Item of Form (identify)	Answer
Item 1A-D	Advisory Services and Fees: Diamond Peak Capital, LLC ("DPC") is an SEC registered investment adviser and serves as the investment adviser to separately managed accounts and to a multi-strategy private investment fund, Diamond Peak Traders, LP, a Delaware limited partnership (the "Partnership"). DPC also serves as the general partner to the Partnership (the "General Partner"). Investment strategies and services will be documented in the offering documents of the Partnership for investors and/or the investment management agreement for clients. DPC may also trade and invest portions of its clients' accounts (including the Partnership's) through sub-advisers with which DPC may split its advisory fees or which DPC may otherwise compensate for their services. DPC or a selected sub-adviser provides investment portfolio management services on a discretionary basis. DPC offers its clients various investment programs including its systematic trading strategies which it has developed in-house. DPC assists clients in determining their investment objectives and needs, and each account is managed in accordance with those objectives and needs. The fees for these services will be as follows: In-house systematic trading strategies: DPC may charge a different management fee ("Management Fee") for services to qualified clients than to non-qualified clients. As defined in Rule 205-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, a qualified client is a person who has at least $750,000 under the management of the investment adviser, or a net worth of $1,500,000 at the time the contract is entered into. For its services as an investment adviser to qualified clients, DPC shall receive an annual Management Fee of between zero percent (0%) to three percent (3%) based on the percentage of assets under management and the performance fee ("Performance Fee") charged (as described below). For its advisory services to non-qualified clients, DPC shall receive an annual Management Fee of between one percent (1%) to three percent (3%) of assets under management. The Management Fee is billed quarterly in arrears. Clients may terminate their accounts without penalty, for a full refund, within five (5) business days of signing the advisory contract. Clients may obtain similar services elsewhere at lower rates. In its discretion, DPC may agree to apply different Management Fees for any client. In general, DPC charges a twenty percent (20%) Performance Fee to qualified clients only; no Performance Fees will be charged to non-qualified clients. Performance Fees are negotiable and DPC may determine the amount of Performance Fees that it charges on a case by case basis depending upon the needs of the client and the complexity of the situation. The final fee schedule will be attached as an Exhibit to the investment management agreement. Performance Fees are billed quarterly in arrears. The Performance Fee is subject to what is commonly known as a "high watermark" calculation. That is, if a client account has a net loss in any fiscal quarter, this loss will be carried forward to future quarters. The high watermark procedure prevents the client from incurring a Performance Fee from profits that simply restore previous losses and is intended to ensure that each Performance Fee is based on the long-term performance of an investment. Upon any withdrawal by a client, whether voluntary or involuntary, DPC shall also receive the Performance Fee with respect to any new net profits earned on the amounts withdrawn.

Item 1A-D (Cont'd)	Regarding those clients who are assessed a Performance Fee, please note the following: (1) A Performance Fee may create an incentive for DPC to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of a Performance Fee; (2) DPC may receive increased compensation with regard to unrealized appreciation as well as realized gains in the client's account, depending on the specific time periods and the nature of any preferred returns; (3) Where any part of DPC's compensation is based in part on the unrealized appreciation of securities for which market quotations are not readily available, DPC shall disclose how the securities will be valued and the extent to which the valuation will be determined independently. DPC may recommend other money managers which may also receive a percentage of assets management fee and/or performance based fees. All applicable fees are disclosed in the money manager's investment management agreement. The Partnership: DPC has discretion over the investment management and administration of the Partnership's affairs. As compensation for its services as the portfolio manager of the Partnership, DPC shall receive an annual management fee ("Management Fee") equal to one percent (1%) of the Partnership's net asset value. The Management Fee shall be calculated and payable monthly, in arrears, to DPC based on the calculations of each investor's share of the Partnership's net asset value as of the last day of each month. DPC, in its sole discretion, may waive or reduce the Management Fee with respect to one or more investors for any period of time, or agree to apply a different Management Fee for any investors (all such arrangements in the form of a rebate or otherwise). DPC, in its capacity as General Partner, shall receive a performance allocation (the "Performance Allocation") at the close of each fiscal quarter equal to ten percent (10%) of the portion of the Partnership's net income attributable to each investor. The Performance Allocation is subject to what is commonly known as a "high water mark" procedure. That is, if an investor account has a net loss in any fiscal quarter, this loss will be carried forward to future quarters. The high water mark procedure prevents the General Partner from receiving a Performance Allocation as to profits that simply restore previous losses and is intended to ensure that each Performance Allocation is based on the long-term performance of an investment in the Partnership. Upon any withdrawal by a client, whether voluntary or involuntary, the General Partner shall also receive the Performance Allocation with respect to any new net profits earned on the amounts withdrawn. The fees paid to the General Partner are negotiable and the final fee schedule will be attached as an Exhibit to DPC's investment management agreement or detailed in the Partnership's offering documents.

Item 9D	From time to time, associated persons of DPC may recommend to its clients, including the Partnership, the purchase or sale of investment products in which DPC or a related person may have some financial interest, including but not limited to, the receipt of compensation. DPC may offer interests in the Partnership to one or more of its non-Partnership clients. DPC does not intend to advise such clients as to the appropriateness of investing in the Partnership, and DPC will not receive compensation for doing so (except to the extent that DPC receives advisory and other fees from the Partnership) or for selling interests in the Partnership. In every such situation, the clients' needs are considered first. Records will be maintained of all securities bought and sold by either associated persons or related persons. Personnel of DPC may trade in the same securities traded for clients. However, it is the policy of DPC not to give preference to orders for personnel associated with the firm regarding such trading. DPC and its employees (collectively "DPC") may personally invest in the same securities that are purchased for clients and may own securities that are subsequently purchased for clients. If a security is purchased or sold for clients and DPC on the same day, either the clients and DPC will pay or receive the same price, or the clients will receive the more favorable price. DPC may also buy or sell a specific security for their own account based on personal investment considerations, which DPC does not deem appropriate to buy or sell for clients. In addition, principals of DPC may invest in certain sub-advisers otherwise employed by DPC, and may receive more favorable terms than clients. Code of Ethics: The code of ethics of DPC ("Code of Ethics") is based upon the premise that all DPC personnel have a fiduciary responsibility to render professional, continuous and unbiased investment advisory service. The Code of Ethics requires all personnel to (1) comply with all applicable laws and regulations; (2) observe all fiduciary duties and put client interests ahead of those of DPC; (3) observe DPC's personnel trading policies so as to avoid "front-running" and other conflicts of interests between DPC and its clients; (4) ensure that all personnel have read the Code of Ethics, agreed to adhere to the Code of Ethics, and are aware that a record of all violations of the Code of Ethics will be maintained by the Chief Compliance Officer and that personnel who violate the Code of Ethics are subject to sanctions by DPC, including termination. A copy of the Code of Ethics is available upon request.
Item 10	Subject to the discretion of General Partner of the Partnership to accept less, the minimum investment amount required by the Partnership is $250,000. The minimum dollar amount for a managed account is negotiable and may be offered at a lower minimum amount than that required by the Partnership.

Item 11A	All accounts managed by DPC will typically be reviewed at least monthly. Accounts will be reviewed by the portfolio manager. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events. Clients are responsible to keep DPC informed as to any personal changes in their financial condition.
Item 11B	Each client will receive account reports at the same frequency that they are billed advisory fees. In addition, clients may have access to monthly statements and/or trade confirmations from independent custodians. DPC may provide additional information, such as monthly reports of the results of the investment strategy and quarterly invoices detailing applicable Management Fees and/or Performance Fees as well as account balances before and after such fees. Realized gains/losses, interest and dividends earned are reported to clients annually, typically by the independent managed account's custodian, including but not limited to ProFunds and Rydex Investments. Each investor of the Partnership will receive a monthly report from the Partnership's administrator detailing such client's account performance. Each investor of the Partnership also will receive the following: (i) annual financial statements of the Partnership, audited by an independent certified public accounting firm, (ii) in the discretion of DPC or an affiliate of DPC, a periodic letter and/or report discussing the results of the accounts, (iii) copies of such investor's Schedule K-1 to the Partnership's tax returns, and (iv) other reports as determined by DPC or an affiliate of DPC in DPC's sole discretion.
Item 12A, B	Investment or Brokerage Discretion and Additional Compensation: In general, DPC (and/or other authorized money managers selected by DPC, collectively "DPC") effects individual securities transactions in client accounts as part of its advisory services. DPC will maintain a limited power of attorney over client accounts and generally has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, any of the following: the securities to be bought or sold; the amount of securities to be bought or sold; the brokers to be used; and the commission rate paid to such brokers. Brokers, dealers and/or futures commission merchants ("FCMs", collectively with brokers and/or dealers, "Brokers") are chosen based on the services they provide and their competitive commission rates. DPC will never charge a premium or commission on transactions beyond the actual cost imposed by the Brokers. With respect to managed accounts, DPC's authority may be subject to conditions imposed by the client, examples of which may include instances in which: (1) the client restricts or prohibits transactions in securities of a specific industry, and/or (2) the client directs that transactions be effected through specific Brokers, as described in more detail below in the section "Brokerage Direction". DPC will generally seek "best execution" in light of the circumstances involved in transactions. In selecting a Broker for any transaction, DPC may consider a number of factors, including, for example, net price, reputation, financial strength and stability, efficiency of execution and error resolution, the size of the transaction and the market for the security. DPC will not obligate itself to obtain the lowest commission or best net price for an account on any particular transaction.

Item 12A, B (Cont'd)	For its in-house systematic trading strategies program, DPC monitors transaction results as orders are executed to evaluate the quality of execution provided by the various Brokers it uses, to determine that compensation rates are competitive and otherwise to evaluate the reasonableness of the compensation paid to those Brokers in light of all the factors described above. Regarding sub-advisers, DPC seeks to obtain assurances from such sub-advisers that they monitor brokerage transactions and seek "best execution". Allocation of Trades: DPC may at times determine that certain securities will be suitable for acquisition by clients and by other accounts managed by DPC, possibly including DPC's own accounts or accounts of an affiliate. If that occurs, and DPC is not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such securities on terms and conditions which DPC deems advisable, DPC will endeavor in good faith to allocate the limited amount of such securities acquired among the various accounts for which DPC considers them to be suitable. DPC may make such allocations among the accounts in any manner which it considers to be fair under the circumstances, including but not limited to allocations based on relative account sizes, the degree of risk involved in the securities acquired, and the extent to which a position in such securities is consistent with the investment policies and strategies of the various accounts involved. Aggregation of Orders: DPC may aggregate purchase and sale orders of securities held by clients with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in DPC's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to clients based on an evaluation that clients will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. In many instances, the purchase or sale of securities for clients will be affected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like securities for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of securities purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all securities purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at DPC's sole discretion, and clients may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price. Brokerage Direction: In some instances, because of a prior relationship between a client and one or more Brokers, or for other reasons, a client may instruct DPC to execute some or all securities transactions for its account with or through one or more Brokers designated by the client. In such cases, the client is responsible for negotiating the terms and conditions (including, but not limited to, commission rates) relating to all services to be provided by such Brokers and the client is satisfied with such terms and conditions. DPC will assume no responsibility for obtaining the best prices or any particular commission rates for transactions with or through any such Broker for such client's account. The client must recognize that it may not obtain rates as low as it might otherwise obtain if DPC had discretion to select Brokers other than those chosen by the client. Any client providing instructions to DPC regarding direction of brokerage transactions must notify DPC in writing if the client desires DPC to cease executing transactions with or through any such Broker.

Item 13B	DPC may use independent third party solicitors to refer clients to the in-house systematic trading program and may pay a portion of its advisory fees to such solicitors, in accordance with the Advisers Act. To assist in the offering of interests in the Partnership, DPC may engage broker-dealers and will pay (and will not charge the investor) fees and commissions that may be payable to any such broker-dealers assisting in the offering or sale of interests in the Partnership.
Additional Items	Proxy Voting: DPC uses reasonable judgment to vote proxies in a manner it determines is in the best interest of its clients. DPC monitors corporate actions of those securities it has purchased on behalf of its clients. Receipt of proxy materials is logged into a proxy control sheet. Proxy votes will generally be submitted electronically but may be submitted by mail. A record of the proxy votes cast will be made and retained by DPC. Clients can obtain information on how the proxies were voted and a detailed description of DPC's policies and procedures regarding proxy voting by requesting such information from the Chief Compliance Officer, Christopher Jones. Privacy Policy: DPC has adopted a privacy policy that explains the manner in which the Partnership and DPC (collectively, "DPC") collect, utilize and maintain nonpublic personal information about clients and/or investors to the Partnership (collectively, "Clients"), as required under federal legislation. Collection of Information and Disclosure of Nonpublic Personal Information: To provide Clients with superior service, DPC may collect several types of nonpublic personal information about Clients, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· Information from forms that Clients may fill out, such as subscription forms, questionnaires and other information provided by Clients in writing, in person, by telephone, electronically or by any other means. Additional Items (Cont'd)	DPC does not sell or rent Client information. DPC uses this information to conduct business with its Clients; to develop or enhance its products and services; to understand the financial needs of its Clients so that DPC can provide such Clients with quality products and superior service; and to protect and administer its Clients' records, accounts and funds. DPC does not disclose nonpublic personal information about its Clients to nonaffiliated third parties or to affiliated entities, except as permitted or required by law. For example, DPC may share nonpublic personal information in the following situations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· To service providers in connection with the administration and servicing of DPC accounts, which may include attorneys, accountants, auditors and other professionals. DPC may also share information in connection with the servicing or processing of DPC transactions;</li> <li>· To affiliated companies in order to provide you with ongoing personal advice and assistance with respect to the products and services you have purchased through DPC and to introduce you to other products and services that may be of value to you;</li> <li>· To respond to a subpoena or court order, judicial process or regulatory authorities;</li> <li>· To protect against fraud, unauthorized transactions (such as money laundering), claims or other liabilities; and</li> <li>· Upon consent of a Client to release such information, including authorization to disclose such information to persons acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity on behalf of the Client.</li> </ul> Trade Error Policy: DPC has several internal controls in place to prevent trade errors from occurring. On those occasions when such an error does occur, however, DPC will reasonably determine how to correct the error. Trade errors will be monitored in accordance with DPC's trade error policies. DPC also maintains a record of all trade errors, which includes information about the trade and how the error was corrected.
