Performance - Based Fees

LM Capital Group, LLC does not typically utilize or recommend a "performance - based" fee schedule for its institutional clients. However, we currently manage an institutional client, whom, at their discretion, have added a performance based fee schedule to our current AUM based fee schedule.

The fees charged for this service will be determined by the client's individual circumstances and will never exceed 25% of the account's performance above an appropriate index. The inclusion of a performance based fee schedule is agreed upon prior to entering into this type of arrangement and is detailed in the client's Investment Management Agreement and/or contract.

The percentage of assets under management is billed quarterly, in arrears.

The client must understand the proposed method of compensation and its risks prior to entering into the contract. Accordingly, clients paying performance - based fees are directed to the "Performance - Based Fees" section (Item 6) below for more comprehensive disclosures, including potential conflicts of interest resulting from this type of compensation.

In measuring the client's assets for the calculation of performance - based fees, LM Capital Group, LLC. shall include: for securities for which market quotations are readily available, the realized capital losses and unrealized capital losses of securities over the period and, if the unrealized capital appreciation of the securities over this period is included, the unrealized capital depreciation of securities over the period.

Although the performance - based fee may create an incentive for LM Capital Group, LLC. to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement, LM Capital Group, LLC still must adhere to client mandated investment guidelines and overall investment strategy of the portfolio.

PERFORMANCE - BASED FEES WILL ONLY BE CHARGED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF REG. 205-3 OF THE INVESTMENT ADVISERS ACT OF 1940 AND/OR APPLICABLE STATE REGULATIONS. THE FEES WILL NOT BE OFFERED TO ANY CLIENT RESIDING IN A STATE IN WHICH SUCH FEES ARE PROHIBITED.

Clients are invoiced in arrears at the end of each calendar quarter based upon the value (market value or fair market value in the absence of market value, plus any credit balance or minus any debit balance), of the client's account at the end of the previous quarter.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although LM Capital Group, LLC. has established the aforementioned fee schedule(s), we retain the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a client by client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

We may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. In calculating a client's reimbursement of fees, we will pro rate the reimbursement according to the number of days remaining in the billing period.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Pre - existing advisory clients are subject to LM Capital Group, LLC. Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

PERFORMANCE - BASED FEES

As we disclosed in Item 5 of this Brochure, our firm accepts a performance - based fee from the client. Such a performance - based fee is calculated per the direction of the client, and must be approved, prior to the Investment Manager Agreement being signed, by both the client, and LM Capital Principals.

Clients should be aware that performance - based fee arrangement may create an incentive for us to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. However, all investments made in any client account must adhere to specific client investment guidelines and LM Capital Group firm security restrictions.

Furthermore, as we also have clients who do not pay performance - based fees, we have an incentive to favor accounts that do pay such fees because compensation we receive from these clients is more directly tied to the performance of their accounts.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

LM Capital believes in a global approach to managing fixed income securities, based upon a fundamental, top down analysis of global macroeconomic factors. Interest rates represent the cost of money and are driven by the world wide supply and demand for funds.

Our Investment Philosophy and Process allows us to:

- 1) Be globally comprehensive in our analysis
- 2) Identify the most attractive fixed income opportunities
- 3) Focus on long term interest rate trends and a "total return" objective for our client's portfolios.

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is under priced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially predict future price movement.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. This presents a risk in that a poorly - managed or financially unsound company may under perform regardless of market movement.

Quantitative Analysis. We use mathematical models in an attempt to obtain more accurate measurements of a company's quantifiable data, such as the value of a share price or earnings per share, and predict changes to that data.

A risk in using quantitative analysis is that the models used may be based on assumptions that prove to be incorrect.

Qualitative Analysis. We subjectively evaluate non - quantifiable factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement, and predict changes to share price based on that data.

A risk is using qualitative analysis is that our subjective judgment may prove incorrect.

Asset Allocation. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of fixed income securities and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and mandate, while adhering to specific client investment guidelines, when applicable.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly - available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategy(ies) in managing client accounts, provided that such strategy(ies) are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long - term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long - term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short - term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short - term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

RISK OF LOSS

Securities investments are not guaranteed and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

LM Capital Group, LLC. does not have any soft - dollar arrangements and does not receive any soft - dollar benefits.

LM Capital Group, LLC exercises full discretion in the management of its client portfolio's. This includes the selection of broker - dealers it will chose to execute trades with. LM Capital Group, LLC. does not have any affiliated broker - dealer relationships. Clients may include limitations on this discretionary authority in a written authority statement or as part of the Investment Managers Agreement (IMA), signed by the client and LM Capital Group, LLC. Clients may change/amend these limitations as required. Such amendments must be provided to us in writing.

LM Capital Group, LLC. will block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients.

This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts, so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro - rated basis between all accounts included in any such block.

Block trading may allow us to execute trades in a timelier, more equitable manner, and at an improved security price. LM Capital Group, LLC. will typically aggregate trades among clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker, and generally will rotate or vary the order of brokers through which it places trades for clients on any particular day. LM Capital Group, LLC.'s block trading policy and procedures are as follows:

- 1) Transactions for any client account may not be aggregated for execution if the practice is prohibited by or inconsistent with the client's advisory agreement with LM Capital Group, LLC., or our firm's order allocation policy.
- 2) The trading desk in concert with the portfolio manager must determine that the purchase or sale of the particular security involved is appropriate for the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives and with any investment guidelines or restrictions applicable to the client's account.
- 3) The portfolio manager must reasonably believe that the order aggregation will benefit, and will enable LM Capital Group, LLC. to seek best execution for each client participating in the aggregated order. This requires a good faith judgment at the time the order is placed for the execution. It does not mean that the determination made in advance of the transaction must always prove to have been correct in the light of a "20-20 hindsight" perspective. Best execution includes the duty to seek the best quality of execution, as well as the best net price.
- 4) Prior to entry of an aggregated order, a written order ticket must be completed which identifies each client account participating in the order and the proposed allocation of the order, upon completion, to those clients.
- 5) If the order cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated pro rata among the participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. However, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to participating client accounts in accordance with the initial order ticket or other written statement of allocation. Furthermore, adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made to avoid having odd amounts of shares held in any client account, or to avoid excessive ticket charges in smaller accounts.
- 6) Generally, each client that participates in the aggregated order must do so at the average price for all separate transactions made to fill the order, and must share in the commissions on a pro - rata basis in proportion to the client's participation. Under the client's agreement with the custodian/broker, transaction costs may be based on the dollar amount of securities traded for each client.
- 7) If the order will be allocated in a manner other than that stated in the initial statement of allocation, a written explanation of the change must be provided to and approved by the Chief

Compliance Officer no later than the morning following the execution of the aggregate trade.

8) LM Capital Group, LLC.'s client account records separately reflect, for each account in which the aggregated transaction occurred, the securities which are held by, and bought and sold for, that account.

9) Funds and securities for aggregated orders are clearly identified on LM Capital Group, LLC.'s records and to the broker - dealers or other intermediaries handling the transactions, by the appropriate account numbers for each participating client.

10) No client or account will be favored over another.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Review of Accounts

While the underlying securities within Model Portfolio Management Services accounts are continually monitored, these accounts are reviewed daily when transactions are placed in a client portfolio, and at least monthly otherwise. Accounts are reviewed in the context of the investment objectives and guidelines of each model portfolio as well as any investment restrictions provided by the client, when applicable. More frequent reviews may be triggered by client request, material changes in variables such as the client's individual circumstances, or the market, political or economic environment.

These accounts are reviewed by: John Chalker - Managing Director, Mario Modiano - Sr. Portfolio Manager, Rachel Wilson - Director - Fixed Income Trading, Jeff Frankel - Chief Compliance Officer.

REPORTS: In addition to the monthly statements and confirmations of transactions that clients receive from their custodian, we provide reports summarizing account performance, balances and holdings. Based upon client request, reports can be provided as often as daily, but will generally be provided at least monthly. These reports will also remind the client to notify us if there have been changes in the client's financial situation or investment objectives and whether the client wishes to impose investment restrictions or modify existing restrictions.

VERIFICATION: On a quarterly basis, LM Capital Group, LLC' s client accounts and strategy (composite) performance calculations are verified by a third party firm, Ashland Partners, LLP. to ensure that the firm is compliance with GIPS accounting standards.

It is LM Capital Group, LLC's policy not to engage solicitors or to pay related or non - related persons for referring potential clients to our firm.

It is LM Capital Group, LLC's policy not to accept or allow our related persons to accept any form of compensation, including cash, sales awards or other prizes, from a non - client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our clients.

Item 15 Custody

In addition to the periodic statements that clients receive directly from their custodians, we also send account statements directly to our clients on at least a monthly basis. Clients may instruct additional reports on a daily and weekly basis if necessary. We urge our clients to carefully compare the information provided on these statements to ensure that all account transactions, holdings and values are correct and current.

Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of client accounts.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting the client prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign an investment manager agreement (IMA) with our firm, and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

LM Capital Group, LLC acts as a discretionary adviser for clients. LM Capital's authority to vote proxies or act with respect to other shareholder actions is established through the delegation of discretionary authority under LM Capital's investment advisory contracts.

We will vote proxies in the best interests of our clients and in accordance with our established policies and procedures. Our firm will retain all proxy voting books and records for the requisite period of time, including a copy of each proxy statement received, a record of each vote cast, a copy of any document created by us that was material to making a decision how to vote proxies, and a copy of each written client request for information on how the adviser voted proxies. If our firm has a conflict of interest in voting a particular action, we will notify the client of the conflict and retain an independent third - party to cast a vote.

Clients may obtain a copy of our complete proxy voting policies and procedures by contacting Jeff Frankel - Chief Compliance Officer by telephone, email, or in writing. Clients may request, in writing, information on how proxies for his/her shares were voted. If any client requests a copy of our complete proxy policies and procedures or how we voted proxies for his/her account(s), we will promptly provide such information to the client.

A Managing Director of LM Capital Group, LLC is responsible for assuring material conflicts are identified and disclosed. LM Capital proxy voting policies and procedures are designed to enable LM Capital to resolve material conflicts of interest before voting their proxies.

We will neither advise nor act on behalf of the client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held in the client's account(s), including, but not limited to, the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class action settlements. If desired, clients may direct us to transmit copies of class action notices to the client or a third party. Upon such direction, we will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner.

With respect to ERISA accounts, we will vote proxies unless the plan documents specifically reserve the plan sponsor's right to vote proxies. To direct us to vote a proxy in a particular manner, clients should contact Jeff Frankel - Chief Compliance Officer, by telephone, email, or in writing.

You can instruct us to vote proxies according to particular criteria (for example, to always vote with management, or to vote for or against a proposal to allow a so - called "poison pill" defense against a possible takeover). These requests must be made in writing. You can also instruct us on how to cast your vote in a particular proxy contest by contacting us at (619) 814-1401.
