Item 2 - Material Changes

This Brochure is prepared in the revised format required beginning in 2011. Registered Investment Advisers are required to use this format to inform clients of the nature of advisory services provided, types of clients served, fees charged, potential conflicts of interest and other information. The Brochure requirements include the annual provision of a Summary of Material Changes (the "Summary") reflecting any material changes to our policies, practices, or conflicts of interest made since our last required "annual update" filing. In the event of any material changes, such Summary is provided to all clients within 120 days of our fiscal year-end. Our last annual update was filed on March 13, 2015. Of course the complete Brochure is available to clients at any time upon request.

Item 4 - Advisory Business

General Information

Strathmore Capital Advisors, Inc. ("Strathmore") was formed in 2005, and provides portfolio management and retirement plan consulting services to its clients.

John Charles Kernodle is the sole principal owner of Strathmore. Please see Brochure Supplements, Exhibit A, for more information on Mr. Kernodle and other individuals who formulate investment advice and have direct contact with clients, or have discretionary authority over client accounts.

As of October 1, 2015, Strathmore managed $180,937,165 on a discretionary basis, $101,090 of assets on a non-discretionary basis and advised on $3,306,895 in retirement plan assets.

SERVICES PROVIDED

At the outset of each client relationship, Strathmore spends time with the client, asking questions, discussing the client's investment experience and financial circumstances, and reviewing options for the client. Based on its reviews, Strathmore generally develops with each client:

- a financial outline for the client based on the client's financial circumstances and goals, and the client's risk tolerance level (the "Financial Profile" or "Profile"); and
- the client's investment objectives and guidelines (the "Investment Plan" or "Plan").

The Financial Profile is a reflection of the client's current financial picture and a look to the future goals of the client. The Investment Plan outlines the types of investments Strathmore will make or recommend on behalf of the client to meet those goals. The Profile and the Plan are discussed regularly with each client, but are not necessarily written documents.

Portfolio Management

As described above, at the beginning of a client relationship, Strathmore meets with the client, gathers information, and performs research and analysis as necessary to develop the client's Investment Plan. The Investment Plan will be updated from time to time when requested by the client, or when determined to be necessary or advisable by Strathmore based on updates to the client's financial or other circumstances.

For clients in need of such services, Strathmore includes ongoing advice regarding many aspects of the client's personal wealth with the client's Portfolio Management services. Such services normally address areas such as general cash flow planning, retirement planning, tax strategies, college funding and insurance analysis. The goal of this service is to assess the financial circumstances of the client to more effectively develop the client's Investment Plan. This advice (similar to financial planning) is not offered as a stand-alone service or for a separate fee, but is typically provided in conjunction with the management of the portfolio.

To implement the client's Investment Plan, Strathmore will manage the client's investment portfolio on a discretionary or a non-discretionary basis. As a discretionary investment adviser, Strathmore will have the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with the client. Under a non-discretionary arrangement, clients must be contacted prior to the execution of any trade in the account(s) under management. This can result in a delay in executing recommended trades, which could adversely affect the performance of the portfolio. This delay also normally means the affected account(s) will not be able to participate in block trades, a practice designed to enhance the execution quality, timing and/or cost for all accounts included in the block. In a non-discretionary arrangement, the client retains the responsibility for the final decision on all actions taken with respect to the portfolio.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, clients may impose certain written restrictions on Strathmore in the management of their investment portfolios, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of investments in an investment portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain investments held in the account at the commencement of the relationship. Each client should note, however, that restrictions imposed by a client may adversely affect the composition and performance of the client's investment portfolio. Each client should also note that his or her investment portfolio is treated individually by giving consideration to each purchase or sale for the client's account. For these and other reasons, performance of client investment portfolios within the same investment objectives, goals and/or risk tolerance may differ and clients should not expect that the composition or performance of their investment portfolios would necessarily be consistent with similar clients of Strathmore.

Retirement Plan Consulting Services

Strathmore also provides advisory services to participant-directed qualified retirement plans through the third party administration services of BenefitStreet or Newport Group, which are online bundled services providers offering passive investment vehicles and an opportunity for plan sponsors to provide diversified portfolios to their participants along with daily account access, valuation, and investment education. The particular services provided will be detailed in the client's agreement. The appropriate Plan Fiduciary(ies) designated in the Plan documents (e.g., the Plan sponsor or named fiduciary) will (i) make the decision to retain our firm; (ii) agree to the scope of the services that we will provide; and (iii) make the ultimate decision as to accepting any of the recommendations that we may provide. The Plan Fiduciaries are free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommended services for the Plan.

Strathmore will analyze the plan's current investment platform, and assist the plan in creating an investment policy statement defining the types of investments to be offered and the restrictions that may be imposed. Strathmore will recommend investment options to achieve the plan's objectives, provide participant education meetings, and monitor the performance of the plan's investment vehicles. Strathmore does not arrange for the execution of securities transactions for 401(k) plans as part of this service. Transactions are executed directly through employee plan participation and plan administration.

Strathmore will recommend changes in the plan's investment vehicles as may be appropriate from time to time. Strathmore generally will review the plan's investment vehicles and investment policy as necessary.

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") sets forth rules under which Plan Fiduciaries may retain investment advisers for various types of services with respect to Plan assets. For certain services, Strathmore will be considered a fiduciary under ERISA. For example, Strathmore will act as a fiduciary when providing non-discretionary investment advice to the Plan Fiduciaries by recommending a suite of investments as choices among which Plan Participants may select. Also, to the extent that the Plan Fiduciaries retain Strathmore to act as an investment manager within the meaning of ERISA § 3(38), Strathmore will provide discretionary investment management services to the Plan.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

General Fee Information

Fees paid to Strathmore are exclusive of all custodial and transaction costs paid to the client's custodian, brokers or other third party consultants. Please see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices for additional information. Fees paid to Strathmore are also separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs (exchange traded funds) or other investment pools to their shareholders (generally including a management fee and fund expenses, as described in each fund's prospectus or offering materials). The client should review all fees charged by funds, brokers, Strathmore and others to fully understand the total amount of fees paid by the client for investment and financial-related services.

Portfolio Management Fees

The current¹ annual fee schedule, based on a percentage of assets under management, is as follows:

First $2,500,000	1.00%
Next $2,500,000	0.85%
Next $5,000,000	0.70%
Balance above $10 million	0.50%

For accounts "held away" and under advisement by Strathmore, the annual fee is 0.50% of the value of the assets. Such fees will be debited from a managed account at the direction of the client.

The minimum portfolio value is generally set at $1,000,000. The minimum annual fee for any account is $10,000. Strathmore may, at its discretion, make exceptions to the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where Strathmore deems it appropriate under the circumstances.

Portfolio management fees are generally payable quarterly, in advance. If management begins after the start of a quarter, fees will be prorated accordingly. With client authorization and unless other arrangements are made fees are normally debited directly from client account(s).

Either Strathmore or the client may terminate their Investment Management Agreement at any time, subject to any written notice requirements in the agreement. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to the client based on the number of days that the account was managed, and any fees due to Strathmore from the client will be invoiced or deducted from the client's account prior to termination.

Participant-Directed Qualified Retirement Plan Services Fees

The annual fee will be charged as a percentage of assets within the plan. The annual fee may be the same as quoted fees for portfolio management services, or it may be a mutually agreed fixed fee based on expected assets within the plan.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Strathmore does not have any performance-based fee arrangements. "Side by Side Management" refers to a situation in which the same firm manages accounts that are billed based on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are assessed on a performance fee basis. Because Strathmore has no performance-based fee accounts, it has no side-by-side management.

¹ Certain legacy accounts may be subject to a different fee schedule, as outlined in applicable written agreements with such clients.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Strathmore serves individuals, trusts, pension and profit sharing plans, and charitable organizations. With some exceptions, the minimum portfolio value eligible for conventional investment advisory services is $1,000,000, and the annual minimum fee charged is $10,000. Under certain circumstances and in its sole discretion, Strathmore may negotiate such minimums.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

In accordance with the Investment Plan, Strathmore will primarily invest client portfolios in mutual funds.

Following client approval, Strathmore will implement the Investment Plan, as appropriate. As part of the process, we will primarily evaluate and select mutual fund allocations for the client's account(s). We will determine the allocation among various asset classes, namely cash, fixed income and equities. As appropriate we may also utilize some international fund holdings as well. These allocations may be adjusted over time as market conditions and client circumstances change.

Mutual funds are generally evaluated and selected based on a variety of factors, including, without limitation, past performance, fee structure, portfolio manager, fund sponsor, overall ratings for safety and returns, and other factors.

Fixed income investments may be used from time to time as a strategic investment, as an instrument to fulfill liquidity or income needs in a portfolio, or to add a component of capital preservation to a portfolio. Strathmore will generally evaluate and select bond funds based on a number of factors including, without limitation, rating, yield and duration.

Strathmore will also evaluate insurance products such as annuities and various types of life insurance products which may have been recommended to clients by other professionals.

Occasionally clients may hold legacy stock positions in a managed account. Generally Strathmore does not actively manage these positions.

Investment Strategies

Strathmore portfolios integrate funds managed by Dimensional Fund Advisors ("DFA"), a multi-billion dollar institutional portfolio manager. DFA manages assets exclusively for institutional investors and the clients of registered investment advisers like Strathmore. DFA serves corporate pension plans, state/local governments, universities, and charitable organizations. DFA funds are not available to the general public.

DFA views the markets as an ally, not an adversary. Rather than positioning for market mistakes, DFA participates in preferred exposures, and focuses on the fundamentals of long-term growth. With an investment philosophy grounded in robust academic research, DFA uses economic and investment models to help investors arrange portfolios to ensure that allocations are commensurate with client goals and risk tolerance.

Risk of Loss

While Strathmore seeks to diversify clients' investment portfolios across various asset classes consistent with their Investment Plans in an effort to reduce risk of loss, all investment portfolios are subject to risks. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that client investment portfolios will be able to fully meet their investment objectives and goals, or that investments will not lose money.

Below is a description of several of the principal risks that client investment portfolios face.

Management Risks. While Strathmore manages client investment portfolios based on Strathmore's experience, research and proprietary methods, the value of client investment portfolios will change daily based on the performance of the underlying securities in which they are invested. Accordingly, client investment portfolios are subject to the risk that Strathmore allocates client assets to individual securities and/or asset classes that are adversely affected by unanticipated market movements, and the risk that Strathmore's specific investment choices could underperform their relevant indexes.

Risks of Investments in Mutual Funds, ETFs and Other Investment Pools. As described above, Strathmore will invest client portfolios primarily in mutual funds, and may use ETFs and other investment pools ("pooled investment funds"). Investments in pooled investment funds are generally less risky than investing in individual securities because of their diversified portfolios; however, these investments are still subject to risks associated with the markets in which they invest. In addition, pooled investment funds' success will be related to the skills of their particular managers and their performance in managing their funds. Pooled investment funds are also subject to risks due to regulatory restrictions applicable to registered investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Equity Market Risks. Strathmore does not generally manage individual stock holdings. Client accounts may hold a limited number of legacy positions, but these are not selected by or actively managed by Strathmore. Accordingly the client retains the responsibility for the risks carried by these securities.

Fixed Income Risks. Strathmore may invest portions of client assets directly in to fixed income instruments, such as bonds and notes, or may invest in pooled investment funds that invest in bonds and notes. While investing in fixed income instruments, either directly or through pooled investment funds, is generally less volatile than investing in stock (equity) markets, fixed income investments nevertheless are subject to risks. These risks include, without limitation, interest rate risks (risks that changes in interest rates will devalue the investments), credit risks (risks of default by borrowers), or maturity risk (risks that bonds or notes will change value from the time of issuance to maturity).

Foreign Securities Risks. Strathmore may invest portions of client assets into pooled investment funds that invest internationally. While foreign investments are important to the diversification of client investment portfolios, they carry risks that may be different from U.S. investments. For example, foreign investments may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting or disclosure standards, practices or requirements comparable to those found in the U.S. Foreign investments are also subject to foreign withholding taxes and the risk of adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations. Finally, foreign investments may involve currency risk, which is the risk that the value of the foreign security will decrease due to changes in the relative value of the U.S. dollar and the security's underlying foreign currency.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to a client's evaluation of Strathmore or the integrity of Strathmore's management. Strathmore has no disciplinary events to report.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Certain Strathmore employees are also shareholders and/or partners of the accounting firm Norris, Stewart & Ralston, PA ("NSR"). NSR may recommend Strathmore to accounting clients in need of advisory services. Strathmore may recommend NSR to advisory clients in need of accounting services. Accounting services provided by NSR are separate and distinct from the advisory services of Strathmore, and are provided for separate and typical compensation. There are no referral fee arrangements between Strathmore and NSR for these recommendations. No Strathmore client is obligated to use NSR for any accounting services. Certain of Strathmore recommendations regarding tax strategies may require the client to consult with an accountant, and incur fees for accounting services.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

Strathmore has adopted a Code of Ethics ("the Code"), the full text of which is available to you upon request. Strathmore's Code has several goals. First, the Code is designed to assist Strathmore in complying with applicable laws and regulations governing its investment advisory business. Under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, Strathmore owes fiduciary duties to its clients. Pursuant to these fiduciary duties, the Code requires persons associated with Strathmore (managers, officers and employees) to act with honesty, good faith and fair dealing in working with clients. In addition, the Code prohibits such associated persons from trading or otherwise acting on insider information.

Next, the Code sets forth guidelines for professional standards for Strathmore's associated persons. Under the Code's Professional Standards, Strathmore expects its associated persons to put the interests of its clients first, ahead of personal interests. In this regard, Strathmore associated persons are not to take inappropriate advantage of their positions in relation to Strathmore clients.

Third, the Code sets forth policies and procedures to monitor and review the personal trading activities of associated persons. From time to time, Strathmore's associated persons may invest in the same securities recommended to clients. Under its Code, Strathmore has adopted procedures designed to reduce or eliminate conflicts of interest that this could potentially cause. The Code's personal trading policies include procedures for limitations on personal securities transactions of associated persons, reporting and review of such trading and pre-clearance of certain types of personal trading activities. These policies are designed to discourage and prohibit personal trading that would disadvantage clients. The Code also provides for disciplinary action as appropriate for violations.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Because client accounts are invested almost exclusively in open-end mutual funds, bond portfolios and ETFs, there is little opportunity for a conflict of interest between personal trades by Strathmore associated persons and trades in client accounts, even when such accounts invest in the same securities. However, in the event of other identified potential trading conflicts of interest, Strathmore's goal is to place client interests first.

Consistent with the foregoing, Strathmore maintains policies regarding participation in initial public offerings ("IPOs") and private placements in order to comply with applicable laws and avoid conflicts with client transactions. If a Strathmore associated person wishes to participate in an IPO or invest in a private placement, he or she must submit a pre-clearance request and obtain the approval of the Chief Compliance Officer.

Finally, if associated persons trade with client accounts (i.e., in a bundled or aggregated trade), and the trade is not filled in its entirety, the associated person's shares will be removed from the block, and the balance of shares will be allocated among client accounts in accordance with Strathmore's written policy.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Best Execution and Benefits of Brokerage Selection

When given discretion to select the brokerage firm that will execute orders in client accounts, Strathmore seeks "best execution" for client trades, which is a combination of a number of factors, including, without limitation, quality of execution, services provided and commission rates. Therefore, Strathmore may use or recommend the use of brokers who do not charge the lowest available commission in the recognition of research and securities transaction services, or quality of execution. Research services received with transactions may include proprietary or third party research (or any combination), and may be used in servicing any or all of Strathmore's clients. Therefore, research services received may not be used for the account for which the particular transaction was effected.

Strathmore recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services and/or TD Ameritrade Institutional, Division of TD Ameritrade Inc., each a FINRA registered broker-dealer, member SIPC (collectively, the "Custodians"), as the qualified custodians to maintain custody of clients' assets. Strathmore may also effect trades for client accounts at the Custodians, or may in some instances, consistent with Strathmore's duty of best execution and specific agreement with each client, elect to execute trades elsewhere. Although Strathmore may recommend that clients establish accounts at the Custodians, it is ultimately the client's decision to custody assets with Schwab. Strathmore is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with the Custodians.

The Custodians provide Strathmore with access to its institutional trading, custody, reporting and related services, which are typically not available to the Custodian's retail investors. The Custodians also make available various support services. Some of those services help Strathmore manage or administer our clients' accounts while others help Strathmore manage and grow our business. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them. These services are not soft dollar arrangements, but are part of the institutional platforms offered by the Custodians. The Custodians' brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For Strathmore client accounts maintained in their custody, the Custodians generally do not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through the Custodians or that settle into the Custodians' accounts. The Custodians also make available to Strathmore other products and services that benefit Strathmore but may not directly benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of Strathmore accounts, including accounts not maintained at the Custodians.

The Custodians' products and services that assist Strathmore in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of Strathmore's fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

The Custodians also offer other services intended to help Strathmore manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) technology compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. The Custodians may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Strathmore. The Custodians may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Strathmore. The Custodians may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of Strathmore personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend that clients custody their assets at the Custodians, Strathmore may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the Custodians, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Directed Brokerage

Clients may direct Strathmore to use a particular broker for custodial or transaction services on behalf of the client's portfolio. In directed brokerage arrangements, the client is responsible for negotiating the commission rates and other fees to be paid to the broker. Accordingly, a client who directs brokerage should consider whether such designation may result in certain costs or disadvantages to the client, either because the client may pay higher commissions or obtain less favorable execution, or the designation limits the investment options available to the client.

The arrangements that Strathmore has with the Custodians are designed to maximize efficiency and to be cost effective. By directing brokerage arrangements, the client acknowledges that these economies of scale and levels of efficiency are generally compromised when alternative brokers are used. While every effort is made to treat clients fairly over time, the fact that a client chooses to use the brokerage and/or custodial services of these alternative service providers can in fact result in a certain degree of delay in executing trades for their account(s) and otherwise adversely affect management of their account(s).

By directing Strathmore to use a specific broker or dealer, clients who are subject to ERISA confirm and agree with Strathmore that they have the authority to make the direction, that there are no provisions in any client or plan document which are inconsistent with the direction, that the brokerage and other goods and services provided by the broker or dealer through the brokerage transactions are provided solely to and for the benefit of the client's plan, plan participants and their beneficiaries, that the amount paid for the brokerage and other services have been determined by the client and the plan to be reasonable, that any expenses paid by the broker on behalf of the plan are expenses that the plan would otherwise be obligated to pay, and that the specific broker or dealer is not a party in interest of the client or the plan as defined under applicable ERISA regulations.

Aggregated Trade Policy

Strathmore typically directs trading in individual client accounts as and when trades are appropriate based on the client's Investment Plan, without regard to activity in other client accounts. However, from time to time, Strathmore may aggregate trades together for multiple client accounts, most often when these accounts are being directed to sell the same securities. If such an aggregated trade is not completely filled, Strathmore will allocate shares received (in an aggregated purchase) or sold (in an aggregated sale) across participating accounts on a pro rata or other fair basis; provided, however, that any participating accounts that are owned by Strathmore or its officers, directors, or employees will be excluded first.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Managed portfolios are reviewed at least quarterly, but may be reviewed more often if requested by the client, upon receipt of information material to the management of the portfolio, or at any time such review is deemed necessary or advisable by Strathmore. These factors generally include but are not limited to, the following: change in general client circumstances (marriage, divorce, retirement); or economic, political or market conditions. John Charles Kernodle, Strathmore's President, William Kernodle and Bob Kernodle, Strathmore's Business Development Officers, and Strathmore's Investment Adviser Representatives, Douglas Ralston and Keith Norris, all review accounts.

Account custodians are responsible for providing monthly or quarterly account statements which reflect the positions (and current pricing) in each account as well as transactions in each account, including fees paid from an account. Account custodians also provide prompt confirmation of all trading activity, and year-end tax statements, such as 1099 forms. In addition, Strathmore provides at a quarterly report for each managed portfolio. This written report normally includes a summary of portfolio holdings and performance results. Additional reports are available at the request of the client.

Strathmore will provide Participant-Directed Qualified Retirement Plan Services clients with annual reports regarding the performance of recommended investments.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As noted above, Strathmore receives an economic benefit from the Custodians in the form of support products and services it makes available to Strathmore and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at the Custodians. These products and services, how they benefit our firm, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12 - Brokerage Practices. The availability of the Custodians' products and services to Strathmore is based solely on our participation in the programs and not on the provision of any particular investment advice. Neither the Custodians nor any other parties are paid to refer clients to Strathmore.

Item 15 - Custody

Schwab, Fidelity and TD Ameritrade are the custodians of nearly all client accounts at Strathmore. From time to time however, clients may select an alternate broker to hold accounts in custody. In any case, it is the custodian's responsibility to provide clients with confirmations of trading activity, tax forms and at least quarterly account statements. Clients are advised to review this information carefully, and to notify Strathmore of any questions or concerns. Clients are also asked to promptly notify Strathmore if the custodian fails to provide statements on each account held.

From time to time and in accordance with Strathmore's agreement with clients, Strathmore will provide additional reports. The account balances reflected on these reports should be compared to the balances shown on the brokerage statements to ensure accuracy. At times there may be small differences due to the timing of dividend reporting, pending trades or other similar issues.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As described above under Item 4 - Advisory Business, Strathmore will accept clients on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. For discretionary accounts, a Limited Power of Attorney ("LPOA") is executed by the client, giving Strathmore the authority to carry out various activities in the account, generally including the following: trade execution; the ability to request checks on behalf of the client; and, the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account. Strathmore then directs investment of the client's portfolio using its discretionary authority. The client may limit the terms of the LPOA to the extent consistent with the client's investment advisory agreement with Strathmore and the requirements of the client's custodian. The discretionary relationship is further described in the agreement between Strathmore and the client.

For non-discretionary accounts, the client also generally executes an LPOA, which allows Strathmore to carry out trade recommendations and approved actions in the portfolio. However, in accordance with the investment advisory agreement between Strathmore and the client, Strathmore does not implement trading recommendations or other actions in the account unless and until the client has approved the recommendation or action. As with discretionary accounts, clients may limit the terms of the LPOA, subject to Strathmore's agreement with the client and the requirements of the client's custodian.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

As a policy and in accordance with Strathmore's client agreement, Strathmore does not vote proxies related to securities held in client accounts. The custodian of the account will normally provide proxy materials directly to the client. Clients may contact Strathmore with questions relating to proxy procedures and proposals; however, Strathmore generally does not research particular proxy proposals.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Strathmore does not require nor solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and therefore has no disclosure required for this item.

Item 2 - Educational Background and Business Experience

John Charles Kernodle (year of birth 1963) is President and Founder of Strathmore. John Charles began his financial services career in 1994 with First Union (Wachovia now Wells Fargo) in their Capital Markets Group, gaining institutional experience working on the Money Market sales desk. In the late 1990s, he worked with a bond management firm that marketed their product directly to regional broker dealers. John Charles gained valuable insight into how products are packaged and sold in mass through retail networks.

Prior to founding Strathmore, John Charles worked at Eastover Capital Management, an investment management firm where he spent five years working directly with individual, high-net worth clients. It was the culmination of these industry experiences that drove John Charles to find a better solution for individuals and families that need a high level of involvement from a firm in coordinating and managing the complexities of generational family wealth. Now, as a Family CFO, John Charles can provide clients with the wealth management they deserve.

John Charles holds the Series 65 (Uniform Investment Adviser Law Exam) license and is registered as an investment advisory representative. Born and raised in Burlington, North Carolina, he has lived in Charlotte since 1987. A graduate of North Carolina State University, John Charles is married and enjoys the shared duties of raising three children.

Item 3 - Disciplinary Information

Advisers are required to disclose any material facts regarding certain legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of an adviser; however John Charles has no such disciplinary information to report.

Item 4 - Other Business Activities

John Charles is not engaged in any other business activities.

*Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and also holds the Personal Financial Specialist (PFS) designation.

*A CPA is a Certified Public Accountant. All CPA candidates must pass the Uniform CPA Examination to qualify for a CPA certificate and license to practice public accounting. While the exam is the same regardless of where it is taken, every state/jurisdiction has its own set of education and experience requirements that individuals must meet. However, most states require at least a bachelor's degree and a concentration in accounting, and at least one year of public accounting experience under the supervision of or verification by a CPA. Once the designation is attained, the CPA is required to meet continuing education requirements.

The PFS designation is granted exclusively to CPAs with the combination of extensive tax expertise and comprehensive knowledge of personal financial planning. The requirements for the PFS credential are established by the PFP (Personal Financial Planning) staff at the AICPA (American Institute of CPAs), the National Accreditation Commission, along with the PFS Credential Committee, and accurately reflect the depth and breadth of experience and technical expertise required to obtain this credential. The 5 major requirements are: (1) Obtain CPA licensure (2) join the AICPA and be a member in good standing (3) complete a comprehensive PFP education, consisting of a minimum of 80 hours of PFP training and education within the five year period preceding the date of the PFS application (4) fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience and (5) pass a PFP examination.

Item 3 - Disciplinary Information

Advisers are required to disclose any material facts regarding certain legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of an adviser; however, Doug has no such disciplinary information to report.

Item 4 - Other Business Activities

Doug is a Shareholder of the accounting firm of Norris, Stewart & Ralston, PA. As such, a substantial amount of Doug's time is spent performing accounting and tax services. Strathmore has no affiliation with Norris, Stewart & Ralston, PA, although clients may be referred between the firms. There are no fees received from or paid to either firm for referrals. Doug's accounting fees are billed separately from any fees charged by Strathmore.

Item 5 - Additional Compensation

Other than stated above, Doug has no other income or compensation to disclose.

Item 6 - Supervision

John Charles Kernodle, President of Strathmore, is responsible for providing compliance oversight for Doug and for reviewing accounts. John Charles can be reached at (704) 364-4241.
