Disclosure Brochure

March 31, 2011

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of AGW Capital Advisors. If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact us at 813.254.4700. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or by any state securities authority.

AGW Capital Advisors is a registered investment adviser. Registration of an investment adviser does not imply any level of skill or training. The oral and written communications of an adviser provide you with information about which you determine to hire or retain an adviser.

Additional information about AGW Capital Advisors also is available on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov

Material Changes

On August 12, 2010, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) published “Amendments to Form ADV” which revises the format of Form ADV Part 2 from a “check-the-box” form to a narrative brochure written in plain English. This brochure, dated March 31, 2011 is prepared according to the new Form ADV Part 2 format. As a result, Annis Gardner Whiting Capital Advisors LLC (“AGW Capital Advisors, we, us, our, ours”) is providing you with a brochure that not only looks different, but contains more information than our earlier disclosure documents.

We have offered or delivered information about our qualifications and business practices to clients on an annual basis. We may also provide updated disclosure information about material changes on a more frequent basis. Any summaries of changes will include the date of our last annual update of our brochure.

Our current brochure may be requested by contacting Jeffrey “Jay” Stuart Annis, Managing Member and Chief Compliance Officer, at 813.254.4700 or at jay@agwcapital.com. We will provide you with a brochure at any time without charge.

Additional information about us and about persons affiliated with us who are registered as our investment adviser representatives (“your advisory representative”) is also available via the SEC’s website, at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. Information regarding your advisory representative can also be found in the supplement to this brochure on the page shown in the table of contents to the right of this column.

Advisory Business

AGW Capital Advisors is a Limited Liability Company organized under the laws of the State of Florida. Jay Annis, P. J. Gardner and Paul Whiting co-founded the Tampa-based investment advisory firm in 2009 and are the principal owners. AGW Capital Advisors is an SEC registered investment advisory firm.

As of December 31, 2010, we advised approximately $80 million in client assets where we had the ability to make all of the investment decisions (i.e. discretionary). Approximately $280 million in client assets were managed where our clients made the investment decisions based upon our recommendations (non-discretionary).

Investment Management and Consulting

We assist you to improve the use of your assets by:

- 1) identifying appropriate investment objectives,
- 2) identifying suitable risk parameters in which assets should be managed,
- 3) deploying your assets in a manner that maximizes the probability of achieving your stated objectives within acceptable risk parameters, and
- 4) monitoring your ongoing progress towards achieving stated objectives and making adjustments to your investment strategy given progress and changing conditions.

We frequently manage assets on a discretionary basis to ensure that we have the ability to make necessary changes on your behalf expediently. However, we also handle relationships on a nondiscretionary basis, which is more common with our institutional, committee-based clients

Our core services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment policy statement for corporate and institutional clients:
 - goal and objective setting,
 - spending/distribution policy
- Asset allocation:
 - portfolio optimization, stress testing using linear forecasting, historical analysis, asset liability modeling, Monte Carlo simulation, and
 - rebalancing
- Investment manager search and selection:
 - screening,
 - initial and ongoing due diligence
- Performance measurement and evaluation:
 - benchmarking,
 - monthly/quarterly

- performance reporting
- Fiduciary/trustee services:
 - education and advice on procedural prudence,
 - controlling and accounting for expenses, etc.
- Coordination of professional services:
 - tax,
 - legal,
 - accounting, and
 - insurance

The investment strategies utilized and portfolios constructed and managed depend on your specific investment objectives and goals as provided to us. Model portfolios and unaffiliated investment managers may be used as a part of this strategy. However, you have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the type of and percentage of individual investments to be held in the portfolio.

In managing your investment portfolio, we consider your:

- financial situation,
- risk tolerance,
- investment horizon,
- liquidity needs,
- tax considerations,
- investment objectives, and
- any other pertinent issues important to your state of affairs.

You should notify us promptly if there are any changes in your financial situation or investment objectives or if you wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon the management of your account.

Separately Managed Accounts

In addition to the aforementioned Investment Management and Consulting Services, we have also entered into agreements with various third parties, including, but not limited to, Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”), Callan Associates and Natixis Global Associates for access to a wide range of third-party investment managers representing a diverse array of investment strategies.

Most securities transactions are decided upon and executed by the third-party investment manager. Typically, the third-party investment manager exercises discretion in the management of your account.

Management of Wrap Accounts

In some cases, separately managed accounts may be operated under a wrap fee arrangement. The fee that you pay under this arrangement excludes the fee paid to AGW Capital Advisors, and may or may not cover all brokerage commissions and other trading costs of transactions placed through the third-party investment manager. We do not manage wrap fee accounts differently than we manage non-wrapped accounts and do not receive any portion of the wrap fee for our services.

Fees and Compensation

We offer our services on a “fee-only” basis. Our fee is calculated based upon the market value of the assets in your account on the last day of the previous quarter except in the initial quarter as described later in this section.

Broker-dealers and other financial institutions that hold client accounts are referred to as custodians (“custodian/ broker-dealer”). Your custodian/broker-dealer determines the values of the assets in your portfolio.

Fees for the initial quarter of our relationship with you are based on the value of your cash and securities as stated by each account in your client agreement as evidenced by the account value on the date the custodian/broker-dealer receives them and are prorated based upon the number of calendar days in the calendar quarter that our agreement is in effect. Our standard fee schedule for investment management and consulting services described as follows:

Assets under Management	Advisory Fee¹
First $5,000,000	1.00%
Next $5,000,000	0.75%
Next $15,000,000	0.50%
Over $25 million	0.25%

¹All fees are negotiable at our sole discretion.

In general, our clients pay our advisory fees in advance of receiving our services. Should you terminate the advisory agreement we have entered into within five (5) business days from the date the agreement is executed, you will receive a full refund of any fees paid.

Should either one of us terminate the advisory agreement we have entered into before the end of a billing period, any unearned fees that were deducted from your account will be returned to you by us. The amount refunded to you is calculated by dividing the most recent advisory fee you paid by the total number of days in the quarter. This daily fee is then multiplied by the number of calendar days remaining after the termination date in the quarter that our agreement was in effect. This amount, which equals the amount we earned for the partial quarter, is subtracted from the total fee you paid in advance to determine your refund.

Any unpaid fees become immediately due and payable. Project based assignments terminated before completion of the plan are charged the lesser amount of either an hourly rate of $150 based upon the time spent on the project or the agreed upon fee.

Project-Based Fees

From time to time, AGW Capital Advisors is asked to do “project work” (e.g. investment manager searches, peer reviews, investment policy review or other services) that are not included under a pre-existing fee agreement. In these cases, AGW Capital Advisors will negotiate a customized fee arrangement (e.g. a fixed dollar amount or an hourly rate with estimated hours, etc). We may require some or all of this fee to be paid in advance of our commencing our work or achieving certain milestones (e.g. an interim or final presentation or report).

Performance Reporting Only Fees

AGW Capital Advisors provides performance reporting through a third-party and on occasion is asked to provide performance reporting for clients that includes assets and/or accounts that are not covered under the scope of an advisory fee relationship. In these cases, AGW Capital Advisors will provide such third-party performance reporting for a fixed fee per account.

Performance-Based Fees

Performance-based fees are designed to give a portion of the returns of an investment to the investment adviser as a reward for positive performance. The fee is generally a percentage of the profits made on the investments. We do not charge performance-based fees on any of our client accounts, but in some cases, the investment managers that we recommend can charge such fees.

You must authorize us to have the custodian/broker-dealer pay us directly by charging your account. This authorization must be provided in writing. One-fourth of the annual fee is charged each calendar quarter.

If requested, we will send you an invoice that includes the value of your investments, our advisory fee, and how it is calculated. Your custodian/broker-dealer also provides you with statements that show the amount paid directly to us. You should compare the invoice that you requested to your custodian/broker-dealer’s statement and verify the calculation of our fees. Your custodian/broker-dealer does not verify the accuracy of fee calculations.

However, advisory fees may be billed directly to you if you so direct in writing.

You may also negotiate changes in the frequency and/or timing of fee payments.

In addition to our fee, you may be required to pay other charges such as:

- custodial fees,
- brokerage commissions,
- transaction fees,
- internal fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (“ETFs”),
- third-party investment manager fees,
- wrap fees for separately managed account, and
- other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

None of these fees are paid to or are shared with us.

Mutual fund companies, ETFs, and variable annuity issuers

Mutual fund companies, ETFs, and variable annuity issuers charge internal fees and expenses for their products. Complete details of these internal fees and expenses are explained in the prospectuses for each investment. You are strongly encouraged to read these explanations before investing any money. We encourage you to ask us any questions that you may have about fees and expenses.

If you purchase mutual funds through the custodian/broker-dealer, you may pay a transaction fee that would not be charged if the transactions were made directly through the mutual fund company. Also, mutual funds held in accounts at brokerage firms may pay internal fees that are different from funds held at the mutual fund company.

While you may purchase shares of mutual funds directly from the mutual fund company without a transaction fee, those investments might not be part of our advisory relationship with you. This means that they would not be included in our investment strategies, investment performance monitoring, or portfolio reallocations.

Separately Managed Accounts

A complete description of the programs and services provided, the amount of total fees, the payment structure, termination provisions and other aspects of each program are detailed and disclosed in: i) the applicable third- party investment manager’s Schedule H wrap brochure; ii) the disclosure documents of the portfolio manager or managers selected; or, iii) the Investment Strategy Proposal. Copies of all disclosure documents relevant to separately managed account programs and of the individual money manager(s) will be provided to anyone interested in these programs/managers.

Our fee schedule for advising using separately managed accounts is described as follows:

Assets under Management	Advisory Fee¹
First $5,000,000	1.00%
Next $5,000,000.00	0.75%
Next $15,000,000	0.50%
Over $25 million	0.25%

¹All fees are negotiable at our sole discretion.

Types of Clients

We provide services to corporations or business entities, including their pension and profit sharing plans, and to charitable organizations. We also provide advisory services to high net worth individuals, including their trusts, estates and retirement accounts. As a condition for starting and maintaining an advisory relationship, we generally require a minimum portfolio size of $1,000,000. We, at our sole discretion, may accept clients with smaller portfolios based upon certain factors including anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, account composition, related accounts, and pre-existing client relationships. We may consider the portfolios of your family members to determine if your portfolio meets the minimum size requirement.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We have access to software tools that assist in analyzing client portfolios. Such software may be based upon Modern Portfolio Theory (MPT). MPT attempts to balance a portfolio's risk and return level based on your particular risk tolerance and investment objectives. Additional research and software used in conjunction with the asset allocation software includes, but is not limited to:

- risk tolerance assessments,
- performance analysis and evaluation,
- efficient frontier plotting,
- fund profiling,
- stress testing,
- asset liability modeling,
- Monte Carlo simulation, as well as
- portfolio optimization and re-balancing.

We frequently utilize the services of unaffiliated investment managers to implement our investment advice. We analyze individual managers based upon their performance, track record, investment strategy, research reports on and comparison of managers, and/or their disclosure documents.

We screen data on a diverse group of investment managers and securities (e.g. mutual funds, ETFs) using a variety of factors including, but not limited to:

- investment performance,
- risk statistics,
- holdings analysis of managed account portfolios ,
- assets under management,
- investment philosophy, and,
- investment management team.

This analysis is incorporated into customizable client proposals. Factors considered in the selection of a particular investment include, but may not be limited to:

- your preference for a particular investment;
- your risk tolerance, goals and objectives, as well as investment experience; and,
- the amount of your assets available for investment.

In order to assist you in the selection of an investment manager or security, we typically gather information from you about your financial situation, investment objectives, and reasonable restrictions you want imposed on the management of the account.

Although we manage your portfolio in a manner consistent with your risk tolerances, there can be no guarantee that our efforts will be successful. You should be prepared to bear the risk of loss.

We implement investment strategies for both long-term and short-term investors. You may place reasonable restrictions on the strategies to be employed in your portfolio and the types of investments to be held in your portfolio.

All investments involve risks that can result in certain types of loss including:

- loss of principal,
- a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends and other distributions), and
- the loss of future earnings.

Additionally, these risks may include but are not limited to the following:

- market risk,
- interest rate risk,
- issuer risk, and
- general economic risk.

Disciplinary Information

We have not been the subject of any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of our business or the integrity of our management.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We have no relationships or arrangements with other related financial entities that are material to our advisory business or to you as our client.

Code of Ethics; Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”) to address the securities-related conduct of our advisory representatives and employees. The Code includes our policies and procedures developed to protect your interests in relation to the following:

- the duty at all times to place your interests ahead of ours;
- that all personal securities transactions of our advisory representatives and employees be conducted in a manner consistent with the Code and avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest, or any abuse of an advisory representative’s or employee’s position of trust and responsibility;
- that advisory representatives may not take inappropriate advantage of their positions;
- that information concerning the identity of your security holdings and financial circumstances are confidential; and
- that independence in the investment decision-making process is paramount.

We will provide a copy of the Code to you or any prospective client upon request.

We may buy or sell securities for our firm that we also recommend to clients. Our advisory representatives and employees are also permitted to buy or sell the same securities for their personal and family accounts that are bought or sold for your account(s). The personal securities transactions by advisory representatives and employees may raise potential conflicts of interest when they trade in a security that is:

- owned by you or
- considered for purchase or sale for you.

We have adopted policies and procedures that are intended to address these conflicts of interest. These policies and procedures:

- require our advisory representatives and employees to act in your best interest,
- prohibit favoring one client over another, and
- provide for the review of transactions to discover and correct any same-day trades that result in an advisory representative or employee receiving a better price than a client.

Advisory representatives and employees must follow our procedures when purchasing or selling the same securities purchased or sold for you.

Brokerage Practices

We may recommend that certain broker-dealers/custodians be the broker-dealer/custodian for your account. A broker-dealer/custodian may assist us in servicing your accounts. We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with any broker-dealer/custodian. Our use of a broker-dealer/custodian may be, however, a beneficial business arrangement for us and for the broker-dealer/custodian. Information regarding the benefits of this relationship is described below.

In recommending the broker-dealer/custodian as custodian and as the securities brokerage firm responsible for executing transactions for your portfolios, we consider at a minimum the broker-dealer's:

- financial strength,
- reputation,
- reporting capabilities,
- execution capabilities,
- pricing,
- types and quality of research, and existing relationship with us,

The determining factor in the selection of the broker-dealer to execute transactions for your accounts is not the lowest possible transaction cost, but whether the broker-dealer can provide what is in our view the best qualitative execution for your account.

Broker-dealers/custodians may provide us with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which can include:

- brokerage,
- custody,
- research, and
- access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

We are not required to affect a minimum volume of transactions or maintain a minimum dollar amount of client assets to receive these services.

A broker-dealer may or may not charge separately for holding our clients accounts, but could be compensated by you through other transaction-related fees associated with the securities transactions it executes for your accounts.

Broker-dealers may make available to us products and services that benefit us but may not benefit you directly. Some of these products and services could assist us in managing and administering our client accounts, such as software and other technology that:

- provide access to account data such as:
 - duplicate trade confirmations,
 - bundled duplicate account statements, and
 - access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information;
- facilitate trade execution, including:
 - access to a trading desk serving advisory participants exclusively and
 - access to block trading which provides the ability to combine securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate number of shares to each individual account;
- provide research, pricing information and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from client accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, record keeping and client reporting; and
- receipt of compliance publications.

The broker-dealer also makes available to us other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business. These services may include:

- consulting,
- publications and conferences,
- information technology,
- business succession,
- regulatory compliance, and

- marketing.

The broker-dealer may also make available or arrange for these types of services to be provided to us by independent third-parties. The broker-dealer may discount or waive the fees it would otherwise charge for some of the services it makes available to us. It may also pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to us. Thus, we receive economic benefits as a result of our relationship with the broker-dealer, because we do not have to produce or purchase the products and services listed above.

Because the benefits from the products or services we could receive may vary depending on the broker-dealer/custodian we recommend to be used by our clients, we may have a conflict of interest in making that recommendation. Our recommendation of specific custodian/broker-dealers may be influenced, in part, by a benefit to us and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided to you and our other clients. We nonetheless strive to act in your best interests at all times and we are open to working with any custodian you should choose.

Commissions and other fees for transactions executed through certain broker-dealers/custodians may be higher than commissions and other fees available if you were to use another broker-dealer/custodian firm to execute transactions and maintain custody of your account. We believe, however, that the overall level of services and support provided to our clients by broker-dealer/custodians we recommend outweigh the benefit of possibly lower transactions cost that may be available under other brokerage arrangements.

Many of the services described above may be used to benefit all or a substantial number of our accounts, including accounts not maintained at or through these broker-dealers/custodians. We do not attempt to allocate these benefits to specific clients.

You may direct us in writing to use a particular broker-dealer to execute some or all of the transactions for your account. If you do so, you are responsible for negotiating the terms and arrangements for the account with that broker-dealer. We may not be able to negotiate commissions, obtain volume discounts, or best execution. In addition, under these circumstances a difference in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to clients who direct us to use a particular broker or dealer and other clients who do not direct us to use a particular broker or dealer.

We do not aggregate brokerage orders for clients.

Review of Accounts

All client accounts are monitored on an ongoing basis with a formal review conducted at least annually or as agreed upon with individual clients. The reviews focus on the consistency of portfolio investments with your financial status, stated objectives and risk tolerances. Reviews also consider investment restrictions requested by you, investment time horizons, liquidity needs, tax considerations and other circumstances unique to you.

On a quarterly basis, the performance of each client account is reviewed to monitor consistency with your stated objectives and market benchmarks that we deem applicable. Account reviews may also be triggered by other factors such as changes in general economic and market conditions, analyst reports, interest rate movement, your comfort level with the strategy, life-changing events, changes within an investment manager's organization, changing markets that may dictate different strategies, and the availability of new products that may enhance portfolios. Your advisory representative is responsible for all reviews.

As stated previously, you will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer at least quarterly. You will also receive performance analysis reports prepared by us which describe the returns realized on the investments in your account.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We may enter into written compensation agreements with certain unaffiliated investment adviser representatives and professionals such as CPAs, attorneys, etc. We can pay these persons a percentage of the fee that you pay to us if it is determined you have become clients as a result of their direct or indirect efforts. These payments are a portion of the fee that we charge and do not result in an increase in the amount of the fee that you pay. Any solicitation or referral arrangements will comply with applicable laws that govern the:

- 1) nature of the service,
- 2) fees to be paid,
- 3) disclosures to clients, and
- 4) necessary client consents.

AGW Capital Advisors does not accept any fee compensation other than that described in the Fees and Compensation section.

Custody

You will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer that holds your investment account on at least a quarterly basis. We urge you to carefully review these statements.

You should verify that the transactions in your account are consistent with your investment goals and the objectives for your account. We also encourage you to contact your advisory representative or our Chief Compliance Officer should you have any questions or concerns regarding your account.

Investment Discretion

We offer our advisory services on both a discretionary and nondiscretionary basis. When we offer our services on a discretionary basis this means that we do not need advance approval from you to determine the type and amount of securities to be bought and sold for your accounts. When we offer our advisory services on a non-discretionary basis this means that we need advance approval from you to determine the type and amount of securities to be bought and sold for your accounts. Even on a discretionary basis, we do not have the ability to choose the broker-dealer through which transactions will be executed. Additionally, we do not have the ability to withdraw funds from your account (other than to withdraw our advisory fees which, may only be done with your prior written authorization). This discretion is used in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for your account, if you have given us written authorization to do so.

We only exercise discretion in accounts where we have been authorized by you. This authorization is typically included in the investment advisory agreement (i.e. Client Agreement) you enter into with us.

Typically, the third-party investment managers exercise discretion in the management of your accounts. However, we are also granted discretionary authority in the management of your accounts, as well as the discretionary authority to hire and fire such third-party managers and to apply tax-loss harvesting strategies through the managed accounts.

Voting Client Securities

We do not take any action or give any advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which your accounts may be invested. In addition, we do not take any action or give any advice with respect to any securities held in any accounts that are named in or subject to class action lawsuits.

Financial Information

We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to you and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

Professional Designations

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined

as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Certified Investment Management AnalystSM (CIMA®)

The CIMA® certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment management consulting, including advanced investment management theory and application. Prerequisites for the CIMA® certification are three years of financial services experience and an acceptable regulatory history. To obtain the CIMA® certification, candidates must pass an online Qualification Examination, successfully complete a one-week classroom education program provided by a Registered Education Provider at an AACSB accredited university business school, and pass an online Certification Examination. CIMA® designees are required to adhere to IMCA's Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks. CIMA® designees must report 40 hours of continuing education credits, including two ethics hours, every two years to maintain the certification. The designation is administered through Investment Management Consultants Association (IMCA).

Accredited Investment Fiduciary®

The Accredited Investment Fiduciary® (AIF®) professional designation is the industry's first and only designation that demonstrates knowledge and competency in the area of fiduciary responsibility and communicates a commitment to standards of investment fiduciary excellence. Holders of the AIF® mark have successfully completed a specialized program on investment fiduciary standards and subsequently passed a comprehensive examination.

AIF® designees have a reputation in the industry as being the best positioned to implement a prudent process into their own investment practices, as well as being able to assist others in implementing proper policies and procedures.

Professional Designations

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States. To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined

as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

CFA® - The Chartered Financial Analyst® designation, or CFA® charter, has become a respected and recognized investment credential.

To earn a CFA® charter, you must have four years of qualified investment work experience, become a member of CFA Institute, pledge to adhere to Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis, apply for membership to a local CFA member society, and complete the CFA Program.

The CFA Program is organized into three levels, each culminating in a six-hour exam. Completing the program takes most candidates between two and five years (there is no limit to the number of times you can take each exam), but you can take as long as you need to complete the program.

Certified Investment Management AnalystSM (CIMA)

The CIMA® certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment management consulting, including advanced investment management theory and application. Prerequisites for the CIMA® certification are three years of financial services experience and an acceptable regulatory history. To obtain the CIMA® certification, candidates must pass an online Qualification Examination, successfully complete a one-week classroom education program provided by a Registered Education Provider at an AACSB accredited university business school, and pass an online Certification Examination. CIMA® designees are required to adhere to IMCA's Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks. CIMA® designees must report 40 hours of continuing education credits, including two ethics hours, every two years to maintain the certification. The designation is administered through Investment Management Consultants Association (IMCA).

Accredited Investment Fiduciary®

The Accredited Investment Fiduciary® (AIF®) professional designation is the industry's first and only designation that demonstrates knowledge and competency in the area of fiduciary responsibility and communicates a commitment to standards of investment fiduciary excellence. Holders of the AIF® mark have successfully completed a specialized program on investment fiduciary standards and subsequently passed a comprehensive examination.

AIF designees have a reputation in the industry as being the best positioned to implement a prudent process into their own investment practices, as well as being able to assist others in implementing proper policies and procedures.
