Services, Fees and Compensation

Form ADV Part 2A, Appendix 1, Item 4

On a discretionary basis, PWMS provides ongoing monitoring and management of assets within the PWM Portfolio Management Service wrap fee program ("Program"). This service level involves PWMS delivering hands on management of Program assets. PWMS charges an asset-based fee (i.e. a percentage of assets in the Program) for this service. PWMS Program fees generally do not exceed 0.99% of managed assets on an annual basis.

Program fees may cost you more or less than purchasing such services separately. Factors that may impact the relative cost of the Program fees include, but are not limited to, the following: the cost of the services if provided separately, the trading activity in a client's account, the specific custodian used for execution, clearance, and settlement services with respect to your accounts, the level of service you may require with respect to your assets, etc. Program fees are negotiable. PWMS is compensated the full wrap fee amount net of custodian services.

PWMS clients do not pay any transaction charges, sales charges, commissions, or other additional fees or expenses related to PWMS advisory services. The custodian charges an annual maintenance fee for IRAs (as of 1/03/11, this charge is $40.00 per year). Mutual funds and exchange traded funds have internal expense ratios, but PWMS does not receive any part of these or any other fees, such as 12b-1 service / distribution fees, from mutual fund or exchange traded fund companies.

Financial planning services such as one-time diagnostic plans as well as ongoing consultations are included in the wrap fee program at no additional charge as needed by the client.

Account Requirements and Types of Clients

Form ADV Part 2A, Appendix 1, Item 5

PWMS provides investment advice to individuals and trusts within its wrap fee program. PWMS does not require a minimum account size for this program but instead relies on determination of suitability in opening and maintaining accounts.

Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

Form ADV Part 2A, appendix 1, Item 6

PWMS is the sole portfolio manager for its wrap fee program. Outside portfolio managers are not incorporated into the PWM Portfolio Management Service.

Advisory Business

Investment advisory services under PWMS's wrap fee program include financial planning services such as one-time diagnostic plans and ongoing consultations in addition to portfolio management on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. The wrap fee program also includes asset allocation, trade execution, and any related administrative activities.

Advisory services are tailored to the individual needs of the client based on thorough initial interviewing and periodic communication. A client may impose restrictions based on quantitative factors such as tax management or qualitative factors such as social concerns.

All PWMS accounts are managed based on the specific needs of the client as derived from the client interview process. PWMS is compensated a portion of the wrap fee for providing its objective profiling, asset allocation, and other services on behalf of the client.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

PWMS does not accept performance-based fees such as a share of capital gains or capital appreciation.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

PWMS utilizes an extensive initial interviewing process, including multiple suitability assessments, to help formulate an individualized financial plan for the client. This financial planning process incorporates software introducing Modern Portfolio Theory and Monte Carlo simulation to the client to help derive the long-term investment strategy. Execution of the financial plan is focused on diversification, asset class and sector allocation, and individual security selection. The suitability assessments, educational theory, and simulation tools remind clients that investing in securities always involves volatility and the risk of loss. Additional financial software is used to subsequently analyze, monitor, and provide feedback regarding ongoing risk and asset management.

Voting Client Securities

PWMS does not vote client securities. Clients receive all proxy voting and other materials directly from the custodian or transfer agent. PWMS does not advise clients with regard to solicitations they may receive.

Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

Form ADV Part 2A, Appendix 1, Item 7

PWMS does not incorporate outside portfolio managers into its wrap fee program. No client information is provided to third party portfolio managers.

Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

Form ADV Part 2A, Appendix 1, Item 8

As the sole portfolio manager for its wrap fee program, PWMS communicates with clients on a regular basis. There are no restrictions placed on clients' ability to contact and consult with PWMS.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

PWMS has developed a Code of Ethics ("Code") as a means of memorializing its vision of appropriate and professional conduct in carrying out the business of providing investment advisory services. This Code addresses issues such as the following:

- Protection of material and non-public information
- Conflicts of interest
- Employee disclosure and reporting of personal securities holdings and transactions
- IPOs and private placements
- Reporting of any violations of the Code

All representatives of PWMS have been furnished a copy of the Code and have signed their names to a written acknowledgement attesting to their understanding of the Code and acceptance of its terms. A copy of the Code is available to all current and/or prospective clients upon request.

Neither PWMS nor its representatives buy securities from (or sell securities to) clients or their accounts. Neither PWMS nor its representatives act as general partner in a partnership in which client investments are solicited. Neither PWMS nor its representatives act as an investment adviser to an investment company that is recommended to clients. As such, PWMS does not have a material financial interest or conflict of interest in the securities it recommends to clients or buys or sells for client accounts.

PWMS or its personnel may invest for their own accounts or have a financial interest in the same securities or other investments that PWMS recommends or acquires for the accounts of its clients. PWMS or its personnel may engage in transactions that are the same as or different than transactions recommended to or made for client accounts.

Review of Accounts

PWMS regularly reviews client accounts and financial plans. Client financial plans are formally updated and reviewed at the beginning of each calendar year and subsequently throughout the year based on changes in the client's personal and/or financial circumstances. Client accounts are reviewed and managed based on client financial plan changes as well as customized client management considerations including, but not limited to, asset class rebalancing, withdrawal / income / cash flow needs, income and capital gains taxation, and estate planning.

Clients receive both monthly account statements and quarterly performance reports directly from their qualified custodian.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

PWMS does not receive any economic benefits for providing investment advice or other advisory services from anyone who is not a client.

PWMS also does not refer clients to others or accept prospective client referrals from others in exchange for compensation.

Financial Information

PWMS may assume discretionary trading authority on behalf of clients, but the firm does not custody client funds or securities and has no discretionary authority to withdraw client funds or collect fees from client assets. There are no foreseeable financial conditions that are reasonably likely to impair PWMS's ability to meet contractual commitments to its clients. For example, in the event of unused management fees, the qualified custodian would refund the balance of quarterly fees directly to the client with PWMS owing the custodian the value of any refunded fees.
