VISION2020 WEALTH MANAGEMENT PLATFORM – ADVISOR MANAGED PORTFOLIOS PROGRAM

The Wealth Management Platform – Advisor Managed Portfolios Program (“Advisor Managed Portfolios”) provides comprehensive investment management of your assets through the application of asset allocation planning software as well as the provision of execution, clearing and custodial services through Pershing, LLC (“Pershing”).

Advisor Managed Portfolios provides risk tolerance assessment, efficient frontier plotting, fund profiling and performance data, and portfolio optimization and re-balancing tools. Utilizing these tools, and based on your responses to a risk tolerance questionnaire (“Questionnaire”) and discussions that we have together regarding, among other things, investment objective, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, account restrictions, and overall financial situation, we construct a portfolio of investments for you. Portfolios may consist of mutual funds, exchange traded funds, equities, debt securities, variable life, variable annuity sub-accounts (certain restrictions may apply) and other investments.

Each portfolio is designed to meet your individual needs, stated goals and objectives. Additionally, you have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio.

For further Advisor Managed Portfolios details, please see the Advisor Managed Portfolios Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in Advisor Managed Portfolios. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

VISION2020 WEALTH MANAGEMENT PLATFORM – MODEL PORTFOLIOS PROGRAM

The Wealth Management Platform - Model Portfolios Program ("Model Program") offers Clients managed asset allocation models ("Asset Allocation Models") of mutual funds or exchange traded funds ("ETFs") diversified across various investment styles and strategies. The Asset Allocation Models are constructed by managers ("Program Managers") such as Russell Investment Management Company, ICON Advisers, Inc. and Morningstar Associates, LLC.

Based upon the risk tolerance of each Client, the Model Program utilizes a system that selects a specific Asset Allocation Model which may contain either 1) a combination of mutual funds or 2) a combination of exchange traded funds ("ETFs") depending on which Program Manager is used. Together, we will select a recommended Asset Allocation Model. After the Asset Allocation Model is chosen, we, with the assistance of the Model Program sponsor, will open a Model Program account. Your assets will be invested in the specific investments contained within the recommended Asset Allocation Model. You have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on investments held within the Model Program account.

For further Model Program details, including a full list of Program Managers, please see the Model Program Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in the Model Program. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

VISION2020 WEALTH MANAGEMENT PLATFORM – SMA AND UMA PROGRAM

The Wealth Management Platform – SMA and UMA Account Program ("Wealth Managed Account Program" or "WMAP") provides you with the opportunity to invest your assets across multiple investment strategies and asset classes by implementing an asset allocation strategy. WMAP is a Wrap Account program that offers these advisory services along with brokerage and custodial services for a single, annual, asset-based advisory fee.

We will present you with a WMAP asset allocation model ("WMAP Model") for your approval which will consist of: 1) third party money managers ("WMAP Managers") who will manage your WMAP account according to a particular equity or fixed income model or strategy, or 2) no-load mutual funds ("Funds"), or 3) exchange traded funds ("ETFs") or any combination thereof (individually or collectively, "WMAP Investments"). WMAP Investments will be managed according to the selected WMAP Model. WMAP Investments are held within a separately managed account or a series of separately managed accounts (collectively, "SMA Account") or in one, unified managed account ("UMA Account").

We will suggest a WMAP Model to you based on your responses to a risk tolerance questionnaire ("Questionnaire") and discussion that we have together regarding among other things, investment objective, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, account restrictions, and overall financial situation. In addition, you have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on investments held within your WMAP account.

For further WMAP details, please see the WMAP Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in WMAP. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

THIRD PARTY ADVISORY SERVICES

We offer our clients the services of various third party investment advisors (“Third-Party Advisory Services”) for the provision of certain investment advisory programs including mutual fund wrap and separately managed account programs.

If you are interested in learning more about any of these services, please note that a complete description of the programs, services, fees and payment structure, and termination features is available via the applicable Third Party Advisory Service’s disclosure brochures, investment advisory contracts, and account opening documents.

In connection with these arrangements, we will provide assistance in the selection and ongoing monitoring of a particular Third-Party Advisory Service. Factors that we consider in the selection of a particular third-party advisor may include but may not be limited to: i) our assessment of a particular Third-Party Advisory Service; ii) your risk tolerance, goals, objectives and restrictions, as well as investment experience; and, iii) the assets you have available for investment.

You should know that the services provided by us through the use of Third-Party Advisory Services are under certain conditions directly offered by them to you. The fees charged by Third-Party Advisory Services who offer their programs directly to you may be more or less than the combined fees charged by the Third Party Advisory Service and us for our participation in the investment programs. However, when using the services of Third-Party Advisory Services directly, you do not receive our expertise in developing an investment strategy, selecting a Third-Party Advisory Service, monitoring the performance of your account and changing a Third-Party Advisory Service provider when appropriate.

These fees are in addition to the fees and expenses referenced above. Please review the mutual fund prospectus for full details.

Variable annuity companies generally impose internal fees and expenses on your variable annuity investment, including contingent deferred sales charges and early redemption fees. In addition, variable annuity companies generally impose mortality charges of approximately 1.25% annually. These fees are in addition to the fees and expenses referenced above. Complete details of such internal expenses are specified and disclosed in each variable annuity company’s prospectus. Please review the Variable Annuity prospectus for full details.

In addition to the per-trade transaction charges referenced above, you will also be subject to per-trade confirmation fees as disclosed on your trade confirmation (typically $4.00 per trade). You may also be subject to an additional, per-trade transaction charge on the selling of certain securities as disclosed on your trade confirmation (generally less than $1.00 on trades of $50,000 or less). These fees are not shared with us but are transaction charges paid to Royal Alliance and our custodian. Please see Item 10 which explains our relationship with Royal Alliance.

You will be charged an additional fee of $1.50 for each trade confirmation that you do not elect to receive electronically. You may also be subject to an additional, per-trade transaction charge on the selling of certain securities as disclosed on your trade confirmation (generally less than $1.00 on trades of $50,000 or less). These fees are not shared with us but are transaction charges paid to Royal Alliance and our custodian. Please see Item 10 which explains our relationship with Royal Alliance.

There are additional fees relating to IRA and Qualified Retirement Plan accounts that you may incur such as maintenance and termination fees. You will find these fees disclosed in the account application paperwork provided to you associated with these accounts.

In addition to providing advisory services, our Advisory Representatives will likely also sell you securities products and other investment and insurance products in their capacity as registered representatives of Royal Alliance and as licensed insurance agents. We will receive additional compensation in connection with this activity and the amount of compensation will depend on the type of product purchased. We will have a greater financial incentive to sell certain products as opposed to others (for example, in the case of mutual funds those that have a higher 12b-1 fee than others). While our security sales are reviewed for suitability by an appointed supervisor, you should be aware of the incentives we have to sell certain securities products and are encouraged to ask us about any conflict presented.

Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm in connection with providing you with any advisory service that we offer.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Not applicable. We do not charge performance-based fees.

Item 7: Types of Clients

We provide advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations and corporations.

We do require minimum amounts to open various advisory accounts. The account minimum for the Wealth Management Platform is generally $50,000. RASA 044 Accounts have no minimum. Each Third Party Advisory Service that we offer has its own account minimum. Their account minimums are disclosed to you through their own Form ADV and associated paperwork that will be presented to you.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis:

When analyzing investments that may be right for you, we use a methodology that utilizes both quantitative and qualitative factors into evaluating investment managers and their strategies, to arrive at a score for the investment. This scoring system is built around pass/fail criteria, on a scale of 0 to 10 (with 10 being the best).

Ninety percent of the investment's score is quantitative, incorporating modern portfolio theory statistics, risk and return factors, style attribution analysis and peer group rankings. The remaining ten percent of the score is qualitative, taking into account the average tenure of the investment management team. Other criteria that may be considered include the viability of the firm managing the assets, management or personnel issues, regulatory issues and/or whether there has been a change in direction of the stated investment strategy.

Combined, these factors represent our way of measuring the relative performance, characteristics, behavior and overall appropriateness of an investment for inclusion in your portfolio. General investment guidelines are illustrated below:

Good:	9-10 Points
Acceptable:	7-8 Points
Watch List:	5-6 Points
Poor:	0-4 Points

An investment scoring a 7 or better may be selected for your portfolio. Investments are reviewed quarterly. If an investment scores a 5 or 6, it is placed on a watch list. If an investment remains on the watch list for two consecutive quarters, it is removed from your portfolio and replaced with another investment scoring at least a 7. Investments which score 4 or lower are evaluated for immediate removal and replacement in your portfolio.

Investment Strategies:

Subject to suitability requirements, we generally advise the long-term purchase of mutual funds to our clients. Long-term purchases are typically defined as the purchase of securities held for at least a year. However, we do utilize a tactical approach to asset allocation, which means we may overweight a certain asset class at any given time, if we feel it is undervalued relative to others. This may cause us to utilize short-term purchases, in which securities are held for less than one year.

Methods of Analysis Risks:

When using quantitative and qualitative analysis, we generally rely on, among other things, data base subscriptions for the statistics utilized in our methodology. Data we review is generally considered reliable but we cannot guarantee nor have we verified its accuracy. In addition, the data that we review is sometimes subjective in nature and open to interpretation. Even if our data and interpretation of the data is correct, there may be other factors that determine the value of securities other than those considered in quantitative and qualitative analysis.

Investment Strategy Risks:

Long-term purchases – Using a long-term purchase strategy generally assumes the Financial Markets will go up in the long-term which may not be the case. There is also the risk that the segment of the market that you are invested in or perhaps just your particular investment will go down over time even if the overall Financial Markets advance. Purchasing investments long-term may create an opportunity cost - “locking-up” assets that may be better utilized in the short-term in other investments.

Short-term purchases – Using a short-term purchase strategy generally assumes that we can predict how Financial Markets will perform in the short-term which may be very difficult. There are many factors that can affect Financial Market performance in the short-term (such as short-term interest rate changes, cyclical earnings announcements, etc.) but may have a smaller impact over longer periods of times.

Security Type Risks:

Mutual Funds – Investing in mutual funds involves the assumption of risk including:

- Manager Risk: which is the risk that an actively managed mutual fund’s investment adviser will fail to execute the fund’s stated investment strategy.
- Market Risk: which is the risk that the Stock Market will decline, decreasing the value of the securities contained within the mutual funds we recommend to you.
- Industry Risk: which is the risk that a group of stocks in a single industry will decline in price due to adverse developments in that industry, decreasing the value of mutual funds that are significantly invested in that industry.
- Inflation Risk: which is the risk that the rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with the mutual fund.

Exchange-traded funds (ETFs) combine aspects of mutual funds and conventional stocks. Like a mutual fund, an ETF is a pooled investment fund that offers an investor an interest in a professionally managed, diversified portfolio of investments. Unlike mutual funds, ETF shares trade like stocks on stock exchanges and can be bought or sold throughout the trading day at fluctuating prices. This enables investors to buy and sell ETF shares like the shares of any publicly-traded company. Market inefficiencies can cause ETF shares to trade at premiums or discounts to their net asset value. Also, during the trading day there is a difference between the price you pay to acquire an ETF and the price at which you can sell it (referred to as the “spread”). For some ETFs the spread can be large. There is also no guarantee that an active secondary market for a particular ETF will exist when a shareholder wants to sell his or her shares. When we invest in an ETF or mutual fund for a client, the client will bear additional expenses based on the pro rata share of the ETFs or mutual fund’s operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds.

Associated Risks:

When using quantitative and qualitative analysis, we generally rely on, among other things, data base subscriptions for the statistics utilized in our methodology. Data we review is generally considered reliable but we cannot guarantee nor have we verified its accuracy. In addition, the data that we review is sometimes subjective in nature and open to interpretation. Even if our data and interpretation of the data is correct, there may be other factors that determine the value of securities other than those considered in quantitative and qualitative analysis.

When pursuing our long-term purchase strategy, we are assuming the Financial Markets will go up in the long-term which may not be the case. There is also the risk that the segment of the market that you are invested in or perhaps just your particular investment will go down over time even if the overall Financial Markets advance. Purchasing investments long-term may create an opportunity cost - "locking-up" assets that may be better utilized in the short-term in other investments.

When pursuing our short-term purchase strategy, we are assuming that we can predict how Financial Markets will perform in the short-term which may be very difficult. There are many factors that can affect Financial Market performance in the short-term (such as short-term interest rate changes, cyclical earnings announcements, etc.) but may have a smaller impact over longer periods of times.

We primarily recommend mutual funds to you. Investing in mutual funds involves the assumption of risk including:

- Manager Risk: which is the risk that an actively managed mutual fund's investment adviser will fail to execute the fund's stated investment strategy.
- Market Risk: which is the risk that the Stock Market will decline, decreasing the value of the securities contained within the mutual funds we recommend to you.
- Industry Risk: which is the risk that a group of stocks in a single industry will decline in price due to adverse developments in that industry, decreasing the value of mutual funds that are significantly invested in that industry.
- Inflation Risk: which is the risk that the rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with the mutual fund.

Listed above are some of the primary risks associated with the way we recommend investments to you, please do not hesitate to contact us to discuss these risks and others in more detail. In instances where we recommend that a third party manage your assets, please refer to the third party's ADV and associated disclosure documents for details on their investment strategies, methods of analysis and associated risks.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Not applicable.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

All representatives of our firm that provide advice to you (“Advisory Representatives”) are associated with Royal Alliance Associates, Inc. (“Royal Alliance”) as Registered Representatives. Royal Alliance is a diversified financial services company registered with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) as a broker-dealer engaged in the offer and sale of securities products. Our Advisory Representatives may recommend the purchase of securities offered by Royal Alliance. If you purchase these products through them, they will receive normal commissions which may be in addition to customary advisory fees. As such, Advisory Representatives may have an incentive to sell you commissionable products in addition to providing you with advisory services when such commissionable products may not be suitable. Alternatively, they may have an incentive to forego providing you with advisory services when appropriate, and instead recommend the purchase of commissionable investments, if they deem that the payout for recommending the purchase of these investments would be higher than providing management advice on these products for an advisory fee. Therefore, a conflict of interest may exist between their interests and your best interests.

While our security sales are reviewed for suitability by an appointed supervisor, you should be aware of the incentives we have to sell certain securities products and are encouraged to ask us about any conflict presented.

In addition, some members of our RIA are affiliated with Royal’s Investment Advisor. Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm in connection with providing you with any advisory service that we offer.

We are affiliated with D’Arcangelo Financial Group, LLC (DFG), an SEC registered investment adviser (SEC File No. 801-70094), a joint venture formed by members of Paradigm and D’Arcangelo & Co., LLP, a certified public accounting firm. As disclosed on its written disclosure statement, DFG provides its clients (individuals, business entities, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, etc.) with discretionary investment advisory services in conjunction with the sub-advisory services we provide to DFG. We share with DFG common ownership, management, investment and administrative personnel, and offices.

Our advisory representatives are also licensed as insurance agents. We may, from time to time, recommend to clients insurance products, including variable annuities, fixed annuities, and other life and health insurance products. Such recommendations may be considered to create a conflict of interest because they may result in an increase in compensation to us. Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase any insurance products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm.

A Company may also engage us to provide a review of executive benefits, for separate compensation:

We will work with the Company to determine in advance the scope of services to be performed and the fees for all requested services. Prior to engaging us to provide pension consulting services, the Company will be required to enter into a written agreement with us setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement, describing the scope of the services to be provided, and the relevant fees and fee paying arrangements. The services outlined above that we provide are explained in more detail in the written agreement. We will also provide additional disclosures about our services and fees, where required by ERISA.

When we perform our agreed upon services, we will not be required to verify the accuracy or consistency of any information received from the Company.

We will serve in a nondiscretionary ERISA fiduciary capacity with respect to some but not all of the services that we provide which will be further explained in the written agreement we sign with the Company. The Company is always free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommendations made by us.

Due to the fact that we receive compensation from Third Party Investment Advisers for utilizing their services for clients and because such compensation may differ depending upon the individual agreement with each Third party Investment Adviser, we may have an incentive to recommend one of these Third Party Investment Advisers over others who may have a less favorable compensation arrangement or other advisory programs previously mentioned. In instances where we recommend that a Third Party Investment Adviser manage your assets, please refer to the Third Party's ADV and associated disclosure documents for details on its compensation arrangements.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (the “Code”) to address securities-related conduct. The Code focuses primarily on fiduciary duty, personal securities transactions, insider trading, gifts, and conflicts of interest. The Code includes our policies and procedures developed to protect your interests in relation to the following topics:

- The duty at all times to place your interests first;
- The requirement that all personal securities transactions be conducted in such a manner as to be consistent with the Code and to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest or any abuse of an employee’s position of trust and responsibility;
- The fiduciary principle that information concerning the identity of your security holdings and financial circumstances are confidential; and
- The principle that independence in the investment decision-making process is paramount.

We will provide a copy of the Code to you or any prospective client upon request.

We may recommend securities to you or buy or sell securities for your account at or about the same time we may buy or sell the same securities in our own account. As such, there may be instances where our interests may appear to be placed ahead of yours. To mitigate this conflict, our firm policy prohibits us from receiving a better price on our order, if you and we invest in the same security on the same side of the market on the same day.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

As described in Item 10, our Advisory Representatives are also Registered Representatives of Royal Alliance, a FINRA registered broker-dealer. In order to meet its FINRA supervisory obligations, Royal Alliance requires that all investment advisory activities that we conduct are processed through Royal Alliance's clearing relationships with Pershing LLC ("Pershing"). As a result, we do not have the discretion to choose the broker-dealer or commission rates to be paid. However, we do believe that Pershing's blend of execution services, commission and transaction costs as well as professionalism will allow us to seek best execution and competitive prices.

In connection with the provision of Third Party Advisory Services, our choice of custodian will be limited to those choices offered by the Third Party Advisory Service.

We may aggregate your orders with those of other clients in a bunched trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold. For each account that we include in the bunched trade, we must reasonably believe that the bunched order is consistent with our duty to seek best execution and may benefit you and each client participating in the aggregated order. The average price per share of each bunched trade is allocated to each account that participates in the bunched trade. Accounts that participate in the same bunched trade are charged transaction costs, if applicable, in accordance with their advisory contracts.

If a bunched order cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation. Partial fills will be allocated in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular client accounts and are generally filled pro-rata among participating accounts.

In return for effecting securities transactions through Royal Alliance, we may receive certain investment research products and/or services which assist us in our investment decision-making process for you, pursuant to Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This is generally referred to as a "soft dollar" arrangement. Section 28(e) provides a safe harbor for persons who exercise investment discretion over accounts to pay for research and brokerage services with commission dollars generated by account transactions. This research is generally deemed to consist of products and services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to us in the performance of our investment decision making responsibilities.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Accounts under our management and supervision will be reviewed by us on an ongoing basis. You will be contacted at least annually by one of the following representatives to review your financial status, goals, and objectives:

Laurie A. Schoen, President
Amy L. Mielnicki, Executive Vice President

Janice P. Williams, Chief Compliance Officer, is responsible for ensuring that such reviews and contacts are made.

You will receive written Quarterly Performance Reports (“QPRs”) from us on a quarterly basis for the following Advisory Programs: Wealth Management Platform (Advisor Managed Portfolios, Model Portfolios, SMA and UMA Programs). These reports contain the following information:

- Summary of all the accounts we manage for you
- Performance of your accounts over stated time periods and how they compare to selected benchmarks

If you have a RASA account, you will receive a written quarterly statement from us containing the following information:

- Asset allocation of your investment holdings
- Details of your investment holdings

If you have an account with a Third party Advisory Service, you will receive a written QPR from us containing the following information:

- Summary of all the accounts we manage for you
- Performance of your accounts over stated time periods and how they compare to selected benchmarks
- Asset allocation of your investment holdings
- Details of your investment holdings

If you are a pension consulting client, you will receive a written Quarterly Fiduciary Investment Review from us containing the following information:

- Details of your plan's holdings
- Asset allocation of your plan's holdings
- Performance of your plan's holdings over stated time periods and how they compare to selected benchmarks

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Certain persons within our organization are compensated through a salary and bonus arrangement which is partially based on the amount or number of client referrals made by the person. Such an arrangement may provide an incentive to refer clients for which advisory services may not be appropriate.

As discussed previously, all our Advisory Representatives are Registered Representatives of Royal Alliance. This arrangement requires us to offer you advisory services and programs sponsored or approved by Royal Alliance. Royal Alliance sets limits on how much we can charge you for these advisory services. Some advisory programs have higher fee limits than others. As such, there may be an incentive for us to recommend to you advisory services or programs with higher limits. In addition, Royal Alliance may charge us certain usage fees and expenses to use their advisory programs which may decrease the amount of money we make when offering investment advice to you. Therefore, there may be an incentive to provide you with advisory programs and services that may be cheaper for us to use but not as suitable to your needs as other advisory programs that Royal Alliance sponsors which may be more expensive for us to use.

In addition, Royal Alliance offers our Advisory Representatives educational, training and incentive programs for those Advisory Representatives that meet certain sales production goals. There may be an incentive for us to manage your account in ways that assist us in meeting these production goals even if such strategies may not always be suitable for your account.

Certain Third Party Advisory Service programs may provide our Advisory Representatives with the opportunity to attend training or education conferences. Such conferences include the payment or reimbursement of travel, meals and lodging expenses for attendees. Payment/reimbursement of expenses is not contingent upon sales targets or contests, but rather on total assets managed on their respective Third Party Advisory Service platforms. We may have an incentive to recommend Third Party Advisory Service programs that provide us with the above referenced opportunities over those that do not.

We may utilize Third Party Managers for investment management of wrap fee programs. You are welcome to, but never obligated to participate in these investment programs. In such cases, we receive a portion of the investment management fees paid, which may give us an incentive to recommend these investment opportunities.

When we offer you a Wrap Account, the fee for transactions executed in your account are included in your quarterly account fee. However, Royal Alliance will still assess the transaction charges to us. This may influence us to charge you a higher quarterly account fee than we would otherwise charge you in an effort to recoup from you the transaction charges Royal Alliance charges us. We may also have incentive to trade your account less often to lessen our transaction fees or to trade your account with certain securities where Royal Alliance reduces or eliminates the transaction charges (such as the FundVest Program mentioned below) to us even if such trading strategies may not always be suitable for your account.

Our Advisory Representatives participate in the FundVest Program provided by Royal Alliance. Transaction charges for purchasing securities that participate in this program may be reduced or waived. This may provide us with incentive to invest your account in these securities over securities that do not participate in these programs to reduce our transaction costs even if such investments may not always be suitable for your account.

Royal Alliance has provided some of our Advisory Representatives with funding in the form of loans as incentive to establish, maintain or expand our broker-dealer relationships with Royal Alliance. Such loans are typically used to assist in the transition and expansion of our practice. All or a portion of the loans require cash repayments of principal and interest if specific production levels are not achieved over a specified time frame. Any year in which the practice achieves its production levels initiates pro rata loan forgiveness by Royal Alliance. Thus, there may be an incentive for us to offer advisory services and programs to you that may not be suitable in an effort to achieve specific production levels.

While our security sales are reviewed for suitability by an appointed supervisor, you should be aware of the incentives we have to sell certain securities products and are encouraged to ask us about any conflict presented.

Item 15: Custody

Not applicable, we do not maintain custody of your assets. Your account assets are maintained at Pershing, LLC.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

We may manage your accounts on a discretionary basis upon obtaining your consent. Your consent is typically granted and evidenced in the client agreement that you sign with us. We define discretion as: the ability to trade your account, without obtaining your prior consent, the securities and amount of securities to be bought or sold, and the timing of the purchase or sale. It does not extend to the withdrawal or transfer of your account funds.

We do not manage any Third Party Advisory Services on a discretionary basis. These advisory programs are delivered to you as non-discretionary services. If you are invested in one of these programs, we will take no action on your account unless specifically requested by you.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

We do not have the authority to vote proxies solicited by, or with respect to, the issuers of securities held in your account. Typically, proxy materials will be forwarded to you by our custodian. We will forward proxy materials that we may receive to you. Please contact us at any time with questions you may have regarding proxy solicitations.

Item 18: Financial Information

In certain circumstances our Advisory Representatives may use investment discretion in your account, subject to your approval. We are well capitalized in full compliance with applicable regulations and do not foresee any financial conditions that may impair our fulfillment of reasonable obligations or contractual commitments to you.

Item 19: Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

Not applicable, we are an SEC registered investment adviser.
