Conversation Starters

Here are some questions to ask a financial professional to start a conversation about our relationships and services:

1. Given my financial situation, should I choose a brokerage service? Why or why not?

2. Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
3. How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
4. What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

“What fees will I pay?”

The principal fees and costs that a retail investor will incur are wrap advisory fees of 1.50% annualized, charged monthly on the first of every month. This fee is deducted directly from client accounts and is non-negotiable.

“Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?”

For Example:

$$10,000 \text{ Account Balance} * (1.50\% \text{ Advisory Fee} / 12 \text{ Months}) = $10,000 * 0.00125 = $12.50$ per month

In addition to the Advisory Fee, clients may incur additional fees or expenses related to:

- Custodian Fees: Charges by the custodian of your assets (either Charles Schwab, Goldman Sachs, or Interactive Brokers).
- ETF and Mutual Fund Fees: Fees embedded in the expense ratios of these funds.
- Margin Expenses: Costs associated with borrowing funds to purchase securities.

AIML TRADING PARTNERS LLC does not charge direct broker-dealer fees or transaction costs, nor do we accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products. Clients are not charged fees in advance and are not entitled to refunds.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

“What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?”

When we act as your Investment Adviser, we must act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

“How do your financial professionals make money; how else does your firm make money, and what conflicts of interest do you have?”

Our financial professionals are compensated based on:

- The amount of client assets they service: Higher assets under management typically result in higher compensation.
- The time and complexity required to meet a client’s needs: More complex or time-consuming client relationships may result in higher compensation.
- Advisory Fees: Our fully licensed and registered financial professionals may earn a percentage of the advisory fees charged to client accounts.

Examples of Ways We Do Not Make Money:

- Proprietary Products: We do not issue, sponsor, or manage proprietary products.
- Third-Party Payments: We do not receive compensation from third parties when we recommend or sell certain investments.
- Revenue Sharing: We do not engage in revenue-sharing arrangements.
- Principal Trading: We do not buy investments from, or sell investments to, retail investors from our own account.

“How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?”

The compensation structures create potential conflicts of interest, as there may be an incentive to encourage clients to increase their assets under management or to engage in more complex financial planning services.

For further details, please refer to our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure, which provides comprehensive information about our fees, costs, and conflicts of interest. This information is also available or can be provided upon request.

Item 4 – Disciplinary History

“Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?”

Yes, AIML TRADING PARTNERS LLC and some of our financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history.

Ryan Gregory Caldwell has a disclosure on Form U5 (Uniform Termination Notice for Securities Industry Registration) from 2023. This disclosure pertains to employment separation after allegations of using an unapproved third-party communication application to send written communications to a client about a private securities transaction and sending unsecured emails to communicate client information.

We encourage you to visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starter: “As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? What type of conduct?”
