Item 1.D.	Red Rock Private Wealth Consulting, LLC ("RRPWC") is a financial services firm that provides investment advisory services and financial planning services. The information contained in this document refers to both the investment advisory services and financial planning services. These services are provided by experienced financial advisors, who are registered or licensed, as required, to provide these advisory services. FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES The firm provides financial planning services to the majority of our clients. Depending on the individual client's preference and request, financial planning services may be provided on a modular basis or comprehensive basis. A comprehensive plan involves a more detailed review of the client's overall financial position, objective, and goals; a modular plan focuses on a specific area(s) that the client has requested the advisor provide input and review. In the event that a client selects a modular plan, the firm's services will be expressly limited to the modules identified by the client. Information is obtained through personal interviews with the client, including information regarding each client's goals, objectives, attitudes toward risk, and investment experience. In the event that information contained in documents (such as account statements) are obtained or provided by the client, that information will be reviewed and, to the extent it is pertinent, will be incorporated into the financial plan prepared for the client. The results of the review and analysis by the advisor are put into a written financial plan that is provided to the client. Unless otherwise agreed upon, the fee charged for the consultation and preparation of a financial plan is a fixed annual fee or based on an hourly rate, as determined pursuant to discussions with the client. The fee will be determined by a combination of factors including, but not limited to the client's net worth, the complexity of the client's particular situation, and the involvement on the part of the financial advisor to implement the financial plan. Fees are usually determined by estimating the hourly rate and costs associated with producing a plan. The hourly rate charged by the firm for financial planning services is $250. Planning fees, either on a per hour or on a flat fee basis range from a minimum quarterly fee of $250 to as much as $5,000 depending on the complexity of the plan and services requested. Fees for individual plans generally cost approximately $1,500 - $3,000. Typically 50% of financial planning fees are due upon entering into a service agreement with RRPWC, and the balance due upon final plan presentation. In some cases, financial planning fees may be discounted for clients who retain RRPWC's investment advisory services in addition to financial planning services. Either party may terminate the agreement with 5 days written notice. $100 will be charged to Client for missing an appointment. This policy will account for RRPWC's lost time and is not a penalty. The firm bills the client for any work completed up through the effective date of termination of the agreement.

Item 1.D.

The firm also provides investment guidance and management to the majority of our clients. In that regard the firm's financial advisors provide non-discretionary and discretionary portfolio advice as to the client's investment accounts. The financial advisor meets with the client to obtain information regarding the client's investment experience, investment objectives and risk profile. With that information a written investment policy is prepared to serve as the basis for directing the client's investment accounts. The financial advisor uses investment research and portfolio allocation software to evaluate alternative portfolio designs and assist the client in selecting the investment strategies consistent with the investment policy.

In connection with developing a prospective portfolio, the client's existing investments are evaluated to determine whether the allocation and type of such assets meet the objectives set forth in the investment policy statement. If the client so chooses, the financial advisor works with the client to develop a transition plan in order to reallocate assets. Accounts for which investment advisory services are provided by firm personnel are reviewed on a periodic basis, not less than annually.

RRPWC may also recommend fixed income securities to investment advisory clients. RRPWC may request discretionary authority from investment advisory clients to manage fixed income assets. Discretionary authority may be necessary to enable the purchase of assets in a timely manner when they are available at favorable, quoted prices.

The fees for the above services are generally as shown in the table below, but are subject to change. The standard fee schedule is:

	Total Account Value	Annual Advisory Fee
The First	$500,000	1.10%
The Next	$500,000	0.90%
The Next	$2,000,000	0.70%
The Next	$2,000,000	0.50%

In some circumstances fees may be adjusted based on a client's specific service requests, potential for increased assets to be managed, and/or the addition of financial planning services paid for separately.

Fees are billed and paid quarterly in advance. Each client is typically charged a single fee based on the total value of the assets in the client's account at the end of the preceding quarter. In general, a minimum annual fee of $5,500 is imposed per household client.

For the purpose of determining the fee, RRPWC may aggregate investment advisory accounts by persons related to or affiliated with the client (household accounts). At the commencement of the investment advisory relationship, clients may terminate

Subsequently, clients may terminate the agreement upon 30 days prior written notice. Accounts closed during a calendar quarter will have the advisory fee pro-rated for the period during which the account was open. As fees are billed and paid on a quarterly basis in advance, RRPWC will make a refund on a pro-rated basis of all unearned, pre-paid fees to the client. RRPWC also has the ability to terminate the advisory contract, provided prior written notice is delivered to the client. Unless other fee payment arrangements are made in advance, the client must provide written authorization to the custodian permitting the debiting of an advisory fee from their account. The first month of every quarter, RRPWC will make available to the client a statement of invoice and account balance through the firm website and a reminder notice that this information is available. The firm seeks to act in a manner so as not to be deemed to have custody over client funds. RRPWC may contract with other firms for the provision of services under the advisory agreement. RRPWC will not offer advice on any specific securities or other investments in connection with this service. RRPWC will periodically review reports provided to the clients. Clients will be expected to notify RRPWC of any changes in their financial situation, investment objectives, or account restrictions. Clients may also contact directly the Third Party Adviser managing the account or sponsoring the program. RRPWC receives compensation pursuant to its agreements with these Third Party Advisory Programs for introducing Clients to these Third Party Advisory Programs and for certain ongoing services provided to Clients. This compensation, which is disclosed to the Client in a separate disclosure document provided by the Third Party Advisory Program, is typically equal to a percentage of the investment advisory fee charged by that Third Party Advisory Program or a fixed fee.

Due to the fact that RRPWC receives compensation from the Third Party Advisory Services for referring Clients and because such compensation may differ depending upon the individual agreement with each Third Party Advisory Service, RRPWC may have an incentive to recommend one of these Third Party Advisory Services over others with which it has less favorable compensation arrangements or other advisory programs offered by Third Party Advisory Services with which it has no compensation arrangements.

A complete description of the programs and services available through the Third Party Advisory Services will be provided to the Client upon receipt and review of the applicable Third Party Advisory Service's Form ADV Part II, Disclosure Brochures and/or equivalent brochures; investment advisory contracts; and account opening documents. Clients may sign an advisory agreement or solicitation disclosure statement with RRPWC and will also sign an advisory agreement directly with the Third Party Advisory Service selected.

RRPWC and its Advisory Representatives may utilize the Edelman Managed Asset Program® ("EMAP"). The framework of the Edelman Managed Asset Program® provides Clients with a carefully constructed and individually selected portfolio that is both highly diversified and custom-selected to meet Client individual investment needs. Client portfolios are based on Client individual circumstances, and features a variety of benefits to help Clients minimize expenses and control risk while giving Clients the opportunity to obtain long-term returns.

EMAP clients pay no commissions, trading costs, brokerage fees or other administrative charges. Instead, EMAP features a single annual fee, calculated and debited quarterly from your EMAP account. It appears directly on your statement. The annual fee schedule is shown below:

	Total Account Value	Annual Advisory Fee

(Please see the disclosure under Item 13.A. below.) RRPWC participates in the Schwab Institutional (SI) services program offered to independent investment advisers by Charles Schwab &amp; Company, Inc., a NASD registered broker-dealer. Clients in need of brokerage and custodial services may have Charles Schwab &amp; Company recommended to them. As part of the SI program, RRPWC receives benefits that it would not receive if it did not offer investment advice. (Please see the disclosure under Item 13.A. below.) Charles Schwab and TD Ameritrade have access to no load mutual funds as well as individual securities at discounted transaction costs. This arrangement allows the client to have access to mutual funds at a generally lower cost and permits the client's investments to be maintained in one location (minimizing administrative burdens for the client and the Advisor). We believe Charles Schwab's and TD Ameritrade's transaction costs are very competitive, however, the client may pay more or less with other brokerage firms. In light of the services available through Charles Schwab and TD Ameritrade, RRPWC might in certain circumstances be deemed to be receiving a benefit in the form of research, market information, and/or administrative services. When appropriate, research obtained from Charles Schwab and TD Ameritrade may be used to service all of RRPWC's clients. The client is free to select the broker or other service provider of his or her choosing. While the firm believes the service providers used by the firm provide benefits to the client, each client is expressly advised to evaluate any recommended broker or other service provider to ensure that the broker or service provider meets the clients' needs and to evaluate the rates or charges so that they are acceptable to the client. RRPWC does not receive commissions or trails from mutual funds or brokerage firms - This applies to, but not limited to, loads and 12b1 fees. In addition, as the customer is responsible for selecting the broker for any and all securities transactions, the firm does not typically negotiate the commission for or on behalf of the client.
