4 Element Advisors maintains a Power of Attorney for all discretionary accounts for the purposes of directing and/or otherwise effecting investments on behalf of the managed account. Additional Fees and Expenses

To the extent mutual funds are selected by 4 Element Advisors to fill components of the overall investment strategy, the annual advisory fee does not include the customary fees and expenses associated with investing in mutual funds or other costs of establishing and maintaining an account with mutual funds including Rule 12b-1 fees and expenses. Client is advised that, in addition to the annual advisory fee, some mutual funds in which assets are invested may incur separate other related expenses.

Termination of the Advisory Relationship

The relationship between the parties may be terminated by either party upon thirty (30) days written notice. Notwithstanding the above, if the appropriate disclosure statement was not delivered to the Client at least 48 hours prior to the Client entering into any written or oral advisory contract with this investment adviser, then the Client has the right to terminate the contract, without a penalty, within five (5) business days after entering into the contract.

Either party may terminate the advisory agreement signed with our firm for our Investment Account Management and Financial Planning and Investment Policy Statement Development services in writing at any time. Clients who were billed in advance will receive a pro-rata refund of the unearned portion of the advisory fees charged at the beginning of the quarter. Clients who were billed in arrears will be charged a pro-rata advisory fee for services rendered to the point of termination. If advisory fees cannot be deducted, our firm will send an invoice for due advisory fees to the client.

Financial Planning & Consulting Clients may terminate their agreement without penalty within five (5) business days of signing the Agreement. Client will be entitled to a refund of any prepaid planning fees less a charge for any time spent on preparing or reviewing the plan up to the point of termination. Item 6: Performance-Based Fees & Side-By-Side Management

4 Element Advisors does not charge any performance-based fees based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the assets of a Client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

4 Element Advisors provides investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates or charitable organizations, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, and corporations, limited liability companies and/or other business types.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

After analysis of a client's goals, objectives and risk profile, a portfolio is developed using a strategic asset allocation process which employs the Modern Portfolio Theory approach. Portfolios are implemented with products that keep in mind both expenses and tax efficiency (when used in a taxable account). Portfolios are considered for rebalancing when securities move outside of bands set in the investment policy statement for each client. Exchange traded funds, mutual funds and individual bonds are the primary investment vehicles used in client portfolios.

Clients should be aware that investing in securities involves risk of loss that they should be prepared to bear. While the stock market may increase and the account(s) could enjoy a gain, it is also possible that the stock market may decrease and the account(s) could suffer a loss. It is important that clients understand the risks associated with investing in the stock market, are appropriately diversified in investments, and ask any questions.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to Clients' evaluations of 4 Element Advisors or the integrity of the Firm's management. 4 Element Advisors and its management have no information to disclose for this Item.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities & Affiliations

The Firm does not perform any other financial industry activities other than investment advisory services. However, representatives of our firm are Certified Public Accountants and Enrolled Agents. In such capacity, they may also provide income tax preparation or accounting services.

These aforementioned services are independent of our financial planning and investment advisory services and are governed under separate engagement agreements. The client has the option of engaging these individuals for tax preparation or accounting services but is under no obligation to utilize these services. Clients will not be actively solicited to utilize these services.

Mr. Shone is also an investment advisor representative of Angeles Investment Advisors, LLC (CRD# 110213). In such capacity, he offers advisory services and receives normal and customary fees, which are fully disclosed in Angeles Investment Advisors, LLC's Form ADV, which is available by searching the CRD# through the Investment Advisor Public Disclosure website, www.adviserinfo.sec.gov and upon request. Mr. Shone will only offer financial planning services to clients solicited by Angeles Investment Advisors, LLC.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading

No security may be bought or sold by a principal or employee of 4 Element Advisors before Firm's Clients' accounts have had the opportunity to make such transactions as appropriate. All 4 Element Advisors principal and employee trades will be reviewed by the compliance officer. Principals and employees will not receive a more favorable execution price on a particular day than those received by 4 Element Advisors' investment advisory Clients.

To prevent conflicts of interest, all employees of 4 Element Advisors must comply with the Firm's Written Supervisory Procedures and Code of Ethics, which impose restrictions on the purchase or sale of securities for their own accounts and the accounts of certain affiliated persons. Purchase and sale of specific securities by employees of 4 Element Advisors are prohibited when there are Client programs active in those securities. Executions for Clients will always receive priority. The officers and employees of 4 Element Advisors report transactions monthly.

The Supervisory Procedures and Code of Ethics require that all trades made by employees or related persons of 4 Element Advisors, who make recommendations or participate in the determination of which recommendation shall be made, will require approval for all securities trades (except transactions in investment company securities and/or other exempt transactions) and will be reviewed by the designated person responsible. 4 Element Advisors will also maintain quarterly reports on all personal securities transactions, except transactions in investment company securities and/or other exempt transactions. Further, such Supervisory Procedures and Code of Ethics impose certain policies and procedures concerning the misuse of material non-public information that are designed to prevent insider trading by any officer, partner, or associated person of 4 Element Advisors.

Compliance with Department of Labor Fiduciary Rule

Our firm provides investment advice to assets affected by the Department of Labor ("DOL") Fiduciary Rule for a level fee. As such, we abide by the Impartial Conduct Standards as defined by the DOL. To comply with these standards, our firm and our advisors give advice that is in our clients' best interest, charge no more than reasonable compensation (within the meaning of ERISA Section 408(b)(2) and Internal Revenue Code Section 4975(d)(2)), and make no misleading statements about investment transactions, compensation, conflicts of interest, and any other matters related to investment decisions.

As a level-fee fiduciary, we maintain a non-variable compensation structure that is provided on the basis of a fixed percentage of the value of assets or a set fee that does not vary with the particular investment recommended, as opposed to a commission or other transaction based fee.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Selecting a Brokerage Firm

Our firm does not maintain custody of client assets. Client assets must be maintained by a qualified custodian. Our firm seeks to recommend a custodian who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. The factors considered, among others, are these:

- Timeliness of execution
- Timeliness and accuracy of trade confirmations
- Research services provided
- Ability to provide investment ideas
- Execution facilitation services provided
- Record keeping services provided
- Custody services provided
- Frequency and correction of trading errors
- Ability to access a variety of market venues
- Expertise as it relates to specific securities
- Financial condition
- Business reputation
- Quality of services

With this in consideration, our firm has an arrangement with Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services through Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC, ("FBS") and the TD Ameritrade Institutional division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. ("TDA"). FBS and TDA (collectively hereinafter referred to as our "Custodians") are qualified custodians from whom our firm is independently owned and operated. Our custodians offer services to independent investment advisers which includes custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Our Custodians enable us to obtain many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other no-load funds at nominal transaction charges. Our Custodian does not charge client accounts separately for custodial services. Client accounts will be charged transaction fees, commissions or other fees on trades that are executed or settle into the client's custodial account. Transaction fees are negotiated with our Custodians and are generally discounted from customary retail commission rates. This benefits clients because the overall fee paid is often lower than would be otherwise.

Our Custodians may make certain research and brokerage services available at no additional cost to our firm. Research products and services provided by Our Custodians may include: research reports on recommendations or other information about particular companies or industries; economic surveys, data and analyses; financial publications; portfolio evaluation services; financial database software and services; computerized news and pricing services; quotation equipment for use in running software used in investment decision-making; and other products or services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance by our Custodians to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. The aforementioned research and brokerage services qualify for the safe harbor exemption defined in Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Our Custodians do not make client brokerage commissions generated by client transactions available for our firm's use. The aforementioned research and brokerage services are used by our firm to manage accounts for which our firm has investment discretion. Without this arrangement, our firm might be compelled to purchase the same or similar services at our own expense.

As part of our fiduciary duty to our clients, our firm will endeavor at all times to put the interests of our clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by our firm or our related persons creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our firm's choice of our Custodians as a custodial recommendation. Our firm examined this potential conflict of interest when our firm chose to recommend our Custodians and have determined that the recommendation is in the best interest of our firm's clients and satisfies our fiduciary obligations, including our duty to seek best execution.

Our clients may pay a transaction fee or commission to our Custodians that is higher than another qualified broker dealer might charge to effect the same transaction where our firm determines in good faith that the commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services provided to the client as a whole.

In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealer's services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Although our firm will seek competitive rates, to the benefit of all clients, our firm may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for specific client account transactions.

Soft Dollars

Our firm does not receive soft dollars in excess of what is allowed by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The safe harbor research products and services obtained by our firm will generally be used to service all of our clients but not necessarily all at any one particular time.

Client Brokerage Commissions

Our Custodians do not make client brokerage commissions generated by client transactions available for our firm's use.

Client Transactions in Return for Soft Dollars

Our firm does not direct client transactions to a particular broker-dealer in return for soft dollar benefits.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Our firm does not receive brokerage for client referrals.

Directed Brokerage

Neither our firm nor any of our firm's representatives have discretionary authority in making the determination of the brokers-dealers and/or custodians with whom orders for the purchase or sale of securities are placed for execution, and the commission rates at which such securities transactions are effected. Our firm routinely recommends that clients direct us to execute through a specified broker-dealer. Our firm recommends the use of our Custodians. Each client will be required to establish their account(s) with our Custodians if not already done. Please note that not all advisers have this requirement.

Special Considerations for ERISA Clients

A retirement or ERISA plan client may direct all or part of portfolio transactions for its account through a specific broker or dealer in order to obtain goods or services on behalf of the plan. Such direction is permitted provided that the goods and services provided are reasonable expenses of the plan incurred in the ordinary course of its business for which it otherwise would be obligated and empowered to pay. ERISA prohibits directed brokerage arrangements when the goods or services purchased are not for the exclusive benefit of the plan. Consequently, our firm will request that plan sponsors who direct plan brokerage provide us with a letter documenting that this arrangement will be for the exclusive benefit of the plan.

Client-Directed Brokerage

Our firm allows clients to direct brokerage outside our recommendation. Our firm may be unable to achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions. Client directed brokerage may cost clients more money. For example, in a directed brokerage account, clients may pay higher brokerage commissions because our firm may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transaction costs, or clients may receive less favorable prices.

Aggregation of Purchase or Sale

Our firm provides investment management services for various clients. There are occasions on which portfolio transactions may be executed as part of concurrent authorizations to purchase or sell the same security for numerous accounts served by our firm, which involve accounts with similar investment objectives. Although such concurrent authorizations potentially could be either advantageous or disadvantageous to any one or more particular accounts, they are affected only when our firm believes that to do so will be in the best interest of the effected accounts. When such concurrent authorizations occur, the objective is to allocate the executions in a manner which is deemed equitable to the accounts involved. In any given situation, our firm attempts to allocate trade executions in the most equitable manner possible, taking into consideration client objectives, current asset allocation and availability of funds using price averaging, proration and consistently non-arbitrary methods of allocation.

Item 13: Review of Accounts or Financial Plans

All accounts under supervision are reviewed monthly by the applicant. Investments that are held in accounts of Clients are monitored weekly and could cause a review of a Client account, given a significant change and affect on an account. A dramatic change in the market environment would trigger a review of the accounts and holdings for all Clients. Client reviews are performed to check the progress of accounts and attainment of the stated Client goals. These reviews are agreed upon by the Client and Adviser. The frequency can be from monthly to annually.

Clients will receive performance reports on their accounts and holdings on a predetermined basis which may be monthly, but normally quarterly. Performance reports benchmark the investments in the account to determine the actual performance vs. the stated objective of the account. Clients also receive general market commentary via periodic newsletters. The Clients also receive brokerage transaction confirmations and monthly statements from the custodian of the account.

Item 14: Client Referrals & Other Compensation

Our firm pays referral fees (non-commission based) to independent solicitors (non-registered representatives) for the referral of their clients to our firm in accordance with Rule 206 (4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Such referral fee represents a share of our investment advisory fee charged to our clients. This arrangement will not result in higher costs to the referred client. In this regard, our firm maintains Solicitors Agreements in compliance with Rule 206 (4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and applicable state and federal laws. All clients referred by Solicitors to our firm will be given full written disclosure describing the terms and fee arrangements between our firm and Solicitor(s). In cases where state law requires licensure of solicitors, our firm ensures that no solicitation fees are paid unless the solicitor is registered as an investment adviser representative of our firm. If our firm is paying solicitation fees to another registered investment adviser, the licensure of individuals is the other firm's responsibility.

Item 15: Custody

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker-dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains Clients' investment assets. 4 Element Advisors urges you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

4 Element Advisors manages client accounts on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis, pursuant to an executed investment advisory client agreement. By granting investment discretion, we are authorized to execute securities transactions, which securities are bought and sold, the total amount to be bought and sold, and the costs at which the transactions will be effected. Limitations may be imposed by the client in the form of specific constraints on any of these areas of discretion with our firm's written acknowledgement.

4 Element Advisors will allocate brokerage transactions in a manner it believes to be fair and responsible to its Clients, and consistent with Client objectives. Adhering to a strict formula will not be practicable given the variation in Client objectives and guidelines.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

4 Element Advisors shall not accept proxy authority with respect to the voting of proxies solicited by, or with respect to, the issuers of any securities held in the Accounts. In the event that proxies are sent to our firm, we will forward them to you and ask the party who sent them to mail them directly to you in the future. Clients may call, write or email us to discuss questions they may have about particular proxy votes or other solicitations.

Item 18: Financial Information

4 Element Advisors is required in this Item to provide its Clients with certain financial information or disclosures about 4 Element Advisors' financial condition. The Firm does not require the prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees and six or more months in advance. The Firm does not take custody of client funds or securities. 4 Element Advisors is well capitalized, has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to Clients and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
