Item 4 – Advisory Business

Overview of our Firm:

Kaufman Kampe Advisors LLC (“Kaufman Kampe”) is an SEC-registered investment firm founded in August 2007. Kaufman Kampe is owned by Lori Kaufman and Valerie Kampe, details of which can be found on our Form ADV Part 1A.

We are a fee-based, comprehensive financial planning and investment advisory firm. We provide personalized confidential financial planning and investment management to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with you and may include: determination of financial objectives, cash flow management, tax planning, investment management, education funding, retirement planning and estate planning. This may include referrals to professionals related to estate planning and insurance solutions. Kaufman Kampe does not offer or make specific recommendations related to insurance products.

Services Offered / Provided

Discretionary Portfolio Management Services (and Personal Financial Planning)

We believe you are best served when we provide complementary services to you. As a result, when you engage (hire) us to manage your accounts (or portfolios), we offer to you our financial planning services as part of the overall service (see Personal Financial Planning Services, described below). Note, however, institutional Clients will not receive a written financial plan. This allows us to provide you with a fully customized portfolio solution through the planning process which validates your current information. With this current information we define:

- Your investment objectives
- Current financial picture, and
- Your investment goals, objectives and risk tolerances

The result is your Investment Policy Statement (IPS). Within the IPS we define your strategic asset allocation. Upon your review of the IPS and strategic asset allocation, we use our discretionary investment authority to construct and implement a portfolio intended to meet your needs and objectives.

Of course, during this process, you may indicate any personal preferences you may have related to your investments, by instructing us to refrain from investing portfolio assets in companies or industries that are inconsistent with your personal beliefs (these are called investment restrictions, and they affect our discretionary authority). If we deem your restrictions to be too restrictive (for example, the restrictions prohibit us from appropriately diversifying your assets) we reserve the right to negotiate your restrictions, or not to accept your account (or terminate the account in the case of existing Clients who impose restrictions we deem (in our sole opinion) as being too restrictive or too difficult to monitor or implement).

Restrictions will be identified in your written Investment Advisory Agreement (“IAA”) with us or in your IPS. You may modify these restrictions; any such modifications are required in writing and are not implemented until approved by us.

Periodically, and as necessary, we may re-balance your portfolio so that it remains consistent with your stated goals and objectives.

Mercer Island, WA 98040

Our discretionary authority is documented in the written IAA we have with you. This agreement also provides us with specific authorizations, including our ability to directly debit our advisory fees from your brokerage / custodial accounts (as described below, under Item 5).

Rollovers from Retirement Plans; Fiduciary Status for Retirement Investors

In recommending that any client roll over retirement plan assets to our management, we have a conflict of interest. Before making any such recommendation we review your existing investment options, fees and expenses, and your overall investment objectives. We only make the recommendation once we've determined that doing so is in your best interest.

As an investment advisor we are a fiduciary to all of our clients. We also explicitly acknowledge that we are a "fiduciary" under ERISA or the Internal Revenue Code, or both, with respect to our investment advisory recommendations and discretionary asset management provided to Retirement Investors under this Agreement. A "Retirement Investor" is defined as (1) a participant or beneficiary of a retirement plan with authority to direct the investment of assets in his or her retirement plan account or to take a distribution; (2) the beneficial owner of an IRA; or (3) a "retail" fiduciary, defined as a retirement plan or IRA fiduciary that is not an "independent fiduciary with financial expertise," as defined in the Department of Labor's Fiduciary Rule.

Personal Financial Planning

A solid financial plan—we can't overstate its importance. A written and comprehensive plan outlines your objectives, clarifies your goals, sets your priorities, and serves as the compass that guides every financial decision you make.

We walk you through a financial planning process based on the "big picture" and all its many pieces. Using discovery conversations, we discuss your thoughts, needs, and concerns surrounding:

- Retirement
- Investing
- Education
- Taxes
- Insurance
- Estate, and
- Giving

With a thorough understanding of your objectives, we are able to formulate a plan that includes an integrated set of strategies based on established planning and investment techniques.

Once your initial plan is developed, we work with you to systematically implement your strategies. Then we periodically review and measure your progress to remain aligned with your plan. This process keeps our understanding of your situation fresh and allows us to update your plan as needed.

Planning and plan implementation are much more than just an investment portfolio; a comprehensive plan (and then on-going topical issues or projects) may include (and is not limited to) the following:

- Analysis of your net worth
- Cash flow projections
- Retirement planning
- Educational savings

- Estate planning needs
- Risk management (insurance and appropriate levels of coverage for your family)
- Tax management and planning

Kaufman Kampe does not provide tax advice or estate planning; as a result, we encourage you to consult your accountant and attorney for specific implementation on such matters.

You will receive a written plan that includes certain projections based on output from our planning software and/or other available resources. All reports, financial statement projections, and other data are intended for your use in assessing and implementing your financial plan. As a result, the statements or other materials should not be considered complete financial statements. As you know, the more accurate the data provided to us (directly by you or by your other professional advisors (attorney, accountant)) the better the output in your written plan. Of course, we do not have responsibility to verify the data you (or your other professionals) provide as information necessary to complete your plan. We are, by our written planning agreement we have with you, authorized to rely on this data and information.

We strongly urge our planning clients to contact us promptly if there are changes to your financial situation or life situation (marriage, divorce, inheritance, pregnancy, etc.) that can impact your goals, objectives or personal situation. These events may cause us to review, evaluate and/or revise your financial plan. The result can be changes in previous recommendations or advice.

Financial plan recommendations often differ between projected and actual results, as events or circumstances are not predictable, do not occur as expected, or occur with different results than expected. Our analyses are highly dependent upon certain economic assumptions that you make about the future. We advise our clients as to the consistency (over time) of your personal assumptions (in the context of historical data); however, we do not express assurances on the accuracy or reasonableness of your personal assumptions. You are ultimately responsible for the accuracy of the information and personal data provided to us to generate your financial plan.

Assets Under Management (as of 12/31/2017):

Type	AUM in US Dollars
Discretionary	$110,131,033
Non-Discretionary	$0.00
Total AUM	$110,131,033

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Fees we charge for our services are described below (in the same sequence as the services are described and listed above).

Portfolio Management (and Personal Financial Planning)

Our portfolio management services are provided according to the asset-based fee schedule below. We recommend a minimum account size of $500,000 for these services.

Our recommended minimum account size is not a “required minimum”, however. We will, on a case-by-case basis, when requested, accept relationships smaller than $500,000; however, to do so, we impose a minimum annual fee of $5,000 per year or $1,250 per quarter. This means the annualized asset-based fee may exceed our standard fee schedule (as indicated below) of 1.0%.

7525 SE 24th Street, Suite 670
Mercer Island, WA 98040
206-275-2277
March 28, 2018
www.kaufmankampe.com

In addition, the effective minimum annual fee may exceed 2% of the assets under management if the account is smaller than $250,000. This minimum annual fee on accounts under $500,000 and specifically under $250,000 is an asset-based fee that may exceed the asset-based percentage fee charged by other investment advisers who offer the same or similar services.

We may also waive the minimum annual fee, at our sole determination.

Assets Under Management	Annual Rate (percentage)
First $1 million	1.00%
Over $1 million	0.75%

One written financial plan, per each 12-month period is included in this fee. Additional planning services are charged an additional fee (see Financial Planning Fees, below) as we mutually agree.

Fees are payable quarterly in advance on the first day of the calendar quarter based upon the market value of your account(s) at the end of the previous quarter as provided by your third party, qualified custodian (see Item 12 below). For accounts opened during a calendar quarter, the initial quarterly fee is based on the balance of assets in the account on the 15th business day following the initial asset deposit. We call this date the Billing Inception Date. Fees are charged based on the Billing Inception date to the end of the quarter (for the number of days our services were provided). The initial quarterly fee for accounts opened during a calendar quarter is typically deducted from your account within the first 30 business days following the initial asset deposit.

For accounts closed during a calendar quarter, we will refund any pre-paid but unearned advisory fees promptly (typically within 30 days of the date of termination).

Fee Payment – Directly Debited

Fees are typically directly debited from your designated custodial account at your qualified custodian, subject, of course, to your written authorization that you provide in the written agreement we have with you.

Your custodian will send you a statement (typically monthly, but at least quarterly), showing all transactions in your account (including all debits and credits, and including the advisory fees paid to us).

It is your responsibility to verify the accuracy of our fee calculation. Your custodian does not perform this task.

Personal Financial Planning

Personal Financial Planning fees are typically fixed at $10,000. However, this fee is waived for clients who also use us for Portfolio Management Services (see fees, above).

Unusually complex client situations may be charged a higher fee, however, there are no ranges of these fees (they will exceed $10,000).

Initial Deposit: We require a prepayment of $5,000 (with the executed planning agreement) to start the service.

The balance of the fee is due and payable upon our completion of the plan (and its presentation to you), or five months after the initial invoice, whichever comes first. We typically provide written plans as soon as we receive all the required information; and generally within 5 months of the execution of the agreement and payment of the retainer.

General Information on Advisory Services and Fees

- Our services are available to family members and friends of our employees at no fee or at fee rates that are lower than those reflected above. Our family / friend fee schedules are not available to our non-family / friend clients.

 - Other accounts or AUM we manage
 - Potential for increased AUM over time
 - Type of Client
- Official record of your Account(s): for performance and cost basis information (including capital gains or loss information), the "official" record-keeper of your account data and information is your third party, qualified custodian (bank, broker, trust company, insurance company, mutual fund complex, etc.). As a result, although we try to manage tax lots (in taxable portfolios) for long term gains or losses, the official record-keeper is your custodian. If you have questions on our tax lot management and how that compares with your custodian, please contact us to discuss tax lot management, as applicable.
- Additional fees or expenses you will pay (these fees and expenses are not included in the Advisory Fees (described above)) that you pay to us; we do not participate directly or indirectly in any of these fees that you pay to others):

 - Wire transfer and electronic fund processing fees;
 - Commissions or mark-ups / mark-downs on security transactions.;

Other Items in this Brochure provide additional information and disclosure related to "other costs" you may incur. Please see Item 12.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client account (so-called performance-based fees). Our advisory fees are charged only as indicated above (Item 5).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

The services described under Item 4, above are provided to Individuals, Trusts, Estates, and Organizations.

Please see Item 4 for our recommended minimum account size and minimum quarterly fee (both of which are negotiable or may be waived).

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Method of Analysis:

Our analysis methodology of securities to use in client portfolios is conducted on a fundamental basis. We examine the company (or mutual fund or exchange-traded fund) to assess its qualitative and quantitative factors which allow us to evaluate whether the security is suited to our clients' investment strategies in terms of quality, diversification, and cost.

Sources of Information:

We use a number of sources in obtaining information on which we base our security selection decisions (and related buy / sell) decisions. These include the following:

- Financial newspapers / magazines
- Research materials prepared by third parties
- Annual reports, prospectus' and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission

Investment Strategies:

Our primary strategies include the following:

- Long term investing (holding positions over 1 year)
- Short term investing (holding positions under 1 year)
- Margin (as requested by specific clients)

Note: the use of margin for any client creates additional expense for the account (and costs you more money). Your broker / custodian will "loan" you cash (using your account holdings as collateral). You are charged interest on the loan amount, and if the markets fall, you may need to pay in additional capital (or securities), called a "margin call". See the Options and Margin paperwork and disclosures from your broker / custodian for additional detail. Margin may be of use for a client when you own a significant position in a public company at a low cost basis. Margin allows diversification of your account assets without realizing capital gains (and tax liability).

Types of Securities:

We provide investment advice on the following types of Investments (or securities):

- Exchange listed (stocks, exchange-traded funds, real estate investment trusts, etc.)
- Over the counter (OTC) securities
- Corporate debt (bonds)
- Certificates of deposits (CDs)

- Mutual fund shares
- US Government securities
- Options on securities

Risk of Loss:

Investing in securities carries with it the potential for the loss of some (or all) of your invested assets. Kaufman Kampe does not guarantee or imply any level of success in the portfolio management or Personal Financial Planning services that we provide to you. As a result, you should be prepared (as recent events have indicated) for significant losses in your accounts or assets, including unrealized capital gains or appreciation (securities that were not sold to lock in profits). In addition, you will also be subject to the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

As of the date of this Brochure, we do not have any items to disclose to you for Kaufman Kampe or either of our Managing Members.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Kaufman Kampe is an independent investment advisory firm and only provides investment advisory services. The firm is not engaged in any other business activities and offers no other services than those described in this Disclosure Brochure. Neither Kaufman Kampe nor its Managing Members has any registrations or other material relationships with a broker-dealer or other registered entity.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Kaufman Kampe has adopted a Code of Ethics ("the Code"), which sets forth the high ethical standards of business conduct that we expect of our employees, including compliance with state and federal securities laws. The Code provides guidance and specific standards of conduct for situations where violations, inadvertent or otherwise, could occur in the conduct of business. Employees must avoid situations where their personal interest conflicts with the interest of the company and our clients. The Code describes appropriate conduct surrounding gifts, outside employment, fiduciary appointments, political activities, personal investments and trading activities. In addition, the Code prohibits dishonest and fraudulent acts and reaffirms our commitment to client confidentiality. Every employee is required to annually sign a statement acknowledging that he or she agrees to follow the standards set forth in the Code.

Material, non-public information. Kaufman Kampe has also established a policy relating to material, non-public information. This policy stipulates that no person of Kaufman Kampe may take any action for themselves, the firm, any personal securities account, any Client account (portfolio management or consulting), or communicate to any person information that is known to Kaufman Kampe (or our employees) unless that information is available to the investing public.

Personal Securities Trading:

Kaufman Kampe and our principals "follow our own advice". As a result, we may buy or sell (at the same or different times) the same securities that are recommended to our Clients. Securities, including mutual funds may be bought, held or sold by employees.

Kaufman Kampe has no obligation to recommend for purchase or sale a security that Kaufman Kampe or our employees may purchase, sell, or hold. When a decision is made to liquidate a security from all applicable accounts, priority is always given to the client's order before those of a related or associated person of Kaufman Kampe.

Kaufman Kampe has procedures dealing with insider trading, employee-related accounts, "front running" and other issues that may present a potential conflict when such purchase, sales or recommendations are made. In general, these policies and procedures are intended to manage (and mitigate) the potential conflicts of interest.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by contacting us at the telephone number or email on the cover page of this Brochure.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

We do not have brokerage discretionary authority (the ability to select a broker and negotiate commissions on a transaction-by-transaction basis).

We do, however, recommend a broker dealer / custodian to our Clients. We also require our Clients to "direct" us to utilize that broker / custodian for all of your securities transactions we place on your behalf (via a limited power of attorney you enter into with the broker / custodian, which authorizes us to place trades on your behalf at your directed broker). It is your decision to select Schwab and direct us to place all transactions for your account at Schwab.

As a result, Kaufman Kampe participates in the Charles Schwab & Company (Schwab) Advisor Services Program. We recommend only Schwab to clients in need of brokerage and custodial services.

Schwab is a securities broker dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and a member of Securities Investors Protection Corporation (SIPC).

We are not affiliated with Schwab; Kaufman Kampe is an independent registered investment adviser.

Your selection and subsequent "direction" of us to use Schwab for your transactions is documented in the written agreement we have with you for portfolio management services. We have based this recommendation on a combination of the following factors:

- Execution capabilities
- Reputation
- Financial strength
- Pricing
- Research
- Service
- Unique investment product offerings
- Dedicated service team
- Local personnel
- Resources provided over the internet
- Electronic account documents
- Commissions/transaction fees
- Technological support
- Back office capabilities and facilities, including any software provided
- Promptness and accuracy of statements
- Financial condition
- Professionalism and reliability

In seeking "best execution", the determining factor is not the lowest possible commission cost but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of broker dealer services, including those items listed above.

Schwab provides Kaufman Kampe with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. retail investors.

These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' account assets are maintained in accounts at Schwab.

7525 SE 24th Street, Suite 670
Mercer Island, WA 98040
206-275-2277
March 28, 2018
www.kaufmankampe.com

These services are not contingent upon Kaufman Kampe committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions).

Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For Kaufman Kampe client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts. Schwab makes available to Kaufman Kampe products and services that benefit Kaufman Kampe but may not directly benefit your account. Schwab's products and services that assist Kaufman Kampe in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that

- Provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements);
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- Provide research, pricing and other market data;
- Facilitate payment of Kaufman Kampe's fees from your custodial account; and
- Assist with back-office functions, record-keeping, and client reporting.

Schwab also offers other services intended to help Kaufman Kampe manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include:

- Compliance, legal and business consulting;
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Kaufman Kampe. Schwab may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third party providing these services to Kaufman Kampe. Schwab may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of Kaufman Kampe personnel.

In evaluating whether to recommend or require that clients custody their assets at Schwab, Kaufman Kampe takes into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Clients do not pay higher commissions than those obtainable from other brokers in return for the services made available to Kaufman Kampe. However, clients may find lower commission rates available at other brokers.

Broker-dealers, such as Schwab, charge asset-based fees and/or brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees for effecting certain securities transactions (i.e., transaction fees are charged for certain no-load mutual funds, commissions are charged for individual equity and fixed income securities transactions). In addition to Kaufman Kampe's investment management fee, brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees, the client will also incur, relative to all exchange-traded and mutual fund purchases, charges imposed at the exchange-traded fund and/or mutual fund level (e.g., management fees and other fund expenses).

Aggregated Orders

When we decide to purchase or sell a specific security for multiple clients at the same time, we will consider aggregating, or combining the orders. This procedure will result in a single average price for all client transactions in the aggregated order. The account custodian charges for each transaction as if it were placed individually.

7525 SE 24th Street, Suite 670
Mercer Island, WA 98040

Trade Errors Policy

From time to time we may make an error in submitting a trade order on a client's behalf. When this occurs, we may place a correcting trade with the broker-dealer which has custody of the client's account. The goal of this transaction will be to restore the account to the intended status at no cost to the client.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Reviews and Reviewers:

Portfolio Management Accounts are reviewed by either of our Managing Members. Accounts are reviewed no less than quarterly; accounts may be reviewed more frequently depending upon:

- A change in your financial or personal situation
- Changes in capital markets
- Global or world economic events
- Changes in our investment strategies
- Among others

We request a meeting (via telephone or in person) to review your objectives and account performance (at least annually).

Financial Plans: Plans may be reviewed, but are not required to be reviewed annually. We do recommend an annual review of the plan.

All clients are requested to notify us promptly if there are changes in your personal financial situation.

Reports:

We provide each portfolio management client a written report (delivered via hard or electronic copy) on a quarterly basis. These reports are in addition to the monthly reports you receive from your qualified custodian. Content includes:

- Summary of assets in the account
- Cost basis (acquisition cost, if available)
- Current market value (as of the report date as provided by your custodian), and
- Asset allocation

A summary of investment performance is also provided at least once per year.

Note that the reports we provide you may differ in total portfolio value when compared to your custodial reports. This is due to our reports being delivered quarterly (and custodial reports being delivered monthly directly to you). In addition, there may be variations of prices, incorrect prices as delivered by your custodian on a report date (and corrected by Kaufman Kampe), accrued interest due or payable, or dividends that were not yet credited, among other valid reasons.

If you have any questions on our reports or the reports provided by your custodian, please contact us. If you do not receive your report directly from your custodian, please contact your custodian or us; your receipt of custodial statements directly from your custodian is very important.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client referrals: Kaufman Kampe does not compensate any entity or individual for client referrals nor are we compensated for referring clients to other professionals.

Other compensation: Kaufman Kampe receives certain economic benefits from Charles Schwab, described above in Item 12. Our receipt of such services creates a conflict of interest in that it gives us incentives to recommend Charles Schwab over other custodians who do not provide such services to us. However, as part of our fiduciary duty to our clients, we endeavor at all times to put our clients' interest before our own. We discuss the services Charles Schwab provides to us in detail in Item 12.

Item 15 – Custody

All client funds and securities are maintained with a qualified custodian (Charles Schwab); we don't take physical possession of client assets. Our clients will receive account statements and transaction confirmation notices directly from the custodian at least quarterly, which they should carefully review. We urge clients to carefully compare the custodian's account statements with the periodic statements and reports they receive from us and to notify us promptly of any discrepancies.

Kaufman Kampe has the ability to deduct our advisory fees directly from client accounts based on the client's written authorization to do so, and this ability is technically considered "custody" but doesn't require separate reporting or surprise audits. In addition, in some cases Kaufman Kampe obtains standing letters of authorization ("SLOAs") from clients. These are written directives from the client authorizing us to initiate payments from their custodial accounts to specified third parties. This authority is considered "custody" under SEC guidance and requires us to report that we have custody over these account assets on our ADV 1A. To the extent the SLOAs comply with certain conditions, however, including that clients have the right to terminate the SLOA, and that the qualified custodian will confirm the status of the SLOA annually directly with the client, we are not subject to a surprise custody audit.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

As stated under Item 5, above, we have the discretionary investment authority, for portfolio management clients to select the securities, the amount of securities and timing of security purchase or sale decisions for your portfolios (accounts).

We will only do so when the transaction is suitable for your investment needs and goals (as documented in the IPS we have with you). We are also guided by your specific investment restrictions, if any.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities (i.e., Proxy Voting)

Kaufman Kampe does not have the authority (stipulated in our investment advisory agreement we have with you) to vote proxies (or corporate actions) for the securities held in your portfolios.

As a result, you will instruct your custodian to deliver proxy related materials to you directly. Should we receive your proxy materials, we will forward them to you immediately (within 24 hours).

Accounts subject to ERISA (Employee Retirement Security Act of 1974, as amended): Kaufman Kampe is precluded from taking any action or rendering advice on the voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to issuers of securities held in an ERISA Client's account.

Exception: If an ERISA client has notified Kaufman Kampe in writing that we have the responsibility and authority to vote proxies (as indicated in the plan or trust documents; i.e., the named fiduciary (investment adviser)) we will do so.

However, ERISA clients who delegate such responsibility are obligated to provide Kaufman Kampe a copy of their specific proxy voting policies and procedures to ensure that we vote proxies at your specific instructions.

We will provide you any reports (on shares, ballots or votes) as you require.

Item 18 – Financial Information

As a registered investment adviser, we are obligated to disclose to you certain financial information or disclosure regarding our financial condition. Kaufman Kampe does not have a financial commitment (or situation) that impairs our ability to meet contractual or fiduciary obligations to our clients.

We have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
