

Item 1 – Introduction: Is an investment advisory account right for you?

Brazos Wealth Advisors LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Please be aware that brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and that it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 – What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer investment advisory services to retail investors. Our principal services include Wealth Management Services (consisting of Investment Management Services and ongoing Financial Planning Services), stand-alone Financial Planning and Consulting Services, and Retirement Planning and Consulting Services. As part of our wealth management service, we provide continuous and regular supervisory and management services with respect to your account(s). If you open an investment account with our firm, as part of our standard service we will monitor your investments on an ongoing basis and will review your account at least annually. We manage investment accounts on a discretionary basis where we will decide which investments to buy or sell for your account. In limited circumstances and in our sole discretion, we may accept instructions from you that limit our discretionary authority (for example, limiting the types of securities that can be purchased or sold for your account). We offer advice on most types of investments including, but not limited to: equity securities, corporate debt securities, exchange traded funds (ETFs), mutual funds, money market funds, municipal securities, United States government securities, and when appropriate, private placements, among other investments. Additionally, we may advise you on various types of investments based on your stated goals and objectives. We do not require a minimum dollar amount to open and maintain an advisory account.

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional—

- ❖ Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- ❖ How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- ❖ What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – What fees will I pay?

We are primarily compensated by a percentage of assets under our management, fixed fee charges, or a fee based on our hourly rate. Our fees vary depending on the services you receive. Fees for wealth management services are typically based upon a percentage of your assets under our management and are generally payable monthly or quarterly in advance, depending on the payment arrangement negotiated with the client and set forth in the client agreement. The more assets there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees. Therefore, we have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. For financial planning and consulting services, we charge an annual fixed fee or a fee based on our hourly rate. Fees for retirement planning and consulting services are based on a percentage of the plan assets under advisement. Our fees are negotiable depending upon the complexity and scope of the service, your financial situation, and your objectives.

For additional information regarding our fees, please see Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A at the following link:
<https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/323508>

Description of Other Fees and Costs: The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by investment companies (i.e., mutual funds, exchange traded funds, unit investment trusts and variable annuities). These fees are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. You will also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the custodial broker dealer that executes the trade. The custodial broker dealer may also charge your account for custodial fees, retirement account fees, trust fees, exchange fees, redemption fees that may be assessed on investment company shares, transfer fees, account termination fees or other special service fees and charges. We do not share in any portion of these fees imposed by the custodial broker dealer. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by investment companies, broker-dealers, our firm, and others. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information about fees charged by third parties, please refer to Item 5 of Form ADV Part 2A at the <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/323508>

Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional—

- ❖ Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- All investment advisers face conflicts of interest which are inherent in the business. Our primary source of compensation is through asset-based fees. Therefore, we are incentivized to acquire new clients and to increase assets under management. Please review our Form ADV Part 2A for more information on conflicts of interest.

- ❖ How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Please refer to our Form ADV Part 2A for further information on our conflicts of interest and how we address them at the following link: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/323508>

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals receive salary-based compensation, a percentage of advisory billings and/or bonuses based on the amount of client assets they bring to our firm. Therefore, our financial professionals have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. Additionally, financial professionals who have an ownership interest in our firm share in the profits generated by our firm. While certain associated persons of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents, under no circumstances will that individual receive any form of commission-based compensation for insurance-related activities.

Item 4 – Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. Neither our firm nor our financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history to disclose.

For a free, simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals please visit Investor.gov/CRS.

Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional—

- ❖ As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
