determine whether to approve or disapprove the proposed rule change.⁶ The Commission has not received any comments on the proposal. Pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act,⁷ the Commission is hereby instituting proceedings to determine whether to approve or disapprove the proposed rule change.

II. Description of the Proposed Rule Change

Recently, the Exchange amended its rules in connection with plans to list and trade MGTN index options. MGTN index options are cash-settled, European-style options based on the MGTN index, an equal-weighted benchmark composed of 10 large-cap U.S.-listed technology and growth-oriented companies with listed options. Constituents include companies such as Apple, Microsoft, Nvidia, and Tesla, and are fixed unless adjusted due to corporate actions. Replacements are selected from a reserve list based on market capitalization, trading volume, and classification under the technology sector. The MGTN index is reviewed quarterly for reserve list updates and rebalanced monthly.

The Exchange now proposes to amend Cboe Rule 5.4(a) to change the minimum increment for all series of MGTN index options to $0.01 for series trading lower than $3.00 and $0.05 for series trading at $3.00 or higher.¹³ The Exchange believes market demand supports a lower trading increment for MGTN index options.¹⁴ The Exchange states that the options overlying the components of the MGTN index, as well as the underlying stocks, are among the most actively traded options and stocks, respectively, which, according to the Exchange, supports its view that there will be market demand for the proposed trading increments for MGTN index options.¹⁵ The Exchange states that it expects the proposal to lead to narrowing of the bid-ask spread for MGTN index options, which the Exchange believes will increase order flow in MGTN index options.¹⁶

The Exchange also states that options overlying the individual component stocks of the MGTN index are competitive with MGTN index options ¹⁷ and that the options overlying the MGTN index components are currently eligible for the Penny Interval Program. ¹⁸ The Exchange states that permitting it to price MGTN index options at that minimum increment, as is proposed herein, would allow competitor products to be priced with the same granularity. ¹⁹ The Exchange further states that market participants may use options overlying each component of the MGTN index to hedge MGTN index options or as part of other investment strategies involving MGTN

The Commission notes that, currently, pursuant to Rule 5.4(a), the minimum increment for bids and offers on simple orders for MGTN index options is $0.05 for series trading lower than $3.00 and $0.10 for series trading at $3.00 or higher. See Rule 5.4(a).

index options.²⁰ According to the Exchange, aligning the pricing increment for MGTN index options with options overlying MGTN index components will permit investors to trade related products at more granular prices that may be more aligned with their investment objectives.²¹ In addition, the Exchange represents that it and the Options Price Reporting Authority have the necessary systems capacity to handle any potential additional traffic associated with this proposal.²²

III. Proceedings to Determine Whether to Approve or Disapprove the Proposed Rule Change

The Commission hereby institutes proceedings pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act²³ to determine whether the Exchange's proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved. Institution of proceedings does not indicate that the Commission has reached any conclusions with respect to any of the issues involved. Rather, the Commission seeks and encourages interested persons to provide additional comment on the proposed rule change to inform the Commission's analysis of whether to approve or disapprove the proposed rule change.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act,²⁴ the Commission is providing notice of the grounds for disapproval under consideration. The Commission is instituting proceedings to allow for additional analysis of, and input from commenters with respect to, the consistency of the proposed rule change with the Act and, in particular, Section 6(b)(5) of the Act,²⁵ which requires that the rules of a national securities exchange be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest, and not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

Under the Commission's Rules of Practice, the "burden to demonstrate that a proposed rule change is consistent with the [Act] and the rules and regulations issued thereunder . . . is on the self-regulatory organization that proposed the rule change."²⁶ The description of a proposed rule change, its purpose and operation, its effect, and a legal analysis of its consistency with applicable requirements must all be sufficiently detailed and specific to support an affirmative Commission finding,²⁷ and any failure of a self-regulatory organization to provide this information may result in the Commission not having a sufficient basis to make an affirmative finding that a proposed rule change is consistent with the Act and the applicable rules and regulations.²⁸

As discussed above, the Exchange proposes to reduce the minimum trading increment for all series of MGTN index options to $0.01 for series trading lower than $3.00 and $0.05 for series trading at $3.00 or higher. The Commission is concerned that the proposal does not provide an adequate basis, at this time, for the Commission to conclude that the proposed minimum trading increment for MGTN index options would be consistent with the Act. The Exchange states that its view that market demand supports the proposed minimum increment for MGTN index options is supported by highly active trading in the stock components of the MGTN index and options on those components.²⁹ But MGTN index options had not yet begun trading at the time of the filing of the proposal, so the proposal does not (and could not) set forth trading data demonstrating actual market demand for MGTN index options. In addition, the Exchange states that the proposal would align the minimum increment for MGTN index options with related, competitor products—namely, options on the individual stock components of the MGTN index—that also may be used to hedge MGTN index option positions.³⁰ But the Commission is concerned that the proposal does not provide an adequate basis to conclude that MGTN index options would be a competitive alternative to options on individual stock components of the MGTN index. The Commission asks that commenters address the sufficiency of the Exchange's statements in support of the proposal, which are set forth in the Notice, in addition to any other comments they may wish to submit about the proposed rule change.

Accordingly, the Commission is instituting proceedings to allow for additional consideration and comment on the issues raised herein, including as to whether the proposal is consistent with the Act.³¹

IV. Commission's Solicitation of Comments

See Notice, supra note 4, at 47000.

³⁰ See id. at 47001.

³¹ See 15 U.S.C. 78f(b)(5) and (8).

The Commission requests written views, data, and arguments with respect to the concerns identified above as well as any other relevant concerns. Such comments should be submitted by [INSERT DATE 21 DAYS AFTER DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER]. Rebuttal comments should be submitted by [INSERT DATE 35 DAYS AFTER DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER]. Although there do not appear to be any issues relevant to approval or disapproval that would be facilitated by an oral presentation of views, data, and arguments, the Commission will consider, pursuant to Rule 19b-4, any request for an opportunity to make an oral presentation.³²

The Commission asks that commenters address the sufficiency and merit of the Exchange's statements in support of the proposal, in addition to any other comments they may wish to submit about the proposed rule change.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:
