Item 4 - Services, Fees and Compensation

Epic Wealth Management, LLC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("Epic Wealth Management"), was formed in July 2018. Epic Wealth Management provides portfolio management services to individuals, including high net worth individuals, charitable organizations, corporations or other businesses not listed above and business owners.

We are primarily owned by BE, LLC and we are indirectly owned by Valery Oswald. Please see the Part 2B Brochure for more information on Ms. Oswald.

Portfolio Management Services

The following paragraphs describe our services and fees. Refer to the description of each investment advisory service listed below for information on how we tailor our advisory services to your individual needs. As used in this brochure, the words "Epic Wealth Management," "firm," "we," "our," and "us" refer to Epic Wealth Management, Inc. and the words "you," "your," and "client" refer to you as either a client or prospective client of our firm.

We offer discretionary portfolio management services through our wrap fee program. Our investment advice is tailored to meet our clients' needs and investment objectives through our growth and conservative income strategies. At the beginning of a client relationship, Epic Wealth Management talks with the client, gathers information, and performs research and analysis as necessary to develop the client's Investment Plan. The Investment Plan will be updated from time to time when requested by the client, or when determined to be necessary or advisable by Epic Wealth Management based on updates to the client's financial or other circumstances, but is not necessarily a written document.

Epic Wealth Management views investment management as part of the comprehensive financial plan. We use varying tools and experiences to guide us in recommending an appropriate asset allocation to help our clients achieve their goals. These may include, but are not limited to:

1. Long-Term Cash Flow Projections - The basis of any investment recommendations come from a comprehensive review of our client's cash flow needs, now and in the future, the ability to define realistic expectations, comfort with risk, and time horizon for needing to access resources from their assets. We may use cash flow projections to determine to the best of our ability when assets might be needed, the tax consequences of withdrawing from specific accounts, and whether a recommended portfolio would have the ability to create returns necessary to achieve the wants and needs of our clients.
2. Risk Discussions With Clients - In addition to the more technical data points mentioned above, we rely heavily on the ongoing communications with our clients and our understanding of their personal financial situation to give additional support for a certain recommended asset allocation.

After taking all of the pertinent information into account, we will recommend a portfolio based on an agreed upon level of risk. Epic Wealth Management then selects the appropriate securities to fill the asset allocation, based in part upon the clients specific tax and other financial planning considerations. We regularly monitor each client's portfolio and may rebalance a client's portfolio based on the clients' needs. Overriding factors could be, but are not limited to, tax consequences and other client specific factors.

If you participate in our discretionary portfolio management services, we require you to grant our firm discretionary authority to manage your account. Discretionary authorization will allow us to determine the specific securities, and the amount of securities, to be purchased or sold for your account without your approval prior to each transaction. Discretionary authority is typically granted by an investment advisory agreement between you and Epic Wealth Management and the appropriate trading authorization forms.

We may also offer non-discretionary portfolio management services. If you enter into non-discretionary arrangement with our firm, we must obtain your approval prior to executing any transactions on behalf of your account. You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

As part of our portfolio management services, in addition to other types of investments (see disclosures below in this section), we may invest your assets according to one or more model portfolios developed by our firm. These models are designed for investors with varying degrees of risk tolerance ranging from a more aggressive investment strategy to a more conservative investment approach. Clients whose assets are invested in model portfolios may not set restrictions on the specific holdings or allocations within the model, nor the types of securities that can be purchased in the model.

In providing account management services, EWM could allow restrictions on the specific securities or the types of securities that may be held in your accounts on a case-by-case basis.

Epic Wealth Management offers the following portfolio management services: (i) investment and management of a client's assets in an Independent Clearing Account ("ICA"); (ii) investment and management of a client's assets through the Epic Wealth Wrap Program sponsored by Epic Wealth Management, LLC.

Rollover Recommendations

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may recommend that you withdraw the assets from your employer's retirement plan and roll the assets over to an individual retirement account ("IRA") that we will manage on your behalf. If you elect to roll the assets to an IRA that is subject to our management, we will charge you an asset-based fee as set forth in the agreement you executed with our firm. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on our behalf have an incentive to recommend a rollover to you for the purpose of generating fee-based compensation rather than solely based on your needs. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to complete the rollover. Moreover, if you do complete the rollover, you are under no obligation to have the assets in an IRA managed by our firm.

Many employers permit former employees to keep their retirement assets in their company plan. Also, current employees can sometimes move assets out of their company plan before they retire or change jobs. In determining whether to complete the rollover to an IRA, and to the extent the following options are available, you should consider the costs and benefits of: 1)) Leaving the funds in your employer's (former employer's) plan; 2) moving the funds to a new employer's retirement plan; 3) cashing out and taking a taxable distribution from the plan; and/or 4) rolling the funds into an IRA rollover account. Each of these options has advantages and disadvantages and before making a change we encourage you to speak with your CPA and/or tax attorney. Our recommendations may include any of them, depending on what we feel is in your best interest.

We are fiduciaries under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and when we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are also fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. As a fiduciary, we are required to document the reason(s) for why the recommendation we made is in your best interest.

Portfolio Management Fees

The annual fee for portfolio management services varies between 0% to 3%. The amount of the annual fee for portfolio management services depends upon the market value of your assets under our management, the type and complexity of the asset management services provided, as well as the level of administration requested either directly or assumed by the client and will be identified in your investment advisory agreement with us. Assets in each of your account(s) are included in the fee assessment unless specifically identified in writing for exclusion. In special circumstances, and in our sole discretion, we may negotiate a lesser fee based upon certain criteria (i.e., the dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, potential future assets, account composition, pre-existing client relationship, account retention, etc.).

Wrap Programs offer you the ability to pay an asset-based advisory fee which includes transaction costs within the advisory fee in lieu of a commission for each investment transaction within the account.

The Wrap Program fee structure includes the brokerage expenses (e.g., commissions, ticket charges, etc.) of the account, charges for custody services, the management fee paid to Epic Wealth Management and the fees of the SMA Managers. Under the all-inclusive billing arrangement, Epic Wealth Management will assess one client fee that captures the management, brokerage, custody and administrative portions collectively. Any portion of Wrap Program fees that Epic Wealth Management does not pay to third parties in connection with transaction and execution expenses and/or to SMA Managers is retained by Epic Wealth Management. Because of this, Epic Wealth Management may have a disincentive to trade securities in client accounts. For ICA accounts, the Wrap Program is sponsored by Epic Wealth Management (the “Epic Wealth Wrap Program”).

Epic Wealth Management typically requires a minimum portfolio asset value size of $500,000 per household, but may, in its discretion, make exceptions to the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where Epic Wealth Management deems it appropriate under the circumstances.

General Information on Compensation and Other Fees

As part of our Portfolio Management Services, we also offer the following services, which clients may or may not choose to utilize, at no additional fee:

Personal Financial Services

- Personal Financial Modeling
- Investment Tax Planning
- Estate Planning and Wealth Transfer Consulting

- Investment Analysis
- Portfolio Management
- Retirement Income Planning
- Fixed Income Analysis

Our annual portfolio management fee is billed and payable, quarterly in advance, based on the balance of the account on the last business day of the previous calendar quarter. The fee is based on the market value of your assets under our management, the type and complexity of the asset management services provided, as well as the level of administration requested either directly or assumed by the client. Assets in each of your account(s) are included in the fee assessment unless specifically identified in writing for exclusion.

If the portfolio management agreement is executed at any time other than the first day of a calendar quarter, our fees will apply on a pro rata basis, which means that the advisory fee is payable in proportion to the number of days in the quarter for which you are a client. Our advisory fee is negotiable and may be waived in whole or in part depending on individual client circumstances and in our discretion.

At our discretion, we may combine the account values of family members living in the same household to determine the applicable advisory fee. For example, we may combine account values for you and your minor children, joint accounts with your spouse, and other types of related accounts. Combining account values may increase the asset total, which may result in your paying a reduced advisory fee based on the available breakpoints in our fee schedule stated above.

We will invoice the custodian and deduct our fee directly from your account through the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when you have given our firm written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. Further, the qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all disbursements from your account. You should review all statements for accuracy.

You may terminate the portfolio management agreement upon 30 days written notice. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the portfolio management agreement, which means you will incur advisory fees only in proportion to the number of days in the quarter for which you are a client. If you have pre-paid advisory fees that we have not yet earned, you will receive a prorated refund of those fees.

Additional Fees and Expenses

As part of our investment advisory services provided to you, we may invest, or recommend that you invest, in mutual funds, exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), or other investment pools to their shareholders (generally including a management fee and fund expenses, as described in each fund's prospectus or offering materials). The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. You will also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian through whom your account transactions are executed. We do not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds, our firm, and others. For information on our brokerage practices, refer to the Item 12 - Brokerage Practices of Form ADV Part 2A.

We may trade client accounts on margin. When we are requested to trade client accounts on margin, each client must sign a separate margin agreement before margin is extended to that client account. Fees for advice and execution on these securities are based on the total asset value of the account, which includes the value of the securities purchased on margin. While a negative amount may show on a client's statement for the margined security as the result of a lower net market value, the amount of the fee is based on the absolute market value. This creates a conflict of interest where we have an incentive to encourage the use of margin to create a higher market value and therefore receive a higher fee. The use of margin may also result in interest charges in addition to all other fees and expenses associated with the security involved.

All fees paid to Epic Wealth Management are separate and distinct from mark-ups and mark-downs, spreads paid to market makers, fees for trades executed away from the custodian, wire transfer fees, account closing fees, annual account fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. You should review all fees charged by funds, brokers, Epic Wealth Management and others to fully understand the total amount of fees paid by the client for investment and financial-related services.

Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

Certain persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to you. Insurance commissions earned by these persons are separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are insurance agents have an incentive to recommend insurance products to you for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any person affiliated with our firm.

Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair dealing with you. Under the Code's Professional Standards, Epic Wealth Management expects its associated persons to put the interests of its clients first, ahead of personal interests. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Personal Trading Practices

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. A conflict of interest exists in such cases because we have the ability to trade ahead of you and potentially receive more favorable prices than you will receive. Under its Code, Epic Wealth Management has adopted procedures designed to reduce or eliminate conflicts of interest that this could potentially cause. The Code's personal trading policies include procedures for limitations on personal securities transactions of associated persons, including generally disallowing trading by an associated person in any security before any client account trades or considers trading the same security and the creation of a restricted securities list if applicable, reporting and review of personal trading activities and pre-clearance of certain types of personal trading activities. These policies are designed to discourage and prohibit personal trading that would disadvantage clients. If, after reviewing an associated person's personal trading activities, Epic Wealth Management determines that a particular transaction violated Epic Wealth Management's policies, Epic Wealth Management may require that the associated person reverse, cancel or freeze such transaction.

Review of Accounts

Epic Wealth Management will monitor your accounts on an ongoing basis and will conduct periodic account reviews to ensure the advisory services provided to you are consistent with your investment needs and objectives. Additional reviews may be conducted based on various circumstances, including, but not limited to:

- contributions and withdrawals,

- market moving events,
- security specific events, and/or,
- changes in your risk/return objectives.

One of Epic Wealth Management's investment adviser representatives or principals is responsible for reviewing all accounts.
