Advisory Business

Firm Description

Timothy Clark is the sole owner of Greystone Wealth Advisors LLC (“Greystone, We, Us, Our”), which he founded in 2003.

Our compensation is solely from fees paid directly by clients. We do not receive commissions based on your purchase of any financial product. No referral fees are paid or accepted.

Assets under our direct management are held by independent, qualified custodians such as Charles Schwab & Co. and National Advisors Trust Company, FSB. We are not a qualified custodian, but may at times be considered by the SEC to have custody of your assets. This may occur for several reasons including the ability to debit our fees directly from your account, a related person from our firm is a personal trustee of a trust and is charged with investment of the trust assets, or a related person from our firm is a general partner of a partnership in which certain clients of Greystone Wealth Advisors LLC are invested as limited partners.

At your request, we work in concert with other professionals including lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, and others. Services from other professionals are acquired directly by you, even if they are recommended by us.

Greystone Wealth Advisors LLC offers the following three services: Wealth Management Service, Financial Planning Service, or both Wealth Management and Financial Planning Services.

Wealth Management Service

We will review with you your financial circumstances, your investment objectives, your risk tolerance and goals as well as any special instructions or limits that you wish us to follow in managing your account, including instructions related to specific types of securities. You can decide whether or not to give discretion to us.

Discretionary Wealth Management Services: We will direct, in our sole discretion, and without first contacting you, the investment and reinvestment of the assets in your account in stocks, bonds, mutual funds and other securities as well as in cash or cash equivalents. We will ask you to provide us with additional or updated information as may be required from time to time to assist us in managing your account.

Non-Discretionary Wealth Management Services: We will direct, with your prior written or oral approval, the investment and reinvestment of the assets in your account in securities and cash or cash equivalents. We will not exercise any discretionary authority with your account or transactions. We will ask you to provide us with additional or updated information as may be required from time to time to assist us in managing your account.

Financial Planning Service

We provide comprehensive financial planning based on your individual financial needs and circumstances, as communicated to us. Areas we may cover in the financial planning process include asset allocation, investments, cash flow, insurance review, and estate planning. We may address additional topics as needed based on your individual circumstances. From time to time, we may require you to provide additional, or updated, information.

You have sole responsibility to implement any recommendations. You have no obligation to implement the recommendations utilizing our services.

You may choose to have us review and update the recommendations annually or more frequently to adjust them for changes in your financial situation or investment objectives. At that time, you will need to update information previously provided to us.

Wealth Management Service and Financial Planning Service

Clients that choose to use both the Wealth Management and Financial Planning Services will receive both services.

Assets under Management

As of March 20, 2012, Greystone managed total client assets of $114,641,401 for approximately 318 accounts and 74 client relationships. This total amount is broken down as follows: $93,162,066 was managed on a discretionary basis and $21,479,335 was managed on a non-discretionary basis.

Fees and Compensation

The Wealth Management Service fee is calculated based on a percentage of your assets managed by Greystone. The fee schedule, billed in arrears, is as follows:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee
$0 - $2,000,000	0.65%
$2,000,001 - $4,000,000	0.45%
$4,000,001 and above	0.30%

We charge an annual minimum fee of $5,000 for Wealth Management Services.

The Financial Planning Service fee schedule is as follows:

Year 1 (first 12 calendar months): $5,000 per annum;
Year 2 and subsequent years: $3,500 per annum;

The Wealth Management Service and Financial Planning Service combined fee schedule is equal to the Wealth Management Service Fee plus an amount to be determined based upon the scope of financial planning services to be provided.

For both Wealth Management Service and Financial Planning Service, some existing or future clients may pay either higher or lower fees than those stated above. All fees listed are negotiable and subject to adjustment from time to time in light of relevant business, market, and individual client considerations. We will inform you in writing of any such adjustments which must also be agreed to by you.

The specific manner in which we charge fees is established in your written agreement with us. We will generally bill fees on a quarterly basis, in arrears, within the first 15 business days of each calendar quarter. Except for Financial Planning Service clients only (who are sent an invoice directly), Greystone will request your consent to direct debiting of fees from your designated brokerage account(s). You may also elect to be invoiced for fees by notifying Greystone in writing. Fees will not be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter.

Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. Our fees do not include brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which you shall incur. You may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to our fee.

Please see the Brokerage Practices section which further describes the factors that we consider in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client). This type of fee structure may create a potential conflict of interest by creating an incentive to recommend investments that carry a higher degree of risk.

Types of Clients

We provide Wealth Management Service and/or Financial Planning Service to the following types of clients:

- Individuals and high net worth individuals
- Trusts, estates, and charitable organizations
- Pension and profit sharing plans
- Corporations and other business entities other than those listed above
- Other pooled investment vehicles

We do not impose a minimum dollar value of assets under management for opening an account with us.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Greystone employs a number of methods to analyze both general trends in the economy and markets as well as investments selected to purchase in your portfolio. These methods include fundamental, technical, and cyclical analysis. Information collected for analysis is derived from numerous sources including financial newspapers and publications, fund prospectuses, white (research) papers by various fund companies and other organizations, Morningstar reports, Ned Davis Research, Argus Research, and Credit Suisse. We also attend industry conferences and meetings.

Investment Strategy

The above information is analyzed and helps shape Greystone's overall outlook on the economy and markets. The information is also used in the development of appropriate investment asset class allocations for you.

Our overall strategy takes a primarily top down approach to asset allocation. Our goal is to determine a well researched mix of asset classes that we feel will deliver an acceptable portfolio return for a given level of risk taken by you.

General economic and market trends help us determine when and to what degree to modify target asset allocation weights or investment securities used in your portfolio.

Greystone believes that a broadly diversified, well researched, investment portfolio comprised primarily of low fee index mutual funds (or exchange traded funds) or individual securities can be an important component of successful long term investing. Actively managed mutual funds, separate accounts, or other investment vehicles may also be recommended to clients when we feel the advantages of using such vehicles outweigh the benefits of index mutual funds and exchange traded funds.

Risk of Loss

All investment approaches involve risks that are borne by the investor. The investor must be prepared to bear these risks. The risks to your investments may include the following types: inflation, interest rate, market, reinvestment, liquidity, counterparty, currency, credit, sovereign and the overall risk of losing principal.

Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Greystone or the integrity of Greystone's management.

Greystone and its employees have no legal or disciplinary actions to report.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

National Advisors Trust Company, FSB

National Advisors Trust Company, FSB, a national trust company wholly owned by National Advisors Holdings, Inc. ("NAH"), was created to support the estate planning needs of clients who wish to maintain a long term relationship with Greystone. The mission of National Advisors Trust is to support the delivery of trust and custody services to clients of shareholder firms. Timothy Clark, principal and founder of Greystone, along with over 125 advisory firms or principals of such firms, holds a less than 1% equity interest in NAH.

Additional Business Activity - Partnerships

Timothy Clark allocates approximately 3% of his time to Blackfoot Capital Advisors, LLC, the general partner for Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P. and Blackfoot Energy Fund I, L.P. Timothy Clark is sole Managing Member of Blackfoot Capital Advisors, LLC and sole Managing Member of Greystone Wealth Advisors LLC.

Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P. primarily purchases interests in privately offered real estate entities that the Blackfoot Capital Advisors, LLC determines appropriate in achieving the Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P.'s goals. The interests purchased focus on commercial real estate, but may also include interests in residential and other real estate areas. In addition, Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P. may also purchase publicly traded real estate securities including REITS.

Blackfoot Energy Fund I, L.P. is a discretionary energy investment fund formed for the purpose of investing primarily in private energy fund limited partnership interests. Investments are made primarily in nonrenewable energy (oil, gas, coal, among others) utilizing various strategies including mezzanine debt and equity participation. In addition, Blackfoot Energy Fund I, L.P. also makes investments in publicly traded energy related securities.

For both of the above partnerships, Blackfoot Capital Advisors, LLC receives annual management compensation in the amount of 0.75% of net assets for its services with respect to the two partnerships.

Limited partners of the Blackfoot partnerships may also have a past, current, or future agreement with Greystone Wealth Advisors LLC in connection with financial planning and/or wealth management services.

Timothy Clark and/or members of his immediate family are limited partners of both Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P. and Blackfoot Energy Fund I, L.P.

Additional Business Activity - Other

Timothy Clark allocates approximately 3% of his time to the ongoing provision of expertise to Allianz Global Investors Distributors LLC ("AGI") as a consultant for various projects. These projects may include research related to the retirement industry, college savings, and other financial industry areas.

Code of Ethics

Code of Ethics

Greystone has adopted a Code of Ethics to be followed by all employees. The Code of Ethics establishes rules of conduct for all employees and is designed to, among other things, govern personal securities trading activities in the accounts of employees and immediate family/household members of employees. The Code of Ethics also covers policies and procedures to protect the confidentiality of Client information. All supervised persons at Greystone must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended. Greystone will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request by contacting Timothy Clark.

Securities Purchases/Sales

Greystone and its employees may, from time to time, buy or sell securities and investment products which are also recommended or held by clients. It is our policy to ensure that your investments are not disadvantaged by purchases and sales in Greystone's or its employee's accounts. Therefore, we prohibit any trading in accounts for Greystone or its employees that may have an adverse effect on client purchases and sales. It is our policy that trading in the same security or investment product will be allowed on the same day as clients only in those instances where the impact of Greystone's or its employees's trading can reasonably be expected to have an insignificant impact on clients (i.e. securities including, but not limited to, open-end mutual funds and liquid index based exchange traded funds (ETFs)).

Principal and Agency Transactions

It is Greystone's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. Greystone will also not cross trades between client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, acting as principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to any advisory client. A principal transaction may also be deemed to have occurred if a security is crossed between an affiliated hedge fund and another client account. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment adviser in relation to a transaction in which the investment adviser, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment adviser, acts as broker for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction. Agency cross transactions may arise where an adviser is dually registered as a broker-dealer or has an affiliated broker-dealer.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

- Allianz Global Investors Distributors LLC ("AGI") - Greystone or its employees may recommend, from time to time, investments in various investment products offered by AGI. Specifically, various open-end mutual funds or exchange-traded funds offered by AGI may be recommended to clients. Timothy Clark is not compensated for recommending AGI investment products. However, Timothy Clark does have a financial interest in AGI as a consultant to AGI.
- Assets Under Management Compensation - All financial and investment advisers have some types of conflicts. Many of our clients pay Greystone fees based upon a percentage of the assets we manage. This is a very common form of compensation for registered investment advisory firms and avoids the multiple inherent conflicts of interest associated with commission based compensation (our firm does not accept commission based compensation, nor does our firm except 12b-1 fees). An asset-advised-upon percentage compensation method can still at times lead to conflicts of interest between our firm and our client as to the advice we provide.

For example, a conflict of interest may arise relating to the following financial decisions in a client's life: incur or pay down debt, gift funds to charities or to individuals, purchase of a home or cars or other non-investment assets, expenditures of funds for various activities, investments in private investments, and the amount of funds to place in non-managed cash reserve accounts. Our goal is that our advice to clients remains at all times in the client's best interest, disregarding any impact the decision may have on Greystone or its employees.

- Greystone receives an economic benefit by typically recommending that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab") and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Please see the Brokerage Practices section below for additional disclosure.
- Greystone may recommend National Advisors Trust Company, FSB to clients in need of trust or other services. In such a case, Greystone would typically be named as investment manager with discretion to manage the trust investments and National Advisors Trust Company, FSB would be charged with the administration, distribution, and custodial responsibilities of the trust. Greystone, through the equity ownership interest of NAH by Timothy Clark, may benefit through the realization of a profit in the form of dividends, distributions, or capital appreciation of NAH equity. In addition, Greystone will also benefit from investment advisory fees paid under the trust agreement.

Brokerage Practices

Information and disclosure in this section (Brokerage Practices) is applicable to all Greystone advised accounts with the exception of two limited partnership accounts for which Timothy Clark is General Partner.

The Custodian and Brokers We Use

Greystone does not maintain custody of your assets that we manage, although we may be deemed to have custody of your assets if you give us authority to withdraw assets from your account (see Custody section below). Your assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank. Unless you request that a different custodian be used, we typically recommend that our clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab) and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB, as the qualified custodian.

Greystone is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Schwab. Greystone does have an affiliation with National Advisors Trust Company, FSB (see "Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations"). Schwab, National Advisors Trust Company, FSB or another qualified custodian will hold your assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we instruct them to. While we may recommend that you use Schwab and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB, as custodian/broker, you will decide whether to do so and will open your account with Schwab and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB or an alternative custodian by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not open the account for you, although we may assist you in doing so. Even though your account is maintained at Schwab and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB or an alternative custodian, we can still use other brokers to execute trades for your account as described below (see Your Brokerage and Custody Costs below).

How We Select Brokers/Custodians

We seek to use a custodian/broker who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, other fees, etc.)
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us

Your Brokerage and Custody Costs

The vast majority of our clients use Schwab as a custodian. For our clients' accounts that Schwab maintains, Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. For some accounts, Schwab may charge you a percentage of the dollar amount of assets in the account in lieu of commissions. Schwab's commission rates and asset-based fees applicable to our client accounts were negotiated based on the condition that our clients collectively maintain a total of at least $50 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. This commitment benefits you because the overall commission rates and asset-based fees you pay are lower than they would be otherwise. In addition to commissions and asset-based fees, Schwab charges you a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, we have Schwab execute most trades for your account. We have determined that having Schwab execute most trades is consistent with our duty to seek “best execution” of your trades. Best execution means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed above (see How We Select Brokers/Custodians).

Products and Services Available to Us From Charles Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services™ (formerly called Schwab Institutional®) is Schwab’s business serving independent investment advisory firms like us. They provide us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage— trading, custody, reporting, and related services—many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients’ accounts, while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab’s support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (we don’t have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as our clients collectively maintain a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. If our clients collectively have less than $10 million in assets at Schwab, Schwab may charge us quarterly service fees of $1,200.

Services That Benefit You

Schwab’s institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab’s services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

In particular, we feel you benefit substantially from our ability to invest your assets in institutional share class mutual funds. The underlying operating expenses can be significantly less than any existing retail share classes available for the same mutual funds.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You

Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients’ accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab’s own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients’ accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provides access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- Facilitates trade execution
- Provides pricing and other market data
- Provides electronic interfaces to our portfolio management software

- Facilitates payment of our fees from our clients' accounts
- Assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting

Services That Generally Benefit Only Us.

Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits, such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

The above services that may not benefit you directly or that only benefit us, are critical to Greystone and are used extensively by us. These services would be prohibitively expensive for Greystone to acquire utilizing its own resources.

Our Interest in Schwab's Services

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. We don't have to pay for Schwab's services so long as our clients collectively keep a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. Beyond that, these services are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to Schwab in trading commissions or assets in custody. The $10 million minimum may give us an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with Schwab, based on our interest in receiving Schwab's services that benefit our business rather than based on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of your transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of Schwab as custodian and broker is in the best interests of our clients. Our selection is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of Schwab's services (see How We Select Brokers/Custodians) and not Schwab's services that benefit only us. We do not believe that recommending our clients to collectively maintain at least $10 million of assets we manage at Schwab in order to avoid paying Schwab quarterly service fees presents a material conflict of interest.

Review of Accounts

Frequency of Reviews

Absent a triggering event (described below), your account is reviewed at least quarterly by Timothy Clark, Managing Member. The review includes portfolio holdings, overall asset allocation and transaction history. A triggering event includes extreme moves in the capital markets which may alter intended portfolio holdings and/or asset allocations.

Frequency of Reports

In addition to custodial statements sent to you by your respective custodian(s), you will receive from Greystone at least annually portfolio statements which include period ending balances, cost basis, and other account information. These statements are provided either via upload to a client specific, password protected portal accessed through Greystone's website or via regular mail. The mode of portfolio statement delivery is determined by each client.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We receive an economic benefit from Schwab and National Advisors Trust Company, FSB in the form of the support products and services they make available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at Schwab and/or National Advisors Trust Company, FSB. The availability to us of Schwab's and National Advisor Trust Company, FSB's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Custody

Greystone's Managing Member, Timothy Clark, does maintain custody of your assets that are invested in two limited partnerships where the General Partner is Blackfoot Capital Advisers, LLC. The two partnerships are Blackfoot Real Estate Partners I, L.P. and Blackfoot Energy Fund I, L.P. Timothy Clark is sole Managing Member of the General Partner. Each partnership is audited annually by an independent public accountant that is registered with, and subject to inspection by, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board ("PCOAB"). The resulting audit is delivered to each limited partner each year within 120 days after the partnership's fiscal year ends.

Greystone's Managing Member, Timothy Clark, is not deemed to maintain custody of your assets if they are trust accounts for which Timothy Clark is a personal Trustee and there is a corporate Co-Trustee.

For all remaining Greystone client accounts, under government regulations, we are deemed to have custody of your assets if, for example, you authorize us to instruct the qualified custodian of your account to deduct our advisory fees directly from your account or if you grant us authority to move your money to another person's account. The qualified custodian maintains actual custody of your assets. You will receive account statements directly from the qualified custodian at least quarterly. They will be sent to the email or postal mailing address you provided to the custodian.

Greystone urges you to promptly and carefully review your custodial statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we will provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Investment Discretion

Greystone usually receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, we will exercise such discretion a) only after receiving proper legal authority (i.e. limited power of attorney), and b) in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, we observe the investment goals as well as limitations and restrictions imposed by you. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Greystone in writing.

Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, Greystone does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. We may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies.

Financial Information

Greystone has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet its contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

Business Continuity

Business Continuity Summary

In the event of a business disruption, Greystone has implemented, and reviews at least annually, a Business Continuity Plan, a summary of which will be made available to any client or prospective client upon request.

The Business Continuity Plan contemplates events that may occur like natural disasters as well as other disasters including loss of power for an extended period of time. Greystone has secured alternative locations from which it can conduct its business. All files are backed up daily to an off-site location.

Information Security

Privacy Notice

Greystone's primary client goal is to protect your privacy. To conduct regular business, we may collect nonpublic personal information from sources such as:

- Information reported by you on applications or other forms you provide to us
- Information about your transactions with us, our affiliates, or others
- Financial information needed for purposes of advising clients on financial planning and other issues

In furtherance of our responsibility as a financial adviser, and with our clients' permission, we will disclose limited nonpublic personal information solely to service our clients. Limited nonpublic information may be shared with nonaffiliated third parties such as estate planning attorneys, insurance professionals, mortgage brokers, the client's brokerage firm, and others. Clients may opt out from any disclosure of nonpublic information by notifying us in writing.

Personally identifiable information will be retained by Greystone for, at a minimum, the period of time required by state and federal law. In addition, Federal and state securities regulators may review our records and information as permitted by law. We are required to deliver a Privacy Notice to our clients annually, in writing.

Information Safeguarding

Greystone will internally safeguard your nonpublic personal information by restricting access to only those employees who provide products or services to you or those who need access to your information to service your account. In addition, we will maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that meet federal and/or state standards to guard your nonpublic personal information.
