We will provide Retirement Plan consulting services to Plans and Plan Fiduciaries as described above. The particular services provided will be detailed in the consulting agreement. The appropriate Plan Fiduciary designated in the Plan documents (e.g., the Plan sponsor or named fiduciary) will (i) make the decision to retain our firm; (ii) agree to the scope of the services that we will provide; and (iii) make the ultimate decision as to accepting any of the recommendations that we may provide. The Plan Fiduciaries are free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommended services for the Plan.

Retirement Plan consulting services are offered individually or as part of a comprehensive suite of services which can be used with any Plan provider, record keeper, or Plan administrator.

Our annual fee for Retirement Plan consulting services is billed quarterly in advance based on the market value of the Plan's assets on the last day of the preceding quarter and based on the following negotiable fee schedule:

Value of Plan Assets	Annualized Fee Range
First $5,000,000	0.50% to 1.00%
$5,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.40% to 0.50%
$10,000,001 - $40,000,000	0.20% to 0.40%
$40,000,001 - $100,000,000	.08% to 0.20%

Assets managed by third party advisers or plan assets outside primary custodial care are included in the value of Plan assets for purposes of calculating our advisory fee.

If the consulting agreement is executed at any time other than the first day of a calendar quarter, our fees will apply on a pro rata basis, which means that the advisory fee is rounded to the whole quarter.

We may also provide Retirement Plan consulting services on a project or a-la-carte basis. For such services, we may charge you a negotiable hourly fee ranging from $125.00 per hour to $400.00 per hour. In the alternative we may charge a negotiable fixed fee ranging between $10,000.00 to above $200,000.00. This may occur in special circumstances and only as authorized by the client. Examples may include Department of Labor or Internal Revenue Service inquiries, retroactive form or operational defect repair or other special circumstances or projects requested by the client.

We may require an upfront retainer from you which will be credited against the asset based fee, hourly fee or fixed fee, as applicable. Hourly fees and/or fixed fees are generally due and payable on a monthly basis, in arrears, or upon completion of the services rendered. Other fee paying arrangements may be made on a case-by case basis. Under no circumstance will we require prepayment of a fee more than five months in advance and in excess of $1,000. Clients may also be responsible for paying any of our travel costs incurred in connection with providing services.

Retirement Plan consulting fees may be payable directly to our firm or the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities will deduct our fees directly from your account, provided you supply written authorization to do so. We will not have access to Plan funds for payment of fees without your written consent. Further, the qualified custodian agrees to deliver an account statement, at least quarterly, directly to the client, showing all disbursements from the account. We encourage you to review all account statements for accuracy.

You may terminate the consulting agreement upon 90 days' written notice to our firm. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the agreement, which means you will incur advisory fees only in proportion to the next full quarter for which you are a client. If you have pre-paid advisory fees that we have not yet earned, you will receive a prorated refund of those fees.

Types of Investments

We primarily offer advice on mutual funds. We also recommend third party investment managers and provide advice on annuity contracts or any publicly traded securities.

Assets Under Management

The Fiduciary First consulting platform has historically been offered through third party intermediaries since 1985. We are a newly registered adviser and as of the date of this filing do not have any assets under management.

Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility

FiduciaryFirst, LLC adopted the Code of Ethics to establish the highest principles and standards. These Principles are general statements expressing the ethical and professional ideals FiduciaryFirst's professionals are expected to display in their professional activities. As such, the Principles are aspirational in character and provide a source of guidance for FiduciaryFirst.

Principle 1 – Integrity: Provide professional services with integrity.

Integrity demands honesty and candor which must not be subordinated to personal gain and advantage. FiduciaryFirst is placed in positions of trust by clients, and the ultimate source of that trust is FiduciaryFirst's integrity.

Principle 2 – Objectivity: Provide professional services objectively.

Objectivity requires intellectual honesty and impartiality. Regardless of the particular service rendered or the capacity in which a FiduciaryFirst functions, we protect the integrity of our work, maintain objectivity and avoid subordination of judgment.

Principle 3 – Competence: Maintain the knowledge and skill necessary to provide professional services competently.

Competence means attaining and maintaining an adequate level of knowledge and skill, and application of that knowledge and skill in providing services to clients. Competence also includes the wisdom to recognize the limitations of that knowledge and when consultation with other professionals is appropriate or referral to other professionals necessary. FiduciaryFirst makes a continuing commitment to learning and professional improvement.

Principle 4 – Fairness: Be fair and reasonable in all professional relationships. Disclose conflicts of interest.

Fairness requires impartiality, intellectual honesty and disclosure of material conflicts of interest. It involves a subordination of FiduciaryFirst's own feelings, prejudices and desires so as to achieve a proper balance of conflicting interests. Fairness is treating others in the same fashion that you would want to be treated.

Principle 5 – Confidentiality: Protect the confidentiality of all client information.

Confidentiality means ensuring that information is accessible only to those authorized to have access. A relationship of trust and confidence with the client can only be built upon the understanding that the client's information will remain confidential.

Principle 6 – Professionalism: Act in a manner that demonstrates exemplary professional conduct.

Professionalism requires behaving with dignity and courtesy to clients, fellow professionals, and others in business-related activities.

Principle 7 – Diligence: Provide professional services diligently.

A full copy of our Code of Ethics is available to clients and prospective clients upon request by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Fees and Compensation

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5

Please refer to the "Advisory Business" section in this brochure for information on our advisory fees, fee deduction arrangements, and refund policy.

Additional Fees and Expenses

Advice offered by our firm may involve investments in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. Clients are hereby advised that all fees paid to our firm for advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. Further, there may be transaction charges involved with purchasing or selling of securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian through whom account transactions are executed. We do not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian holding client funds or securities. Our policy is to disclose all fees and to assist our clients in understanding them. However, the client should review all fees charged by mutual funds, our firm, and others to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client.

Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

In rare circumstances the Plan may utilize a product or service wherein the advisor may capture "soft" compensation in order to benefit the Plan. Only if specifically requested by the Plan, Adviser may be named on any product purchased by or on behalf of the Plan, and Adviser may receive soft compensation on the sale of the product to the Plan. In that event, all such compensation shall enure to the benefit of the Plan and shall be applied as a credit to reduce the fees otherwise owed to Adviser. Any compensation received by Adviser in excess of Adviser's fees shall be returned to the Plan and applied pursuant the terms of the Plan. Soft compensation could be defined as product specific commissions, 12b-1's, finders fees, sub TA's and other product related compensation not routinely available to the client.

In order to facilitate the payment of soft compensation to the Adviser to the benefit of the Plan (as directed solely by the Plan), persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm will act as registered representatives with LPL Financial Corporation ("LPL"), a registered broker-dealer, and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. Fiduciary First is not affiliated with LPL and is not registered as a broker dealer. At the direction of the Plan and in their capacity as registered representatives, these persons may receive commission-based or soft compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by these persons in their capacities as registered representatives is separate and netted against our advisory fees. This practice does not present a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives do not have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions; they act solely based on the Plan's needs. Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase securities products through any person affiliated with our firm. This arrangement is in place strictly to benefit the Plan.

In addition, some Associated Persons of our firm may be licensed as independent insurance agents with various insurance agencies and may transact insurance products and collect soft compensation for the same reasons outlined above and only at the direction of the Plan and only for the benefit of the Plan. Insurance compensation earned is separate and net of our advisory fees. This practice does not present a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are insurance representatives do not have an incentive to recommend insurance products for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Plan's needs. However, clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any person affiliated with our firm. This arrangement is in place strictly to benefit the Plan.

In the event any Associated Persons receive commissions from the sales of insurance products or securities, including 12b-1 fees, such commissions will be credited against advisory fees charged by our Firm.

Associated persons of our firm are also investment adviser representatives of LPL Financial Corporation may also receive fees for providing advisory services, in their capacity as investment adviser representatives of LPL. Such fees are separate and apart from the Retirement Plan Services fees charged by the firm

Any material conflicts of interest between you and our firm, or our employees are disclosed in this Disclosure Brochure. If at any time, additional material conflicts of interest develop, we will provide you with written notification of the material conflicts of interest or an updated Disclosure Brochure.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 6

We do not accept performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's account. Our fees are calculated as described in the Advisory Business section above, and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon, or capital appreciation of, the funds in your advisory account.

Types of Clients

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 7

We offer advisory services to retirement plans, governments, non-profit organizations, corporations and other business entities.

In general, we do not require a minimum Plan size to establish a client relationship

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 8

Our Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

We may use one or more of the following methods of analysis or investment strategies when providing investment advice to you:

- Charting and Technical Analysis – Charting involves the gathering and processing of price and volume information for a particular security. This price and volume information is analyzed using mathematical equations. The resulting data is then applied to graphing charts, which is used to predict future price movements based on price patterns and trends. Technical Analysis involves studying past price patterns and trends in the financial markets to predict the direction of both the overall market and specific stocks. The risk of market timing based on technical analysis is that charts may not accurately predict future price movements. Current prices of securities may reflect all information known about the security and day to day changes in market prices of securities may follow random patterns and may not be predictable with any reliable degree of accuracy.
- Fundamental Analysis – Fundamental analysis involves analyzing individual companies and their industry groups, such as a company's financial statements, details regarding the company's product line, the experience and expertise of the company's management, and the outlook for the company's industry. The resulting data is used to measure the true value of the company's stock compared to the current market value. The risk of fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect and the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a stock's value. If securities prices adjust rapidly to new information, utilizing fundamental analysis may not result in favorable performance.
- Cyclical Analysis – Cyclical analysis is a type of technical analysis that involves evaluating recurring price patterns and trends. The risk of cyclical analysis is that Economic/business cycles may not be predictable and may have many fluctuations between long term expansions and contractions. The lengths of economic cycles may be difficult to predict with accuracy and therefore the risk of cyclical analysis is the difficulty in predicting economic trends and consequently the changing value of securities that would be affected by these changing trends.
- Long Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year.
- Short Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities' short-term price fluctuations.

We also utilize the following methodologies:

- Peer Group Ranking – We rank from 1 (best) to 100 (worst) within an investment category (peer group).
- Risk Reward within Universe – We measure relative volatility of a fund against index and other funds within the Plan.
- Fees Relative to Performance – We perform a cost analysis of funds within peer group ranked against net performance within peer group.

- Stock Intersection (Overlap) – We cross reference fund equity and debt positions for redundancy and adverse concentration.
- Style Drift – We factor historical trend of funds within asset class.
- Stewardship Grades – We account for manager tenure, government investigations, fees, etc.

Our advice may vary depending upon each client's specific circumstances. As such, we determine advice based upon Plan constraints, predefined objectives and various other suitability factors. Plan restrictions and guidelines may affect the composition of portfolios.

Our strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. However, unless we specifically agree otherwise, and in writing, tax efficiency is not our primary consideration in the advisory services we provide.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss. We do not represent or guarantee that our services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that financial goals and objectives will be met. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance.

Recommendation of Particular Types of Securities

As disclosed under the "Advisory Business" section in this Brochure, we primarily recommend mutual funds for Plan accounts. Mutual funds are professionally managed collective investment systems that pool money from many investors and invest in stocks, bonds, short-term money market instruments, other mutual funds, other securities or any combination thereof. The fund will have a manager that trades the fund's investments in accordance with the fund's investment objective. While mutual funds generally provide diversification, risks can be significantly increased if the fund is concentrated in a particular sector of the market, primarily invests in small cap or speculative companies, uses leverage (i.e., borrows money) to a significant degree, or concentrates in a particular type of security (i.e., equities) rather than balancing the fund with different types of securities. The returns on mutual funds can be reduced by the costs to manage the funds. Also, while some mutual funds are "no load" and charge no fee to buy into, or sell out of, the fund, other types of mutual funds do charge such fees which can also reduce returns. Mutual funds can also be "closed end" or "open end". So-called "open end" mutual funds continue to allow in new investors indefinitely which can dilute other investors' interests.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 11

Description of Our Code of Ethics

We strive to comply with applicable laws and regulations governing our practices. Therefore, our Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair dealing with you. All of our Associated Persons are expected to adhere strictly to these guidelines. Persons associated with our firm are also required to report any violations of our Code of Ethics. Additionally, we maintain and enforce written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse or dissemination of material, non-public information about you or your account holdings by persons associated with our firm.

Clients or prospective clients may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Neither our firm nor any of our Associated Persons has any material financial interest in client transactions beyond the provision of investment advisory services as disclosed in this brochure.

Personal Trading Practices

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. A conflict of interest exists in such cases because we have the ability to trade ahead of you and potentially receive more favorable prices than you will receive. To mitigate this conflict of interest, it is our policy that neither our Associated Persons nor we shall have priority over your account in the purchase or sale of securities.

Brokerage Practices

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 12

We may recommend the brokerage and custodial services of LPL Financial Corporation (LPL), a registered broker-dealer and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation but only at the specific request of the Plan; and only to the benefit of the Plan.

Associated persons of our firm, who are registered representatives of LPL are subject to FINRA Conduct Rule 3040, which may restrict such registered individuals from conducting securities transactions away from LPL, unless LPL provides the representative with written authorization. Therefore, you are advised that such persons may be limited to conducting securities transactions through LPL or through custodians approved by LPL .

We receive, at no cost, additional products and services from LPL, including, but not limited to, research, software, brokerage, custodial, administrative support, record keeping and related services.

We believe that LPL provides quality execution services at competitive prices. Price is not the sole factor we consider in evaluating best execution. We also consider the quality of the brokerage services provided by LPL, including the value of research provided, the firm's reputation, execution capabilities, commission rates, and responsiveness to our clients and our firm. In recognition of the value of research services and additional brokerage products and services LPL provides, you may pay higher commissions and/or trading costs than those that may be available elsewhere.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

We do not receive client referrals from broker-dealers in exchange for cash or other compensation, such as brokerage services or research.

Block Trades

We do not combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for different clients (the practice of combining multiple orders for shares of the same securities is commonly referred to as "block trading"). Accordingly, different clients may pay different prices for the same securities transactions. Furthermore, we may not be able to buy and sell the same quantities of securities for clients and clients may pay higher commissions, fees, and/or transaction costs than if transactions were block traded.

Review of Accounts

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 13

Donald Faller, Managing Member and Chief Compliance Officer, Jamie Hayes, Managing Member, Darlene Malaney and Kent Colwell, Client Relationship Officers, will review plan accounts on a quarterly basis.

We will provide you with fiduciary oversight reports on a quarterly basis which will address performance versus benchmarks and other subjects depending upon the scope of the Retirement Plan consulting services provided to you.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 14

We do not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with providing investment advice to you nor do we compensate any individual or firm for client referrals.

Please refer to the Brokerage Practices section above for disclosures on research and other benefits we may receive resulting from our relationship with LPL.

Custody

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 15

We may directly debit our advisory fees from some Plan accounts. This ability to deduct our advisory fees causes our firm to exercise limited custody over Plan funds or securities. We do not have physical custody of any funds and/or securities. Plan funds and securities will be held with a bank, broker-dealer, or other independent, qualified custodian. Plans will receive account statements from the independent, qualified custodian(s) holding funds and securities at least quarterly. The account statements from the Plan's custodian(s) will indicate the amount of our advisory fees deducted each billing period. You should carefully review account statements for accuracy.

You should compare any reports you receive from us with the statements from the Plan's account custodian(s) to reconcile the information reflected on each statement. If you have a question regarding the Plan's account statement or if you did not receive a statement from the custodian, please contact Donald Faller at 407-740-6111.

Investment Discretion

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 16

Clients generally engage us in a co-fiduciary status or as described under ERISA Section 3(21). However, clients may optionally grant us the limited power and authority under ERISA 3(38) to act on behalf of the Plan to select, based on the criteria established by the Plan and communicated in writing to us, the specific investment options under the Plan and made available to Plan participants. ERISA 3(38) is only available under certain plan design scenarios and only upon advisor approval. Discretionary authority is typically granted by the advisory agreement clients sign with our firm. Clients may impose guidelines and/or impose certain conditions or investment restrictions for investment options.

Voting Client Securities

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 17

Proxy Voting

We will not vote proxies on behalf of Plan accounts. If Plans own shares of applicable securities, the Plan fiduciaries are responsible for exercising rights to vote. Clients should receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the unlikely event we were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to clients by mail, unless we are authorized to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, we would forward any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Financial Information

Form ADV Part 2A, Item 18

We are not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not:

- require the prepayment of more than $1200 in fees and six or more months in advance, or

- take custody of client funds or securities, or
- have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our commitments to clients

We do not disclose any nonpublic personal information about our customers or former customers to any non-affiliated third parties, except as permitted by law. In the course of servicing a client's account, we may share some information with affiliated entities such as Fiduciary Partners Group, LLC and Fiduciary Partners Retirement Group, Inc. as well as service providers, such as transfer agents, custodians, broker-dealers, accountants, and lawyers.

We restrict internal access to nonpublic personal information about clients to those employees who need to know that information in order to provide products or services to the client. As emphasized above, it has always been and will always be our Firm's policy never to sell information about current or former customers or their accounts to anyone. It is also our policy not to share information unless required to process a transaction, at the request of a customer, or as required by law.

Class Action Lawsuits

We do not determine if securities held by clients are the subject of a class action lawsuit, nor do we initiate or participate in litigation to recover damages on a client's behalf for injuries as a result of actions, misconduct, or negligence by issuers of securities held by clients.
