Item 1D*Advisory Services and Fees

Prosperity Investment Advisors, Inc. ("Adviser") offers investment advisory and financial planning services to its clients. A description of these services is listed below.

Money ManagementGeneral Information on Managed Accounts*

Under the Money Management Program offered by Adviser, the firm may have discretion over the type of securities bought and sold as well as dollar amounts without first obtaining client's permission for each transaction.

TD AMERITRADE will mail statements to the Clients at least quarterly (and more frequently should there be transactions in the account) listing all transactions and fees charged directly to the Client's account for the time period. These fees should be reviewed by the Client, as it is not the Custodian's duty to do so. Adviser may review performance accounts with the clients during a telephone or face-to-face meeting if the client has questions. Accounts will be reviewed at least annually by telephone or in a face-to-face meeting if the client makes himself available.

Adviser will monitor clients' accounts on a quarterly basis and more frequently should economic or client circumstances trigger the need for an additional review. These may include a significant change in the client's asset allocation requirements; a change in investment objectives; or the deposit or withdrawal of a substantial sum in the account. Life events such as marriage, divorce, job change, retirement or having a child may also trigger a review. An annual meeting is expected to be held with all Clients. Stephanie L. Burris will review all accounts and there is no limit to the number of clients she may choose to work with as long as time and resources permit continued growth.

Money Management Program Fees

Assets Under Management	Annual Advisory Fee
$0 - $99,999	1.50 %
$100,000 - $2,000,000	1.00 %
Over $2,000,000	Negotiable

Fees will be invoiced quarterly in arrears based on account balance. Clients shall be allowed to choose two methods of payment:

Option 1: Fees may be deducted from asset accounts by the third party custodian.

Option 2: Client can pay adviser directly for the fee such as in cases where the custodian does not permit direct fee payment such as College Savings plans.

Item 1D

The minimum annual fee for managed accounts will generally be $250 but this may vary and will be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Adviser.

General Information on Fees

All fees and account minimums may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Adviser. Fees are charged quarterly in arrears and will be deducted from the client's account(s) in most cases. An invoice for fees to be deducted will be sent to the Custodian, with a copy to the client at the same time. This authorization may be revoked at any time by the client.

For clients who prefer to have fees deducted from asset accounts by the third party custodian: 1) Adviser will send a copy of the invoice to the custodian and client 2) the Custodian will send a quarterly statement to the client showing all disbursements for the custodian account, including the amount of the advisory fees, and 3) clients will provide written authorization permitting Adviser to be paid directly for their accounts held by the Custodian.

Some client assets may be held at other custodians outside of TD AMERITRADE, i.e., non-publicly traded REITS, state college savings plans, work place retirement accounts or stock accounts, assets in custody with an insurance company, etc. These assets may still be included in the total fee charged to the client and deducted from the TD AMERITRADE or other designated account. The accounts included in the total fee will be listed on the Client Agreement and/or quarterly fee notification. The Client or the Adviser may cancel the Agreement at any time with written notice to the other. In the event that the Client wishes to cancel the Agreement prior to any services being performed, any advance payments shall be fully refunded. If the Client cancels the Agreement after Adviser has begun the services requested, the Client shall be charged for the services completed and the remainder of any advance payments, if any, shall be refunded to the Client within 30 days of the written request. Should the Client terminate the Agreement within five business days after signing, no charges or penalties will be assessed. Client will be responsible for any fees or charges incurred by client from third parties as a result of maintaining the account or for any securities transactions executed.

In all matters, Adviser's planning services are analytical and advisory only and do not include legal or other professional services unless specifically stated. Adviser will work with Client's legal, accounting, insurance or other professional advisors to ensure the coordination of all pieces involved in the financial planning process.

The fee charged for any of the programs listed is calculated as described within Form ADV, Part II and is not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains or upon capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client (SEC Rule 205(a)(1)) or similar state statutes or rules.

In addition, Client may pay fees for custodial services, account maintenance, transaction fees and other fees associated with maintaining an account. Adviser does not share in any portion of such fees. Additional assets deposited to or withdrawn personal security transactions may be made by the Adviser or its Investment Adviser Representatives for its/their own account(s) without specific disclosure to the client, such transactions will not be effected when they are adverse to the client's interests.

Because of the types of services offered and the securities typically recommended (mutual funds, Exchange Traded Funds or ETF's.), and because the Adviser and all associated persons adhere to the Code of Ethics (below), any security holding by the firm or any associated person would not have an impact on the market and would not have any influence on any recommendation.

CODE OF ETHICS AND PERSONAL TRADING:

The Adviser has adopted a Code of Ethics based upon the principle that officers and employees of the Adviser owe a fiduciary duty to clients for which the Adviser acts as investment adviser or subadviser. Accordingly, officers and employees of the Adviser are responsible for conducting personal trading activities in a manner that does not interfere with a client's portfolio transactions or take improper advantage of a relationship with any client.

The fundamental position of the Adviser is that, in effecting personal securities transactions, personnel of the Adviser must place at all times the interests of clients ahead of their own pecuniary interests. All personal securities transactions by these persons must be conducted in accordance with the Code of Ethics and in a manner to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest or any abuse of any person's position of trust and responsibility. Further, these persons should not take inappropriate advantage of their positions with or on behalf of a client.

Employees of the firm are generally precluded from buying or selling securities for their personal portfolio(s) if their decision is substantially derived, from information obtained through his or her employment unless the information relating to the investment decision is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. The Adviser directs its employees that they must abide by and act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations. Individuals who fail to comply with the firm's policies and procedures may be subject to sanctions and disciplinary action, including termination of employment.

The Adviser's policy allows employees to maintain and trade in personal securities accounts provided any personal investing by an employee in any accounts in which the employee has a beneficial interest, including any accounts for any immediate family or household members, is consistent with the Adviser's fiduciary duty to its clients and consistent with regulatory requirements. The Adviser's policy encourages investment freedom and fosters a continuing personal interest in investments for the Adviser's employees who are responsible for the supervision and management of client portfolios.

Item 12B

FINRA/SIPC ("TD AMERITRADE"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. TD AMERITRADE offers to independent investment advisors services, which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance, and settlement of transactions. Adviser receives some benefits from TD AMERITRADE through its participation in the program. TD AMERITRADE may charge commissions (ticket charges) for executing Adviser's transactions. With respect to investment advisory accounts, Adviser does not receive any part of these separate charges and transaction costs are not absorbed by Adviser, as described earlier.

Adviser may recommend/require that Clients establish investment advisory accounts with TD AMERITRADE to maintain custody of Clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. TD AMERITRADE may provide Adviser with access to their institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available retail investors. TD AMERITRADE's services include brokerage custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For Adviser's Clients' accounts maintained in their custody, TD AMERITRADE does not charge separately for custody but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees or securities trades that are executed through the firm. 529 plans and annuities are held with outside parties.

TD AMERITRADE may also make available to Adviser other products and services that could benefit Adviser. These types of services will help Adviser in managing and administering Client accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to Client account data (i.e. trade confirmations and account statements); facilitate trade executions; provide research, pricing information, and other market data; facilitate in the payment of Adviser's fees from its Clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions, record-keeping, and Client reporting. Many of these services may be used to service all or a substantial number of Adviser's accounts.

Adviser does not maintain custody of Client assets. This is done by the client's broker, insurance company, fund company etc. However, in instances when Client fees are deducted from asset accounts by the third party custodian there are constraints on advisers' access to funds by the custodian. Fees must be no more than 2% of the value of the account. If fees are more than this limit, client must provide a signed document permitting a greater payment. In these instances, 1) Adviser will send a copy of the invoice to the custodian and the client 2) the Custodian will send a quarterly statement to the client showing all disbursements for the custodian account, including the amount of the advisory fees, and 3) clients will provide written authorization permitting Adviser to be paid directly for their accounts held by the Custodian.

Item 13A*ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

As disclosed under Item 12B above, Adviser participates in TD AMERITRADE's Institutional customer program and Adviser may require Clients to maintain accounts with TD AMERITRADE/recommend TD AMERITRADE to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Adviser's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although Adviser receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD AMERITRADE retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services provided without cost or at a discount: duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving advisor participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts; the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain Institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Adviser by third party vendors. TD AMERITRADE may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Adviser or its personnel and may also pay or reimburse expenses, including travel, lodging, meals, and entertainment expenses to attend conferences or meetings relating to the program or to TD AMERITRADE's advisor custody and brokerage services generally. Some of the products and services made available by TD AMERITRADE through the program may benefit Adviser but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist Adviser in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD AMERITRADE. Other services made available by TD AMERITRADE are intended to help Adviser manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Adviser or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD AMERITRADE. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Adviser or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Adviser's choice or recommendation of TD AMERITRADE for custody and brokerage services.

Adviser may receive research and execution related services from TD AMERITRADE mentioned in Item 12(B) of Schedule F to assist Adviser in managing its accounts. These services and products would include financial publications, pricing information and other products or services. Such research and execution related services are offered to all investment advisers who utilize these firms. However, the commissions charged by these parties may be higher than those charged by a broker who does not provide the aforementioned research and execution related services.
