Item 2 – Material Changes

There have been no material changes to this disclosure brochure since filing our last annual update in March 2011. We will ensure that you receive a summary of material changes, if any, to this and subsequent disclosure brochures within 120 days after our fiscal year ends. Our fiscal year ends on December 31 so you will receive the summary of material changes, if any, no later than April 30 each year. At that time we will also offer a copy of the most current disclosure brochure. We may also provide other ongoing disclosure information about material changes as necessary.

Material changes reflected in this document:

As required by the Dodd–Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act midsize investment advisory firms (firms with Assets Under Management between $25 Million and $99 Million) must change their primary regulatory authority from the United States Securities and Exchange Commission to the individual States. Due to this regulatory change CFG is now filing for registration with the State of Nebraska.

Cornerstone Financial Group (CFG) is an investment advisor formerly registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) and is currently applying for registration with the State of Nebraska and is a Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) formed under the laws of the State of Nebraska.

CFG was initially registered with the SEC on 06/08/2005.

The firm is primarily owned by Dale Engskov and David Hoppen as the only two members of a limited liability company established in Nebraska. Essentially this makes it a 50% / 50% partnership.

General Description of Primary Advisory Services

When providing Asset Management Services, the firm will typically construct each client's account holdings using mutual funds and equities to build diversified portfolios. It is not Cornerstone Financial Group's typical investment strategy to attempt to time the market but we may increase cash holdings modestly as deemed appropriate, based on your risk tolerance and our expectations of market behavior. We may modify our investment strategy to accommodate special situations like: low basis stock, stock options, inheritances, closely held businesses, collectibles, or special tax situations.

(Please refer to Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss for more information.)

Tailor Advisory Services to Individual Needs of Clients

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

In addition to the information provide in Item 4 – Advisory Business, this section provides additional details regarding our firm's services along with descriptions of each service's fees and compensation arrangements.

Financial Planning Services:

Cornerstone Financial group, LLC (CFG) is a fee-only financial planning and investment advisory firm. The hourly fee charged can be up to $500 and is paid after the consultations. Fixed fees refer to written financial plans, which range from $500 to $9,000, depending on the complexity of a client's financial situation. Advice is given on financial concerns, including, but not limited to: investments, budgeting and bill paying, retirement planning, inheritances, and college funding. One half of the fee is due up front, and the balance is due after plan delivery.

Financial planning services terminate upon presentation of the written plan. However, either party may terminate the agreement sooner by providing written notice to the other party. Termination will be effective upon receipt of notification. If services are terminated within five (5) business days of executing the agreement, services will be terminated without penalty and no fees due. If services are terminated after the initial five day period, pre-paid fees will be pro-rated and any unearned refunded to the client.

Asset Management Services:

As an investment advisor, CFG will provide each client with an initial asset allocation recommendation. Clients are free to use any broker dealer or custodian they choose however if a client wants us to recommend a broker; they will get a recommendation based on the broker's costs, skills, reputation, dependability and compatibility with the client, and not upon a financial arrangement between us and the account custodian. CFG primarily uses TD Ameritrade as the broker dealer and/or custodian for client accounts.

Our Asset Management Services may include, but not necessarily, continuous and regular monitoring and reallocation. CFG provides advice only on an intermittent or periodic basis, upon request of the client, or in response to some market event, such as an account that is reviewed and adjusted on a quarterly basis.

Annual investment management fees typically range from 0.50% to 1%, depending on the size and complexity of the account. The fee is paid either quarterly or monthly, as mutually agreed upon between the client and CFG and can be in arrears or advance, but, in the case of advanced fee collections, not to exceed one quarter in advance. All fees arrangements will be explained in detail in the Client Engagement Letter executed by each client prior to the initiation of management services. If a client cancels investment management services either in writing or verbally, any fees collected in advance but not earned will be refunded on a pro-rata basis.

Fees are billed either quarterly or monthly as a percentage of all assets managed by CFG and agreed upon with the client. CFG shall not be compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds.

ANNUAL MANAGEMENT FEE SCHEDULE

Amount Managed	%Fee
$0 - $ 1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 - $ 5,000,000	0.80%
$5,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.65%
above - $10,000,000	0.50%

Fees on managed accounts will be billed directly to the account. Methods of billing and alternative fee schedules are subject to mutual agreement between CFG and the client and disclosed in the Client Engagement Letter.

All fees are negotiable based on the individual needs of the client, the amount of assets under management and the complexity of the client's situation. .

Fees can be billed directly from the clients account or paid directly from client to us. When fees are deducted from the account, you must provide the custodian with written authorization to have fees deducted and paid to us. The custodian will send you statements, at least quarterly, showing all disbursements for the account including the amount of the advisory fee deducted directly from the account.

Brokerage fees/commissions and/or transaction ticket fees charged by the custodian will be billed directly to you. We will not receive any portion of such commissions or fees from the custodian or client. In addition, you may incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than us in connection with investments made through the account, including but not limited to, mutual fund sales loads, 12(b)-1 fees and surrender charges, variable annuity fees and surrender charges, and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees. Management fees charged by us are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by investment company securities that may be recommended to you. A description of these fees and expenses are available in each investment company security's prospectus.

Either party may terminate the Client Engagement Letter for services at any time. In the event a client terminates services, termination shall be effective from the time Cornerstone receives written notification or such other time as may be mutually agreed upon, subject to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final refund of any unearned advisory fees. There will be no penalty charge upon termination. In the event we terminate the relationship, the agreement will be terminated immediately upon written notification to you or such time as may be mutually agreed upon, also subject to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final refund of advisory fees.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Item 6 of the Form ADV Part 2 instructions is not applicable to this Disclosure Brochure because CFG does not charge or accept performance-based fees which can be defined as fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets held within a client's account.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

We generally provide investment advice to the following types of clients:

- Individuals
- High-Net Worth Individuals
- Pension and profit sharing plans
- Trusts, estates, or charitable organizations
- Corporations or business entities other than those listed above

All clients are required to execute an agreement for services in order to establish a client arrangement with our firm and/or the sponsor of third-party money manager platforms.

Minimum Investment Amounts Required

There are no minimum investment amounts or conditions required for establishing an account managed by CFG. However, all clients are required to execute an agreement for services prior to commencing any work.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Cornerstone Financial Group uses the following method of analysis in formulating investment advice.

Fundamental - A method of evaluating a security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value by examining related economic, financial and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysis attempts to study everything that can affect the security's value, including macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) and individually specific factors (like the financial condition and management of companies). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short). This method of security analysis is considered to be the opposite of technical analysis. Fundamental analysis is about using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

Cornerstone Financial Group uses the following investment strategies when managing client assets and/or providing investment advice.

Long term purchases. Investments held at least a year.

Short term purchases. Investments sold within a year.

Primarily Recommend One Type of Security

CFG primarily recommends only one type of security, Mutual Funds (No Load of Exchange Traded Funds). Some of the risks involved with only recommending Mutual Funds include:

Risk of Loss

Clients must understand that past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, current and prospective clients (including you) should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. Clients and prospective clients should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines. There are certain additional risks associated when investing in securities through our investment management program.

- Market Risk – Either the stock market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down resulting in a decrease in the value of client investments. This is also referred to as systematic risk.
- Equity (stock) market risk – Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value as market confidence in and perceptions of their issuers change. If you held common stock, or common stock equivalents, of any given issuer, you would generally be exposed to greater risk than if you held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.
- Company Risk. When investing in stock positions, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each investment. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. For example, if a company's employees go on strike or the company receives unfavorable media attention for its actions, the value of the company may be reduced.
- Fixed Income Risk. When investing in bonds, there is the risk that the issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. Further, individuals who depend on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.
- Options Risk. Options on securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in value than an investment in the underlying securities. Purchasing and writing put and call options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks.
- ETF and Mutual Fund Risk – When our firm invests in a an ETF or mutual fund, it will bear additional expenses based on its pro rata share of the ETFs or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. Clients could also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs.
- Management Risk – Your investment with our firm varies with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our investment strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of the investment will decrease.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

This item is not applicable to our brochure because there are no legal or disciplinary events listed at Item 9 of the Form ADV Part 2 instructions that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our business or integrity.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Cornerstone Financial Group is not and does not have a related company that is a (1) broker/dealer, municipal securities dealer, government securities dealer or broker, (2) investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or “hedge fund,” and offshore fund), (3) other investment adviser or financial planner, (4) futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, (5) banking or thrift institution, (6) accountant or accounting firm, (7) lawyer or law firm, (8) insurance company or agency, (9) pension consultant, (10) real estate broker or dealer, or (11) sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Summary

We have established a Code of Ethics that will apply to all Cornerstone Financial associated persons. An investment adviser is considered a fiduciary. As a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of each of our clients at all times. We have a fiduciary duty to all clients. This fiduciary duty is considered the core underlying principle for our Code of Ethics which also covers its Insider Trading and Personal Securities Transactions Policies and Procedures. We are required to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. In the future should Financial Planning Strategies add additional supervised persons upon employment or affiliation, when changes occur and at least annually thereafter, all supervised persons will sign an acknowledgement that they have read, understand and agree to comply with the firm's Code of Ethics. We have the responsibility to make sure that the interests of all clients are placed ahead of mine or any potential supervised person's own investment interest. Full disclosure of all material facts and potential conflicts of interest will be provided to clients prior to any services being conducted. We must conduct business in an honest, ethical and fair manner and avoid all circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect our duty of complete loyalty to all clients. This disclosure is provided to give all clients a summary of the firm's Code of Ethics. However, if a client or a potential client wishes to review the firm's Code of Ethics in its entirety, a copy will be provided promptly upon request.

Affiliate and Employee Personal Securities Transactions Disclosure

CFG or its associated persons may buy or sell for their personal accounts, investment products identical to those recommended to clients. This creates a potential conflict of interest. It is the express policy of our firm that all persons associated in any manner with the firm must place the interests of our clients ahead of their own when implementing personal investments. CFG and its associated persons shall not buy or sell securities for their personal account(s) where their decision is derived, in whole or in part, by information obtained as a result of their employment unless the information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry. In order to minimize this conflict of interest, securities recommended by our firm are widely held and publicly traded.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Clients are under no obligation to act on the financial planning recommendations of CFG. If the firm assists in the implementation of any recommendations, we are responsible to ensure that the client receives the best execution possible.

Clients wishing to implement the applicant's advice are free to select any broker they wish and are so informed. Those wishing for the applicant to recommend a broker will get a recommendation based on the broker's costs, skills, reputation, dependability and compatibility with the client, and not upon a financial arrangement between the applicant and the recommended broker.

For accounts managed by CFG, we require that all client accounts to be held by an unaffiliated qualified custodian. Typically accounts are held at TD Ameritrade (a broker/dealer Member FINRA and SIPC), or directly with the Mutual Fund Family. The recommendation of a particular qualified custodian to hold the account is based on past experiences, minimizing commissions and other costs as well as offerings or services the broker/dealer provides that we or the client may require or find valuable such as online access. Clients may pay commissions higher than those obtainable from other broker/dealers in return for those products and services. Commission and fee structures of various broker/dealers are periodically reviewed to ensure clients are receiving best execution. Accordingly, while we will consider competitive rates, it may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client account transactions. Therefore, the overall services provided are evaluated to determine best execution.

While there will not be a direct linkage between the investment advice provided by CFG and TD Ameritrade, economic benefits may be received that would not be received if we did not use these services to implement the investment advice provided. These benefits may include, but not necessarily be limited to: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk; the ability to have investment advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; receipt of compliance publications; and access to mutual funds that generally require significantly higher minimum initial investments or are generally only available to institutional investors.

Clients should consider that in light of CFG's limited approved trading platforms for advisory accounts we may be limited in our ability to obtain the best execution price and lowest execution costs for each transaction or the product with the lowest internal expenses. Therefore, clients may pay higher commissions or trade execution charges through the trading platforms approved by us than through platforms that have not been approved as trading platforms for our client's investment advisory accounts.

Not all investment advisers restrict or limit the broker/dealers their clients can use. Some investment advisers permit their clients to select any broker/dealer of the client's own choosing.

Handling of Trade Errors.

CFG has implemented procedures designed to prevent trade errors; however, trade errors in client accounts cannot always be avoided. Consistent with its fiduciary duty, it is the policy of CFG to correct trade errors in a manner that is in the best interest of the client. In cases where the client causes the trade error, the client will be responsible for any loss resulting from the correction. Depending on the specific circumstances of the trade error, the client may not be able to receive any gains generated as a result of the error correction. In all situations where the client does not cause the trade error, the client will be made whole and any loss resulting from the trade error will be absorbed by CFG if the error was caused by the firm. If the error is caused by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer will be responsible for covering all trade error costs. If an investment gain results from the correcting trade, the gain will remain in the client's account unless the same error involved other client account(s) that should also receive the gains and it is not permissible for all clients to retain the gain. CFG may also confer with clients to determine if the client should forego the gain (e.g., due to tax reasons).

CFG will never benefit or profit from trade errors.

Block Trading Policy

Transactions implemented by CFG for client accounts are generally effected independently, unless the firm decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading and is used by the firm when CFG believes such action may prove advantageous to clients. When CFG aggregates client orders, the allocation of securities among client accounts will be done on a fair and equitable basis. Typically, the process of aggregating client orders is done in order to achieve better execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate orders among clients on a more equitable basis in order to avoid differences in prices and transaction fees or other transaction costs that might be obtained when orders are placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and will be allocated among the firm's clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day. When CFG determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which CFG may invest, the firm will do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in the SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc. It should be noted, CFG does not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of aggregation.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Account Reviews and Reviewers

Dale R. Engskov, Chief Compliance Officer and LLC Member and/or Davie D. Hoppen, LLC Member, review all client accounts. Accounts are reviewed on a portfolio analysis basis.

Account reviews are provided in connection with Asset Management Services. We will contact you at least annually for the purpose of reviewing your account/plan and to determine if there have been changes in financial situations or investment objectives. The calendar is the main triggering factor, although more frequent reviews may also be triggered by changes in your circumstances, your request, or changes within the market. The underlying portfolios used to manage your accounts and holdings within those portfolios are reviewed on a more frequent basis. Portfolios are usually reviewed as frequently as monthly, though no less than quarterly.

Accounts managed by Third Party Advisors are reviewed when CFG receives copies of their account statements, usually quarterly.

Statements and Reports

Clients will receive statements, at least quarterly, from the qualified custodian (e.g. broker/dealers, mutual funds or money manager) at which their accounts are maintained.

Cornerstone Financial Group does not typically prepare regular client reports. However clients are strongly urged to compare all information received from CFG against the account statements received from the client's broker/dealer or qualified custodian.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

CFG does not directly or indirectly compensate anybody for client referrals.

The only form of other compensation received from advisory services is the fees charged for providing investment advisory services as described in Item 5 of this brochure. CFG receives no other forms of compensation in connection with providing investment advice.

Item 15 – Custody

Custody, as it applies to investment advisors, has been defined by regulators as having access or control over client funds and/or securities. In other words, custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment advisor has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment advisor is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

CFG is deemed to have custody of client funds and securities whenever CFG is given the authority to have fees deducted directly from client accounts. However, this is the only form of custody Cornerstone Financial Group will ever maintain. It should be noted that authorization to trade in client accounts is not deemed by regulators to be custody.

For accounts in which CFG is deemed to have custody, the firm has established procedures to ensure all client funds and securities are held at a qualified custodian in a separate account for each client under that client's name. Clients or an independent representative of the client will direct, in writing, the establishment of all accounts and therefore are aware of the qualified custodian's name, address and the manner in which the funds or securities are maintained. Finally, account statements are delivered directly from the qualified custodian to each client, or the client's independent representative, at least quarterly. Clients should carefully review those statements and are urged to compare the statements against reports received from CFG. When clients have questions about their account statements, they should contact CFG or the qualified custodian preparing the statement.

When fees are deducted from an account, CFG is responsible for calculating the fee and delivering instructions to the custodian. At the same time CFG instructs the custodian to deduct fees from the client's account; CFG will send the client an invoice itemizing the fee. Itemization shall include the formula used to calculate the fee, the amount of assets under management the fee is based on, and the time period covered by the fee.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Through its asset management services and upon receiving written authorization from a client, CFG will maintain limited trading authorization over client accounts. Upon receiving written authorization from the client, the firm may implement trades on a non-discretionary basis. This means we will be required to contact you prior to implementing changes in your account. Therefore, you will be contacted and required to accept or reject our investment recommendations including:

- The security being recommended
- The number of shares or units
- Whether to buy or sell

Once the above factors are agreed upon, we will be responsible for making decisions regarding the timing of buying or selling an investment and the price at which the investment is bought or sold. If your accounts are managed on a non-discretionary basis, you need to know that if you are not able to be reached or are slow to respond to our request, it can have an adverse impact on the timing of trade implementations and we may not achieve the optimal trading price.

All clients have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased in an account. Clients may also place reasonable limitations on the discretionary power granted to our firm so long as the limitations are specifically set forth or included as an attachment to the client engagement letter.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Cornerstone Financial Group will not vote proxies on behalf of your account. While there are some investment advisors that will vote proxies and other corporate decisions on behalf of their clients, we have determined that taking on the responsibility for voting client securities does not add enough value to the services provided to clients to justify the additional compliance and regulatory costs associated with voting client securities. Therefore, it is your responsibility to vote all proxies for securities held in accounts managed by our firm.

Clients will receive proxies directly from their custodian or transfer agent and such documents will not be delivered by our firm. Although we do not vote client proxies, if you have a question about a particular proxy feel free to contact us.

Item 18 – Financial Information

This item is not applicable to this brochure. Cornerstone Financial Group does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, CFG has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.
