Year of Birth: 1960

Formal Education after high school:
University of Pittsburgh (B.S. in Applied Mathematics)

Business background for preceding five years and selected additional information:
Southeast Region Manager and Regional Director, Brinker Capital (6/07-Present)
Senior Vice President of Sales and Client Service, Investor Force, Inc. (10/02-5/07)
Director, SEI Investments Distribution (12/91-4/02)

Item 3 Disciplinary Information

There are no reportable legal or disciplinary events for the supervised person.

Item 4 Other Business Activities

The supervised person is not actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation other than as described herein.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

The firm's employees are subject to certain limitations regarding the receipt of gifts and other benefits in the form of entertainment, including meals, golfing and tickets to cultural and sporting events from parties with whom the firm does business. See Form ADV, Part 2A, Items 11 and 14.

Brinker's sales professionals receive a portion of the investment management fee that is paid by the clients they are associated with. In addition to receiving a portion of the investment management fees, sales professionals also receive a base salary, which is paid by Brinker. The base salary paid by Brinker is not based on the number or amount of sales, client referrals or new accounts.

Item 6 Supervision

Brinker maintains its compliance policies and procedures in its Compliance Manual and Written Supervisory Procedure Manual. These manuals are delivered to all employees upon hire, if there are material changes and annually thereafter. Each employee attests to the fact that they have read, understand and will abide by the policy and procedure manuals.

Brinker has a Code of Ethics which covers all supervised persons. Brinker's Code of Ethics requires high standards of business conduct, compliance with federal securities laws, reporting and recordkeeping of personal securities transactions and holdings, reviews and sanctions.

Brinker maintains a system of supervisory control policies and procedures that test and verify that Brinker's supervisory procedures are reasonably designed to comply with applicable securities laws. The Chief Compliance Officer maintains the supervisory control procedures and carries out supervision himself and through other designated qualified principals of Brinker. The President of Brinker works in conjunction with the National Sales Director and Chief Compliance Officer to ensure that Brinker's supervisory control procedures are reasonably designed to supervise client account activity. Brinker's Code represents a strong internal control with supervisory reviews to detect and prevent possible insider trading, conflicts of interest and potential regulatory violations.

Brinker monitors compliance with clients' investment policies, objectives and regulatory requirements through Brinker's order management system, APL. All trades for client accounts are processed through

APL and downloaded to Brinker's accounting system nightly. The investment department professionals as well as their supervisors are able to view up-to-date account holding information daily.

John Solomon is supervised by Leo Dolan, National Sales Director 610-407-5564. Mr. Dolan supervises and monitors the advisory services provided to clients by the sales professionals. Mr. Dolan reports from a corporate perspective to Charles Widger, Chief Executive Officer of Brinker Capital, Inc. (610) 407-5540.

W. Byron McClennen receives a base salary. In addition to the base salary Byron receives a bonus paid by Brinker, which is comprised of various components. One of the components of Byron's bonus is associated with the sale of assets.

Item 6 Supervision

Brinker maintains its compliance policies and procedures in its Compliance Manual and Written Supervisory Procedure Manual. These manuals are delivered to all employees upon hire, if there are material changes and annually thereafter. Each employee attests to the fact that they have read, understand and will abide by the policy and procedure manuals.

Brinker has a Code of Ethics which covers all supervised persons. Brinker's Code of Ethics requires high standards of business conduct, compliance with federal securities laws, reporting and recordkeeping of personal securities transactions and holdings, reviews and sanctions.

Brinker maintains a system of supervisory control policies and procedures that test and verify that Brinker's supervisory procedures are reasonably designed to comply with applicable securities laws. The Chief Compliance Officer maintains the supervisory control procedures and carries out supervision himself and through other designated qualified principals of Brinker. The President of Brinker works in conjunction with the National Sales Director and Chief Compliance Officer to ensure that Brinker's supervisory control procedures are reasonably designed to supervise client account activity. Brinker's Code represents a strong internal control with supervisory reviews to detect and prevent possible insider trading, conflicts of interest and potential regulatory violations.

Brinker monitors compliance with clients' investment policies, objectives and regulatory requirements through Brinker's order management system, APL. All trades for client accounts are processed through APL and downloaded to Brinker's accounting system nightly. The investment department professionals as well as their supervisors are able to view up-to-date account holding information daily.

Item 4 Other Business Activities

The supervised person is not actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation other than as described herein.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

The firm's employees are subject to certain limitations regarding the receipt of gifts and other benefits in the form of entertainment, including meals, golfing and tickets to cultural and sporting events from parties with whom the firm does business. See Form ADV, Part 2A, Items 11 and 14.

In addition to his salary, Mr. Simon also receives a bonus based on the total amount of new assets under management in, and net revenue generated by, all of Brinker's programs.

Item 6 Supervision

Brinker maintains its compliance policies and procedures in its Compliance Manual and Written Supervisory Procedure Manual. These manuals are delivered to all employees upon hire, if there are material changes and annually thereafter. Each employee attests to the fact that they have read, understand and will abide by the policy and procedure manuals.

Brinker has a Code of Ethics which covers all supervised persons. Brinker's Code of Ethics requires high standards of business conduct, compliance with federal securities laws, reporting and recordkeeping of personal securities transactions and holdings, reviews and sanctions.

Brinker maintains a system of supervisory control policies and procedures that test and verify that Brinker's supervisory procedures are reasonably designed to comply with applicable securities laws. The Chief Compliance Officer maintains the supervisory control procedures and carries out supervision himself and through other designated qualified principals of Brinker. The President of Brinker works in conjunction with the National Sales Director and Chief Compliance Officer to ensure that Brinker's supervisory control procedures are reasonably designed to supervise client account activity. Brinker's Code represents a strong internal control with supervisory reviews to detect and prevent possible insider trading, conflicts of interest and potential regulatory violations.

Brinker monitors compliance with clients' investment policies, objectives and regulatory requirements through Brinker's order management system, APL. All trades for client accounts are processed through

APL and downloaded to Brinker's accounting system nightly. The investment department professionals as well as their supervisors are able to view up-to-date account holding information daily.

William P. Simon is supervised by John E. Coyne III, President 610-407-5502. Mr. Coyne supervises and monitors the advisory services provided to clients by the Sales Department Professionals. Mr. Coyne reports from a corporate perspective to Charles Widger, Chief Executive Officer of Brinker Capital, Inc. (610) 407-5540.
