Professional Designation: Certified Financial Planner ®

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Clients may also elect to be billed directly for fees or to authorize Bruce A. Kraig Associates to directly debit fees from client accounts. Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of de minimis contributions and withdrawals). Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable.

Other Types of Fees:

Bruce A. Kraig Associates does not accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products. Bruce A. Kraig Associates does not receive commissions. For new clients, no 12(b)-1 fees are received, however, for a very small number of long-time clients the advisory firm may receive 12(b)-1 fees for an investment that provides compensation for marketing the mutual fund. The performance of this fund has been consistent with the objectives, goals, and time lines of these clients.

Fees for Financial Planning, Retirement Planning, and Investment Analysis:

Bruce A. Kraig Associates provides analysis and planning to consumers who request advice or assistance in financial matters. The fee charged may be hourly or package priced for a specific session. Before any services are provided, Bruce A. Kraig Associates and the consumer must agree on the services to be provided and the amount of the fee that Bruce A. Kraig Associates will charge for those services. The fee will be based on the scope of the project, however, the amount of time to be spent and the total amount of the fee may be negotiable, depending on the nature of the question and the amount of detail that the consumer requests in the response.

Bruce A. Kraig Associates' fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Item 12 further describes the factors that Bruce A. Kraig Associates considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Bruce A. Kraig Associates does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Bruce A. Kraig Associates provides financial planning, retirement planning, and investment analysis to individuals and high net worth individuals on a negotiated basis. See Item 5 for a discussion of the fee .

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

As part of the investment management process, the principals analyze each client's financial situation. Factors considered are risk-tolerance, age, goals, and objectives. From this information, the principals structure individual portfolios. No two portfolios are alike. Dollars are not pooled, they remain with a custodian such as Vanguard or Fidelity. On an on-going basis, the principals carefully monitor market conditions. Depending on the economic outlook, investments will be purchased or sold to continue to meet the investment strategy for each client.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

All supervised persons at Bruce A. Kraig Associates must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Bruce A. Kraig Associates' employees and persons associated with the advisory firm are required to follow Bruce A. Kraig Associates' Code of Ethics. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of the advisory firm will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between Bruce A. Kraig Associates and its clients. In addition, the principals and employees holding the Certified Financial Planner ® certification must adhere to the Code of Ethics for Certified Financial Planners detailed in Item 4.

Concerning investment management clients, Bruce A. Kraig Associates has the authority to determine without obtaining specific client consent which securities are to be bought or sold and the amounts. Bruce A. Kraig Associates does not have any arrangements, oral or in writing, where it directly or indirectly compensates any non-client person for client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

Bruce A. Kraig Associates does not have custody of client funds or securities. Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. Bruce A. Kraig Associates urges you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Bruce A. Kraig Associates usually receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.
