Item 4 - Advisory Business

A. Firm Description

Outfitter Advisors, Ltd. ("OAL" or "Firm"), a Delaware corporation, has been providing investment management services since its formation in December 1999. The Principal owners of OAL are Benjamin J. Peress and David A. Kenkel.

B. Types of Advisory Service

OAL offers discretionary investment management services to a wide range of clients, including, but not limited to, individuals, business entities, trusts, and qualified retirement plans. Upon request from a client, we may also provide investment consulting with respect to investment policy statements, asset allocation, portfolio construction, investment performance, money manager searches, and other investment-related matters.

C. Tailored Relationships

OAL works with clients to arrive at investment strategies that are specific to their needs and financial goals. We then implement the investment strategies by investing in a diversified portfolio of stocks and bonds aligned with the investment objectives of our clients.

Clients give OAL a limited power of attorney to trade stocks and bonds on their behalf, and they may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

OAL does not participate in wrap fee programs.

E. Client Assets

As of December 31, 2012, we had $280,624,365 in assets under management on a discretionary basis and $0 in assets under management on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

A. Fee Schedule

OAL's investment management fees are based upon an annual percentage of the market value of assets under OAL's management as follows:

1.5% on the first $5 million under management
0.75% after $5 million

We may charge an hourly fee ranging from $150 to $300 per hour or a negotiated fixed quarterly fee for providing investment management and consulting services. Fees will vary depending on the complexity of the engagement and the professional providing the service.

All fees are negotiable and the client may pay higher or lower fees than other clients receiving similar services. OAL may, in its sole discretion, waive or reduce fees charged to clients.

The investment management fee charged by OAL pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement between OAL and the client is waived for the portion of the client's account invested in a mutual fund where OAL or an affiliate serves as the investment adviser. Management fees and other expenses charged by a mutual fund remain the responsibility of the client. A description of these fees and expenses are available in the mutual fund's prospectus.

B. Fee Billing

Clients may elect to have the quarterly investment management fee debited directly by the custodian of the account and paid directly to OAL. In such cases, OAL will send an invoice to each client showing the amount of the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the value of assets the fee is based on, and the time period covered by the fee. Additionally, the invoice will disclose that it is the client's responsibility, not the custodian's, to verify the accuracy of the fee.

If a client elects to be billed directly by OAL, the investment management fee is due upon receipt of an invoice from OAL and payable by check.

OAL's investment management fees are billed quarterly at $\frac{1}{4}$ of the annual rate and up to three months in advance. Fees are based on portfolio values as of March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31.

C. Other Fees

Clients may incur fees imposed by custodians, broker-dealers, and other third-parties in connection with receiving investment management services from OAL. Such fees generally include custodial fees, brokerage transaction fees, and mutual fund expenses. The client is responsible for all third party fees. These fees are separate and distinct from the investment management fee charged by OAL. See Item 12 (Brokerage Practices) for more details.

D. Prepaid Fees

OAL's investment management fee is charged to clients quarterly in advance. The fee is payable in the full amount determined by the portfolio values at the end of each calendar quarter.

The Investment Management Agreement that specifies the agreed upon fee may be canceled at any time by us or the client. If the Investment Management Agreement is canceled during the calendar quarter, the fee will be pro-rated and refunded to the client for the portion of the quarter remaining.

E. Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

Securities

Certain associated persons of OAL are registered representatives of Andrew Garrett, Inc. ("AGI"), an unaffiliated FINRA broker-dealer. OAL's associated persons, in their individual capacities as registered representatives of AGI, may receive commission-based compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

OAL and its management benefit and receive certain compensation indirectly as a result of the sale of shares of the Outfitter Fund, a mutual fund advised by Outfitter Financial Corp., an investment adviser owned and operated by OAL. Generally, investments by new shareholders, or the increase of the investments of existing shareholders, will increase the amount of the investment management fee payable to Outfitter Financial Corp.

Insurance

In addition, certain associated persons of OAL are also licensed agents with unaffiliated insurance companies. OAL's associated persons, in their individual capacities as insurance agents, may receive commission-based compensation for the sale of insurance products.

1. The recommendation that a client purchase an investment product from AGI or invest in the Outfitter Fund presents a conflict of interest, as the receipt of commissions or other additional compensation may provide an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation to be received, rather than on a particular client's need. OAL addresses this conflict by fully disclosing all material facts to clients prior to their purchase of an investment. No client is under any obligation to purchase any investment products from OAL's associated persons or invest in the Outfitter Fund.

2. Clients have the option to purchase investment products recommended by OAL's associated persons through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with OAL.
3. OAL does not receive commission-based revenue from advisory clients for the sale of investment products. OAL's compensation is solely from advisory fees paid directly by advisory clients. As previously disclosed, OAL's associated persons, in their individual capacities as registered representatives of AGI and insurance agents of various insurance companies, may receive commissions on investment or insurance products sold to clients. Such commissions are paid from AGI and the insurance companies directly to the associated persons of OAL.
4. When OAL's associated persons sell investment products on a commission basis, OAL does not charge advisory fees in addition to the commissions paid by the client for such products. When providing services on an advisory fee basis, OAL's associated persons do not also receive commissions for such advisory services. However, a client may engage OAL to provide investment management services on an advisory fee basis and separate from such advisory services purchase an investment product from OAL's associated persons on a separate commission basis.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees & Side-by-Side Management

Neither OAL nor any of its supervised persons accepts performance-based fees.

Item 7 - Types of clients

OAL's clients include, but are not limited to, individuals, business entities, trusts, and qualified retirement plans.

While we do not have an account minimum, our preference is to work with clients that have $1 million or more in investments to guide.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Methods of Analysis

We largely employ fundamental analysis to arrive at stocks and bonds we invest in for clients. Fundamental analysis involves the analysis of financial statements, the general financial health of companies, and/or the analysis of management or competitive advantages.

Primary sources of information that we use generally include financial newspapers and magazines; corporate press releases and conferences; research material prepared by others including brokerage firms; and quarterly and annual filings with the SEC.

Investment Strategies

While the investment strategies we undertake primarily target long-term investments (securities held for more than one year), we also make short-term investments (securities sold within a year). We do not undertake leveraged, or margin, transactions unless a client directs us to, and for a few of our clients we periodically sell options against stock investments they hold.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

B. Material Risks of Investment Strategies

OAL's methods of analysis and investment strategies do not present any significant or unusual risks beyond that of the general domestic and/or international securities markets. There can be no guarantee that OAL's methods of analysis, investment strategies or any particular investment recommended or directed by OAL will prove profitable.

Short-term, or frequent trading of securities, can expose the client to higher transaction costs and higher tax rates in taxable accounts, reducing investment performance.

C. Material Risks of Investing

Client portfolios are diversified to include exchange and over-the-counter traded stocks and bonds of domestic and foreign issuers. Many portfolios we guide also include mutual funds.

Securities generally fluctuate in value and may decline significantly over short time periods. The value of a security in which a portfolio invests may decline due to general weakness in the stock market or because of factors that affect a company or a particular industry.

Foreign securities may be adversely affected by political and economic conditions overseas, reduced liquidity, or decreases in foreign currency values relative to the U.S. dollar.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

While employed with UBS PainWebber, Inc., David A. Kenkel was the subject of two customer complaints, which had been filed in September 2002, alleging fraud, negligence, misrepresentation, breach of fiduciary duty, and inside information in connection with the solicitation of unregistered securities from January 1997 through December 2000. On April 12, 2006, UBS settled the complaints for financial considerations. Mr. Kenkel was cleared of any wrongdoing and did not contribute to the settlement amounts. For additional information regarding this matter, please visit the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov or contact Benjamin J. Peress at (703) 356-8611.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

A. Registration as a Broker-Dealer or Registered Representative

OAL is not registered, nor does it have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer. As disclosed in Item 5.E, certain associated persons of OAL are registered representatives of AGI, an unaffiliated FINRA broker-dealer.

B. Registration as a FCM, CPO, or CTA

Neither OAL, nor any of its management persons, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant ("FCM"), commodity pool operator ("CPO"), commodity trading advisor ("CTA"), or a representative of the foregoing.

C. Material Relationships or Arrangements with Financial Industry

OAL is under common ownership with another investment advisory firm, Outfitter Financial Corp ("OFC"), in which Mr. Peress serves as President and Chief Investment Officer, and Mr. Kenkel as Executive Vice President. OFC and OAL are essentially engaged in the same business and share office space and employees. In addition to managing separate accounts, OFC serves as the investment adviser to the Outfitter Fund (the "Fund"), an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. OFC receives an investment management fee from the Fund for its advisory services to the Fund. Unless otherwise indicated in the Investment Management Agreement between OAL and the client, OAL will have the discretion to allocate client assets to various investments, including the Fund.

The relationship between OAL, OFC, and the Fund presents a conflict of interest that may impair our objectivity when recommending investments in, or transferring assets from a separately managed account to the Fund. The relationship may also create an incentive for OAL and our representatives to duplicate the management fees charged to clients that hold shares of the Fund in their separate accounts. OAL addresses these conflicts by adhering to policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. The overarching principle guiding our policies and procedures is that client interests and needs always come first and neither OAL nor any of its representatives should engage in any activity that subordinates the interests of the client to that of the Firm or its representatives. More specifically, our Code of Ethics, employee trading policy, and account review procedures are in place to ensure that clients are treated fairly and ethically, certain accounts are not favored over others, and trading activities are compliant with regulatory requirements. Please see Items 11 and 13 for additional information.

To avoid duplicating management fees for the portion of client accounts invested in the Fund, OAL does not charge a management fee on those assets (see Item 5.A for additional information). We also fully disclose our management fees and relationship with the Fund to our clients and prospective clients.

As disclosed in Item 5.E, certain associated persons of OAL are insurance agents of unaffiliated insurance companies.

D. Compensation from Third-Party Advisors

OAL does not receive, directly or indirectly, compensation from investment advisors that it recommends or selects for clients.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

OAL maintains a Code of Ethics as required by law to help assure that clients' interests are put first. The Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures that prohibit the use of insider information. The Code of Ethics also includes policies on employee securities transactions in an effort to avoid potential conflicts of interest. OAL will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

B. Recommend Securities with Material Financial Interest

As disclosed in Item 10, OAL's affiliate, Outfitter Financial Corp., serves as the investment manager to the Outfitter Fund. Furthermore, OAL and its principals, employees, and affiliates may own shares of the Outfitter Fund. See Items 10.C and 11.C for additional information on how OAL addresses the conflicts that may arise in connection with recommending the Outfitter Fund to clients and the personal trading activities of OAL's associated persons.

C. Invest in Same Securities Recommended to Clients

OAL and its employees may buy or sell securities for themselves that they also recommend to clients. This practice creates a potential conflict of interest as OAL and its employees may benefit from the sale and purchase of those securities. Front running, or the buying and selling of an illiquid security, by an employee in advance of client trades to achieve a better price is strictly prohibited. OAL addresses these conflicts of interest by having adequate policies and procedures in place that prohibit OAL and its employees from trading ahead of clients or in such a way to obtain a better price for themselves than for clients. OAL's personal trading policy is described below.

OAL has a personal trading policy in place to monitor the personal securities transactions and securities holdings of OAL and its employees. OAL's personal trading policy requires pre-clearance of transactions that involve the same securities held in client accounts. Generally, personal securities transactions will not be pre-cleared when an order for the same security is pending for client accounts. Additionally, employees of OAL must provide the Chief Compliance Officer with copies of their brokerage account statements or a written report of their current securities holdings. The intent of the preceding procedures is to detect prohibited activities and ensure that the best interests of clients are always served over that of OAL and its employees.

D. Buy/Sell Securities at Same Time as Clients

OAL and its employees may buy or sell securities at, or around the same time those securities are recommended to clients. This practice creates a potential conflict of interest as OAL and its employees may benefit from the sale and purchase of those securities. As indicated above in Item 11.C, OAL has personal trading policies in place to monitor the securities transactions and securities holdings of OAL and its employees.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

A. Selecting Brokerage Firms

In selecting or recommending broker-dealers to execute trades for client accounts, OAL will evaluate the overall value and quality of the services provided, including, but not limited to, lowest transaction costs, ability to achieve best price, ease of administration, value of research provided, and other relevant factors. OAL will seek to use brokers that, in its professional judgment, offer the best overall combination of quality, breadth of services, and price.

OAL clients use the brokerage and custody services of several national brokerage firms, with the majority of them using Charles Schwab and Co., Inc. ("Schwab") or RBC Capital Markets, LLC ("RBC"). We typically recommend Schwab or RBC if our clients do not have a preference. The combination of low prices, administrative ease and trading scale supports the recommendation to utilize Schwab or RBC for custody and brokerage services.

1. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits.

OAL engages in the investment industry practice of receiving soft dollar benefits from broker-dealers in connection with client securities transactions.

The term "soft dollars" refers to the receipt by an investment manager of products and services provided by brokers, without any cash payment by the investment manager, based on the volume of brokerage commission revenues generated from securities transactions executed through those brokers on behalf of the investment manager's clients. Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, provides a "safe harbor" to investment managers who use commission dollars generated by their advised accounts to obtain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the investment manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities.

- a. OAL may use soft dollar credits generated by client brokerage transactions to pay for research and brokerage related services and expenses that OAL might otherwise have to bear or that otherwise benefit OAL.
- b. Soft dollar arrangements with brokers can create an incentive for an investment manager to use these brokers based on an interest in receiving research and other products or services, rather than the client's interest in receiving the most favorable execution. As discussed in the previous section, OAL will use its best effort to obtain best execution for client transactions by seeking to use brokers that, in its professional judgment, offer the best overall combination of quality, breadth of services, and price.
- c. OAL's use of soft dollar brokers may cause client accounts to pay more than the lowest available commission to clients in return for research and brokerage services received by OAL from those brokers.
- d. OAL does not attempt to place a specific dollar value on the research and brokerage services it receives in return for client commissions or to allocate the costs and benefits between its client accounts, based on its belief that the services obtained assist the firm in carrying out its responsibilities to all clients. As a result, products and services may not be used for the benefit of the particular client whose account generated the brokerage commissions used to pay for the research.
- e. The type of research products and services that OAL may obtain from brokers to which client brokerage transactions are directed may include research, analyses, opinions or other information, written or oral, on the geographic regions; domestic and foreign political developments; legal, accounting, or tax developments affecting portfolio companies or client investment strategies; pricing and appraisal services; credit, risk and performance measurements and analysis; and corporate governance issues. Computer equipment and services used for investment research and/or in connection with brokerage transactions may also be obtained.

- f. OAL generally directs client transactions to particular broker-dealers in return for soft dollar benefits after evaluating the factors described at the beginning of this section. The Chief Compliance Officer will periodically review transactions and soft dollar compensation arrangements to ensure fairness and reasonableness to clients.
2. Brokerage for Client Referrals.
OAL does not receive client referrals from broker-dealers.
3. Directed Brokerage.
 - a. OAL does not routinely recommend, request, or require that a client direct the Firm to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer.
 - b. OAL does permit clients to direct us to work with a particular broker for custody and trading of their accounts. In the event that a client directs OAL to use a particular broker-dealer, the client may be responsible for negotiating commission rates with that broker. Under such arrangements, the client may pay higher commissions than would have been paid had OAL had full discretion to select the broker of their choosing. OAL has no control over the commission rates these clients pay to their chosen broker/dealer nor does it have any control over the other factors that relate to best execution. Clients retain responsibility for obtaining best execution in their directed brokerage accounts.

B. Order Aggregation

OAL may aggregate purchase and sale orders of investments held by the clients with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in OAL's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to the clients based on an evaluation that the clients will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Client accounts held at Schwab are reconciled monthly to make sure that our internal portfolio tracking and reporting software is aligned with account activity and brokerage statements.

Each account is reviewed quarterly on a formal basis by the Chief Investment Officer and/or Chief Operating Officer as part of OAL's client reporting and billing cycle.

At least once per year, OAL's Chief Investment Officer reviews client accounts to make sure the portfolios are positioned according to client investment goals and restrictions.

B. Review Triggers

Client accounts are reviewed regularly by OAL's Chief Investment Officer in light of emerging trends and developments in the stock and bond markets.

C. Regular Reports

Following the end of each calendar quarter, clients receive reports that summarize investments and rates of return (net of fees). These reports are produced by our internal portfolio tracking and reporting software for accounts held at Schwab and RBC's proprietary software for accounts held at RBC. Written commentary prepared by the Chief Investment Officer accompanies each client report, which typically discusses past activity and general market and economic trends.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits from Third Parties

As disclosed in Item 12.A.1, OAL receives soft dollar benefits from broker-dealers. Aside from these soft dollar benefits, OAL does not receive economic benefits from other third parties in exchange for providing investment advice or other advisory services to clients.

B. Third Party Solicitors

OAL has entered into arrangements with third party solicitors whereby OAL shares a portion of the investment management fee charged to clients in exchange for client referrals. These arrangements do not result in higher costs to the referred clients. Pursuant to Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, OAL has executed a written agreement with each third party solicitor that requires the solicitors to comply with OAL's instructions and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, and, at the time of the solicitation, provide prospective clients with a copy of OAL's Form ADV Part 2 and a separate written disclosure statement regarding the relationship between the solicitor and OAL ("Solicitor's Brochure"). Prior to executing the Investment Management Agreement with a referred client, OAL must obtain a signed and dated acknowledgement from the referred client evidencing receipt of OAL's Form ADV Part 2 and Solicitor's Brochure. Prior to compensating any person for client referrals, OAL will ensure that the person is properly registered or exempt from the relevant registration requirements.

Item 15 - Custody

Clients will receive, at least quarterly, an account statement produced and sent by the qualified custodian holding the client assets. Clients should carefully review statements received from the qualified custodian. The qualified custodian does not verify the accuracy of OAL's investment advisory fee. Therefore, clients are urged to compare account statements received from the qualified custodian with reports and invoices received from OAL.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

OAL provides investment management services to clients on a discretionary basis. Clients who engage OAL may place limitations, in writing, on OAL's discretionary authority to the extent that the limitations do not adversely affect OAL ability to properly manage the account. Prior to OAL exercising discretionary authority in client accounts, the client is required to execute an Investment Management Agreement and Limited Power of Attorney, granting OAL full authority to supervise and direct the investments in the client's account.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

A. Authority to Vote Client Securities

Unless otherwise requested by a client, OAL does not vote proxies on behalf of clients. In the event a client requests that OAL vote a proxy, OAL will vote in a manner that serves the best interests of the client, as determined by OAL's senior management in its discretion, taking into account the following factors and other such factors that may be proper under the circumstances:

- Whether the proposal is a routine proposal or a non-routine proposal;
- The impact the proposal will have on the value of the security, or on the value of the returns to the client's account;
- The costs associated with the proxy;
- The impact the proposal may have on the liquidity of the investment, or the redemption or withdrawal rights; and
- The impact the proposal may have on shareholder rights.

In case of a potential conflict of interest, a third party will be used to vote the proxies. Clients may not direct voting in a particular solicitation when OAL has proxy voting responsibility. OAL, using its discretion, may choose not to vote proxies on routine proposals if it finds that the benefits of voting are outweighed by the costs or expense of voting.

Clients can obtain information on how their proxies were voted by requesting such information from the Chief Compliance Officer. A copy of OAL's proxy voting policies and procedures is also available upon request.

B. Client Maintains Authority to Vote Client Securities

Clients that maintain the authority to vote proxies on securities held in their accounts will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Clients may contact OAL to discuss any questions regarding a particular solicitation.

Item 18 - Financial Information

A. Prepayment of Fees

OAL does not require the prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per client, six months or more in advance.

B. Financial Condition

OAL has no debt and maintains suitable liquidity to meet our contractual commitments to clients and employees.

C. Bankruptcy

OAL has not been subject to a bankruptcy petition at anytime in its operating history.
