Item 4 – Advisory Business

Emerald Research Corporation (the “ERC”) provides investment advisory services to NorthQuest Capital Fund, Inc. (the “Fund”). The Fund is a mutual fund which is an investment company registered under the 1940 Act. The Fund is the only client of ERC. ERC provides a copy of ADV Part 2 to the Fund and a copy will be provided to any prospective client upon request. ERC does not offer investment advisory services to individuals. Assets under management as of 02/01/2017: $3,221,425.20

A. Services Provided:

ERC offers continuous review of the Fund's investment portfolio. ERC recommends to the Fund when and to what extent which securities the Fund should purchase or sell according to the Fund's investment methodologies and objectives. ERC will also reimburse the Fund for any and all losses incurred when a shareholder or prospective shareholder fails to make payment for purchase or Fund shares.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Under an Investment Advisory Contract with the Fund, ERC receives from the Fund monthly a fee equal to one-twelfth of 1.00 percent per month (the equivalent of 1% per annum) of the daily average net assets of the Fund during the month. The agreement will be for a term of one year and thereafter, only so long as such continuance is approved at least annually by votes of the Fund's Board of Directors cast in person at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval, including votes of a majority of the Directors who are not parties to such agreement or interested persons of such party. This agreement may be terminated at any time upon 60 days prior written notice, without payment of any penalty, by the Fund's Board of Directors or by vote of a majority of outstanding voting securities of the Fund. The contract will automatically terminate in the event of assignment by the Investment Adviser (within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940), which shall be deemed to include transfer of control of the Investment Adviser.

ERC's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the Fund. Fund shareholders may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as custodial fees, deferred sales charges, wire transfer and other fees and taxes. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to ERC's fee, and ERC shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Emerald Research Corporation does not charge performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Emerald Research Corporation's investment approach is to seek long-term capital appreciation and to secondarily earn dividend income. ERC utilizes fundamental analysis to select investments which means that we research and study the financial data of each investment. Information is gathered from many sources such as newspapers, magazines, company reports, subscription to financial publications, and other data available from the internet. ERC's investment research includes searching for small, large- and mid-capitalization companies whose stock prices are considered undervalued. Undervalued stocks are generally those with a low share price when measured against the value of the whole company. This methodology examines and evaluates a company's share price, its financial condition, management's use of capital, and other local and international influences that could affect a company's performance. A secondary goal is to earn dividend income from common stocks. ERC will search to invest in companies that have adequate free cash flow to pay a dividend and consistently increase their dividends on an annual basis. ERC may recommend that the Fund's portfolio move to a defensive position by holding more cash during periods of economic turmoil.

The principle risks of investing in stocks and mutual funds are:

Market Risk: This is risk that your investment in stocks will fluctuate with the stock markets and prices may sharply fall or rise over the short-term or long-term periods. You may lose money by investing in stocks.

Multi-cap Risk: Investing in small and medium capitalization ("cap") stocks generally have a higher risk of business failure, lesser liquidity and greater volatility in market price. As a consequence, small and medium cap stocks have a greater possibility of price decline or loss as compared to large cap stocks. This may cause ERC not to meet its investment objective.

Dividend Income Risk: There is no assurance that dividend income will be earned from the Fund's investments.

Focused Portfolio Risk: Investing in a small number of companies has a risk that a single common stock may have a significant event; negative or positive; on your investment.

Risk of investing in a Managed Fund: The Fund may under perform other investments or indices as a result of investment selections recommended by ERC.

Large Cash Positions: The Fund may hold a higher amount of cash during challenging economic times (such as a banking or financial crisis) which may prevent the Fund from achieving its long-term capital appreciation.

An investment in a mutual fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Company (the "FDIC") or any other government agency.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

During a routine examination in May, 2003, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) staff questioned the procedure in which shareholders were transferred into the NorthQuest Capital Fund from an affiliated limited partnership (the “LP”) managed by ERC. The SEC believed that the limited partners of the LP should have been accepted into the Fund on the same day as opposed to different days. The Fund and ERC cooperated with the SEC and undertook a procedure to recalculate the shares to the affected shareholders. The affected shareholders were issued 1,582 additional shares of the Fund and ERC reimbursed the Fund $543 for losses sustained due to redemptions. The administrative proceeding ended in November, 2006.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Peter J. Lencki is President, Compliance Officer and owner of ERC. Mr. Lencki also serves as the President, Chairman, Treasurer, Portfolio Manager and Compliance Officer of the NorthQuest Capital Fund. Mary E. Lencki acts as the Fund’s Secretary. Mary and Peter Lencki have a “family relationship”.

ERC is the Investment Adviser to the NorthQuest Capital Fund, a mutual fund from which the Adviser receives a monthly management fee equal to 1% (annualized) of the average daily net assets of the mutual fund.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Emerald Research Corporation’s Code of Ethics sets forth standards of conduct and requires compliance with securities laws. Its policies and procedures include a Chief Compliance Officer overseeing personal investment activities of ERC personnel and the confidential treatment of Fund’s investment non-public information. ERC will provide a copy of its code of ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices
