the time the Registrant spends in the analysis and preparation of the report(s). In the preparation of a financial plan, the Registrant may recommend the use of the Registrant's investment advisory services but the use of the Registrant's investment advisory services is not required. The Registrant has a conflict of interest in that it may receive compensation for the preparation of the financial plan and for recommended investment advisory services. Implementation of the financial plan is at the discretion of the client, and may be implemented with a provider not related to the Registrant.

The Registrant does not make any representation that the financial plan is done at the lowest cost available and clients and investors may be able to obtain a financial or estate plan at a more favorable rate from other providers. The clients or the Registrant may terminate financial planning services immediately upon written or verbal notice.

Broker Dealer Services

Blaylock Robert Van LLC is a registered broker dealer with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC). Several of the associated persons with the Registrant are also registered representatives of the broker dealer as well. Clients may, but are not required to use the services of the affiliated broker dealer. For any trading activity on behalf of the Registrant for its investment advisory accounts, the broker dealer will only charge the cost to execute the transaction and will not receive any additional compensation.

Clients of the Registrant may elect to use the services of the affiliated broker dealer to execute transactions outside of those for its investment advisory account. In this circumstance, these transactions will be subject to the broker dealers standard commission schedule. A potential conflict of interest exists when deciding if a proposed security transaction is to be considered as part of or outside of the investment advisory contract. However, all affiliated personnel of the Registrant are subject to the Registrant's Code of Ethics and the Registrant will monitor transactions for proper trade execution in order fulfill its fiduciary responsibilities to clients.

Other Services

Insurance - Certain associated persons of the Registrant possess a license to sell insurance. The clients who purchase insurance related product are informed that the associated persons will be compensated for a fee or commission at the time that the product is accepted. A conflict of interest exists in that associated persons may sell insurance products to clients of the Registrant and earn a commission on the sale of that product in addition to receiving compensation for providing investment management or financial planning services. The Registrant's financial plans may include recommendations for clients to purchase various insurance products which may be purchased from associated persons of the Registrant at the client's discretion. It is not mandatory that the client purchase insurance products, nor is it mandatory that products be purchased from the Registrant or its affiliated personnel. Commissions for insurance products are due at the time of payment of premium and are negotiable but are typically based on a percentage of the first year's premium as dictated by the insurance policy provider. The Registrant makes no assertion that the commissions and fees for these products and services the lowest available and may be obtained on more favorable terms.

Affiliated Investment Adviser

The Registrant or affiliated personnel of the Registrant own approximately 55% of SPI Strategies LLC ("SPI") which is also a state registered investment adviser. SPI provides investment advisory services to separately managed client accounts. The client accounts for both advisers may invest in issuers and/or securities that also are included in client portfolio accounts of the Registrant. There is a potential conflict of interest in the allocation of common securities between the accounts of each adviser regarding the price and number of securities accounts of the different advisers may realize. Client accounts of SPI may receive the same security at different prices or with more favorable terms due to the difference between the Registrant's and the other Adviser's operations and current trading objectives. The Registrant (as does SPI) holds foremost its fiduciary responsibilities to treat all clients fairly when determining price and quantity executions of common securities between advisers.

Other Fees

The Registrant may include mutual funds, variable annuity products and other managed products or partnerships in its clients' portfolios. Clients will likely be charged for the services by the providers/managers of these products in addition to the fees paid to Registrant for investment advisory services. The fees and expenses charged by the product providers are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses those charged by the Registrant. These fees and expenses are described in each mutual fund's or underlying annuity fund's prospectuses or in the offering memorandums of a partnership. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund or variable annuity or investment partnership directly, without the services of Registrant. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by Registrant to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

ADV Part II
Item 12

Registrant has the authority over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold without obtaining specific client consent. However, The Registrant does not vote proxies on behalf of its clients.

The Registrant may aggregate orders for a particular security from several client accounts and execute a block or bunched trade. Aggregation, or "bunched" orders, shall be transacted under the following circumstances:

- The Registrant shall ensure that its authority for each account included in the aggregated order allows for aggregation.
- The Registrant shall ensure that adequate and full disclosure of its allocation and bunching practices has been made prior to the transaction.
- All clients/investors, accounts or funds participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rata basis.
- Aggregate transactions must not be executed unless the intended and resultant
- Aggregation is consistent with its duty to seek best execution and any terms found in the Registrant's written agreements.
- Aggregated orders filled in their entirety shall be allocated among clients/investors, accounts or funds in accordance with an allocation statement created prior to the execution of the transaction(s); partially filled orders shall be allocated pro-rata based on the allocation statement. Client/Investor funds held collectively for the purpose of completing the transaction will not be held in this commingled manner for any longer than is practical to settle the transaction.
- Each client/investor, account or fund that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price for all the Registrant's transactions in that security on a given business day, with transaction costs shared pro-rata based on each client/investor's, account's or fund's participation in the transaction.
- Investments resulting from any aggregated order shall be consistent with the specific investment objective(s) of each client/investor, account or fund as detailed in any written agreements.
- No additional compensation shall result from the proposed allocation.
- No client/investor, account or fund will be favored over any other client/investor, account or fund as a result of the allocation.
- Pre-allocation statement(s) specifying the participating client/investor accounts and the proposed method to allocate the order among the clients/investors, accounts or funds are required prior to any allocated order. Should the actual

In the event that a client directs the Registrant to use a particular broker or dealer, the Registrant may not be authorized under those circumstances to negotiate commissions and may not be able to obtain volume discounts or best execution. In addition, under these circumstances a disparity in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to clients who direct the Registrant to use a particular broker or dealer and other clients who do not direct Registrant to use a particular broker or dealer. In selecting brokers or dealers to execute transactions, Registrant will seek to achieve the best execution possible but this does not require it to solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost. Registrant is not required to negotiate "execution only" commission rates, however at this time the Registrant does not employ commissions to pay for research and related services (i.e., "soft dollars"). In negotiating commission rates, Registrant will take into account the financial stability and reputation of brokerage firms. Registrant has no obligation to deal with any broker or group of brokers in executing transactions in portfolio securities. Registrant will regularly review the commission rates paid by its advisory clients to determine that they are competitive with commissions paid by clients of investment Registrants that provide services similar to Registrant.
