Item 4. Advisory Business

OneSource has been in business as an independent registered investment adviser since October 2000. The firm's current principal owners are John R. O'Brien, Francis C. Ortner, Jr. and Francis C. Ortner, III. OneSource offers clients a variety of financial planning and consulting services, as well as investment management services. OneSource employs a largely hands-on approach and methodology, which is divided into three separate and distinct phases: Investment Consulting, Advanced Retirement Planning and Relationship Management. Through this multi-tiered process, the firm strives to identify and address its clients' wealth management needs and objectives and bring them closer to reaching their financial goals.

Prior to engaging OneSource to provide any of the foregoing investment advisory services, the client is required to enter into one or more written agreements with OneSource setting forth the terms and conditions under which OneSource renders its services (collectively the "Agreement").

As of December 31, 2016, the firm had $264,463,867 in assets under management, all of which was managed on a discretionary basis.

This Disclosure Brochure describes the business of OneSource. Certain sections will also describe the activities of Supervised Persons. Supervised Persons are any of OneSource's officers, partners, directors (or other persons occupying a similar status or performing similar functions), or employees, or any other person who provides investment advice on OneSource's behalf and is subject to OneSource's supervision or control.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

It is OneSource's belief that providing comprehensive, advanced retirement planning services is an important facet in helping its client attain their financial goals. As such, the firm offers a range of centralized financial management needs addressing the following, without limitation:

- Retirement Planning. OneSource creates custom retirement plans. OneSource conducts evaluations of a client's goals, assets, income and risk profile to analyze lifetime income plans.
- Tax Planning. OneSource creates tax plans and conducts reviews of existing income tax return documents. Through its various alliances, as discussed in Item 10, the firm is able to refer clients to its affiliates and partners to prepare and file Individual Federal and State income tax returns, including Trust tax returns.
- Estate Planning. OneSource creates estate plans and conducts reviews of existing estate documents. Through its various alliances, as discussed in Item 10, the firm is able to refer clients to its affiliates and partners to prepare legal documents, such as wills, trusts, powers of attorney, etc.

OneSource Retirement Advisors, Inc. Disclosure Brochure

- Asset Protection. OneSource reviews insurance policies and asset titles, and develops an overall risk management plan.
- Charitable Giving. The firm provides strategic advice for an array of gifting options.

In performing its services, OneSource is not required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals (e.g., attorney, accountant, etc.) and is expressly authorized to rely on such information. OneSource may recommend the services of itself, its Supervised Persons in their individual capacities and/or other professionals to implement its recommendations. Clients are advised that a conflict of interest exists if OneSource recommends its own services. The client is under no obligation to act upon any of the recommendations made by OneSource under a financial planning or consulting engagement or to engage the services of any such recommended professional, including OneSource itself. The client retains absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and is free to accept or reject any of OneSource's recommendations. Clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to promptly notify OneSource if there is ever any change in their financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating, or revising OneSource's previous recommendations and/or services.

Investment Management and Wealth Management Services

OneSource provides investment management services which include management of investment portfolios on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. In addition, OneSource provides certain clients with wealth management services which include a broad range of comprehensive financial planning and consulting services, as well as discretionary and/or non-discretionary management of investment portfolios.

OneSource primarily manages clients' investment portfolios on a discretionary basis by allocating assets among mutual funds and exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") (equity and debt). OneSource recommends primarily no-load and load-waived mutual fund classes in accordance with its clients' investment objectives. OneSource may also recommend commercial real estate investments through no-load group variable annuity accounts. In addition, OneSource may recommend that higher net worth clients who are "accredited investors" as defined under Rule 501 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, invest in limited partnerships and private placement securities, which include real estate, debt, equity, and/or pooled investment vehicles when consistent with the clients' investment objectives. OneSource may provide advice about any legacy positions or existing investments otherwise held in its clients' portfolios. However, OneSource may decline to provide advice on any legacy positions and henceforth; OneSource will not charge a fee to track or report on such identified legacy positions.

OneSource may manage client's investment portfolios on a non-discretionary basis by allocating assets for clients in an outside account they already own, including their individual 401(k) plans, 529 plans and variable life/annuity products or other products that are not held by the client's primary custodian recommended by OneSource. In so doing, OneSource will recommend the allocation of client assets using the limited investment options available within the outside product. Client assets are maintained at the specific insurance company or custodian designated by the product.

OneSource tailors its advisory services to the individual needs of clients. OneSource consults with clients initially and on an ongoing basis to develop an investment policy statement which determines risk tolerance, time horizon and other factors that impact the clients' investment needs. OneSource ensures that clients' investments are suitable for their investment needs, goals, objectives and risk tolerance.

Clients are advised to promptly notify OneSource if there are changes in their financial situation or investment objectives or if they wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon OneSource's management services. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions or mandates on the management of their account if, in the firm's sole discretion, the conditions will not materially impact the performance of a portfolio strategy or prove overly burdensome to its management efforts.

Retirement Advanced Planning

OneSource provides a vetted list of outside professionals for retirement advanced planning assistance: banking, college planning, estate planning, insurance, pensions, real estate, tax planning, etc. These relationships are organized in effort to help clients enrich their entire retirement experience. In addition, the firm also provides clients with access to an array of extra services designed with the goal of helping its clients get the maximum benefits from Advanced Planning. OneSource believes that these value-added services delve into helping clients learn more about lifestyle choices and goals that retirees want to experience related to their retirement goals. The firm holds general meetings that are not just devoted to financial issues but focused on quality of life issues as well. The extra services may be included at no additional charge to clients under their investment management fee agreement.

Item 5. Fees and Compensation

OneSource offers its services on a fee basis, which include fixed fees, as well as fees based upon assets under management. Additionally, certain of OneSource's Supervised Persons, in their individual capacities, offer health and life insurance products under a commission arrangement.

Financial Planning and Consulting Fees

OneSource charges a fixed fee to provide clients with financial planning and consulting services. These fees are negotiable, but generally range from $2,000 to $10,000, depending upon the level and scope of the services and the professional engaged to render them. If the client engages the firm for additional investment advisory services, OneSource may offset all or a portion of its fees for those services based upon the amount paid for the financial planning and/or consulting services.

OneSource Retirement Advisors, Inc. Disclosure Brochure

Prior to engaging OneSource to provide financial planning and/or consulting services, the client is required to enter into a written agreement with OneSource setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement. Generally, OneSource requires one-half of the fixed fee payable upon entering the written agreement with the balance due upon delivery of the financial plan or completion of the agreed upon services.

Investment Management and Wealth Management Fees

OneSource offers investment management and wealth management services for an annual fee based upon a percentage of the assets being managed by the firm. OneSource's annual fee is prorated and charged quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the assets being managed by OneSource on the last day of the previous quarter. The annual fee varies (between 0.50% and 1.25%) depending upon the size of a client's investment portfolio, as follows:

PORTFOLIO VALUE	BASE FEE
Up to $500,000	1.25%
$500,001 - $1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 - $2,000,000	0.85%
$2,000,001 - $3,000,000	0.70%
$3,000,001 - $5,000,000	0.65%
$5,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.55%
Above $10,000,000	0.50%

OneSource's annual fees are exclusive of, and in addition to, brokerage commissions, transaction fees and other related costs and expenses which are incurred by the client. OneSource does not, however, receive any portion of these commissions, fees and costs.

OneSource, in its sole discretion, may negotiate to charge a lesser management fee based upon certain criteria (i.e., anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing client, account retention, pro bono activities, etc.).

Fees Charged by Financial Institutions

As further discussed in response to Item 12 (below), OneSource recommends that clients utilize the brokerage and clearing services of Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services ("Fidelity") for investment management accounts.

OneSource may only implement its investment management recommendations after the client has arranged for and furnished OneSource with all information and authorization regarding accounts with appropriate financial institutions. Financial institutions include, but are not limited to, Fidelity, any other broker-dealer recommended by OneSource, broker-dealer directed by the client, trust companies, banks etc. (collectively referred to herein as the “Financial Institutions”).

Clients may incur certain charges imposed by the Financial Institutions and other third parties such as custodial fees, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or ETF in the account, which are disclosed in the fund’s prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to OneSource’s fee.

Fee Debit

OneSource’s Agreement and the separate agreement with any Financial Institutions authorize OneSource to debit the client’s account for the amount of OneSource’s fee and to directly remit that management fee to OneSource. Any Financial Institutions recommended by OneSource have agreed to send a statement to the client, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of management fees paid directly to OneSource. Alternatively, clients may elect to have OneSource send an invoice for payment.

Fees for Management During Partial Quarters of Service

For the initial period of investment management services, the fees are calculated on a pro rata basis.

The Agreement between OneSource and the client will continue in effect until terminated by either party pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. OneSource’s fees are prorated through the date of termination and any remaining balance is charged or refunded to the client, as appropriate.

Clients may make additions to and withdrawals from their account at any time, subject to OneSource’s right to terminate an account. Additions may be in cash or securities provided that OneSource reserves the right to liquidate any transferred securities or decline to accept particular securities into a client’s account. Clients may withdraw account assets on notice to OneSource, subject to the usual and customary securities settlement procedures. However, OneSource designs its portfolios as long-term investments and the withdrawal of assets may impair the achievement of a client’s investment objectives. OneSource may consult with its clients about the options and ramifications of transferring securities. However, clients are advised that when transferred securities are liquidated, they are subject to transaction fees, fees assessed at the mutual fund level (i.e. contingent deferred sales charge) and/or tax ramifications.

If assets are deposited into or withdrawn from an account after the inception of a quarter, the fee payable with respect to such assets will be adjusted and prorated based on the number of days remaining in the quarter.

Item 6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

OneSource does not provide any services for performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are those based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Item 7. Types of Clients

OneSource provides its services to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and business entities.

Minimum Account Value

As a condition for starting and maintaining an investment management relationship, OneSource imposes a minimum portfolio value of $1,000,000. OneSource may, in its sole discretion, accept clients with smaller portfolios based upon certain criteria, including anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing client, account retention, and pro bono activities. OneSource only accepts clients with less than the minimum portfolio size if the Firm determines the smaller portfolio size will not cause a substantial increase of investment risk beyond the client's identified risk tolerance. OneSource may aggregate the portfolios of family members to meet the minimum portfolio size.

Item 8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

OneSource employs a largely strategic asset allocation approach along with fundamental analytical approach analysis to managing clients' portfolios and assessing investment opportunities.

Fundamental analysis Strategic asset allocation involves the examination of allocating funds in a portfolio diversified in debt, equity and real estate asset classes. Properly allocating funds in a portfolio across capitalization levels, styles and quality is essential from a risk/return standpoint. OneSource analyzes and optimizes the fundamental weighting of asset classes and investments to develop a portfolio whereby clients are compensated for return for their chosen risk level.

For clients of OneSource, fundamental analysis involves the examination of the current market conditions and the relative valuations of the debt, equity and real estate major asset classes and sub asset classes. The firm analyzes the financial condition and competitive position of a company. analyzes the financial condition, of various mutual funds, ETFs, stocks, bonds and real estate accounts; along with the capabilities of management, earnings, new products and services, as well as the company's markets and position amongst its competitors estimates and book values in order to determine the recommendations made to clients. The primary risk in using fundamental analysis is that while the overall health and position of a company an investment may be good, market conditions may negatively impact the security value.

Investment Strategies

Investment Policy Statement

OneSource constructs an Investment Policy Statement (“IPS”) for each client which acts as the framework for the firm’s investment management services. The IPS includes thresholds for both general asset allocation holdings and specific asset class holdings, as well as a rebalancing policy. The general asset allocation holding limits set forth minimum and maximum percentages of investment in a single general asset class. This range is based on long-term historical returns and variances, but also accounts for current economic conditions. This range is based on long-term historical returns and variances, but also accounts for current economic conditions.

Our Investment Philosophy

We base our investment policy upon Modern Portfolio Theory to create a strategic asset allocation model. Our model is designed for optimal risk-adjusted returns, offering our clients an appropriate portfolio to reach their required target return and spending policy. We use a consultative process to assess a client’s goals, cash flow and needs for liquidity—all of which will result in an individually written investment policy for every client.

Ongoing asset allocation strategy, investment performance monitoring, and as necessary, modification, is integral to our wealth management process. We believe the relative performance of our recommended portfolios is critical to benchmark; but ultimately, we believe our success is measured by our clients’ success in achieving their goals.

We understand and agree with the Nobel Prize winning research supporting asset allocation being the significant determinant of long-term portfolio variability of returns. Because we believe in the overriding importance of a specific strategic asset allocation, we primarily recommend passively managed index funds as a core solution; and reject active managers who do not have clearly defined philosophies or who diverge from their stated policies. We do not believe in market timing.

We believe in maintaining a strategic allocation and will infrequently revise tactical modifications to the strategic allocation. These minor modifications will reflect macro changes in the economic cycle. We believe in rebalancing to the strategic allocation. However, the influences of taxes lead us to conclude that contingent rebalancing with fairly wide bands is the most appropriate solution.

OneSource Retirement Advisors, Inc. Disclosure Brochure

Our model portfolios are designed to earn both income and capital appreciation for a total return. We believe that clients need total return, not just dividends or interest. The traditional concept of an 'income portfolio' is archaic and places unnecessary and inappropriate restrictions on portfolio design.

Equally important is the concept of risk. Clients are risk adverse by nature. Our portfolios are designed to exceed a client's cash flow and spending policy; while at the same time recommending the lowest level of risk. Diversification of asset classes, markets, securities and maturities—while maintaining adequate reserves—is the key to our philosophy when designing the total return portfolio.

The core portfolio will include equity, fixed income, commercial real estate and cash equivalents. The core portfolio will primarily utilize institutional asset class funds; a low-cost indexing solution. However, we also will select some active fund managers. We believe in the Fama/French research and therefore the equities allocation in the core portfolio may be tilted slightly toward value stocks and toward smaller companies to take advantage of higher expected returns.

OneSource believes that there should be regular review of a client's situation to determine if he is continuing to move in the direction of achieving his goals. Written quarterly performance reports are provided to the client. Annual financial planning reviews are recommended. We should continue to educate our clients, always remaining sensitive to the volatility of each one's expectations. Our responsibility is to assure that our client 'stays the course' and does so with a minimum of emotional pain. The focus should always be the client expectations and the achievement of his goals, not the myopic focus on performance of the portfolio.

Portfolio Management

OneSource primarily recommends mutual fund managers. The fund managers that comprise the firm's list of recommended funds pass its due diligence process, as set forth by the firm's investment committee. The process of ongoing selection and review includes:

At least Quarterly.

- Review and update of mutual fund money manager performance, which is used to compare and track against the appropriate benchmarks.
- Examination of the investment analysis software, which is used to review total returns, risk factors, top holdings and style drift.
- Overlap analysis which is used to review diversification and correlation of top holdings.
- Contact those on the firm's list of recommended fund money managers or investment company representatives to discuss current investment policy and check for consistencies in philosophy and personnel at the management level.

Annually.

- Contact those on the firm's list of recommended mutual fund companies to discuss their outlook for the coming year.

Mutual Fund Selection Criteria

OneSource generally seeks out those mutual funds with the following attributes:

- Fund managers that adhere to clearly stated investment objectives.
- Funds with no loads (i.e., shares sold without a charge or commission).
- Equity funds with expense ratios of less than 1.2%.
- Bond fund with expense ratios of less than 0.6%.
- Fund managers with at least a five-year history and a consistent management record.
- Equity funds with what the firm determines are well-diversified portfolio holdings.
- Equity funds that do not hold positions in any one company that exceed 7% of their total portfolio.

Risks of Loss

General Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves the risk of loss. Clients should be prepared to bear such loss.

Mutual Funds and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)

An investment in a mutual fund or ETF involves risk, including the loss of principal. Mutual fund and ETF shareholders are necessarily subject to the risks stemming from the individual issuers of the fund's underlying portfolio securities. Such shareholders are also liable for taxes on any fund-level capital gains, as mutual funds and ETFs are required by law to distribute capital gains in the event they sell securities for a profit that cannot be offset by a corresponding loss.

Shares of mutual funds are generally distributed and redeemed on an ongoing basis by the fund itself or a broker acting on its behalf. The trading price at which a share is transacted is equal to a fund's stated daily per share net asset value ("NAV"), plus any shareholders fees (e.g., sales loads, purchase fees, redemption fees). The per share NAV of a mutual fund is calculated at the end of each business day, although the actual NAV fluctuates with intraday changes to the market value of the fund's holdings. The trading prices of a mutual fund's shares may differ significantly from the NAV during periods of market volatility, which may, among other factors, lead to shares trading at a premium or discount to NAV.

Shares of ETFs are listed on securities exchanges and transacted at negotiated prices in the secondary market. Generally, ETF shares trade at or near their most recent NAV, which is generally calculated at least once daily for indexed-based ETFs and more frequently for actively managed ETFs. However, certain inefficiencies may cause the shares to trade at a premium or discount to their pro rata NAV. There is also no guarantee that an active secondary market for such shares will develop or continue to exist. Generally, an ETF only redeems shares when aggregated as creation units (usually 50,000 shares or more). Therefore, if a liquid secondary market ceases to exist for shares of a particular ETF, a shareholder may have no way to dispose of such shares.

Options

Options allow investors to buy or sell a security at a contracted “strike” price (not necessarily the current market price) at or within a specific period of time. Clients may pay or collect a premium for buying or selling an option. Investors transact in options to either hedge (limit) losses in an attempt to reduce risk or to speculate on the performance of the underlying securities. Options transactions contain a number of inherent risks, including the partial or total loss of principal in the event that the value of the underlying security or index does not increase/decrease to the level of the respective strike price. Holders of options contracts are also subject to default by the option writer which may be unwilling or unable to perform its contractual obligations.

Market Risks

The profitability of a significant portion of OneSource’s recommendations may depend to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of price movements of stocks and bonds. There can be no assurance that OneSource will be able to predict those price movements accurately.

Use of Private Collective Investment Vehicles

OneSource may recommend the investment by certain clients in privately placed collective investment vehicles (some of which may be typically called “hedge funds”). The managers of these vehicles will have broad discretion in selecting the investments. There are few limitations on the types of securities or other financial instruments which may be traded and no requirement to diversify. The hedge funds may trade on margin or otherwise leverage positions, thereby potentially increasing the risk to the vehicle. In addition, because the vehicles are not registered as investment companies, there is an absence of regulation. There are numerous other risks in investing in these securities. The client will receive a private placement memorandum and/or other documents explaining such risks.

Item 9. Disciplinary Information

OneSource is required to disclose the facts of any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client’s evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of management. OneSource does not have any required disclosures to this Item.

Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

OneSource is required to disclose any relationship or arrangement that is material to its advisory business or to its clients with certain related persons.

Licensed Insurance Agents

Certain of OneSource's Supervised Persons, in their individual capacities, are licensed insurance agents with various insurance companies, and in such capacity, may recommend, on a fully-disclosed basis, the purchase of certain insurance products. A conflict of interest exists to the extent that OneSource or its Supervised Persons recommend the purchase of insurance products where OneSource or its Supervised Persons receive insurance commissions or other additional compensation. OneSource provides such insurance brokerage services to its clients as part of its holistic financial planning approach.

Related Tax Preparation Company

OneSource does not render tax preparation services to clients. In the event a client requires tax preparation services, the Firm may recommend the services of its affiliated tax preparation company, OneSource Tax, Inc. ("OneSource Tax"). These services are rendered independent of OneSource and pursuant to a separate agreement between the client and the tax preparation company. The Firm does not receive any portion of the fees paid by the client to OneSource Tax and does not receive a referral fee in connection with the accounting services that OneSource Tax renders to its clients. However, one or more of the Firm's Supervised Persons is a Certified Public Accountant ("CPA") and a principal of OneSource Tax and is entitled to receive distributions relative to his ownership interest. There exists a conflict of interest to the extent that the Firm recommends the tax preparation services of OneSource Tax and its Supervised Persons receive compensation by virtue of their affiliation therewith.

Related Attorney

One of the firm's Principals, Francis C. Ortner, Jr. ("Mr. Ortner, Jr.") is a licensed practicing attorney admitted to the Bar of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. While OneSource provides clients with a range of non-investment related financial planning and consulting services, the firm does not render legal advice. No services provided by the firm are to be construed or interpreted as legal advice. Mr. Ortner Jr. makes himself available to OneSource clients for general estate planning questions, however, Mr. Ortner Jr. does not provide no legal advice or estate documents to OneSource clients and OneSource does not recommend Mr. Ortner Jr.'s legal services to its clients.

Item 11. Code of Ethics

OneSource has adopted a code of ethics in compliance with applicable securities laws (“Code of Ethics”) that sets forth the standards of conduct expected of its Supervised Persons. OneSource’s Code of Ethics contains written policies reasonably designed to prevent certain unlawful practices such as the use of material non-public information by the Firm or any of its Supervised Persons and the trading by the same of securities ahead of clients in order to take advantage of pending orders.

The Code of Ethics also requires certain of OneSource’s personnel (called “Access Persons”) to report their personal securities holdings and transactions and obtain pre-approval of certain investments (e.g., initial public offerings, limited offerings). However, OneSource Supervised Persons are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients if done in a manner consistent with the Firm’s policies and procedures. This Code of Ethics has been established recognizing that some securities trade in sufficiently broad markets to permit transactions by Access Persons to be completed without any appreciable impact on the markets of such securities. Therefore, under certain limited circumstances, exceptions may be made to the policies stated below.

When the Firm is engaging in or considering a transaction in any security on behalf of a client where there may be a potential for conflict, no Access Person may knowingly effect for themselves or for their immediate family (i.e., spouse, minor children and adults living in the same household as the Access Person) a transaction in that security unless:

- the transaction has been completed;
- the transaction for the Access Person is completed as part of a batch trade (as defined below in Item 12) with clients; or
- a decision has been made not to engage in the transaction for the client.

These requirements are not applicable to: (i) direct obligations of the Government of the United States; (ii) money market instruments, bankers’ acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, repurchase agreements and other high quality short-term debt instruments, including repurchase agreements; (iii) shares issued by mutual funds or money market funds; and (iv) shares issued by unit investment trusts that are invested exclusively in one or more mutual funds.

Clients and prospective clients may contact OneSource to request a copy of its Code of Ethics.

Item 12. Brokerage Practices

As discussed above, in Item 5, OneSource recommends that clients utilize the brokerage and clearing services of Fidelity. Factors which OneSource considers in recommending Fidelity or any other broker-dealer to clients include their respective financial strength, reputation, execution, pricing, research and service. Fidelity enables OneSource to obtain many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other no-load or load-waived mutual funds at nominal transaction charges. Fidelity charges commission rates that are generally considered discounted from customary retail commission rates. The commissions and/or transaction fees charged by Fidelity may be higher or lower than those charged by other Financial Institutions.

The commissions paid by OneSource's clients comply with OneSource's duty to obtain "best execution." Clients may pay commissions that are higher than another qualified Financial Institution might charge to effect the same transaction where OneSource determines that the commissions are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services received. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a Financial Institution's services, including among others, the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. OneSource seeks competitive rates but may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client transactions.

OneSource periodically and systematically reviews its policies and procedures regarding its recommendation of Financial Institutions in light of its duty to obtain best execution.

The client may direct OneSource in writing to use a particular Financial Institution to execute some or all transactions for the client. In that case, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for the account with that Financial Institution, and OneSource will not seek better execution services or prices from other Financial Institutions or be able to "batch" client transactions for execution through other Financial Institutions with orders for other accounts managed by OneSource (as described below). As a result, the client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs or greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case. Subject to its duty of best execution, OneSource may decline a client's request to direct brokerage if, in OneSource's sole discretion, such directed brokerage arrangements would result in additional operational difficulties or violate restrictions imposed by other broker-dealers (as further discussed below).

Transactions for each client will be effected independently, unless OneSource decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. OneSource may (but is not obligated to) combine or "batch" such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates, or to allocate equitably among OneSource's clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and allocated among OneSource's clients pro rata to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client on any given day. To the extent that OneSource determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which OneSource's Supervised Persons may invest, OneSource does so in accordance with applicable rules promulgated under the Advisers Act and no-action guidance provided by the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. OneSource does not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of the aggregation. In the event that OneSource determines that a prorated allocation is not appropriate under the particular circumstances, the allocation will be made based upon other relevant factors, which may include: (i) when only a small percentage of the order is executed, shares may be allocated to the account with the smallest order or the smallest position or to an account that is out of line with respect to security or sector weightings relative to other portfolios, with similar mandates; (ii) allocations may be given to one account when one account has limitations in its investment guidelines which prohibit it from purchasing other securities which are expected to produce similar investment results and can be purchased by other accounts; (iii) if an account reaches an investment guideline limit and cannot participate in an allocation, shares may be reallocated to other accounts (this may be due to unforeseen changes in an account's assets after an order is placed); (iv) with respect to sale allocations, allocations may be given to accounts low in cash; (v) in cases when a pro rata allocation of a potential execution would result in a de minimis allocation in one or more accounts, OneSource may exclude the account(s) from the allocation; the transactions may be executed on a pro rata basis among the remaining accounts; or (vi) in cases where a small proportion of an order is executed in all accounts, shares may be allocated to one or more accounts on a random basis.

Consistent with obtaining best execution, brokerage transactions may be directed to certain broker-dealers in return for investment research products and/or services which assist OneSource in its investment decision-making process. Such research generally will be used to service all of OneSource's clients, but brokerage commissions paid by one client may be used to pay for research that is not used in managing that client's portfolio. The receipt of investment research products and/or services as well as the allocation of the benefit of such investment research products and/or services poses a conflict of interest because OneSource does not have to produce or pay for the products or services.

Software and Support Provided by Financial Institutions

OneSource may receive from Fidelity, without cost to OneSource, computer software and related systems support, which allow OneSource to better monitor client accounts maintained at Fidelity. OneSource may receive the software and related support without cost because OneSource renders investment management services to clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. The software and related systems support may benefit OneSource, but not its clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its clients, OneSource endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that OneSource's receipt of economic benefits from a broker-dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence OneSource's choice of broker-dealer over another broker-dealer that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, OneSource may receive the following benefits from Fidelity through the Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services Group: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its Institutional Wealth Services Group participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information.

Item 13. Review of Accounts

Account Reviews

For those clients to whom OneSource provides investment management services, OneSource monitors those portfolios as part of an ongoing process while regular account reviews are conducted on at least a quarterly basis. For those clients to whom OneSource provides financial planning and/or consulting services, reviews are conducted on an “as needed” basis. Such reviews are conducted by one of OneSource’s investment adviser representatives. All investment advisory clients are encouraged to discuss their needs, goals and objectives with the firm and to keep the firm informed of any changes thereto. OneSource contacts ongoing investment advisory clients at least annually to review its previous services and/or recommendations and to discuss the impact resulting from any changes in the client’s financial situation and/or investment objectives.

Account Statements and General Reports

Unless otherwise agreed upon, clients are provided with transaction confirmation notices and regular summary account statements directly from the broker-dealer or custodian for the client accounts. Those clients to whom the firm provides investment advisory services will also receive a report from OneSource that may include such relevant account and/or market-related information such as an inventory of account holdings and account performance on a quarterly basis. Clients should compare the account statements they receive from their custodian with those they receive from OneSource.

Financial Planning/Consulting Reports

Those clients to whom OneSource provides financial planning and/or consulting services will receive reports from the firm summarizing its analysis and conclusions as requested by the client or otherwise agreed to in writing by OneSource.

Item 14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits

OneSource is required to disclose any relationship or arrangement where it receives an economic benefit from a third party (non-client) for providing advisory services. The firm may receive economic benefits from non-clients for providing advice or other advisory services to clients. This type of relationship poses a conflict of interest and any such relationship is disclosed in response to Item 12, above.

Client Referrals

In addition, OneSource is required to disclose any direct or indirect compensation that it provides for client referrals. The firm does not compensate for referrals.

Item 15. Custody

OneSource's Agreement and/or the separate agreement with any Financial Institution may authorize OneSource through such Financial Institution to debit the client's account for the amount of OneSource's fee and to directly remit that management fee to OneSource in accordance with applicable custody rules.

The Financial Institutions recommended by OneSource have agreed to send a statement to the client, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of management fees paid directly to OneSource. In addition, as discussed in Item 13, OneSource also sends periodic supplemental reports to clients. Clients should carefully review the statements sent directly by the Financial Institutions and compare them to those received from the firm.

Item 16. Investment Discretion

OneSource may be given the authority to exercise discretion on behalf of clients. OneSource is considered to exercise investment discretion over a client's account if it can effect transactions for the client without first having to seek the client's consent. OneSource is given this authority through a power-of-attorney included in the agreement between OneSource and the client. Clients may request a limitation on this authority (such as certain securities not to be bought or sold). OneSource takes discretion over the following activities:

- The securities to be purchased or sold;
- The amount of securities to be purchased or sold; and
- When transactions are made.

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

OneSource does not accept the authority to vote clients' securities (i.e., proxies) on their behalves. Clients receive proxies directly from the Financial Institutions where their assets are custodied and may contact the Firm at the number on the cover of this brochure with questions about proxies and/or other such solicitations.

Item 18. Financial Information

OneSource is not required to disclose any financial information pursuant to this Item due to the following:

- The firm does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees six months or more in advance;
- The firm does not have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients; and
- The firm has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.
