Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The fees for the Fund and managed accounts may vary.

The standard fee paid by investors in the Fund and any separate account managed similarly to the Fund in a long/short strategy is an annual management fee equal to 1.5% of net assets and a performance-related fee or allocation equal to 20% of the amount by which the year-end market value of the assets exceeds the beginning year value, subject to a high-water mark on a rolling two year basis. The management fee is billed either monthly or quarterly in advance, depending on the account. The performance allocation is billed annually, when earned, in arrears and is paid to an affiliate of RiverPark. If the account is terminated on any date other than year-end, the performance allocation is paid on a pro rata basis. At termination a pro rata refund is made for any unearned portion of the management fee. Different fee structures may exist under certain circumstances for certain clients and certain investors in the funds. Any performance-based compensation charged to any U.S. client will be charged to qualified clients as defined under Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 (the "Advisors Act").

The advisory fees for the long only separate accounts is an annual management fee equal to 1.0% of net assets. Different fee structures may exist under certain circumstances for certain clients and certain investors in the funds.

The advisory fees for accounts solicited by RiverPark, but managed by one of the strategic alliance advisors, are subject to an advisory agreement between the client and the alliance partner. RiverPark is paid a solicitation fee by the alliance partner that varies between 25% and 50% of the advisory fee.

All fees are subject to negotiation.

The specific manner in which fees are charged by RiverPark is established in a client's written agreement with RiverPark. RiverPark will generally bill its fees on a quarterly basis. Clients may elect to be billed in advance or arrears each calendar quarter. Clients may also elect to be billed directly for fees or to authorize RiverPark to directly debit fees from client accounts. Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of de minimis contributions and withdrawals). Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable.

RiverPark's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus.

Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to RiverPark's fee, and RiverPark shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 12 further describes the factors that RiverPark considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

In some cases, RiverPark has entered into performance fee arrangements with qualified clients: such fees are subject to individualized negotiation with each such client. RiverPark will structure any performance or incentive fee arrangement subject to Section 205(a)(1) of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 (The Advisors Act) in accordance with the available exemptions hereunder, including the exemption set forth in Rule 205-3. In measuring clients' assets for the calculation of performance-based fees, RiverPark shall include realized and unrealized capital gains and losses. Performance based fee arrangements may create an incentive for RiverPark to recommend investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. Such fee arrangements also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. RiverPark has procedures designed and implemented to ensure that all clients are treated fairly and equally, and to prevent this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

RiverPark provides portfolio management services to high net worth individuals, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, and private investment funds. RiverPark solicits investment advisory services for its strategic alliance partners from high net worth individuals, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, private investment funds and other U.S. and international institutions.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

RiverPark generally offers three different investment strategies that are research-driven and focused on growth. RiverPark offers a Large Cap Growth, Small Cap Growth and Long/Short Equity strategies.

RiverPark's Large Cap and Small Cap strategies seek long-term capital appreciation by investing in equity securities of companies that RiverPark believes have above-average growth prospects. Under normal circumstances, the Large Cap strategy will invest at least 80% of its assets in the securities of large capitalization companies. RiverPark considers companies with market capitalizations in excess of $5 billion to be large capitalization companies. Under normal circumstances, the Small Cap strategy will invest at least 80% of its assets in the securities of small capitalization companies. RiverPark considers companies with market capitalizations at the time of purchase less than $2.5 billion to be small capitalization companies. RiverPark uses a fundamental research driven approach to identify those industries and companies with the strongest growth prospects for revenue, earnings and/or cash flow over the medium and long term and seeks to buy stock in those companies at attractive valuations. RiverPark expects that both strategies will invest primarily in common stocks. RiverPark expects to invest primarily in the securities of U.S. companies, but it may also invest outside the U.S.

RiverPark invests in industries that it believes are the beneficiaries of long-term secular changes in the global economy and companies within those industries that are gaining market share and have, what RiverPark believes to be, long-term sustainable competitive advantages and positions protected by strong barriers to entry. RiverPark seeks companies with latent pricing power, expanding free cash flow and a high return on invested capital. RiverPark also looks for companies with strong and experienced management teams with clear business objectives. RiverPark believes it can gain an investment advantage not only through its primary research and by developing conviction in business models, but also because it invests with a long-term time horizon.

RiverPark's investment process includes several well-defined steps. First, RiverPark frames the investment opportunity by analyzing the investment characteristics of both the industry and the specific company with a focus on the medium-term and long-term secular and structural dynamics involved, such as sustainable competitive advantages, barriers to entry, technological innovation, changes in government regulation and demographic trends. The next step includes fundamental research, including company visits and primary research of competitors, customers and suppliers, as RiverPark seeks to gain conviction in both the competitive dynamics within the industry and the reputation, skill and drive of the management team. RiverPark creates and maintains detailed, proprietary financial models of the revenues, earnings and cash flows of each potential investment and establishes price targets that encompass its view of the company's future enterprise value. RiverPark's purchase and sell disciplines are driven by combining its own proprietary projections of the future fundamentals of a business with what it believes are conservative valuation metrics. Finally, depending on market cap, RiverPark will determine whether an investment is appropriate for the Large Cap or Small Cap strategy. Generally, a security will be sold from the portfolio when RiverPark believes its assessment of the security's intrinsic value has been realized, when the security is underperforming, or when its risk management, industry concentration or market cap guidelines suggest reducing the position.

RiverPark's goal is to invest only when it can firmly establish conviction in the business prospects of the company and when it believes valuations are compelling. RiverPark looks for the opportunity to invest in its high conviction ideas at times when it believes a company's prospects are misunderstood by other investors or analysts, the markets react to short-term events, and/or business models change.

RIVERPARK's Long/Short Equity strategy is offered as an investment partnership, RiverPark Opportunity Fund, LLC ("Fund") or as a separate account. The Fund's goal is to realize strong absolute returns with limited market risk. The Fund will invest in high conviction secular themes where individual company investments on both the long and short side will be driven by the Fund's proprietary fundamental research. We have long been believers in investing in businesses that are taking advantage of long term megatrends that can drive growth. In recent years there have been a number of emerging megatrends, a rarity and one that we believe can drive unusual investment opportunities in the years ahead. Among the more recent additions to our list of megatrends driven by technological change of the last decade are universal connectivity, an explosion of data, digitization of information, and mobility. We seek opportunities to invest in about 6-12 non-correlated investment themes that are driven by megatrends. These investment themes form the basis of the Funds' gross and net exposure and we believe will drive investment returns regardless of the market's direction. Our objective is to invest, on a gross basis, approximately 20% of the fund's net assets in each theme if and when we believe the market gives us an opportunity to bottom-up identify longs that are attractively priced and shorts that are fully priced such that we can make an investment with little net exposure. Our goal is to position the Fund such that if we are right on these high conviction thematic based investments, the Fund will then generate solid absolute returns in both strong and weak market environments.

In a normal environment the Fund's net exposure is expected to average 20-50% and average gross exposure is expected to be approximately 120-200%. It is not expected that gross exposure will exceed 250%. The Fund is generally expected to average 40-60 holdings on the long side and 40-60 on the short side. Long positions are generally capped at 5% at cost of the long portfolio, and 10% at market of the long portfolio. Short positions are generally capped at 3% at cost, and 3% of net equity at market.

The Fund's investment process includes five steps. The first is to frame the investment opportunity by analyzing the investment characteristics of the potential investment, its industry dynamics and competitive position. The second is to leverage our existing industry relationships to drive the investigational part of the process. Company visits and primary research of competitors, customers and suppliers are an integral part of the process. The third step is detailed financial models of the revenues, earnings and cash flows of potential investments. The fourth step is to establish conviction in the business model. Our view is to only invest when we can establish conviction. The lack of conviction suggests more research is warranted in order to establish conviction or that we pass and move on to other investment opportunities. Finally, the fifth step is to patiently wait to purchase or sell short when we believe valuations are compelling. Our purchase and sell disciplines are driven by combining our own proprietary projections of the future fundamentals of a business with what we believe are conservative valuation metrics. We maintain price targets that are dynamically adjusted for changes in the business outlook of our investments and stock price moves. Every long position in our portfolio has in our opinion an expected return of at least 100% over four years.

Principal Risks

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. RiverPark's investment strategies are subject to a number of risks that may cause investors to lose money, including:

No Operating History Risk. RiverPark is a relatively new investment firm, and while its principals have significant experience, the strategies have limited history under the RiverPark name. The strategies are designed for long-term investors and not as a trading vehicle.

Equity Securities Risks. The strategies invest primarily in equity securities. Although investments in equity securities, such as stocks, historically have been a leading choice for long-term investors, the values of stocks rise and fall depending on many factors. The stock or other security of a company may not perform as well as expected, and may decrease in value, because of factors related to the company (such as poorer than expected earnings or certain management decisions) or to the industry in which the company is engaged (such as a reduction in the demand for products or services in a particular industry). Market and economic factors may adversely affect securities markets generally, which could in turn adversely affect the value of the Fund investments, regardless of the performance or expected performance of companies in which the Fund invests.

IPO Risks. RiverPark may participate in initial public offerings ("IPOs"). Some successful IPOs may have a significant impact on investment performance, especially if the account has lower asset levels. In addition, as account assets grow, the positive impact of successful IPOs on performance tends to decrease.

Foreign Securities Risk. The strategies may invest in foreign securities through investments in depositary receipts (such as ADRs) that represent indirect interests in securities of foreign issuers. These investments involve certain risks not generally associated with investments in securities of U.S. issuers. Public information available concerning foreign issuers may be more limited than would be with respect to domestic issuers. Different accounting standards may be used by foreign issuers, and foreign trading markets may not be as liquid as U.S. markets. Foreign securities also involve such risks as currency fluctuation risk, delays in transaction settlements, possible imposition of withholding or confiscatory taxes, possible currency transfer restrictions, and the difficulty of enforcing obligations in other countries. With any investment in foreign securities, there exist certain economic, political and social risks, including the risk of adverse political developments, nationalization, confiscation without fair compensation and war.

Growth Stock Risk. The strategies primarily will invest in growth stocks. Growth stocks are subject to the risk that their growth prospects and/or expectations will not be fulfilled, which could result in a substantial decline in their value and adversely impact the strategy's performance. When growth investing is out of favor, performance may suffer even though the companies within the strategies have sound fundamentals. Growth stocks may also experience higher than average volatility.

Market Risk. Due to the fact that the strategies invest a substantial portion of its assets in stocks, it is subject to stock market risk. Market risk involves the possibility that the value of the Fund's investments in stocks will decline due to drops in the stock market. In general, the value of our portfolios will move in the same direction as the overall stock market in which RiverPark invests, which will vary from day to day in response to the activities of individual companies, as well as general market, regulatory, political and economic conditions.

Small and Medium Capitalization Company Risk. The Small Cap strategy will invest primarily in the securities of smaller capitalization companies which may be newly formed or have limited product lines, distribution channels and financial and managerial resources. The risks associated with these investments are generally greater than those associated with investments in the securities of larger, more well-established companies. This may cause the investment performance to be more volatile when compared to strategies that focus only on large capitalization companies. Securities of small or medium capitalization companies are more likely to experience sharper swings in market values, less liquid markets, in which it may be more difficult for RiverPark to sell at times and at prices that the RiverPark believes appropriate and generally are more volatile than those of larger companies. Compared to large companies, smaller companies are more likely to have (i) less information publicly available, (ii) more limited product lines or markets and less mature businesses, (iii) fewer capital resources, (iv) more limited management depth and (v) shorter operating histories. Further, the equity securities of smaller companies are often traded over-the-counter and generally experience a lower trading volume than is typical for securities that are traded on a national securities exchange. Consequently, RiverPark may be required to dispose of these securities over a longer period of time (and potentially at less favorable prices) than would be the case for securities of larger companies, offering greater potential for gains and losses and associated tax consequences.

Recent Market Events Risk. Recent unprecedented turbulence in financial markets and reduced liquidity in credit and fixed income markets may negatively affect many issuers worldwide, which may have an adverse effect on investment performance.

Management Risk. Management risk means that RiverPark's security selections and other investment decisions might produce losses or cause the strategy to under perform when compared to other strategies with similar investment goals.

Risks of Using Leverage and Short Sales. The Long/Short Equity strategy and Fund may use leverage. Leverage is the practice of borrowing money to purchase securities. These investment practices involve special risks. Leverage can increase the investment returns of a strategy if the securities purchased increase in value in an amount exceeding the cost of the borrowing. However, if the securities decrease in value, the strategy will suffer a greater loss than would have resulted without the use of leverage. A short sale is the sale of a security which RiverPark does not own in anticipation of purchasing the same security in the future at a lower price to close the short position. A short sale will be successful if the price of the shorted security decreases. However, if the underlying security goes up in price during the period in which the short position is outstanding, the strategy will realize a loss. The risk on a short sale is unlimited because RiverPark must buy the shorted security at the higher price to complete the transaction. Therefore, short sales may be subject to greater risks than investments in long positions. With a long position, the maximum sustainable loss is limited to the amount paid for the security plus the transaction costs, whereas there is no maximum attainable price of the shorted security. RiverPark would also incur increased transaction costs associated with selling securities short.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisors are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of RiverPark or the integrity of RiverPark's management. RiverPark has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

RiverPark has entered into an agreement with three strategic alliance partners, all registered investment advisors, Wedgewood Partners, Inc., Cohanzick Management and Gravity Capital management, whereby RiverPark solicits investment advisory clients for these firms in return for a fee equal to a percentage of the fee received by those advisors from solicited clients.

A RiverPark affiliate, RiverPark Advisors LLC, a SEC registered investment adviser, acts as the adviser to a newly launched family of five mutual funds. Additionally, RiverPark Advisors subadvises two actively-managed ETFs. All of the investment strategies used by RiverPark Advisors, LLC are offered by RiverPark in separate accounts.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

RiverPark has adopted a Code of Ethics (the "Code") for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes among other things, provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures. All supervised persons at RiverPark must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended. RiverPark has appointed Morty Schaja as Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO"), who is responsible for maintaining and enforcing the Code.

The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of RiverPark will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Under the Code certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of RiverPark's clients. The Code contains policies and procedures with respect to personal securities transactions by employees and related accounts that are designed to prevent front-running, scalping, and the misuse of inside information. Employees must obtain the prior approval of the CCO for all personal equity securities transactions, and must report all personal transactions to the CCO on at least a quarterly basis. The CCO monitors all transactions by employees in order to ascertain any pattern of conduct which may evidence conflicts or potential conflicts with the principles and objectives of the Code, or other inappropriate behavior.

Certain affiliated accounts may trade in the same securities with client accounts on an aggregated basis when consistent with RiverPark's obligation of best execution. In such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts will share commission costs equally and receive securities at a total average price.

RiverPark will retain records of the trade order (specifying each participating account) and its allocation, which will be completed prior to the entry of the aggregated order. Completed orders will be allocated as specified in the initial trade order. Partially filled orders will be allocated on a pro rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained on the trade order.

RiverPark will provide to any client or any prospective client at no cost a copy of the Code. Clients wishing to receive this information should contact RiverPark by telephone during normal business hours.

It is RiverPark's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. RiverPark will also not cross trades between client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, acting as principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to any advisory client. A principal transaction may also be deemed to have occurred if a security is crossed between an affiliated hedge fund and another client account. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment adviser in relation to a transaction in which the investment adviser, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment adviser, acts as broker for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction. Agency cross transactions may arise where an adviser is dually registered as a broker-dealer or has an affiliated broker-dealer.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

RiverPark, through its investment management agreement with each client, buys and sells investment securities conforming to the objectives and constraints of the client, and determines the appropriate size and amount of each security to be held. RiverPark allocates investment opportunities among the accounts of its clients in a manner which is fair and equitable. RiverPark may place orders for more than one client account simultaneously, and may place orders for its clients on an aggregate basis with one or more Riverpark affiliates on behalf of such entities' clients. The proposed allocation of any order placed on behalf of more than one client account is determined prior to placing the order. If all such orders are not filled at the same price, then RiverPark (together with its affiliates, if applicable) may cause each account to pay or receive the average of the prices at which the orders were filled for all accounts (together with accounts managed by RiverPark affiliates, if any). If all orders placed for client accounts (and accounts managed by RiverPark affiliates) cannot be fully executed under prevailing market conditions, then the securities traded may be allocated among client accounts (together with accounts managed by RiverPark affiliates) on a pro rata basis or in some other equitable manner, taking into account the size of the order placed for each account and any other relevant factors. Such aggregation of orders may not always be to the benefit of a client with regard to the price or quantity executed.

Selection of Brokers. Brokers and dealers dealing with RiverPark are selected and evaluated based on the benefits and costs of their services as compared to others in the marketplace. RiverPark attempts at all times to achieve best execution, although Riverpark may take into account special expertise or capacities of a particular broker as well as research and other services provided to Riverpark (or to affiliates of RiverPark) by brokers.

Research services provided to RiverPark (or to affiliates of Riverpark) by brokers may include reports on individual companies, industries or markets, as well as pricing and statistical services and databases and other news, technical and telecommunications services and equipment utilized by RiverPark (or its affiliates) in the investment management and execution process. Subject to seeking best execution, Riverpark may also consider referrals of potential investors in the funds that it manages as a factor in the selection of brokers. Research services provided by brokers may be used for the benefit of all clients of RiverPark (and clients of Riverpark affiliates. Clients may pay higher commissions than are obtainable from other brokers as a result of the consideration of research services as a factor in selecting brokers in addition to commission cost and best execution.

Trade Error Policies and Procedures. Neither Riverpark nor any of its affiliates will be liable to any client or investor in such client for: (i) any acts or omissions arising out of, or in connection with, the client, any investment made or held by the client or any governing agreement, unless such action or inaction was performed or omitted fraudulently or in bad faith or constituted gross negligence or willful misconduct, or for losses due to such action or inaction or (ii) the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or agent of the client, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by Riverpark or an affiliate in good faith. As a result, any negative or positive results of trading errors generally will be borne by the client, rather than by Riverpark or an affiliate, so long as RiverPark or such affiliate adheres to the foregoing standard of care. Each of RiverPark and its affiliates may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the client's affairs and be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction that is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel and/or accountants, provided that they shall have been selected in good faith. The foregoing provisions will not be construed so as to provide for the exculpation of RiverPark or any affiliate for any liability (including liability under Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but will be construed so as to effectuate the foregoing provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Morty Schaja (CEO), Mitch Rubin (CIO) and Paul Genova (CFO) will continuously monitor portfolio investments on behalf of each account. Investments are reviewed in the context of each client's stated investment objectives and strategies by the portfolio manager responsible for the applicable account.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

None.

Item 15 – Custody

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. RiverPark urges you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities. Investors in Riverpark Opportunity Fund receive statements on a monthly basis from an independent administrator and audited financial statements annually.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

RiverPark usually receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account. When selecting securities and determining amounts, RiverPark observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to RiverPark in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting – Policies and Procedures. RiverPark has adopted policies and procedures regarding the voting of proxies as required under Rule 206(4)-6 under the Advisors Act. These policies and procedures are designed to ensure that proxies received with respect to securities in client accounts where RiverPark exercises voting discretion are voted in the best interests of such clients and that Riverpark maintains records of its proxy voting in compliance with the Advisors Act.

Unless otherwise instructed by a client, Riverpark will vote client proxies consistent with general guidelines that RiverPark has adopted and which RiverPark believes reflect the best interests of our clients, after taking into consideration all relevant facts and circumstances at the time of the vote.

RiverPark will provide to any client, at no cost, a copy of its voting policies and procedures and information regarding how proxies have been voted in the past. Clients wishing to receive this information should contact Riverpark by telephone during normal business hours.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisors are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about RiverPark's financial condition. RiverPark has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
