Item 4 - Advisory Business

- A. MPC Capital Advisors, LLC (“MPC”) has been in business since March 2010. MPC is a New York Limited Liability Company (LLC).
- B. MPC’s primary business is of a consulting and educational nature only. MPC provides comprehensive investment management consulting services to sponsors of investment programs. In this capacity MPC does not act as a conventional money manager offering discretionary or advisory asset management. In its consulting role MPC offers assistance in the following general areas: (1) The development of long-term strategic asset allocation policy, (2) The development and maintenance of investment policies and guidelines, (3) The selection of investment managers/investment funds, (4) the monitoring and evaluation of sponsored portfolios, (5) Setting policies concerning certain administrative and program implementation functions, such as custody, brokerage, securities lending, compliance controls etc., (6) Customized client educational programs.

Additionally, MPC presents investment performance reports to clients or to its clients’ Investment Committees on at least a quarterly basis. MPC may also assist client and/or the client’s Investment Committee with regular review and updates of Investment Policy Statements including asset allocation, investment manager selection, and selection of appropriate benchmarks. Other services provided may include custodian review and analysis, ongoing research and education and portfolio manager searches, including non-traditional asset classes.

At no time will MPC have any discretion to make any changes to the clients’ portfolios individual investments, to its overall structure or to its investment managers. MPC agrees to provide appropriate and timely disclosure pertaining to any other relationships in which MPC has a financial interest or receives compensation.

- C. MPC customizes its services for each client. Thus, fees may vary significantly from client to client. Our fees are determined by the services required, the complexity of tasks involved, the time required, the amount of assets, and the nature of the relationship. Fees can be paid as a percentage of assets or a retainer fee. Clients are generally billed quarterly, in advance. Generally, the minimum account size is $30,000,000 and /or a minimum fee of $70,000 per year. All fees are negotiable. Following the first week after signing of our contract, clients may terminate the contract with between 30 and 90 days written notice and receive a refund of fees for services not yet rendered. The length of time required for notification of termination is negotiated and can vary from client to client.

- D. MPC does not participate in wrap fee programs by providing portfolio management services.
- E. As of December 31, 2023, MPC was managing no client accounts on a discretionary basis and 32 client accounts on a non-discretionary, consultative basis with ~total assets under consultation of $15,361,929,606.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

- A. MPC customizes its services for each client. Thus, fees may vary significantly from client to client. Our fees are determined by the services required, the complexity of tasks involved, the time required, the amount of assets, and the nature of the relationship. Fees can be paid as a percentage of assets or a retainer fee. Clients are generally billed quarterly, in advance. Generally, the minimum account size is $30,000,000 and /or a minimum fee of $70,000 per year for new clients. All fees are negotiable.

- B. Following the first week after signing of our contract, clients may terminate the contract with between 30 and 90 days written notice and receive a refund of fees for services not yet rendered. The length of time required for notification of termination is negotiated and can vary from client to client. If agreements are canceled during their term, any fees due either party will be prorated appropriately as set forth in the advisory agreement. Accordingly, if a client pays in advance and the agreement is terminated prior to the end of the billing period, MPC will return a proportionate amount of the fees based on the percentage of services performed or the proportion of the period for which MPC has performed services, depending on the particular client agreement.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Neither MPC nor any of its officers, directors, employees, or persons providing advice on MPC's behalf and subject to MPC's supervision and control accepts performance-based fees.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

MPC provides Investment Management Consulting Services to Trusts, Endowments, Foundations, Religious Organizations, Church Retirement Plans, Taft Hartley, Hospitals, Corporate Retirement Plans, Operating Assets and Insurance Companies.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

- A. MPC's securities and analysis methods do not include traditional fundamental, technical and cyclical analysis. MPC is solely an investment consultant and does not, in its normal course of business, advise on specific securities. MPC does not typically provide discretionary management services that are of a continuous and regular supervisory nature. Clients typically utilize investment advisers to manage their portfolios which may be invested across a broad array of asset classes. Some clients may choose to implement certain investment programs with selected investment organizations utilizing vehicles regulated as securities, such as investment company securities (open or closed end mutual funds or exchange traded funds) or limited partnership interests.

Other methods of analysis may include interviews and on-site visits with investment managers.

MPC's analytical focus is on assisting clients identify suitable investment managers. MPC does not engage in analysis of individual equity or fixed income securities. These investment managers, in turn, select individual securities for each client based on the investment manager's stated investment strategy.

- B. Investing in securities involves risks of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The principal risks associated with MPC's Consulting Services are:

General Investment Risk, i.e., the risk of deterioration in the financial markets in general;

Strategy Risk, i.e., the risk that MPC's investment asset allocation strategies and/or investment techniques may not work as intended;

Investment Manager Risk, i.e., the risks associated with the presentation of third-party investment management firms, such as fraud, deviation from defined strategies, human or system error and poor judgment.

General Investment Risk. All investments in securities and other financial instruments involves substantial risk of volatility (potentially resulting in rapid declines in market prices and significant losses) arising from any number of factors that are beyond the control of MPC and the investment managers that it recommends, such as changing market sentiment, changes in inflation, exchange or interest rates, changing domestic or international economic or political conditions or events or changes in tax laws and governmental regulation, and social unrest, terrorism or civil disturbances. Changes such as these, as well as innumerable other factors, are often unpredictable and unforeseeable, rendering it difficult or impossible to predict or foresee future market movements.

Strategy Risk. MPC will use its best efforts to present suitable investment managers for clients. MPC's investment strategies and/or investment techniques may not work as intended because of the results of the presented strategies to properly meet client objectives. MPC will also use its best efforts to ascertain significant details regarding the strategies used by the investment managers that it recommends. In many cases, however, MPC will not be given access to all required information.

Investment Manager Risk. MPC will not have custody or control over the assets managed by the investment managers. Clients are at risk if the investment manager fails to perform or exercises fraud, misrepresentation or simple bad judgment. Among other things, an investment manager could divert or abscond with the assets allocated to it, fail to follow its stated investment strategy and restrictions, issue false reports or engage in other misconduct. This could result in serious losses to the client.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Statement of General Principles

A. Code of Ethics

The Adviser's Code of Ethics (the "Code") is designed to meet the requirements of Rule 204A-1 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act"). The Code applies to the Adviser's employees, including "Access Persons." Access Persons include, generally, any partner, officer or director of and any employee or other supervised person of the Adviser who, (1) has access to non-public information regarding any purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding securities holdings or (2) is involved in making securities recommendations, executing securities recommendations, or has access to such recommendations that are non-public.

The Code sets forth a standard of business conduct that takes into account the Adviser's status as a fiduciary and requires employees to place the interests of the Firm's clients above their own interests and the interests of the Adviser. The Code also requires employees to comply with applicable federal securities laws. The Code further sets forth certain reporting and pre-clearance requirements with respect to personal trading by Access Persons. Access Persons must provide the Adviser's Chief Compliance Officer (the "Chief Compliance Officer"), Frederick Weiss, with a list of their personal accounts and an initial holding report within 10 days of becoming an Access Person. In addition, the Adviser's Access Persons must provide annual holdings reports and quarterly transaction reports in accordance with Advisers Act Rule 204A-1. Moreover, the Code seeks to ensure the protection of nonpublic information about the activities of the Firm's clients. Employees are required to promptly bring violations of the Code to the attention of the Adviser's Chief Compliance Officer.

The Adviser will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

The Adviser's personnel are required to certify to their compliance with the Code of Ethics on an annual basis.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

- A. MPC does not select or recommend broker-dealers in its principal business of providing investment planning, implementation advice, and portfolio management assistance to primarily an institutional client base. Instead, MPC recommends investment managers, and the choice of the broker is made by the client and investment manager. MPC has no soft-dollar or research arrangements or agreement to receive client referrals with any broker-dealer.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

- A. MPC performs routine quarterly reviews and oversight of all investments and provides a summary of investment performance results by manager and portfolio. Significant events, such as extreme market changes or social events, or client specific events, such as a merger, may trigger special reviews.

- B. MPC delivers written reports for review and discussion, on at least a quarterly basis, which include performance evaluations of each investment manager, and each portfolio; comparative performance for established benchmarks, and for peer institutions; assessment of asset allocation and need, if any, for rebalancing. Additionally, client investment manager relationships may present reports to clients or to its clients' Investment Committees on a quarterly basis. MPC will also assist client and/or the client's Investment Committee with regular review and updates of Investment Policy Statements including asset allocation, fund manager selection, and selection of appropriate benchmarks.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

- A. MPC has no arrangements with third parties to provide investment advice or other advisory services to MPC's clients.
- B. Neither MPC nor a related person directly or indirectly compensates any person for client referrals other than employees of MPC.

Item 15 - Custody

MPC does not have custody of client funds or securities.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

MPC does not accept discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

MPC, as a matter of policy and practice, has no authority to vote proxies on behalf of clients. Clients may elect to delegate proxy voting authority to the investment managers that the client engages to provide investment advisory services to such client. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian or a transfer agent rather than from MPC. Clients are free to contact their primary consultant with questions concerning a particular solicitation.

Item 18 - Financial Information

- A. A. MPC is not required to provide financial information because it does not require prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more months in advance.
- B. There are no known financial conditions that would impair MPC's ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.
- C. MPC has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition

Item 19 - Privacy Notice

Not applicable - Although MPC does not provide investment advisory services to individuals and has no requirement to provide a Privacy Notice to its institutional clients, MPC nonetheless is committed to safeguarding its clients' confidential information.
