Item 4 - Advisory Business

Firm Description

Our mission at Patton Fund Management, Inc. (“PFM”) is to dramatically improve the financial lives of every investor we encounter. A significant part of this is to educate investors on the benefits of diversifying beyond traditional stocks, bonds and cash into a wide range of low or non-correlated investments. Assets are invested in exchange-traded funds, individual U.S. stocks, and our proprietary long/short strategies. Our proprietary strategies trade U.S. stocks of public companies. These strategies are designed to reduce investor risk and improve long-term returns.

We implement these concepts through our total portfolio solution called Super-Diversification. There are two steps in creating a “Super-Diversified” Portfolio. The first is to diversify among several types or categories of investments by purchasing mainly low cost exchange-traded funds (ETFs). These additional asset classes often include International Emerging Stocks, Real Estate, Commodities, and Berkshire Hathaway, serving as a substitute for Private Equity.

The second step is to include an allocation to one of our proprietary hedging strategies. The investment discipline used in these strategies is rules-based and model driven. These long/short strategies invest in U.S. stocks and vary in leverage and are discussed in greater detail in Item 8.

Principal Owner

Mark Patton is the sole shareholder of Patton Fund Management, Inc, a Registered Investment Adviser. Mark has been providing investment advisory services since 1994. Patton Investment Management, a sole proprietorship, was established in 1994 and then in 2002, Mark founded Patton Fund Management, Inc.

Types of Advisory Services

Patton Fund Management, Inc. provides the following advisory services:

- Investment supervisory services to individuals, trusts, estates, corporations and other individual accounts (called “Individual Accounts”) on a fully discretionary basis;
- Investment supervisory services to Companies with Retirement Plans on a non-discretionary basis;
- Acts as the general partner or manager of a number of limited liability companies. Each limited liability company acts as the general partner (“General Partner”) of a separate private investment fund (“Fund”). See Item 10 for details;
- Acts as the investment manager of the Funds. See Item 10 for details; and
- Provides accounting and administrative services to each General Partner. See Item 10 for details.

Tailored Relationships

We provide many clients and/or prospective clients with a custom portfolio analysis. Proposals include in-depth analysis of the client's current holdings and up to three customized portfolios for comparison purposes. Circumstances that are considered include age of investor, risk tolerance, need for withdrawals, retirement, other investments, etc. We do not limit our advice to any particular securities or investment strategies.

A similar analysis for company retirement plans may include a review of current plan documents, type of plan, investment menu, plan provisions, number of participants and age distribution and size of plan.

On occasion by request from a client, certain securities can be held or restricted from trading in a client's account.

Wrap Fee Programs

Patton Fund Management, Inc. does not participate in wrap fee programs.

Client Assets

Client Assets as of December 31, 2016 included:

- Discretionary assets of $182,273,569

Educational Seminars / Workshops

Mark Patton periodically is invited as a guest speaker to educate about his investment strategy and disciplines. Depending on the circumstances, these range from 30 minutes to 4 hours. Many topics are discussed including market history and trends, principles of diversification, differences between active and passive management, and much more.

In addition to being a guest speaker, Patton Fund Management, Inc. will periodically host seminars for clients and/or prospective clients. During these seminars Mark Patton provides an overview of the company and its services.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Individual Accounts

We charge management fees based on the client's signed agreement (Investment Advisory Agreement). The annual management fee is payable in quarterly installments at the beginning of each quarter, based on the portfolio's market value at the end of the previous quarter. This fee may be charged in advance or arrears depending on the advisory contract with the client.

Prorated adjustments may be made for any cash flows into the portfolio during the quarter. Clients typically have fees directly debited from their accounts, but may choose to pay us directly by check. Under special circumstances, PFM negotiates fees.

Some individual account agreements include a performance-based fee. In such cases, this fee is charged annually based on the account value and performance as of December 31st. Prorated adjustments may be made for any cash flows in the portfolio between billing periods.

Accounts started or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid fees will be refunded, and any unpaid fees will be due and payable. Performance-based fees, if applicable, will be accelerated upon termination.

Prior to the fees being deducted, we send the client a statement itemizing the fee, including the formula used to calculate the fee, the amount of assets under management upon which the fee is based, and the time period covered by the fee.

For Super-Diversified accounts, the advisory fee is 0.25% to 0.50% per annum of the total portfolio's market value minus the portion allocated to any one of PFM's proprietary long/short strategies or funds. PFM's proprietary long/short strategies and Funds are billed under a separate fee schedule. A minimum management fee of $500 per annum may be charged.

Super-Diversified Portfolios including the Patton Flex Strategy have two fee schedule options. For those who qualify as a Qualified Client, the above schedule is available. For those who do not qualify as a Qualified Client or for those who do but would prefer a flat management fee structure, the below schedule is available.

Fee Schedule for Super-Diversified

Assets Managed	Fee (Annual % of Assets)
Up to $2,000,000	1.50%
$2,000,001-$5,000,000	1.00%
$5,000,001 and up	0.75%

Under special circumstances, PFM may negotiate fees.

Our fees do not include brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses. You may incur certain charges imposed by custodians and brokers such as custodial fees, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Exchange-traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. These charges, fees and commissions are in addition to PFM's fee. We will not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

You may select the broker/custodian of your choice. We typically recommend a broker/custodian based on the type of strategy and account selected, but it is not mandatory that you follow our recommendation. Also, our fee is not dependent on the broker/custodian selected.

Item 12 further describes the factors that we consider when selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g. commissions).

We charge varying management fees for different strategies and we may have an incentive to recommend a strategy based on the management fees charged, rather than on a client's needs. We have designed and implemented procedures to ensure we treat all clients fairly and equally, and to prevent this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients.

Please refer to Item 11 which describes additional conflicts of interest.

Company Retirement Plans

Patton Fund Management, Inc. charges 0.35% on the Plan assets in a company's retirement plan. Under special circumstances, PFM negotiates fees. The fees are payable in quarterly installments after the end of each quarter. These fees are based on the market value of the Plan's assets as of the last day of the quarter. If the Plan is established or terminated during the quarter, the fee for that quarter will be prorated. Payment options will vary depending on the recordkeeper's options and the Company's preferences. Each Company's Plan documents will detail the payment methods chosen.

Our fees are exclusive of fees charged by the Plan's custodian, broker, Recordkeeper, or other service providers. Such additional fees include recordkeeping fees, document change fees, participant loan fees, custodial fees, brokerage commissions, transaction fees, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other related costs and expenses which will be incurred by the client. Exchange-traded funds and mutual funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are in addition to PFM's fee, and we will not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Clients may select the recordkeeper of their choice. PFM will typically recommend a recordkeeper, but it is not mandatory that a client select our recommendation. Also, our fee is not dependent on the recordkeeper selected.

Item 12 further describes the factors that we consider when selecting or recommending a recordkeeper/custodian for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g. commissions).

Please refer to Item 11 which describes additional conflicts of interest.

The Funds and General Partners

Patton Fund Management, Inc. is reimbursed by each Fund and General Partner for all out-of-pocket costs and expenses reasonably incurred by PFM.

We charge each General Partner a monthly administrative services fee equal to 0.15% per annum of the respective Fund's net assets. In calculating the administrative services fee, the Fund's net assets are valued as of the first day of each calendar month (including any new investments effective at the beginning of the month). Each Fund and GP must also reimburse PFM for out-of-pocket expenses.

Each Fund has its own management fee and incentive compensation arrangement, described in Item 6 below.

Item 12 further describes the factors that we consider when selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g. commissions).

Please refer to Item 11 which describes conflicts of interest.

Educational Seminars / Workshops

Mark Patton sometimes receives a fee of $500 plus reimbursed travel expenses for conducting educational workshops. This fee may vary.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees & Side-by-Side Management

The Funds and General Partners

Each Fund has its own management fee and incentive compensation arrangement, described as follows:

- Patton Edge Plus Fund, L.P. – the Fund pays to its General Partner a monthly management fee equal to 1.0% per annum of the value each investors account balance. In addition, each investor is charged a performance-based fee. This performance fee is generally calculated at the end of each year and is equal to a high water mark of 20% of the net gains. Prior year performance could have a significant impact on this calculation. Until previous years' losses are recouped no performance fee will be due.
- Patton Multiplier Fund, L.P. – the Fund does NOT pay a management fee. Each investor is charged a performance-based fee. This fee is generally calculated at the end of each year. The investor pays a performance fee of 50% of any amount over a 12% annual net return. Prior year performance could have a significant impact on this calculation. Until the cumulative return exceeds 12% per year no performance fee will be due.
- Patton Flex Fund, L.P. – the Fund does NOT pay a management fee. Each investor is charged a performance-based fee. This fee is generally calculated at the end of each year. The investor pays a performance fee of 50% of any amount over a 12% annual net return. Prior year performance could have a significant impact on this calculation. Until the cumulative return exceeds 12% per year no performance fee will be due.

Each Fund's fees and expenses, and the calculation of the performance-based fees, are described in the respective Fund's offering documents.

Individual Accounts

The Patton Flex Strategy is offered via an individual account. The account does NOT have a management fee. Each account is charged a performance-based fee. This fee is generally calculated at the end of each year. The account is charged a performance fee of 50% of any amount over a 12% annual net return. Prior year performance could have a significant impact on this calculation. Until the cumulative return exceeds 12% per year no performance fee will be due.

Performance-based fee arrangements create an incentive for Patton Fund Management, Inc. to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. Refer to Item 10 and Item 11 that describe this and other additional conflicts of interest.

Performance-based fees are charged to investors in the above three funds and some individual accounts. These investors must be a "qualified client" as that term is defined in Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisers Act.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Analysis for Super-Diversified portfolios is risk based. The goal is to design a portfolio allocation that best fits each individual client’s risk tolerance and circumstances. PFM has a proprietary research system that utilizes monthly performance data on dozens of asset classes.

Historical analysis is done on many differing combinations of asset classes to determine the mix or allocation of assets that produces the most desirable risk profile for each client.

The investment discipline used by the Patton 45, Patton Edge, Patton Flex, and each Fund strategy is entirely rules-based and model driven. The underlying principles are reflected in the academic field of Behavioral Finance, or what is often called investor psychology. These strategies utilize strict adherence to these six disciplines:

- Identifying the potential candidate stocks for the portfolio
- Entering positions in stocks that are mispriced based on the rules-based model
- Closing positions that are negatively impacting performance
- Holding positions that continue to produce gains
- Diversification, and
- Hedging (except Patton 45 Strategy).

These disciplines are purely rules-based and have been back-tested from July 1963 using a proprietary model simulating every investment decision on a daily basis. Additional information regarding the back-tested details is located in the respective strategy's brochure or Fund's offering memorandum.

For each of our strategies, we utilize information from a variety of sources including several computer databases and on-line services.

Investment Strategies

The Investment Strategies offered include the following:

Super-Diversification utilizes the following combinations:

- Exchange-traded Funds (ETFs) only
- ETFs with a portion of a client's portfolio in the Patton Edge Strategy (see description below)
- ETFs with a portion of a client's portfolio in the Patton Edge Plus Strategy (see description below)
- ETFs with a portion of a client's portfolio in the Patton Multiplier Strategy (see description below)
- ETFs with a portion of a client's portfolio in the Patton Flex Strategy (see description below)

The goal of Super-Diversification is to spread a client's assets among several types or categories of investments that do not perform similarly with the goal of reducing overall risk. These different categories include U.S. and international stocks, hedge strategies, hedge funds, private equity, real estate, and commodities. The exposure to most of these categories is accomplished through low cost ETFs and one of Patton's hedging strategies.

All ETFs are subject to risk, which may result in the loss of principal. International ETFs involve additional risks, including currency fluctuations and political uncertainty. ETF products that invest in emerging markets are generally more risky than those that invest in developed countries because countries with emerging markets may have relatively unstable and less-established markets and economies. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against a loss.

Patton 45 Strategy is utilized in individual accounts and has the following key elements:

- Style: Long Only Equity

- Discipline: Purely Rules-based
- Diversification: Generally 50-80 Long Positions
- Position Liquidity: Very High
- Leverage: None

An investment in the Patton 45 Strategy involves a number of substantial risks. A summary of some of those risks are as follows:

- Investment Risks – an investment in the Strategy involves the risk of loss of investment, and there can be no assurance that investors will receive any return of or on their investment.
- Investment Strategy Risks – there can be no assurance that the Strategy will achieve its investment objective and may trail the performance of other strategies.
- Market Risks – the Strategy could lose money over short periods due to short-term market movements and over longer periods during market down-turns.

- Style: Long/Short Equity
- Discipline: Purely Rules-based
- Diversification: Generally 50-80 Long Positions and 50-90 Short Positions

- Market Risks – the Strategy could lose money over short periods due to short-term market movements and over longer periods during market down-turns.
- Short Sales – a short sell allows the investor to profit from declines in the security's value and consequently, creates the risk of an unlimited loss as the stock price could rise without limit.
- Risks of Borrowing and Leverage – the Strategy intends to borrow for the purpose of investing in portfolio securities. Leverage can substantially increase the volatility and risk of the individual's portfolio.
- Conflicts of Interest – We charge varying management fees for different strategies and we may have an incentive to recommend a strategy based on the management fees charged, rather than on a client's needs. Please see Item 11 where many Conflicts of Interest are described. Also, refer to marketing brochure for the Patton Edge Strategy "Conflicts of Interest."

We provide investment management and investment advisory services to a significant number of individual and institutional clients, including Funds that may be similar to each other. We also engage in activities where our interests or the interests of a Fund, a General Partner or our investors may conflict with the interests of other clients. Certain potential and actual conflicts of interest are described in the offering documentation for each Fund or General Partner. Certain of the more significant of these conflicts of interest are described briefly below and in Item 11.

While the Funds are clients of Patton Fund Management, Inc., certain Individual Account clients of PFM may also be solicited to invest in the Funds or General Partners. Refer to Item 11 for details regarding this conflict of interest.

Other Funds

Patton Fund Management, Inc. and its affiliates currently manage, and may in the future organize and operate, other hedge funds, general partners, private investment funds, or other investment vehicles, any of which may have investment objectives and policies which are similar or even identical to those of any Fund. Such investment vehicles may make investments in the same securities in which any Fund invests and may be competitive with any Fund.

See Item 11 for additional conflicts of interest.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

Patton Fund Management, Inc. has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics provides guidance for personal investment activity and other activities that have the potential to create actual or apparent conflicts of interest between employees and clients. The Code of Ethics is based on the principle that officers, directors and employees of PFM have a fiduciary duty to place the interests of its clients above their own.

The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at PFM must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Patton Fund Management, Inc.'s clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting Mark Patton at 214.234.9900 or email at mark@pattonfunds.com.

Recommend Securities with Material Financial Interest

Patton Fund Management, Inc. anticipates that, in appropriate circumstances and when consistent with clients' investment objectives, it will recommend to investment advisory clients or prospective clients, the purchase or sale of securities in which PFM, its affiliates and/or clients, directly or indirectly, have a position of interest.

For example, PFM may recommend that an Individual Account client or a prospective client invest in a Fund. Funds with performance-based fee arrangements may create an incentive for us to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. The performance-based fee of a Fund could generate more fees when compared to other PFM strategies. Such fee arrangements also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over the other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. We have designed and implemented procedures to ensure that we treat all clients fairly and equally, and to prevent this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients.

Invest in Same Securities Recommended to Clients

Patton Fund Management, Inc.'s employees and persons associated with PFM are required to follow its Code of Ethics. Officers and employees of PFM and its affiliates do trade for their own accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for PFM's clients. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of PFM will not interfere with:

- making decisions in the best interest of clients; and
- implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Personal Trading Policies

Under the Code of Ethics certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of Patton Fund Management, Inc.'s clients. In addition, the Code of Ethics requires pre-clearance of many transactions, and restricts trading in close proximity to client trading activity.

Because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between PFM and its clients.

Proprietary Trading

Patton Fund Management, Inc. and its affiliates, including Mark Patton, their employees and their clients can invest, for their own accounts, in securities that might be held by any Fund. These trading activities are carried out generally without reference to positions held by any Fund, and may be contrary to the trading activity of any Fund. We monitor the potential conflict through our Code of Ethics, specifically, monitoring personal securities transactions described above.

Ownership of Funds

Patton Fund Management, Inc., the General Partners and their affiliates and employees have purchased limited partnership interests in a Fund for investment. Conflicts of interest may arise in the course of operations of the Fund as a result of their ownership interest as limited partners. PFM, the General Partners and their affiliates and employees may not be charged management fees or incentive allocations with respect to their investments in the Funds.

Sales of Interests in General Partners

Mark Patton or affiliates have sold units of ownership interests ("Units") in the General Partners to third persons, some of whom are or may be clients of Patton Fund Management, Inc. and these transactions may present conflicts of interests. Mark Patton or affiliates may in the future sell units of ownership interest ("Units") in the General Partners to third persons, and these transactions may present conflicts of interest. For example,

- there may be conflicts in PFM's or Mark Patton's interest in receiving maximum cash sales proceeds from the sale of the Units in a General Partner, versus PFM's duty to place the interests of its clients before its own interests;
- there may be conflicts between the PFM's incentive to specially favor those clients that have purchased Units, versus the duty to treat all of its clients fairly and equitably;
- PFM has clients who are invested in one of the Funds and certain other clients who are minority equity owners of the Fund's General Partner; and
- the sales of Units are individually negotiated and have resulted in clients purchasing a dissimilar number of Units for the same or varying prices.

The original offering price of the Units is set by Mark Patton arbitrarily, and is not the result of any arms' length negotiations. The Units typically are initially issued to PFM or Mark Patton at a nominal exercise price, typically $1.00 per Unit. In many cases those Units are then later sold by PFM or Mark Patton to investors at a significant mark-up – in some cases as high as $60,000 per Unit. The reason for this mark-up is to compensate Mark Patton for creating the business opportunity presented by the applicable General Partner. Because either PFM or Mark Patton sells the Units, he personally or PFM, and not the applicable General Partner, is entitled to retain the entire proceeds of the sale of the Units. However, to December 31, 2015, Mark Patton has contributed more than $5,000,000 in proceeds from sales of the Units to PFM to support its operations.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

Patton Fund Management, Inc. does not have an affiliation with any broker-dealers or custodians. We do recommend custodians for clients based on the strategy and the type of account. The recommendations are based on experience, cost, execution quality and service. We do not receive any compensation from any of these arrangements. The two broker-dealers we recommend are Interactive Brokers and TD Ameritrade.

Best Execution

Patton Fund Management, Inc. has adopted trading procedures designed to seek the best execution of client securities transactions. We review trades to determine the quality of execution. We also investigate other broker-dealers and custodians to compare services and costs. These procedures are also designed to address the conflicts of interest that arise as a result of managing multiple types of accounts, including client accounts and client accounts that pay higher fees (i.e., performance fees). We monitor the trading procedures and formally review trading-related matters such as use of client commissions and overall best execution on at least an annual basis.

Order Aggregation and Trade Rotation

When possible, Patton Fund Management, Inc. aggregates client transactions by broker and executes block trades in order to improve the efficiency of the execution and, in some cases, to reduce commission costs. No account within the block trade will be favored over any other account, and each account will participate in the aggregated order at the same average share price. Trades of PFM's employees who have an account with PFM will be done on an aggregated basis with client orders.

If an aggregated order cannot be filled in one day (a "partial fill"), the executed portion of the order is allocated to the participating accounts pro rata on the basis of order size, subject to certain exceptions.

Trades are executed by broker; consequently, all orders cannot be aggregated into one trade. We have trade rotation procedures that pre-determine the order in which the trades are placed. The trade rotation schedule ensures that client account orders are treated fairly and equitably over time.

Directed Brokerage

For Individual Account clients, Patton Fund Management, Inc. does not trade away from the respective custodian.

For the Funds, we may direct some trades to another broker. These trades will be included in the trade rotation schedule as discussed above. If possible, those trades will be aggregated among the Funds so that each Fund receives the aggregate executed share price. Many factors determine whether we will trade away:

- Commission rates;
- Other trading costs;
- Difficulty of trade;
- Security's trading characteristics;
- Liquidity;
- Size of order; and
- Execution quality

These considerations (and others as relevant) guide us in selecting the appropriate venue in which to place the order and the proper tactics with which to trade.

Execution quality is monitored on a regular basis to determine if trading away is in the best interest of the Funds.

Research and Soft Dollars

Patton Fund Management, Inc. does not receive any research or soft dollar products.

Patton Fund Management, Inc. has received market data that reports current pricing and programs that allow for specific routing of trades. There have not been agreements or understandings obligating us to execute a portion of its trades through a particular broker-dealer, nor does Patton Fund Management, Inc. “backstop” or otherwise guarantee any broker’s financial obligation to a third party for such research or services.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Patton Fund Management, Inc. typically receives discretionary authority from the client at the beginning of an advisory relationship and once the client has signed the Investment Advisory Agreement. This authority allows us to determine the current holdings in a client's account and the securities that need to be purchased or sold in order to invest in the strategy that the client has selected.

A client may request a particular stock to be held or restricted in their account that is outside of the strategy, but generally, stocks are purchased and sold according to the investment strategy. In all cases, however, such discretion is exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment strategy for the particular client account.

Restrictions must be provided to us in writing.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting

As a matter of practice, Patton Fund Management, Inc. does not vote proxies on behalf of clients.

Investment advisers that vote proxies for clients are required to adopt and implement policies and procedures for voting proxies in the best interest of clients, to describe the procedures to clients, and to tell clients how they may obtain information about how the adviser has actually voted their proxies.

Where Patton Fund Management, Inc. has authority to vote proxies for clients' accounts, we are committed to voting in the manner that serves the best interests of the client, which generally means voting proxies with a view to enhance the value of the shares of stock held in client accounts. In the rare circumstance of a material conflict, we will still vote in the best interest of the client and report that conflict to the Chief Compliance Officer for review before voting.

Where we do not have authority to vote proxies for clients' accounts, clients will receive their proxies or other solicitation directly from their custodian or a transfer agent. The client will be responsible for voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in the account. See below for contact information for any questions regarding a particular solicitation.

A copy of our Proxy Voting Policies or information about how we voted any proxies on behalf of client accounts may be obtained by sending a request to Patton Fund Management, Inc., Attn: Compliance Officer, 5956 Sherry Lane, Suite 1000, Dallas, TX 75225.
