Existing clientele may pay fees based upon pre-existing fee schedules which may differ from the above stated fee schedule.

Special Projects

Other services may be offered to the client. The fee for a special project is based on professional time and services rendered on an hourly rate to be quoted to the client prior to the start of any special project. Such hourly rates will be determined based upon the level of staff utilized to accomplish the services offered and the complexity of the project.

The advisory agreement may be terminated by either party upon thirty days written notice. The client is responsible to pay for services rendered up until the termination date of the contract. Fees would be prorated on a daily basis. If the contract is canceled within the first five days after the signing of the Agreement, the client is not obligated to pay any fees to the Adviser.

The client will normally be billed for travel expenses outside of the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania area and for any other expenses, such as courier expenses, incurred by YP as a result of a special request of the client. These expenses will not be incurred if the client has a full service relationship.

The client generally is billed quarterly in advance (unless otherwise agreed). Project fees are billed as one-half of the fee due upon commencement of the project, and the balance is billed upon completion of the project.

All cash fees paid by the client will be refunded if the client terminates the agreement between the parties upon written notice within five (5) days from the date of the agreement. Thereafter, either party may terminate the agreement upon thirty (30) days written notice to the other, and a pro-rata portion of the cash fee already paid will be refunded. Clients are responsible for services already performed but not paid for as of the time of the termination of the agreement.

2.G.

TYPES OF CLIENTS

YP may provide investment advice to pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, individuals, corporations or business entities, state or municipal government entities, hospitals, non-profit organizations, and Taft-Hartley Plans.

3.L.

TYPES OF INVESTMENTS

YP primarily provides advice to clients regarding the selection of third-party unaffiliated investment managers, alternative investment strategies and mutual fund families (including open-end funds, closed-end funds, and exchange-traded funds) rather than specific securities and investments.

4.B.(8)

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

YP maintains a database on a proprietary basis, GRID®. This database contains performance information which is used to research various investment managers in the screening process of selecting investment managers for YP clients. The quantitative performance, portfolio, and other information is submitted to YP on a regular basis by eVestment Alliance. YP does not charge investment managers for submitting data for consideration of addition to the database.

One of the main methods of analysis and sources of information will be proprietary research conducted in-house by YP. This research may include, but not be limited to, on-site visits to money manager offices, interviews with investment personnel and senior management, and conversations with their performance auditors (if any). In addition, YP will make extensive use of available industry analysis on money managers, mutual funds, hedge funds, and private equity managers.

4.C.(7)INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

At the client's request, YP may conduct manager searches and provide clients with a number of recommendations for managers that would be appropriate for the client's risk tolerance and stated investment objectives. Final selection of all managers is at the client's discretion, except in the rare instance when YP is provided discretionary responsibilities pursuant to a written agreement.

YP does not utilize any specific investment strategies with clients' assets. Clients' money is managed by third-party managers who employ their own investment strategies as disclosed in such manager's Form ADV or other appropriate disclosure document.

5.EDUCATION AND BUSINESS STANDARDS

There are general standards of education and business experience which YP requires of those involved in determining or giving investment advice. YP Senior Consultants are expected to have an advanced degree or significant business experience in a financial industry field, and are encouraged to earn the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA[®]) professional designation.
