III. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

There are no legal or disciplinary matters that would be material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of any of the supervised persons listed above.

IV. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

None of the supervised persons listed above are engaged in any investment-related business or occupation unrelated to our business. In addition, none of the supervised persons listed above are engaged in any business activity or activities unrelated to our business that provide a substantial source of that supervised person's income or involve a substantial amount of that supervised person's time.

V. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

None of the supervised persons listed above receive an economic benefit from a person or entity that is not our client for providing investment advice or other advisory services.

VI. SUPERVISION

GEF Capital Partners, LLC ("GEF Capital Partners", "we" or "us") has an established process for the oversight, management, and provision of investment advice to its private fund clients. For each of our clients, investments are pursued in accordance with strategies which have been established concurrently with or prior to the establishment of such private investment vehicle. The applicable strategy for each client is typically set forth in limited partnership agreements, limited liability company agreements, management agreements, and other similar legal documentation to which the client is a party.

GEF Capital Partners maintains discretionary investment authority for each of its clients. To ensure that supervised persons conform to the investment strategy set forth in the agreements to which a client is a party, each investment made on behalf of a client requires at least two levels of approval within GEF Capital Partners. Initially, for an investment opportunity to be considered on behalf of a client, an investment team comprised of GEF Capital Partners personnel, including certain of the supervised persons listed above, must first recommend such opportunity to the “Investment Committee” acting on behalf of a client. Only if an investment opportunity has been recommended by each member of the investment team having the title of “Partner” will the Investment Committee, acting on behalf of the client, consider the opportunity.

If an investment opportunity has met the threshold for consideration, then an Investment Committee comprised principally of the supervised persons listed above will consider the merits of the opportunity at an Investment Committee meeting, after the review of written materials prepared in advance by the investment team. Should the Investment Committee approve the applicable opportunity, the investment team is then authorized to consummate the applicable opportunity, subject to any conditions or considerations established by the Investment Committee. A majority of the members of an Investment Committee of a client must approve an investment in order to permit consummation of such investment on behalf of the client. None of the supervised persons listed above may generally take unilateral action on behalf of our clients. As a result, the structure of our Investment Committees serves to monitor the actions of our most senior personnel.

Each supervised person listed above also receives training sessions and email communications emphasizing the conduct and compliance requirements governing their roles with us. All of our supervised persons have an obligation to seek advice from supervisory personnel regarding any issues with which they may be unfamiliar and have a duty to report any conduct or compliance violations to our Chief Compliance Officer, Alexandra C. LaFrankie. As our Chief Compliance Officer, Ms. LaFrankie is responsible for administering our compliance program throughout our organization. Ms. LaFrankie can be reached at (202) 641-4098. Each of the supervised persons listed above can be reached at (202) 743-2898.
