Item 4: Advisory Business

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

This firm has been in business since June 3, 2010 and the principal owners are Paul Curtis Spitzer, Christopher Tate, and Daniel Craig Osgood.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Advanced Practice Advisors, LLC (hereinafter "APA") offers the following services to advisory clients:

Investment Supervisory Services

APA offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. APA creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and then constructs a plan (the Investment Policy Statement) to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches each client's specific situation. Investment Supervisory Services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Asset allocation
- Risk tolerance
- Personal investment policy
- Asset selection
- Regular portfolio monitoring

APA evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. APA will request discretionary authority from clients in order to select securities and execute transactions without permission from the client prior to each transaction. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

Selection of Other Advisors

APA may direct clients to third party money managers. APA receives its fee directly from clients. The third party managers also receive its fees directly from the client for its services. This relationship will be disclosed in each contract between APA and each third party advisor. The fees will not exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency. Before selecting other advisors for clients, APA will always ensure those other advisors are properly licensed or registered as investment advisor.

Financial Planning

Financial plans and financial planning may include, but are not limited to: investment planning, life insurance; tax concerns; retirement planning; college planning; and debt/credit planning. These services are based on fixed fees or hourly fees and the final fee structure is documented in Exhibit II of the Financial Planning Agreement.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

APA limits its investment advice and/or money management to mutual funds, equities, bonds, fixed income, debt securities, ETFs, third party money managers, REITs, insurance products including annuities, private placements, government securities. APA may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

APA offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets.

Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs. However, if the restrictions prevent APA from properly servicing the client account, or if the restrictions would require APA to deviate from its standard suite of services, APA reserves the right to end the relationship.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

APA does not participate in any wrap fee programs.

E. Amounts Under Management

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

The Custodian will be suggested based on their relatively low transaction fees and access to mutual funds and ETFs. APA will never charge a premium or commission on transactions, beyond the actual cost imposed by Custodian.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

There is no minimum client number or dollar number that APA must meet in order to receive free research from the custodian or broker/dealer. There is no incentive for APA to direct clients to this particular broker-dealer over other broker-dealers who offer the same services. The first consideration when recommending broker/dealers to clients is best execution.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

APA receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

APA will not allow clients to direct APA to use a specific broker-dealer to execute transactions. Clients must use APA recommended custodian (broker-dealer). Not all investment advisers require their clients to direct brokerage. By requiring clients to use our specific custodian, APA may be unable to achieve most favorable execution of client transaction and that this may cost clients money over using a lower-cost custodian.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

APA maintains the ability to block trade purchases across accounts but will rarely do so. While block trading may benefit clients by purchasing larger blocks in groups, we do not feel that the clients are at a disadvantage due to the best execution practices of our custodian.

Item 13: Reviews of Accounts

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Makes Those Reviews

Investment Advisory Services: Client accounts are reviewed quarterly only by the investment committee. The chief advisor is instructed to review clients' accounts with regards to their investment policies and risk tolerance levels. All accounts at IA are assigned to the chief advisor. Reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

B. Factors That Will Trigger a Non-Periodic Review of Client Accounts

Reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

C. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients

Each client will receive at least quarterly a written report detailing the clients account performance, which may come from the custodian.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties for Advice Rendered to Clients (Includes Sales Awards or Other Prizes)

APA does not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly from any third party for advice rendered to APA clients.

B. Compensation to Non –Advisory Personnel for Client Referrals

APA does not directly or indirectly compensate any person who is not advisory personnel for client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

APA does not take custody of client accounts at any time. Custody of client's accounts is held primarily at Name of custodian. Clients will receive account statements from the custodian and should carefully review those statements.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

For those client accounts where APA provides ongoing money management or investment advice with ongoing supervision, APA maintains limited power of authority over client accounts with respect to securities to be bought and sold and amount of securities to be bought and sold. All buying and selling of securities is explained to clients in detail before an advisory relationship has commenced.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities (Proxy Voting)

APA will not ask for, nor accept voting authority for client securities. Clients will receive proxies directly from the issuer of the security or the custodian. Clients should direct all proxy questions to the issuer of the security.

A. Balance Sheet

APA does not require nor solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance and therefore does not need to include a balance sheet with this brochure.

B. Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Ability to Meet Contractual Commitments to Clients

Neither APA nor its management have any financial conditions that are likely to reasonably impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

C. Bankruptcy Petitions in Previous Ten Years

Neither APA nor its management have been the subject of a bankruptcy petition in the last ten years.
