This item discusses specific material changes that are made to the disclosure brochure and provide readers with a summary of such changes.

Pursuant to new rules, Portfolio Design Advisors, Inc. (“PDA”) will ensure that clients receive a summary of any material changes to this and subsequent disclosure brochures within 120 days after the firm’s fiscal year end, December 31. This means that if there were any material changes over the past year clients will receive a summary of those changes no later than April 30. At that time, PDA will also offer a copy of its most current disclosure brochure and may also provide other ongoing disclosure information about material changes as necessary. SERVICES, FEES AND COMPENSATION

Portfolio Design Advisors, Inc. ("PDA") offers services under a wrap fee program called SelectOne where we provide investment supervisory services defined as giving continuous investment advice to you (or making investments for you) based on the investment model selected. We offer portfolio management services in which there are various models available with a qualified custodian for clients and/or advisors to choose from. Your representative will work with you to design an allocation among the models available and PDA will manage the account to the model allocations. The models are designed to utilize asset allocation strategies and do not attempt to engage in market timing or short term trading. We provide ongoing evaluation and selection of model portfolios from various portfolio strategists, investments and adjustment and balancing of portfolios. Various asset types are available and they include: no-load mutual funds, load waived mutual funds, exchange traded funds, stocks, cash, and cash equivalents. Other asset types, like Unit Investment Trusts ("UIT"s), may be held within the account as a convenience to the customer, but are not included as part of the managed portfolio.

There are two options available for representatives to work with us, dependent upon their agreement with PDA. In both types of relationships, PDA provides continuous supervisory services and has trading discretion. One option available for representatives is as a solicitor. Under this type of agreement, the representative will maintain the client relationship. They are responsible for reviewing the account with the client and helping the client determine which model allocation is appropriate based on the client's risk tolerance and investment objectives. The representative does not have discretion over the account's model allocation. All model allocation changes are client directed. The other option available for representatives can work with PDA is as a co-manager. Under this type of agreement, the representative will maintain the client relationship. They are responsible for reviewing the account with the client and helping the client determine which model allocation is appropriate based on the client's risk tolerance and investment objectives. The representative will have discretion to change the model allocations without consulting the client. Also available under the co-manager option, the representative may act as a model portfolio strategist on a portion of the account. These representatives are offering this service under their registered investment advisor and you should review their disclosure brochure for more information. In all options when executing an agreement for services with us, PDA will be granted trading authorization on your account. This allows us to determine the securities and quantity of securities to be bought and sold, the time of execution or the price at which the trades will be executed. For certain ERISA accounts, PDA will act as an ERISA 3(38) Fiduciary.

PDA charges for its investment supervisory services based on a percentage of assets under management. Each account is charged based on a tiered fee schedule. This means that the first $500,000 of the account is charged the fee listed for that tier, the next $500,000 is charged the fee listed for that tier and so on. The fee is calculated based on the calendar quarter ending account balance and is charged in arrears.

Ending Account Balance	Annual Account Fee, billed quarterly, in arrears
$0 - $500,000	0.00% - 0.70% or 70 basis points
$500,001 - $1,000,000	0.00% - 0.70% or 70 basis points
Over $1,000,000	0.00% - 0.70% or 70 basis points

PDA, at its sole discretion, may reduce its fees, in certain circumstances. For example, our fee may be reduced from a tiered 70/60/40 to a flat 40 basis points on an entire account with a value exceeding $1,000,000.

The listed fee schedule pertains only to the fees charged by PDA and does not include fees that are charged to the client by representatives and/or firms who recommend PDA to the client and thus act as solicitors on behalf of or co-managers with PDA. Of the total fee charged to the client, PDA retains the model cost and pays the difference to the representatives and firms who act as solicitors or co-managers on our behalf. The exact fee that is negotiated between you and your representative is disclosed to you in the Investment Management Agreement that you sign in advance of services being provided. The total fee can range from .50 – 2.50%. Some portfolio strategists receive a portion of this fee ranging from 0.00 – 0.50% depending on the model(s) selected.

The qualified custodian will debit the fees on a quarterly basis from the account. The fees will be calculated based on the quarter ending balance. The fees will be charged in arrears and are prorated based on the number of days that services are provided during the calendar quarter.

The SelectOne program fee includes trading costs. It may cost you more or less than if you paid the ticket charges at the time of trade execution. The amount of trades placed in the account is a factor that has a bearing upon the relative cost of the program. If there are only a few trades placed in the account over a period of time, it is possible that paying for advisory services and ticket charges separately may be less expensive than the fee. The opposite is also true; if there are a large amount of trades placed in the account over a period of time, it is possible that paying for advisory services and ticket charges separately may be more expensive.

You may incur other charges imposed by third parties besides us in connection with investments made through the account, including but not limited to mutual fund sub accounting fees, contingent deferred sales charges, short term redemption fees, qualified retirement plan fees and account maintenance fees. A description of these fees and expenses are available in each investment company security's prospectus. PDA and its employees will not receive any portion of these fees.

You should be aware that mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to PDA. Fund companies also charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Either of us or your representative may terminate the agreement at any time by providing written notice to the appropriate party. If services are terminated within five business days of executing the agreement, services are terminated without penalty and no fees are due. If the account is to be liquidated as a result of a termination notice, we may take up to five business days from the date of receipt to process the liquidation request. Proceeds will be payable to the client subject to the usual securities settlement procedures. The final fee is prorated based on the number of days that services are provided prior to the effective date of termination. You are responsible for paying fees only for services rendered until the effective date of termination. Your account will be debited for the additional services.

ACCOUNT REQUIREMENTS AND TYPES OF CLIENTS

MINIMUM ACCOUNT SIZE

Typically, we require a minimum account size of $25,000 to establish and maintain a managed account. Each model also has minimum investment requirements. Most are $25,000 or $50,000; but some have higher minimums. Exceptions may be granted to this account minimum at our discretion, usually based on your specific situation. For example, if the market value of the account drops below the minimum PDA may continue to manage the account; or we may allow an account to be established below the minimum knowing that the account will receive additional funds soon.

TYPES OF CLIENTS

PDA provides investment advice to many different types of clients. These clients generally include individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and other types of business entities.

PORTFOLIO STRATEGIST SELECTION AND EVALUATION

Each portfolio strategist must meet certain criteria for having models within the SelectOne program. Each strategist must have at least $100 million in assets under management and they must have a minimum of a 3 year track record as an asset manager. The specific model does not need a 3 year track record, but the portfolio strategist must. PDA also reviews the type of model, strategic versus tactical for example, the model holdings, portfolio turnover, and if it fills a gap in our current model selections.

Recommendations of portfolio strategists to clients is primarily handled by each client's representative and is made in accordance with the clients investment objectives, risk tolerance and other relevant information. Representatives may request PDA's assistance in developing a portfolio of models for a client account. Again, recommendations are made based on information provided by the client related to their investment objectives, risk tolerance and other relevant information.

Performance is calculated by Morningstar using industry standards. Morningstar uses a geometrically linked return method also known as Time Weighted Return. Our reviews of model performance are based upon the calculated performance generated by Morningstar for each model. No performance from the portfolio strategist is used; only hypothetical returns are used as we do not have any composites.

There are portfolios available within the SelectOne program that are created by PDA and named to reflect that. Because there is no third party strategist providing models our cost is less when PDA models are selected. This may provide incentive for a representative to recommend PDA models over other strategist models. These models are created by PDA employees and their models will continuously be available for clients and their representative to select if they choose. While these models are not necessarily subject to the same selection and review process as other portfolio strategists, we strive to hold ourselves to the same performance standards and our portfolio management team makes adjustments to the portfolios as necessary to continue to achieve their stated goals.

DESCRIPTION OF ADVISORY SERVICES OFFERED

PDA offers asset management services under a wrap fee program marketed as the SelectOne program; the focus of this brochure. The SelectOne program offers several portfolio strategist models for representatives and clients to choose from. PDA and your representative will continuously supervise the accounts and make trades when necessary, or at your request.

The models are designed to utilize asset allocation strategies and do not attempt to engage in market timing or short term trading. We provide ongoing evaluation and selection of investments, and adjustment and balancing of portfolios.

SERVICES TAILORED TO CLIENTS NEEDS

Our services under the SelectOne program offer several pre-determined portfolio models. You and your representative will select your portfolio models based on risk tolerance and investment objectives. You are given the ability to impose written restrictions on your accounts, including specific investment selections and sectors. In some instances certain restrictions placed on the account, may not allow for the selection of certain portfolios. For this reason, it is important you understand that we perform advisory and/or brokerage services including investment reporting for various clients, and that we may give advice or take actions for other clients that differ from the advice given to you.

WRAP FEE PROGRAM VERSUS PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

In traditional management programs, advisory services are provided for a fee but transaction services are billed separately on a per transaction basis. In wrap fee programs, advisory services and transaction services are provided for one fee. Under our SelectOne wrap fee program, there are models provided by various portfolio strategists. Each account can allocate funds to one or more models. As the sponsor and advisor for the SelectOne program, we receive a portion of the wrap fee charged to the account. The amount that we receive is listed in the Services, Fees and Compensation section of this brochure; and the specific model costs are listed on the Model Selection Worksheet.

PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

Performance-based fees are defined as fees based on a share of capital gains or on capital appreciation of the assets held in a client's account. PDA does not charge or accept performance-based fees.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS AND INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

PDA uses primarily fundamental analysis, but also uses charting, technical and cyclical analysis when considering investment strategies and recommendations. In simple terms, fundamental analysis involves analyzing company characteristics, charting looks at historical patterns, cyclical analysis looks at recurring periods, and technical analysis studies past market data looking for price trends and movements.

When implementing investment decisions, PDA employs several investment strategies: Long and Short Term Purchases, Strategic and Tactical Asset Allocation, Strategic Timing and Sector Rotation. Asset allocation is the combination of several different types of investments; typically stocks, bonds and cash equivalents among various asset classes so your investments are diversified. The objective of asset allocation is to develop an investment plan that will help investors reach their financial goals, while holding down their risks. Strategic timing is designed to reduce risks in bear markets (when markets are decreasing in value). This is a trend-following strategy that involves holding total cash positions during bear markets and fully invested positions during bull markets. Sector rotation is employed only in the growth portfolio models, spreading the risk over several sectors in the more aggressive models. In bull markets, the technique may consist of using the stronger industrial sectors or surrogates for various market indexes (“bull” funds). In bear markets, it may consist of employing “bear” funds that are structured to rise in price when the market indexes decline in price. Also, when our portfolio manager believes market conditions call for the use of leverage, we may employ leveraged bull or bear funds that are more volatile than the market indexes.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear, including loss of your original principal. However, you should be aware that past performance of any security is not necessarily indicative of future results. Therefore, you should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. We do not provide any representation or guarantee that your goals will be achieved.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments, there may be varying degrees of risk.

VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

We do not perform proxy voting services on your behalf. You are instructed to read through the information provided with the proxy voting documents and to make a determination based on the information provided. Upon your request, we may provide limited clarifications of the issues presented in the proxy voting materials based on our understanding of issues presented in the proxy voting materials. However, you have the ultimate responsibility for making all proxy voting decisions.

CLIENT INFORMATION PROVIDED TO PORTFOLIO STRATEGISTS

PDA does not provide client specific information to outside portfolio strategists. PDA only provides limited information so that the strategists are able to confirm the assets under management within their portfolio and the fee that PDA pays them for providing us their model information.

CLIENT CONTACT WITH PORTFOLIO STRATEGISTS

There is no client contact with the outside portfolio strategists. The strategists provide asset and trade information to PDA related to their models that we have selected to make available in our program. All of the trading and account access is limited to PDA, our employees, our representatives and our clients. Portfolio Strategists do not have direct client account access. Clients are always welcome to contact PDA or their representative for any assistance or questions they have related to their account.
