Fee Billing

Fees incurred for private client and Institutional accounts are calculated and billed monthly in ARREARS, meaning fees are billed to clients AFTER the monthly billing period has ENDED. We either bill the client directly for the payment of fees or the client authorizes us to electronically deduct fees from a designated client account to facilitate payment. The client consents to direct debiting of their investment account in both the Advisory Agreement with DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. and the account application with the custodial institution holding client's assets under management with DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.

Fees incurred for Retirement Plan clients are calculated and billed on a quarterly basis in ARREARS, meaning that fees are billed to client after the quarterly billing period has ENDED. Plan Sponsors have the choice of how advisory fees are to be paid to DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.

Other Fees

The Custodian of a client's assets may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security. The Custodian determines these fees and they will be deducted from client's account in accordance with the account application with the Custodian.

Assets are invested primarily in no-load or low-load mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, usually through the Custodian where the client's assets are held. Mutual Funds charge each fund shareholder fees which are disclosed in the fund prospectus. The Custodian may charge a transaction fee for the purchase and/or sale of some mutual funds.

Investments may also include: equities (stocks), corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities and U. S. government securities. The Custodian may charge a transaction fee for the purchase and/or sale of these securities.

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. does not receive any compensation, in any form, from any custodial institution, mutual fund company or brokerage firm.

Initial public offerings (IPOs) are not available through DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

- Item 8

Methods of Analysis

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. uses the following processes and resources in formulating investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Charting, assessment of fundamental economic indicators and trends, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The firm's primary sources of information include, but are not limited to, financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Other sources of information that DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. may use include Morningstar Principia mutual fund information, Morningstar Principia stock information, Charles Schwab & Company's "SchwabLink" service, and the World Wide Web.

Investment Strategies

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. provides investment management utilizing various weightings of equity, fixed income and cash (money market) securities, none of which involve frequent trading. The disciplines utilized to minimize investment risk in these basic investment sectors are as follows:

Equity Investments – Equity mutual funds* are the predominant tool for equity investing rather than individual common stocks. This allows for extensive diversification of equity holdings across a broader range of capitalization sizes and geographical positioning. This practice contributes to a reduced level of risk versus concentrated investing in a smaller universe of equity securities. A limited percentage of equity positioning may be in the form of individual publicly-traded common stocks. The objectives for such investments are long-term growth and attractive dividends. When approved by more sophisticated investors, we utilize covered call-writing programs to add additional income when warranted.

Fixed Income Investments – Positioning in fixed income securities utilizes either conservative bond mutual funds* or individual positioning in either U.S. Government or investment-grade Corporate bonds. At the request of some of our larger net-worth clients, we utilize private fund managers to further diversify our investors' fixed income allocation.

*DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. utilizes its load-waived trading capability through its Custodian to minimize fund commission costs on all fund purchases and sales.

A Client's Portfolio is globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time.

Risk of Loss

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. makes it clear to every client that investing in securities, even in the most conservative of strategies, can involve a risk of loss that clients should be aware of and be prepared to bear when making investment decisions.

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.'s Code of Ethics consists of an outline of policies regarding several key areas: standards of conduct and compliance with laws, rules and regulations, protection of material non-public information and personal securities trading. It also consists of specific information and guidance that is provided in DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.'s company policies and procedures for their employees. This review ensures that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that our clients' interests are always the firm's first priority.

Brokerage Practices - Item 12

Selecting Brokerage Firms

Client assets must be maintained in an account at a “qualified custodian,” generally a broker-dealer or bank. We recommend that our clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian. Schwab Advisor Services (formerly called Schwab Institutional) is Schwab’s business serving independent investment advisory firms like us.

We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab will hold your assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we instruct them to. While we recommend that you use Schwab as custodian/broker, you will decide whether to do so and open your account with Schwab by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not open the account for you. Not all advisors require their clients to use a particular broker-dealer or other custodian selected by the advisor.

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others, these:

- combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- capability to execute, clear and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- capabilities to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- breadth of investment products made available (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- quality of services
- competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate them
- reputation, financial strength and stability of the provider
- their prior service to us and our other clients
- availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see “Products and Services Available to Us from Schwab”)

- Even though your account is maintained at Schwab, we can still use other brokers to execute trades for your account, as described in the next paragraph.

Your Custody and Brokerage Cost

Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. Schwab's commission rates applicable to our client accounts were negotiated based on our commitment to maintain $10 million of our clients' assets statement equity in accounts at Schwab. This commitment benefits you because the overall commission rates you pay are lower than they would be if we had not made the commitment. In addition to commissions Schwab charges you a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, we have Schwab execute most trades for your account.

Best Execution

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. reviews and documents the execution of trades at each custodian at the time trades are placed with the custodian. If transaction/trading fees are charged by the custodians, they are reviewed at the time trades are placed with the custodian of record for clients. DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. does not receive any portion of a transaction/trading fee, if there is any.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

Although not considered "soft dollar" compensation, DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. may receive benefits from Schwab Advisor Services (formerly called Schwab Institutional) in the form of access to its institutional brokerage, trading, custody, reporting and related services, many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers.

Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as we keep a total of at least $10 million of our clients' assets in accounts at Schwab. If we have less than $10 million in client assets at Schwab, it may charge us quarterly service fees. Below is a detailed description of Schwab's support services:

Services that Benefit You: Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services that May Not Directly Benefit You: Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or some substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provide pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Services that Generally Benefit Only Us: Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. understands its duty for best execution and considers all factors in making recommendations to clients. These research services may be useful in servicing all DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. clients, and may not be used in connection with any particular account that may have paid compensation to the firm providing such services. While DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.

may not always obtain the lowest commission rate, DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. believes the rate is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services provided.

Order Aggregation

The Custodian of assets for our clients has a program in place called “Prime Brokerage” where an order aggregation can be used if a client meets with specific qualifications set out by Custodian. Utilization of this program benefits the clients who do meet these qualifications.

Directed Brokerage

The client may direct brokerage to a specified broker-dealer other than the firm recommended by DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. In the event that a client directs DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. to use a particular broker/dealer, the Company may not be authorized under these circumstances to negotiate commissions and may not be able to obtain volume discounts or best execution. In addition, under these circumstances a disparity in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to clients who direct the company to use a particular broker/dealer and those that don't.

Review of Accounts - Item 13

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed quarterly by firm advisers, Charles D. Robertson, CEO/Advisor, Katy L. Taylor, Advisor and Spencer J. Plagens, Advisor. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Nature of Reviews

Account reviews focus on the performance of assets for a specific time period and opportunity to address any issues of concern regarding this performance. Account reviews also provide an opportunity to address appropriate adjustments in asset allocation due to any changes in client's financial situation.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, performance of assets within a client's account and changes in a client's financial situation.

Regular Reports

A client's current security positions and the likelihood that the performance of each security will contribute to the investment objectives of the client are considered during regular reviews by the firm's advisers.

Clients receive quarterly communications on the performance of their accounts. This communication is in the form of a written report which includes, but is not limited to, a net worth statement and portfolio statement along with updated allocation percentages. Clients are encouraged to schedule meetings with an Advisor to discuss their quarterly reports or any time necessary to make an Advisor aware of any change in their financial situations that would have a bearing on the financial advice provided by an Advisor with the firm.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation - Item 14

Incoming Referrals

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. has been fortunate to receive client referrals over the years. The referrals come from various sources such as current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. It is currently DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.'s policy to provide no compensation to any person or entity for client referrals.

Referrals Out

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Other Compensation

We receive an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices). The availability to us of Schwab's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Custody - Item 15

Account Statements

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. does not have custody of any client's assets under management. All assets are held with a qualified custodian. The custodian provides monthly account statements which are mailed directly to the client at the client's address of record or e-mailed to the client's personal e-mail address of record.

Performance Reports

Performance reports are provided to clients on a quarterly basis by DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. Clients are urged to compare the account statements they receive from their qualified custodian to these performance reports.

Investment Discretion - Item 16

Discretionary Authority for Trading

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the broker dealer to be used, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. consults with the client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given by the client. Currently, DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. recommends the services of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.

Clients are advised of the name of the custodian of their assets prior to the execution of the Advisory Agreement with DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing orders for trades in clients accounts on their behalf so that we may promptly implement the investment allocation as directed by each client.

Limited Power of Attorney

A limited power of attorney is a trading authorization for this purpose. The client signs a limited power of attorney in our Advisory Agreement and in the custodian account application. These documents provide our firm with the authority to execute transactions appropriate for each client's investment design and objectives.

Voting Client Securities - Item 17

Proxy Votes

The Client makes the decision to either personally vote proxies for securities held in his/her account(s) or to designate DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. to vote proxies for securities over which it maintains discretionary authority consistent with its proxy voting policy. This designation is indicated in our Advisory Agreement and in the custodian account application which is executed by the client. A copy of DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC.'s proxy voting policy is available upon request

We will determine how to vote proxies based on our reasonable judgment of the vote most likely to produce favorable financial results for you. Proxy votes generally will be cast in favor of proposals that maintain or strengthen the shared interests of shareholders and management, increase shareholder value, maintain or increase shareholder influence over the issuer's board of directors and management, and maintain or increase the rights of shareholders. Generally, proxy votes will be cast against proposals having the opposite effect. However, we will consider both sides of each proxy issue. Unless we receive specific instructions from you, we will not base votes on social considerations.

In the event you wish to direct our firm on voting a particular proxy, you should contact our main office at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure with your instruction.

Conflicts of interest between you and our firm, or a principal of our firm, regarding certain proxy issues could arise. If we determine that a material conflict of interest exists, we will take the necessary steps to resolve the conflict before voting the proxies. For example, we may disclose the existence and nature of the conflict to you, and seek direction from you as to how to vote on a particular issue; we may abstain from voting, particularly if there are conflicting interests for you (for example, where your account(s) hold different securities in a competitive merger situation); or, we will take other necessary steps designed to ensure that a decision to vote is in your best interest and was not the product of the conflict.

We keep certain records required by applicable law in connection with our proxy voting activities. You may obtain information on how we voted proxies and/or obtain a full copy of our proxy voting policies and procedures by making a written or oral request to our firm

Financial Information - Item 18

DREHER INVESTMENT SERVICES, INC. has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

Information Security - Miscellaneous
