These programs provide additional investment opportunities among mutual funds, variable annuities, stocks, bonds and additional securities. Based on a client's individual circumstances and needs, AAG will recommend an appropriate investment program to the client. Factors considered in making this recommendation include account size, risk tolerance, the opinion of each client, and the investment philosophy of the third party independent adviser. AAG will assist the client in reviewing the client's income and expenditures, investment objectives, risk tolerance, liquidity requirements, investment restrictions and other relevant factors. AAG will provide this information to program sponsors selected by the client. AAG will meet with the client as needed, or as determined by the client, to review the account. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. The client has the right to terminate an agreement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to AAG for investment supervisory services are separate and distinct from fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, these charges are waived (purchased at Net Assset Value) in all advisory accounts. Brokerage Expenses: In addition to AAG's advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account (s). Proxy Voting: As a matter of firm policy and practice, AAG does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. However, AAG may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies. Class Actions, Bankruptcies and Other Legal Proceedings: AAG will neither advise nor act on behalf of the client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held or previously were held in the client's account(s), including, but not limited to, the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class action settlements. If desired, clients may direct AAG to transmit copies of class action notices to the client or a third party. Upon such direction, AAG will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner. 5 EDUCATION AND BUSINESS STANDARDS Advisory persons associated with AAG must possess, minimally, a college degree

	AAG is a SEC registered investment adviser. The principal executive officers and other employees are separately licensed as registered representatives of Royal Alliance Associates (RAA), a NASD registered broker/dealer. Associated persons of AAG may also be insurance agents or brokers for one or more insurance companies. As such, these individuals, in their separate capacities as registered representatives and/or insurance agents or brokers, will be able to effect securities transactions and/or purchase investment products (insurance) for clients, for which they will receive separate, yet customary compensation. Clients, however, are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client. While these individuals endeavor at all times to put the interest of the clients first as part of AAG's fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation itself creates a conflict of interest and may effect the judgement of these individuals when making recommendations. The executive officers and other employees spend approximately 30% of their time on these other business activities. 9D &amp; 9E PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS Recommendations to clients may include securities buy/sells or investment products that associated persons of AAG have some financial interest. Associated persons of AAG may also buy and sell for itself securities that it also recommends to clients. In addition, if it is deemed appropriate associated persons trades may be included in aggregate block trades. AAG has adopted a Code of Ethics that sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that the AAG requires of its employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws. AAG's Code of Ethics also includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by AAG's covered persons. AAG's code also includes oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions. A copy of AAG's Code of Ethics is available to AAG's advisory clients upon request to the Chief Compliance Officer at AAG's principal office address. 10 CONDITIONS FOR MANAGING AN ACCOUNT INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES:

	As disclosed under Item 1D, AAG requires a minimum account of $50,000 for Investment Supervisory Service clients, although this may be negotiable under certain circumstances. AAG may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum size. THIRD PARTY MANAGER SELECTION SERVICES: Clients should refer to the independent investment adviser's disclosure document for information on minimum account size requirements or any other conditions for managing an account. 12A(1) &amp; (2) INVESTMENT DISCRETION For discretionary clients, AAG requests that it be provided with written authority to determine which securities and the amounts of securities that are bought and sold which is included in the Asset Management Agreement. Any limitations on this discretionary authority shall be provided by client in a written statement. Clients may change/amend these limitations as required. Such amendments shall be submitted in writing. 12B BROKERAGE RECOMMENDATIONS INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES AAG participates in the Royal Alliance Associates (RAA), a NASD registered broker dealer services program offered to independent investment advisers. As AAG does not have discretion to choose the broker dealer or the commission rates to be paid, clients must direct the use of a particular broker dealer. AAG requests that clients direct AAG to place all trades through RAA. AAG has evaluated RAA and believes that RAA will provide AAG clients with a blend of execution services, commission costs and professionalism that will assist AAG in obtaining best execution for transactions. While AAG has a reasonable belief that RAA is able to obtain best execution and competitive prices, AAG will not be independently seeking best execution price capability through other broker dealers. AAG reserves the right to decline acceptance of any client account that directs the use of a broker dealer other than RAA. In directing the use of RAA, it should be understood that AAG will not have the

This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple clients accounts so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rated basis between all accounts included in any such block. Block trading allows AAG to execute equity trades in a more timely, equitable manner to reduce overall commission charges to clients. Personal trades may be included in any client blocks. THIRD PARTY MANAGER SELECTION SERVICES Clients should refer to the disclosure documents of recommended advisers for information on the brokerage recommendations and practices of those entities. 	with Royal Alliance Associates (RAA), a NASD registered broker dealer, Member SIPC/NYSE, to maintain custody of clients' accounts. RAA provides AAG with access to its trading and operations services including research, brokerage, custody, access to mutual funds and other investments that may require a significantly higher minimum initial investment. RAA also makes available to AAG other products and services that benefit AAG but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Some of these products and services assist AAG in managing and administering some or all of AAG's clients' accounts including software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution, provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of AAG's fees from its clients accounts, and assist with back-office support, recordkeeping and client reporting. This may also include services to help AAG manage and further its business enterprise including consulting, publications and presentations on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance and marketing. Some fees normally associated with these services including those from a third-party providing the service to AAG from RAA may be discounted or waived. The availability to AAG of the foregoing products and services is not contingent upon AAG committing to RAA any specific amount of business. Associated persons of AAG, acting in their capacity as registered broker-dealer representatives of Royal Alliance may receive 12b-1 fees in connection with investments in certain mutual funds in advisory accounts. Because of these compensation arrangements, a conflict of interest exists in connection with the recommendation of particular mutual fund investments for a client's account. PRIVACY DISCLOSURE STATEMENT Ascend Advisory Group LLC's primary client goal is to protect your privacy.
