C. Explain whether (and, if so, how) the firm tailors advisory services to the individual needs of clients. Explain whether clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

Clients may impose investment guidelines for their portfolios such as a limit on exposure in emerging markets or restrictions on types of investments like derivatives. In general portfolios are all managed based on the Large Cap Equity strategy.

D. If the firm participates in wrap fee programs by providing portfolio management services, (1) describe the differences, if any, between how the firm manages wrap fee accounts and how it manages other accounts, and (2) explain that the firm receives a portion of the wrap fee for its services.

Not applicable.

Client Assets

E. If you manage client assets, disclose the amount of client assets you manage on a discretionary basis and the amount of client assets you manage on a non-discretionary basis. Disclose the date “as of” which you calculated the amounts.

As of 12/31/17 Northern Cross LLC managed $33.202 Billion on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

A. Describe how you are compensated for your advisory services. Provide your fee schedule. Disclose whether the fees are negotiable.

Fees are billed quarterly in arrears, based on the market value of the portfolio.

Separate Account Fee Schedule

55 basis points thereafter.

Fees are negotiable.

B. Describe whether you deduct fees from clients' assets or bill clients for fees incurred. If clients may select either method, disclose this fact. Explain how often you bill clients or deduct your fees.

Fees are billed quarterly in arrears, based on the market value of the portfolio. Clients may choose to compute the fee themselves and pay directly or instruct the custodian to pay Northern Cross directly. Clients may choose to pay monthly or quarterly. Northern Cross will reconcile all invoices and payments made from the account with the custodian statements.

C. Describe any other types of fees or expenses clients may pay in connection with firm's advisory services, such as custodian fees or mutual fund expenses.

D. If the firm's clients either may or must pay your fees in advance, disclose this fact. Explain how a client may obtain a refund of a pre-paid fee if the advisory contract is terminated before the end of the billing period. Explain how you will determine the amount of the refund.

Not applicable

E. If the firm or any of its supervised persons accepts compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds, disclose this fact.

Account Minimums

Northern Cross, LLC provides investment advice to: Institutional and Sub-Advisory clients in the US and abroad including Pension Funds, Investment Companies, Trusts and Endowments.
The minimum size for Northern Cross to manage a separate account is $250 million and is negotiable.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

A. Describe the methods of analysis and investment strategies you use in formulating investment advice or managing assets.

The Portfolio managers use Intensive fundamental research focused on identifying catalysts for margin expansion, franchise value and absolute P/E beyond typical analyst horizons.

Information is gained from personal interviews with company managements, financial publications, external research materials, corporate annual reports, prospectuses, company press releases and regulatory filings.

Investment Strategies

B. For each significant investment strategy or method of analysis the firm uses, explain the material risks involved. If the method of analysis or strategy involves significant or unusual risks, discuss the risks in detail. If the firm's primary strategy involves frequent trading of securities, explain how frequent trading can affect investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

Northern Cross, LLC creates and executes an International Large Capitalization Equity strategy for Institutional and Sub-Advisory clients in the US and abroad. We focus on 60 to 80 long-term holdings in the portfolio, selling only when a better opportunity is identified or fundamentals significantly change. Northern Cross implements this one strategy for all our clients.

C. If the firm recommends primarily a particular type of security, explain the material risks involved. If the type of security involves significant or unusual risks, discuss these risks in detail.

Risk of Loss

Any investment in securities involves the possibility of financial loss that Clients should be prepared to bear.

Investing in non-US stocks for US based investors has risks additional to the normal risks of investing in the US stock markets. None

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

A. If the firm is an SEC-registered advisor, briefly describe your code of ethics adopted pursuant to SEC rule 204A-1 or similar state rules. Explain that you will provide a copy of your code of ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

The Adviser has adopted a Code of Ethics and Insider Trading Procedures (the "Code"). The Code states that each employee should place the interests of the Adviser's clients ahead of their own. Each employee is required to conduct all personal securities transactions in a manner that is consistent with the Code and to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest. No access person shall use the knowledge of securities purchased or sold by any client of the Adviser or securities being considered for purchase or sale by any client of the Adviser to profit personally, directly or indirectly, by the market effect of such transactions. No Access Person shall, directly or indirectly, communicate to any person who is not an Access Person any material non-public information relating to any client of the Adviser or any issuer of any security owned by any client of the Adviser, including, without limitation, the purchase or sale or considered purchase or sale of a security on behalf of any client of the Adviser, except to the extent necessary to effectuate securities transactions on behalf of the client or the Adviser.

A copy of the Adviser's Code of Ethics is available to any prospective or existing client upon request to Lucy Goreham, President, Boston Investor Services, Inc., 125 Summer Street, Suite 1470, Boston, MA 02110.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

B. If firm or its related persons recommends to clients, or buys or sells for client accounts, securities in which the firm or a related person has a material financial interest, describe the firm's practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it presents. Describe generally how you address conflicts that arise.

Employees of the Adviser may purchase or sell securities which are owned in client portfolios. Employees are prohibited from the purchase or sale of a security which is being considered for purchase or sale in a client's account.

Personal Trading Policies

C. If the firm or a related person invests in the same securities (or related securities, e.g., warrants, options or futures) that the firm or a related person recommends to clients, describe the firm's practice and discuss the conflicts of interest this presents and generally how the firm addresses the conflicts that arise in connection with personal trading.

To comply with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, all Access Persons of the Adviser must preclear transactions with the Chief Compliance Officer and must complete quarterly reports on personal security transactions in Covered Securities for their own accounts or any accounts in which they have a direct or indirect beneficial interest.

For any equity trade, trades must be precleared with the President of Northern Cross, LLC or in his absence, another Principal of LLC before submitting Form III to the Review Officer. The President will preclear all equity trades with another Principal of LLC.

In addition, each Access Person must submit an annual Holdings Report of Covered Securities and must certify annually that they complied with the Adviser's Code of Ethics.

D. If the firm or related person recommends securities to clients, or buys or sells securities for client accounts, at or about the same time that the firm or related person buys or sells the same securities for your own account, describe the firm's practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it presents. Describe generally how you address conflicts that arise.

All employees shall avoid profiting by securities transactions of a short-term trading nature (including market timing) involving shares of an Investment Company. Transactions which involve a purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, of shares of the same series of an Investment Company (excluding Money Market Funds and Short Duration Funds or similar short-term fixed income fund) within thirty (30) calendar days shall be deemed to be of a trading nature and thus prohibited unless prior written approval of the transaction is obtained from the Compliance Officer.

Access Persons shall avoid profiting by securities transactions of a trading nature, which transactions are defined as a purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, of the same (or equivalent) securities within sixty (60) calendar days.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

A. Describe the factors that you consider in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

In selecting brokers, the Adviser's objective is to receive the best overall qualitative execution, not necessarily the lowest possible commission cost. Accordingly, the factors that Northern Cross, LLC considers when selecting brokers are matters that directly benefit the client and are consistent with obtaining the best execution of their transactions.

The Portfolio Managers consider current broker service and value added. Brokers are selected on a number of criteria including the broker's trading expertise particularly in foreign local markets, the ability to execute and settle difficult or sensitive trades, the ability to obtain liquidity in foreign markets, maintain anonymity and account for trade errors and correct them.

To ensure that best execution is being achieved, the Portfolio Managers maintain a broker selection process where they consider if the current brokers are providing the best service available, monitor trade executions as they occur in the market and measure their client executions against the market for reasonability. Executions are measured with respect to how a broker manages to mitigate market impact over the time of the order consistent with full completion of the order itself.

1. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits. If the firm receives research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third party in connection with client securities transactions ("soft dollar benefits"), disclose the firm's practices and discuss the conflicts of interest they create.

Northern Cross does not participate in any soft dollar programs or client commission arrangements whereby commission dollars are paid to third parties for any goods or services. All of the soft dollar benefits received fall within the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "1934 Act").

Northern Cross may receive proprietary research and brokerage services from the executing broker. They do not use client commission arrangements to purchase third party research. The Adviser agrees with the EU model of transparency and it is the Advisers intent to evolve in that direction where applicable within SEC guidelines. Northern Cross will absorb substantially more direct research costs, passing those savings on to Clients.

(a) Explain that when you use client brokerage commissions (or markups or markdowns) to obtain research or other products or services, you receive a benefit because you do not have to produce or pay for the research, products or services.

With the exception of research, Northern Cross, LLC does not receive any products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third party in connection with client securities transactions.

When client brokerage commissions are used to obtain research or other products or services, the Adviser receives a benefit from not paying directly for the research, product or service. In the case of Northern Cross, the Adviser does receive proprietary research from some brokers with whom they do business. Northern Cross also relies heavily on their own proprietary research from their in house analysts in addition to purchasing research from 3rd party research providers independent of commission dollars.

The Adviser does not believe the best value is provided to clients by committing services to any particular broker and has no formal agreements whereby a specific amount of brokerage is allocated to particular broker-dealers in return for research.

(b) Disclose that you may have an incentive to select or recommend a broker-dealer based on your interest in receiving the research or other products or services, rather than on your clients' interest in receiving most favorable execution.

The decision to select a broker who provides research is done so with the clients' interest in receiving the best overall benefit, not specifically the cheapest execution.

When evaluating broker/dealers, Northern Cross, may not always select the broker/dealer with the lowest commission rate. The primary criteria considered in selecting a broker/dealer is the ability of the broker/dealer, in Northern Cross's opinion, to secure execution at the best security price available with the respect to each transaction, in light of the overall quality of brokerage and research services provided to Northern Cross on behalf of their clients.

(c) If you may cause clients to pay commissions (or markups or markdowns) higher than those charged by other broker-dealers in return for soft dollar benefits (known as paying-up), disclose this fact.

The primary goal of the Adviser in choosing broker-dealers is to obtain executions at the most favorable commission rates in relation to the benefit received by its accounts. To achieve this goal, the Adviser evaluates broker-dealers on the basis of their professional capabilities, the value and quality of their services. For this reason, the commission paid may not necessarily be the lowest available.

(d) Disclose whether you use soft dollar benefits to service all of your clients' accounts or only those that paid for the benefits. Disclose whether you seek to allocate soft dollar benefits to client accounts proportionately to the soft dollar credits the accounts generate.

All accounts are treated equally. Regardless of whether research is purchased from a 3rd party, produced internally or received from a broker with whom we do business, all clients benefit equally. There is no distinction between accounts for trade allocation or execution. All accounts receive equal pro-rata executions and equal commission rates for every execution. In some cases this may mean that a smaller account will benefit from the reduced commission achieved by the economies of a larger trade.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals.

If the firm considers, in selecting or recommending broker-dealers, whether the firm or a related person receives client referrals from a broker-dealer or third party, disclose this practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it creates.

Client referral is not one of the criteria used to select broker-dealers with which the Adviser trades.

3. Directed Brokerage.

If the firm routinely recommends, requests or requires that a client direct you to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer, describe the firm's practice or policy.

The Adviser does not recommend, request, or require that a client direct us to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer.

B. Discuss whether and under what conditions the firm aggregates the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts. If the firm does not aggregate orders when it has the opportunity to do so, explain your practice and describe the costs to clients of not aggregating.

The Adviser may purchase or sell the same securities at the same time for different clients. No client account will be favored over any other, and all clients participating in the aggregate order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rata basis. The Adviser will review its aggregation procedures annually to ensure that such procedures are adequate to prevent any account from being systematically advantaged or disadvantaged as a result

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

A. Indicate whether your firm periodically reviews client accounts or financial plans. If you do, describe the frequency and nature of the review and the titles of the supervised persons who conduct the review.

At least monthly, a review of each account is conducted by the Founding Principals of Northern Cross, LLC James LaTorre, Howard Appleby, Jean-Francois Ducrest. The reviews focus on the individual holdings of each account and the allocation of these holdings by country and sector.

On a daily basis, the operations team reconciles each portfolio with the custodian for holdings and prices.

B. If the firm reviews client accounts on other than a periodic basis, describe the factors that trigger a review.

All accounts are considered, reviewed and discussed on a daily basis by the Principals, Portfolio Managers of Northern Cross, LLC (James LaTorre, Howard Appleby, Jean-Francois Ducrest).

Regular Reports

C. Describe the content and indicate the frequency of regular reports the firm provides to clients regarding their accounts.

Appraisal reports and performance are sent as requested and at least monthly to clients and include:

- Portfolio Appraisal
- Cash Ledger
- Transaction List
- Realized Gain/Loss Report

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to the firm for providing investment advice or other advisory services to your clients, generally describe the arrangement, explain the conflicts of interest, and describe how the firm addresses the conflicts of interest. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include any sales awards or other prizes.

None

B. If the firm or a related person directly or indirectly compensates any person who is not a supervised person for client referrals, describe the arrangement and the compensation.

None

Item 15 Custody

The firm does not have custody of client funds or securities.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

If the firm accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients, disclose this fact and describe any limitations clients may (or customarily do) place on this authority. Describe the procedures you follow before you assume this authority (e.g., execution of a power of attorney).

Each client contract specifies the Investment Manager's ability to have discretion over the portfolio and the Manager agrees to serve as such Investment Manager in accordance with the provisions of a limited power of attorney.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting

A. If the firm has, or will accept authority to vote client securities, briefly describe the voting policies and procedures, including those adopted pursuant to SEC rule 206(4)-6 and the applicable state securities rules

The Adviser will vote all proxies delivered to it by the fund's custodian. The vote will be cast in such a manner, which, in the Adviser's judgment, will be in the best interests of shareholders. The Adviser contracts with Boston Investor Services, Inc. for the processing of proxies.

Clients may obtain information about how their securities were voted by contacting Lucy Goreham, President, Boston Investor Services, Inc., 125 Summer Street, Suite 1470, Boston, MA 02110. A copy of the Adviser's Proxy voting policies and procedures are available to any client upon request.

The Adviser will generally observe the following guidelines:

Routine Corporate Governance Issues

The Adviser will vote in favor of management. Routine issues may include, but not be limited to, election of directors, appointment of auditors, changes in state of incorporation or capital structure. In certain cases, the Adviser will vote in accordance with the guidelines of specific clients.

Non-Routine Corporate Governance Issues

The Adviser will vote in favor of management unless voting with management would limit shareholder rights or have a negative impact on shareholder value. Non-routine issues may include, but not be limited to, corporate restructuring/mergers and acquisitions, proposals affecting shareholder rights, anti-takeover issues, executive compensation, and social and political issues. In cases where the number of shares in all stock option plans exceeds 10% of basic shares outstanding, the Adviser generally votes against proposals that will increase shareholder dilution. In general, the Adviser will vote against management regarding any proposal that allows management to issue shares during a hostile takeover.

Non-Voting of Proxies

The Adviser may not vote proxies if voting may be burdensome or expensive, or otherwise not in the best interest of clients.

Conflicts of Interest

Should the Adviser have a conflict of interest with regard to the Adviser voting a proxy, the Adviser will disclose such conflict to the client and obtain client direction as to how to vote the proxy.

B. If the firm does not have authority to vote client securities, disclose this fact. Explain whether clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian or a transfer agent or from you and discuss whether (and, if so, how) clients can contact you with questions about a particular solicitation.

It is up to the client to decide if the Adviser has the authority to vote client securities. Clients have the discretion to vote their own proxies and will state in their Investment Management Agreement whether they would like the Investment Manager, Northern Cross, LLC to vote proxies on their behalf.

Item 18 Financial Information

The Firm maintains sufficient working capital to continue its business. Books are reviewed annually by Ernst & Young in preparation of the firm's tax returns.

A. If the firm requires or solicits prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, include a balance sheet for your most recent fiscal year.

Not applicable.

B. If firm has discretionary authority or custody of client funds or securities, or firm requires or solicits prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, disclose any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair your ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

Not applicable.

C. If firm has been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years, disclose this fact, the date the petition was first brought and the current status.

Not applicable.

CFA Institute Financial Adviser Statement for SEC Form ADV

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals.

There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment.

Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.
