CFA - Earning the CFA charter requires successful completion of the CFA Program, a graduate-level self-study program that combines a broad curriculum with professional conduct requirements, culminating in three sequential exams covering topics such as Ethical and Professional Standards, Quantitative Methods, Economics, Financial Reporting, Security Analysis, and Portfolio Management. Charters are issued by the CFA Institute which is a global, not-for-profit organization comprising the world's largest association of investment professionals dedicated to developing and promoting the highest educational, ethical, and professional standards in the investment industry.

CFP® - Earning the Certified Financial Planner (CFP) designation requires (i) successful completion of an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services and the attainment of a Bachelor's Degree from an accredited college or university; (ii) the passing of the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances; (iii) completion of at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience; and (iv) agreement to be bound by the CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct. Once certified, a CFP must complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years (including two hours on the Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct) and renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

SUPERVISION

Faris Chesley is Chairman of the Board of Managers of the firm and is responsible for the firm's activities. He, and/or the Chief Compliance Officer or a principal of the firm, review and approve all trades placed for client accounts. Our Policies and Procedures and Code of Ethics require that all violations or reportable events be brought to the attention of the Chairman for remediation or resolution. If the violation or reportable event involves the Chairman, the Chief Compliance Officer will act in his place.

At least once a year, the Chief Compliance Officer reviews all accounts with the respective portfolio manager. During these reviews, we review the portfolio and trading activity for compliance with the client's profile and stated objectives. Included in the review are the following:

- The client profile
- The portfolio appraisal
- Trading activity
- Performance information

The Chief Compliance Officer, or his/her designated substitute reviews the daily trading activities for Code of Ethics violations.
