Advisory Business

Firm Description

Equinox Fund Management, LLC (“Equinox”) was founded in 2003 as a Delaware Limited Liability Company and registered as an investment advisor registered with the US Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 in May 2007. In addition to being a federally-registered investment advisor, Equinox is a commodity pool operator, (“CPO”), and is regulated by CFTC and NFA.

Equinox is a leader in the alternative investments industry that believes in the value of non-traditional funds to potentially reduce volatility and enhance returns in portfolios. We are committed to providing innovative, institutional quality investment solutions that are unique in structure and availability, and seek to outperform relevant benchmarks and competitors. As the investment advisor for the Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund, Equinox strives to provide the utmost level of customer service and education to our selling partners. Our products are structured to allow access to the broadest group of both accredited and non-accredited investors in the United States.

Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund, fka Mutual Hedge Frontier Legends Fund

Equinox serves as the investment advisor for Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund, a 1940 Act fund, offered through Northern Lights Fund Trust, a mutual fund family that offers separate investment portfolios. Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund seeks to achieve capital appreciation in both bull and bear equity markets with an annual volatility that is generally lower than the volatility experienced by the S&P 500® Index. The fund invests in a combination of derivatives and fixed income securities.

Principal Owners

Plimpton Capital, LLC is the principal owner of Equinox. Plimpton Capital LLC is 100% owned by Equinox Financial Group, LLC. Equinox Financial Group, LLC is 100% owned by Scan Partners, Ltd. which is managed by Caroline Pallat as trustee.

Types of Advisory Services

As Investment Advisor to the Equinox Family of Funds:

For all funds advised by Equinox, Equinox manages and supervises the investment of assets on a discretionary basis and is committed to providing prudent investment strategies designed to meet the stated objectives of the fund. Equinox designs portfolios that are uniquely structured for each fund.

As of August 31, 2015, Equinox Fund Management, LLC manages approximately $279,852,268 in assets for all on a discretionary basis.

Tailored Relationships

Given the nature of Equinox’s investment advisory activities and the fact that its clients are institutional (mutual funds), it does not provide investment advisory services to or have an advisory relationship with individuals.

Investment policy statements are created that reflect the stated goals and objective of each fund. Each fund may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

Agreements may not be assigned without client consent.

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Investment Management Agreement

Equinox will provide advisory services to the Fund only upon the execution of a Written Agreement between Equinox and the Northern Lights Funds Trust (the “Trust”). The Fund is a series of the Northern Lights Funds Trust (the “Agreement”).

The Trust retains Equinox to implement strategies that allocate to professional Commodity Trading Advisors (“CTAs”) who participate in the futures, options and foreign exchange markets. In performing these services, Equinox identifies leading CTAs and then constructs single and multi-advisor portfolios designed in accordance with the Fund's specified risk parameters and investment objectives. Each potential CTA undergoes strict quantitative and qualitative review by Equinox. CTA selection is based upon many factors which include the CTA investment strategy, trading activity, volatility, portfolio composition, account leverage and risk-reward ratio.

Hourly Planning Engagements

Equinox Fund Management, LLC does not provide hourly planning services for clients who need advice on a limited scope of work.

Termination of Agreement

The Agreement may be terminated only by the Fund's Board of Trustees, on 60 days written notice to the advisor. The agreement may be terminated at any time by Equinox of the Fund, without payment of any penalty, upon sixty (6) days' prior to written notice to the other party; provided, that in the case of termination by the Fund, such action shall have been authorized (i) by resolution of the Trust's Board of Trustees, including the vote or written consent of Trustees of the Trust who are not parties to the agreement or interested persons of either party, or (ii) by vote of majority of the outstanding voting securities of the Fund.

Fees and Compensation

Description

Equinox Fund Management, LLC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management and other fees as explained below.

Fee Billing

For advisory services provided to the Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund f/k/a Mutual Hedge Frontier Legends Fund, Equinox will receive a percentage of assets under management at an annual rate of 1.45%. The advisor has contractually agreed to waive its management fees and/or to make payments to limit Fund expenses, until January 31, 2016 so that the total annual operating expenses (including the Advisory fee, any Rule 12b-1 fees and other expenses described in the Investment Advisory Agreement, but exclusive of any front-end or contingent deferred loads, brokerage fees and commissions, acquired fund fees and expenses, borrowing costs (such as interest and dividend expense on securities sold short) taxes or extraordinary expenses such as litigation) of the Fund do not exceed 1.86% for Class A shares, 2.61% for Class C shares and 1.61% for Class I shares. These fee waivers and expense reimbursements are subject to possible recoupment from the Fund in future years on a rolling three year basis (within the three years after the fees have been waived or reimbursed) if such recoupment can be achieved within the foregoing expense limits. This agreement may be terminated only by the Fund's Board of Trustees, on 60 days written notice to the advisor.

For additional information on fees, please see the each fund's prospectus which is available at www.equinoxfunds.com

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Equinox Fund Management, LLC, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

New Advisory Management Agreement fees are calculated on a formula basis and adjusted for complexity of individual situations. The formula is based on gross income, gross assets and other financial considerations.

Expense Ratios

The line of the fee table in the Prospectus that represents the total of all a mutual fund's annual fund operating expenses is expressed as a percentage of the fund's average net assets.

Sharing of Capital Gains

The applicant does not presently intend to charge any incentive fees with respect to securities investment advice rendered by the applicant to clients. In the event that, in the future, the applicant decides to charge advisory fees with respect to such securities investment advice, such fees will be calculated and charged in compliance with the Investment Advisors Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules promulgated thereunder including Rule 205-3.

Types of Clients

Description

Equinox's clients are institutional and funds for which it acts as an investment advisor and may provide advice regarding investments strategies utilizing portfolio management techniques.

Equinox will act as the investment advisor to its clients. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

Equinox may implement minimum account sizes.

For additional information on fund minimums, please see the related prospectus at www.equinoxfunds.com.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Equinox uses a range of statistical tools as well as qualitative criteria in its security selection. Additional techniques using internal and outside research service will also allow the applicant to identify attractive sectors and styles of various markets in order to allocate fund assets. The applicant's securities analysis utilizes computerized software programs which apply a number of statistical measures in addition to various asset allocation principles.

Investment Strategies

Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund, fka Mutual Hedge Frontier Legends Fund

Seeks to achieve capital appreciation in both rising and falling (bull and bear) equity markets with an annualized level of volatility similar to the historic level of volatility similar to the historic level of volatility experienced by the S&P Index.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors dependent of a security's particular underlying circumstances.

For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.

- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

How We Manage Risk

To ensure that investment objectives are being achieved within stated risk parameters, Equinox monitors leverage, volatility, market sector exposure, losses from peak profit levels, and frequency of trading activity.

Equinox is subject to the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes Oxley Act relating to management's certification of, and its auditors attesting to, the effectiveness of the fund's internal control over financial reporting.

Financial statements are audited annually by an independent registered public accounting firm, McGladrey LLP.

Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

As mentioned previously, Equinox has a relationship with its affiliate, Equinox Group Distributors, LLC which is registered as a securities broker-dealer, under common control. Associated persons of Equinox may be affiliated with Equinox Group Distributors, LLC a FINRA registered Broker/Dealer. Equinox may recommend custodians and broker-dealers based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates. Equinox does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

Directed Brokerage

If a client directs Equinox to use a particular registered representative or brokerage firm, such instructions must be in writing. The client may at any time change such instructions by giving written notice to Equinox. It is the responsibility of the account manager to advise the client in writing that as a result of such brokerage, client may pay a higher brokerage commission than might otherwise be paid if Equinox had been granted discretion to select a broker to handle the client's account. If a client directs Equinox to use a particular registered representative or brokerage firm, the client will be advised that Equinox may be unable to bunch, block or aggregate his/her trades with those of other clients. The inability to bunch trades may result in the client's trades being executed at a price different from trades that are bunched and which may be less favorable.

Best Execution

Equinox conducts reviews of trade executions reports periodically. The specific parameters of these reviews are documented in Equinox IA Manual. Trading fees charged by custodians and brokers are also reviewed by the portfolio management team. Equinox does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Soft Dollars

Equinox does not receive research or other products or services other than execution services from a broker/dealer or a third party in connection with our clients' securities transactions ("soft dollar benefits").

Order Aggregation

The portfolio managers of Equinox may for a number of reasons, bunch, block or aggregate brokerage orders for their clients rather than execute individual transactions for each account. These reasons include:

(1) obtaining lower commission rates; (2) avoiding the time and expense of simultaneously entering similar orders for many individual client accounts that are managed similarly; (3) ensuring that all accounts managed in a particular style obtain the same execution to minimize differences in performance and (4) obtaining a better execution price even though the commission rate may be higher than the lowest rate otherwise available.

Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

On a daily to weekly basis client accounts are reviewed by the portfolio management team, which includes:

- Richard Bornhoft (portfolio manager in respect of Equinox Mutual Hedge Futures Strategy Fund and Equinox Frontier Funds),
- Ajay Dravid (portfolio manager in respect of all Equinox Funds); and
- Rufus Rankin (portfolio manager in respect of all Equinox Funds).

Triggering factors for the reviews include performance for each of the individual Trading Advisors assigned to any given client as well as the performance of the overall client account. Included in the performance factors are current, month to date, and life to date returns, margin to equity usage, market participation, and Trading Advisors' performance within client accounts compared to other accounts traded by the Trading Advisor.

Parameters regarding the reviews are detailed in the client agreement. Each reviewer is assigned to review only up to the maximum number of reports as is practicable.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

Regular Reports

The applicant will distribute written reports to clients on their accounts on a quarterly or more frequent basis. Each report will review the account's performance for the preceding quarter and year-to-date. Each report will discuss any adjustments that have been made to the client's account.

Incoming Referrals

The firm does not engage solicitors to solicit business on our behalf or compensate referring parties for referrals.

Referrals Out

Equinox does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Other Compensation

Limited Power of Attorney

Given the nature of Equinox's business activities, it does not execute Limited Power of Attorney for clients.
