Todd Asset Management LLC (TAM) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser and, as such, we provide advisory services rather than brokerage services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. The SEC offers free and simple tools to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS which also provides information tailored to educate retail investors about financial professionals. This document is a summary of the services and fees we offer to "retail" investors, which are natural persons who seek or receive services primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

What Investment Services and advice can you provide me?

Account Monitoring: If you open an investment account with TAM, as part of our standard service we will monitor your investments on a daily basis and your account on a monthly basis.

Investment Authority: TAM manages investment accounts on a discretionary basis whereby we will decide which investments to buy or sell for your account. You may limit our discretionary authority (for example, limiting the types of securities that can be purchased or sold for your account) by providing our firm with your restrictions and guidelines in writing.

Investment Offerings: TAM provides portfolio management services based on the investment objectives established by the client. Through personal discussions with a client in which the client's goals and objectives are established, we help our clients select one or more of TAM's various investment strategies that best suits the client's circumstances.

Account Minimums and Requirements: Generally, TAM requires a minimum account size of $5,000,000 to provide advisory services. At our discretion we may waive or lower this amount or combine related accounts to meet the minimum.

Questions to ask us:

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Our annual fees are based on a percentage of assets under management in your account. The fees are payable quarterly, either in advance based on assets as of the beginning of the quarter, or in arrears based on assets as of the end of the quarter. The annual fee percentage varies based on the investment strategy selected. These annual fees are described in more detail in Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A. The more assets in your account, the more you will pay in fees, and the Firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

There are other fees and costs, related to our investment advisory services listed above, that you will pay directly or indirectly to other entities. These may include a fee paid to the custodian holding the investments, commissions paid to brokers when executing trades, mutual or collective fund's internal fees, and in some cases, a broker holding your account, may charge a wrap fee that includes custodial and trade costs.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information on these items please see Item 5 of our Form ADV by visiting <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/109473>.

Questions to ask us:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here is an example to help you understand what this means:

- Trades in your account may be placed with brokers who provide investment research used as part of our investment process. This act may cause the commission rate paid by the account to not be the lowest available commission for executing trades. Please see Item 12 of our Form ADV, 2A brochure for additional information regarding this conflict. Additional conflicts are noted in various sections of the Form.

Questions to ask us:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Refer to our Form ADV Part 2A by visiting <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/109473> to help you understand what conflicts exist,

How do your financial professionals make money?

We pay our professionals in many ways including cash in the form of a base salary, bonus, internal commission based on advisory fee collected, and for Partners a share in Firm profits. This presents a conflict as they have the opportunity to earn more when opening more accounts, increasing assets and overall account performance.
