Item 4 - Advisory Business

Ownership

SouthernSun Asset Management, LLC ("SouthernSun") was founded in 1989 by Michael W. Cook, Sr., and is located in Memphis, Tennessee. SouthernSun's institutional partner, Affiliated Managers Group, Inc. ("AMG"), a publicly-traded asset management company (NYSE: AMG), indirectly holds a majority equity interest in SouthernSun. SouthernSun's principals hold the remaining equity interests in the firm. AMG also holds equity interests in other investment management firms ("AMG Affiliates"). Further information on both AMG and AMG's Affiliates is provided in Item 10.

Investment Style

SouthernSun provides investment advisory services for our clients using a proprietary investment research process based on fundamental analysis. We invest primarily by taking long positions in the equity securities of companies that we believe meet our research criteria. SouthernSun primarily focuses its investments in companies that are in the small capitalization to small-to-mid capitalization range of the equity markets. Our Small Cap Strategy and SMID Cap Strategy consist primarily of domestically-based companies. Our Global Equity Strategy invests in both foreign and domestic-based companies.

Client Information

Subject to the approval of SouthernSun, clients are permitted to implement investment guidelines and restrictions on accounts that SouthernSun manages. SouthernSun will discuss the potential restrictions with the client to confirm we clearly understand what is being asked of us and to make sure we believe that we would be able to manage the assets in a manner consistent with our process and philosophy. Types of restrictions may include specific holdings and/or cash minimums and/or maximums.

SouthernSun is not a sponsor of "wrap fee" programs. Some clients retain SouthernSun under wrap fee arrangements offered by unaffiliated broker-dealers or investment advisers (the sponsors). The broker-dealers or investment advisers are responsible for recommending SouthernSun as an investment adviser, paying SouthernSun advisory fees for managing the client's portfolio, monitoring and evaluating performance, executing portfolio transactions without commission charge, providing custodial services for the client's assets, or providing any combination of these or other services, all for a single fee paid by the client to the broker-dealer. When trading on behalf of wrap fee accounts, and while SouthernSun continues to seek best execution when selecting brokers, trades for wrap fee program accounts are typically directed to the wrap fee program sponsor (or its designated broker-dealer), since brokerage commissions are included in the wrap fee. In such situations, SouthernSun may be required to trade a wrap fee program's accounts separately from other accounts being managed within the same strategy. As described in "Item 12- Brokerage Practices," while directed brokerage is designed to benefit the wrap fee program account through lower trading costs, there may be some circumstances where directed trades do not receive as favorable a price, or where dividing the trade into separate components may inhibit SouthernSun's ability to obtain the same level of or as timely an execution as it may otherwise have been able to obtain if it had been able to execute the entire trade with one broker-dealer. Operational limitations with these types of accounts make trading away from the sponsor difficult. To the extent that SouthernSun trades away from the sponsor by placing trades with a different brokerage firm, the client will typically incur the costs associated with this trading, in addition to the wrap fees normally payable. Clients who enroll in these programs should satisfy themselves that the sponsor is able to provide best execution of transactions. Accounts that SouthernSun manages through wrap fee programs are generally managed in the same manner as other accounts received from other sources.

Unified Managed Account ("UMA") Portfolios

SouthernSun provides model portfolios to the sponsors of multi-manager, multi-discipline investment products and diversified manager allocation products. In these instances, SouthernSun does not have discretionary investment authority over individual security portfolios. Another manager, typically the program sponsor or its affiliate, is the discretionary investment manager, has investment discretion over the accounts, and is responsible for monitoring the individual needs of the client. SouthernSun amends and updates the model portfolios from time to time and provides updated information to the sponsor.

AUM

As of 12/31/2014, the total discretionary assets under management by SouthernSun were $5,695,938,000. All assets are managed on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Asset Based Fees

SouthernSun provides investment advisory services for its clients for a fee based upon assets under management. The specific manner in which fees are charged by SouthernSun is established in a client's written agreement with SouthernSun. SouthernSun generally bills its fees on a quarterly basis in arrears. Clients may elect to be billed directly for fees or to authorize SouthernSun to debit fees directly from client accounts. If there are significant cash flows of ten percent (10%) or greater during the quarter, it may result in one or more interim calculations and adjustments (upwards or downwards) to the fees for that quarter. There is no acceptance or termination fee charged. Unless otherwise agreed, services are cancelable by either party by written notice signed by an authorized representative of the terminating party; provided that in the case of a termination of an agreement by a client: 1) it shall be the client's exclusive responsibility to issue written instruction to SouthernSun regarding the termination date and any assets held in the account, and 2) SouthernSun may continue to manage the account for a period of up to two (2) business days until such instructions and termination notice are verified. After a client's instructions and termination notice are verified, SouthernSun will continue to manage the account through the termination date, unless otherwise instructed by the client. The client shall be obligated to continue paying fees to SouthernSun, through the termination date, on a pro-rata basis, in accordance with the pertinent fee schedule. If applicable, however, a pro rata refund will be made by SouthernSun to Client, upon termination, of all fees paid in advance.

SouthernSun's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, and other third parties such as custodial fees, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. These fees are not collected by SouthernSun, but instead are paid, according to the custodian's direction, to the appropriate service provider from the client's account.

Item 12 further describes the factors that SouthernSun considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g. commissions).

Other Fee Information

SouthernSun may at its discretion waive the minimum account size and may negotiate a fee which may be more or less than indicated in the fee schedules. Employees of SouthernSun and their families may receive investment advisory services for a reduced fee or without charge. In addition, approved employees of SouthernSun may invest in one or more unregistered pooled vehicles that may invest in similar strategies as those of our clients. Because there could be an inherent conflict of interest, in such cases, the vehicle itself will be subject to our trading procedures described in Item 12. These procedures are designed to ensure that all clients' interests remain paramount.

A client's cash may be automatically swept into the custodian's designated money market fund unless different instructions are given. Clients typically pay a management fee to SouthernSun on this cash portion of their assets under management, in addition to paying the custodian's money market fund fee.

SouthernSun may utilize Exchange Traded Funds ("ETFs") in certain situations in order to more effectively manage a client's portfolio and cash flows. ETFs also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees, and/or commissions are exclusive of and in addition to SouthernSun's fee, and we do not receive any portion of ETF commissions, fees, and costs.

SouthernSun has been engaged by various mutual fund sponsors to manage certain mutual funds. In each case, including in its capacity as sub-adviser to the AMG SouthernSun Funds, SouthernSun's fees and services are determined by contract with the adviser. Information concerning the mutual funds sub-advised by SouthernSun, including a description of the services provided and advisory fees, is generally contained in each fund's prospectus. Other fees payable as an investor in a sub-advised fund are described below, and also in the fund's prospectus or the adviser's fee brochure or client investment management agreement. Furthermore, SouthernSun acts as a sub-adviser to other investment companies and other types of pooled investment vehicles. SouthernSun is also the investment adviser to an Irish-based UCITS fund which is available to non-U.S. investors. For additional information on the UCITS fund, please refer to the prospectus and supplement.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

In limited instances, SouthernSun has entered into performance fee arrangements with qualified clients and these fees are subject to negotiation on a client by client basis. In addition, our standard fee schedule, which is disclosed in Item 5, describes our asset based fee method. Therefore, we manage both asset based fee accounts and performance based fee account(s).

Because we manage these two types of accounts at the same time, a conflict of interest arises where performance-based fee arrangements may create an incentive for us to recommend investments which may be different than those which would be recommended under our standard fee arrangement. Such fee arrangements also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. Because we manage these various accounts at the same time, a conflict of interest arises where higher based fee or performance fee arrangements may create an incentive for us to recommend investments which may be different than those which would be recommended under a standard fee arrangement. Such fee arrangements may also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. SouthernSun has implemented policies and procedures to ensure that all clients are treated fairly and seeks to prevent this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients. You can read more about our trading and allocation policies and procedures under Item 12 - Brokerage Practices.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

SouthernSun provides portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, Taft-Hartley plans, state pension plans, charitable institutions, foundations, endowments, municipalities, pooled investment funds, registered mutual funds, trusts, banks, and other U.S. and international institutions.

The minimum account sizes and annual fees for separately managed accounts in our different strategies are as follows:

	Small Cap*	SMID Cap	Global Equity
Minimum Account Size	$20,000,000	$20,000,000	$10,000,000
Minimum Annual Fee	$200,000	$180,000	$125,000

* The Small Cap Strategy is generally closed to new investors.

SouthernSun may at its discretion waive the minimum account size and may negotiate a fee which is more or less than indicated in the schedules above.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Philosophy and Style

SouthernSun is a research-driven investment management firm implementing long-only domestic and global equity strategies for institutions and individuals. We are absolute return oriented, investing with a value approach and long-term perspective through disciplined, bottom-up, fundamental analysis and on-site research (e.g. management interviews and facility visits). This philosophy holds true for all SouthernSun strategies and has not changed since inception of the firm in 1989.

SouthernSun invests with a long-term time horizon in niche-dominant, attractively-valued companies with financial flexibility and uniquely-fitted management teams. SouthernSun believes careful, in-depth analysis of a company's financial strength, market position, and human capital is the most comprehensive method of assigning proper valuations, identifying opportunities, and reducing the risk of investment.

SouthernSun believes there is no substitute for knowing each company we invest in as if it were our own. This belief compels us to be thorough, diligent, and patient in our study of each individual company. An integral part of this process is knowing management and viewing the company “through the eyes of its management team” as well as an objective outside investor.

Since inception of the firm in 1989, Michael Cook, CIO, has been responsible for idea generation, security selection, and portfolio construction. He is supported in all aspects of portfolio management and research by a team of six investment analysts, who collectively bring a complementary set of industry and financial services experience to the portfolio.

While every analyst is well-versed in all of our holdings, each analyst is assigned primary responsibilities for subsets of companies on our coverage list, which includes updating models, maintaining a running company journal, and taking the lead on communications with company management on behalf of the Investment Team.

Our analysts are generalists in terms of sector coverage. While the majority of our investments are U.S. companies, many have operations and interests throughout the world. Therefore, each analyst is responsible for understanding, monitoring, and reporting on activities around the globe.

SouthernSun analyzes companies with a market cap range appropriate for the strategy. New ideas are primarily sourced through research on existing holdings, industry trade publications, industry trade conferences, and general market research.

Companies that meet the team’s initial financial criteria then warrant closer scrutiny by the Investment Team. Our portfolio manager and analysts typically conduct a series of management interviews, on-site company visits, and facility tours in order to analyze business strategy and operational strengths while continuing to evaluate management. SouthernSun’s research process may also involve interviews with vendors, competitors, customers, and industry leaders.

Once we have targeted a list of possibilities, we continue our research process by evaluating the attractiveness of each opportunity. Specifically, we seek niche-dominant, attractively-valued companies with financial flexibility (defined by “discretionary cash flow” and balance sheet strength). Such flexibility can fuel growth and provides stability during adverse business conditions. Another key component of our process is identifying uniquely-fitted management teams capable of using financial flexibility to realize business growth opportunities and operational efficiencies that will translate into increased shareholder value. The specific financial and qualitative criteria we focus on are:

Financial Criteria

- Discretionary Cash Flow (DCF)/Price
- Private Market Value Analysis
- Organic Revenue Growth
- Long-term debt as a % of total capital

Qualitative Criteria

- Management's objectives and priorities for Discretionary Cash Flow (DCF)
- Experienced management teams that are forward thinking and execution oriented
- Management's interests closely aligned with shareholders
- Competitive advantages analysis
- Understanding of niche markets and the opportunities/risks in these markets

If it is determined an investment will be made, it will have a clearly articulated investment thesis that will be reviewed often to ensure that it is still applicable over time.

Buy/Sell Decisions

Discretionary cash flow to price, private value market analysis, and discounted future cash flow models are among the primary drivers in determining price targets. These targets are continually revised based on industry and company specific parameters. Both upside and downside price targets are examined using scenario analysis. We buy positions in companies that we feel have an upside of typically 50 - 100% from the current market value over the following 3 to 5 years. The responsibility for valuation comparisons, type/sources of data inputs, and assumptions falls under the Investment Team, led by CIO Michael Cook.

Our sell decisions normally occur in the following situations:

- When a stock reaches its target price range,
- If there is a significant deterioration of fundamental strength, or
- If there is a change in management, or its policies, which could pose risks to shareholder value.

We manage this process through consistent interaction between the Investment Team and the Analytics and Support Team.

Finally, once a sell decision has been made, we carefully review the security's trading volume and our percentage ownership of outstanding shares, as well as other related factors, in order to determine how we prefer to exit. Positions may be sold entirely or scaled out over time depending on such factors.

In summary, we believe our competitive advantages to be:

- Stable, well-rounded investment team: led by founder and CEO/CIO Michael Cook since 1989; supported by six investment professionals with complementary industry and/or financial services backgrounds.
- Independent thinking: belief that human capital and financial strength are of equal importance, and when coupled with niche dominance, can create unique long-term buying opportunities.

- Hands-on, bottom-up, proprietary research with a long-term time horizon: creative idea sourcing through “break room to board room” due diligence, a global perspective, and the desire to “sweat the small stuff.”
- Long-term time horizon

Portfolio Risk Management

Portfolio management and trading oversight are performed by Michael Cook, Chief Investment Officer, and the Investment Team, with tactical and relational assistance from the Analytics and Support Team as well as the Operations, Compliance, and Client Relations Teams. Our oversight of operations, client account guidelines, and other firm-wide risk management processes is primarily managed by our Operations and Client Relations Teams with assistance from our Investment and Compliance Teams. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Below are the core portfolio risks associated with all of our strategies:

Stock Market Risk

Stock markets can be volatile. In other words, the prices of stocks can fall rapidly in response to developments affecting a specific company or industry, or to changing economic, political or market conditions. SouthernSun’s investments may decline in value if the stock markets perform poorly. There is also a risk that SouthernSun’s investments will underperform either the securities markets generally or particular segments of the securities markets.

Company Risk

Common stock prices are subject to market, economic, and business risks that will cause their prices to fluctuate over time. The value of individual stocks may decrease in response to a company’s financial prospects or changing expectations for the performance of the company. While common stocks have historically been a leading choice of long-term investors, stock prices may decline over short or even extended periods.

Small and Mid Cap Company Risk

Generally speaking, companies with smaller market capitalizations often have narrower markets, fewer products or services to offer, and more limited managerial and financial resources than do larger, more established companies. As a result, their performance can be more volatile, and they face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility and risk of loss of SouthernSun’s assets.

Value Investing

Because SouthernSun uses a value-oriented approach, there is a risk that the market will not recognize a stock’s intrinsic value for an unexpectedly long time, or that the adviser’s calculation of the underlying value will not be reflected in the market price. Finally, the adviser’s calculation of a stock’s intrinsic value involves estimates of future cash flow, which may prove to be incorrect, and, therefore, result in sales of the stock at prices lower than SouthernSun’s original purchase price.

Liquidity Risk

The stocks of smaller companies purchased and held by SouthernSun tend to trade in markets that are less liquid than markets for larger company stocks. As a result, SouthernSun may not be able to readily dispose of particular investments at favorable times or prices or may have to sell them at a loss.

Investing in Foreign and/or Emerging Markets Securities

Investing in foreign securities or in securities of companies in emerging market countries involves certain considerations comprising both risk and opportunity not typically associated with investing in other more established economies or securities markets or in the securities of U.S. companies. Considerations for investing in foreign securities and/or emerging market securities include, but are not limited to, currency risks (fluctuations in currency exchange rates and currency devaluations), country risks (political and social instability, regional conflicts, expropriation, and government policies that have the effect of limiting or restricting foreign investment or the movement of assets), less liquid markets, less publically available information than is generally the case in the United States, and less government oversight of exchanges, brokers and issuers which could result in different trading practices.

Sector Risk

Issuers and companies that are in similar industry sectors may be similarly affected by particular economic or market events; to the extent that SouthernSun has substantial holdings within a particular sector, the risks associated with that sector increase.

Focused Investment Risk

A significant portion of a portfolio's holdings may be focused in a relatively small number of securities which may make the portfolio more volatile and subject to greater risk than a more diversified portfolio.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of SouthernSun or the integrity of SouthernSun's management.

SouthernSun has no information applicable to Item 9.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

As noted in Item 4, AMG holds a majority equity interest in SouthernSun. AMG's equity interest in SouthernSun is structured so that SouthernSun maintains operational autonomy in managing its business. AMG does not have any role in the day-to-day management of SouthernSun. Accordingly, AMG is not a “control person” of SouthernSun. AMG also holds equity interests in certain other investment advisers (“AMG Affiliates”). Each of the AMG Affiliates, including SouthernSun, operates autonomously and independently of AMG and of each other. Except as described in this Brochure, SouthernSun does not have any business dealings with these AMG Affiliates and does not conduct any joint operations with them. SouthernSun carries out its asset management activity, including the exercise of investment discretion and voting rights, independent of the AMG Affiliates. Moreover, the AMG Affiliates do not formulate advice for SouthernSun clients and do not, in SouthernSun’s view, present any potential conflict of interest with SouthernSun’s clients. More information regarding AMG, including its public filings and a list of all AMG Affiliates, is available at <http://www.amg.com>.

SouthernSun has mutual fund sub-advisory agreements with AMG Funds, a wholly owned subsidiary of AMG, under which SouthernSun serves as sub-adviser to the SouthernSun Funds in the AMG Funds family of mutual funds, which are sponsored and advised by AMG Funds. As described in each fund’s prospectus, the funds pay AMG Funds advisory fees and AMG Funds pays SouthernSun sub-advisory fees with respect to the funds. In addition, certain of SouthernSun’s employees are registered representatives of AMG Distributors, Inc., a limited purpose broker-dealer that is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AMG Funds and that is the underwriter of the AMG Funds.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Summary

SouthernSun has adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”) for all supervised persons of the firm that describes guidelines and procedures that promote ethical business practices, high standards of conduct, and a fiduciary duty to our clients. There are five main principles contained in our Code:

1. The interests of clients must always be paramount.
2. Adviser Personnel may not take advantage of their relationship with Clients.
3. All personal securities transactions should avoid any actual, potential, or apparent conflicts of interest.
4. Adviser Personnel must protect Confidential Information.
5. Adviser Personnel must comply with all applicable laws.

In addition, specific provisions in our Code include policies and procedures for insider trading, gift and entertainment, political contributions, and personal securities transactions. All adviser personnel must acknowledge the Code annually as well as any amendments. Any client or prospective client may request a copy of the Code by contacting us at (901) 341-2700 or by email at clientservice@southernsunam.com.

SouthernSun, at times, will initiate transactions in client accounts in which SouthernSun employees, directly or indirectly, or other clients may have a position of interest. In addition, SouthernSun employees are able to purchase or sell the AMG SouthernSun Funds for their own accounts or accounts in which they have a beneficial interest.

Personal & Affiliated Trading

Employees are generally restricted from trading the individual securities listed on the “SouthernSun Restricted List” which includes all current portfolio companies of SouthernSun’s strategies as well as those on the watch list as defined by the Investment Team. All trading activity by SouthernSun employees is subject to pre-clearance (prior approval of a trade being executed). Because there could be circumstances where employees could invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees could benefit from market activity by a client in a security or fund owned by an employee. The Code of Ethics is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions, activities, and interests of the employees of SouthernSun will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Certain affiliated or proprietary accounts may trade in the same securities with client accounts on an aggregated basis when consistent with SouthernSun's obligation of best execution. In such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts are traded on the same basis as all other accounts within a given strategy (please see Item 12 for further information on Best Execution Practices).

Insider Trading Policy

In addition to SouthernSun’s own prohibitions against employees acting upon, misusing, or disclosing any material, non-public information (“MNPI”) known as “insider information,” all employees of SouthernSun are also subject to the Affiliated Managers Group, Inc. Insider Trading Policy and Procedures (the “AMG Insider Trading Policy”). The AMG Insider Trading Policy broadly prohibits the use of material, non-public information, and also imposes restrictions on the trading of AMG’s stock.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Best Execution

Best Execution has been defined by industry participants as placing orders for clients with the intent of capturing the maximum possible value of investment decisions in light of all relevant circumstances. SouthernSun attempts to achieve best execution for each client by implementing and adhering to certain procedures within our trading practices. In so doing, we believe that directed brokerage and similar constraints for trading can make our ability to achieve best execution more difficult; however, SouthernSun still strives and seeks to obtain best execution in light of any and all constraints placed upon it by clients. The principle of treating each client fairly is paramount to our efforts in this regard.

SouthernSun has a best execution process where our brokers are pre-approved and ranked for the purposes of setting a yearly commission budget. Our brokers are graded on the following criteria: quantitative trade score which includes transaction cost analysis, relationship, research and other services, and geography. The commissions charged must be, in SouthernSun's judgment, reasonable in light of the value of all services provided and well within the range of commission rates established for the client and charged by comparable brokers for execution of similar transactions.

SouthernSun's Best Execution Committee, comprised of the following voting members, Chief Investment Officer or Investment Team delegate, an additional Investment Team member, Chief Operating Officer, Director of Operations, and the trading desk, also includes non-voting participants, which include, but are not limited to, the Assistant Director of Operations and representatives from the firm's Senior Compliance and Client Relations Teams. The Best Execution Committee mandate is to oversee, supervise, and monitor all relevant SouthernSun policies, procedures, and processes to ensure that SouthernSun seeks Best Execution for all client transactions. To that end, the Best Execution Committee meets no less than semi-annually; however, a meeting may be convened at any time at the request of three voting members. The Best Execution Committee meets to evaluate the performance of broker-dealers utilizing selected qualitative and quantitative measures and ranks the brokers based on their performance. Typically, brokers of a higher or improving rank will see more of the commission budget while lower ranking or declining brokers will see less. If it is determined that a broker has underperformed for an extended period or has exhibited a dramatic drop in performance or service, the committee may consider a number of actions including, but not limited to a verbal or written warning, decrease or cessation of trading volume, or termination of relationship.

The Best Execution Committee may also review as needed all client brokerage activity including those dollars directed by the client to ensure their instructions are met. The Best Execution Committee also takes note of any variances from the commission budget. Our commission budget is created to ensure we have a diverse group of highly skilled brokers that can provide best execution for our clients.

During the routine course of business, SouthernSun's traders select a broker for each trade, taking into consideration certain factors (e.g. execution, responsiveness, anonymity, access to liquidity, geographic location, size and specialty of the firm, flexibility, etc.) for the given security at that period in time in an attempt to facilitate best execution. For example, depending on the size of the trade, the same broker may not always be the best source of liquidity every time SouthernSun elects to trade that position.

Trading Procedures

SouthernSun generally adheres to a trade sequence when investing, rebalancing, or divesting positions for accounts under similar investment policies and objectives. Our trade sequence typically includes three steps: 1) fully discretionary trading relationships, 2) captive or directed trading relationships, and 3) Unified Managed Accounts ("UMA") or model relationships. Each account and/or trading relationship in steps 2 and 3 is placed in a systematic, alphabetical queue giving each relationship an equal opportunity in the sequence of trading. Upon completion of each designated trade, accounts or aggregated groups of accounts are moved to the end of the list and progress upward as subsequent trades are initiated across similar accounts. The trade sequence may be altered or not completed at the discretion of the Investment Team or trader, depending on the time of trade, liquidity conditions, and the broker's ability to complete the trade, in order to facilitate best execution. In addition, any employee-related pooled vehicles will be traded in the same manner and subject to all of the trading procedures in this section (i.e. cycle, aggregation, and allocation), as well as the overall principles of Brokerage Practices discussed in this Item.

SouthernSun may aggregate client purchase and sale orders of securities with those of other clients if, in SouthernSun's judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to its clients, better execution price, lower commission expenses, beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. SouthernSun may also consider a cross trade if it is permissible, determined to be a mutually beneficial opportunity for both sides of the trade, and executed at arm's length. Any cross trades that occur must be approved by a member of the Senior Compliance Staff and are documented and maintained in a file at SouthernSun.

Partially filled orders are generally allocated on a prorated basis in order to achieve comparable gross exposure levels per each security position held or traded. Orders filled with less than 25% of the total order size are typically allocated on a random basis across similar accounts. Similar accounts may be defined as a common investment strategy, trading venue, or both.

These allocation guidelines could be altered for accounts that pay commissions on a per trade basis rather than a per share basis, or other client-directed requests. Orders that are not completed retain priority in subsequent trading, subject to the conditions previously mentioned.

SouthernSun does receive research and other services including, but not limited to, plant and facility tours, access to conferences, and management meetings from brokers with whom we trade as well as brokers who are trying to solicit business but with whom we do not currently have a relationship. However, we are under no obligation to trade with any broker, and we do not "pay up" for research and other services. These services are used for the benefit of all clients irrespective of the nature of the relationship. SouthernSun pays a negotiated rate in cents per share or per transaction depending on the broker, but we do not currently have contracts with any broker for the purposes of soft dollar arrangements.

We understand that this may create a potential conflict when deciding with whom to trade, but our Code of Ethics prevents the firm from acting in its own interest instead of the best interest of the client. Please see the Best Execution process described above for further information on how the firm mitigates such potential conflicts of interest.

Directed Brokerage

1. SouthernSun has clients who have a contract directly with SouthernSun and who do not have a pre-existing custodial relationship. In these instances, SouthernSun does not direct or require its clients to specified broker-dealers for portfolio transactions in their accounts.
2. SouthernSun has clients who have a contract directly with SouthernSun but were recommended to us by a broker-dealer where the client's assets are custodied and the brokerage is directed. Because we are unable to aggregate these accounts with others for trading, we may or may not receive similar execution results, which would have an impact on the performance of the account.
3. SouthernSun has clients who have a contract directly with SouthernSun but who also may have a commission recapture program. In certain cases, in order to fulfill these client-directed objectives, we are unable to aggregate these accounts with others for trading. Consequently, we may or may not receive similar execution results, which would have an impact on the performance of the account. However, SouthernSun has worked extensively with several execution partners to "bundle" as many of these recapture programs as possible, so that similar requests may be aggregated in some cases.
4. SouthernSun has clients who are subject to a Master Client Agreement (also includes wrap program contracts) and all trading is handled by the broker-dealer institution or a specific broker dealer recommended by that institution. Because we are unable to aggregate these accounts with others for trading, we may or may not receive similar execution results, which would have an impact on the performance of the account.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Portfolio Management

Accounts are reviewed on a periodic basis to ensure that they remain within the client's stated investment objectives. On a daily basis, all composites are viewed to determine that their portfolio weights are within tolerance to their intended targets. All accounts are generally screened on a daily basis to ensure that any significant cash flows are captured and the appropriate investment action is taken. Accounts are also periodically examined to view their position weights versus the composite weights, as well as undergo a periodic rebalancing in the order management system. Accounts with specific restrictions are continually monitored to ensure continued compliance. Portfolio management and trading oversight are performed by Michael Cook, Chief Investment Officer, and the Investment Team, with tactical and relational assistance from the Analytics and Support Team as well as the Operations, and Compliance Teams.

Operational Procedures

In addition, SouthernSun has a thorough account opening process which documents key account details, including investment restrictions, proxy voting guidelines, reporting requirements, etc. As an ongoing matter, we have also established an account review process which is led by the firm's Director of Operations who is supported by the firm's Chief Compliance Officer, Director of Client Relations, and Investment, Client Relations, Operations, and Compliance professionals. This group meets periodically to review various procedures and controls surrounding issues such as proxy voting, rebalancing, guidelines, and strategy overlap. For the purposes of security and portfolio restrictions specifically, we have a detailed pre- and post-trade methodology which is designed to ensure compliance with client investment policy statements.

Trade activity, cash transactions, and holdings are monitored daily through our automated reconciliation software. There are a few accounts that are reconciled weekly which are not part of our automated process. If there is a discrepancy or reconciling issue, account administrators investigate such issues until they are resolved or until the investigation is complete. Also, each account is reconciled to the custodial statement on a monthly basis.

Client Reports

Each account (except wrap program accounts along with select other accounts where directed by the client) receives a quarterly written statement which includes the following reports: 1) Portfolio Appraisal detailing each security with cost and market values; 2) Interest, Dividend and Expenses; 3) Cash Ledger; 4) Purchases and Sales; 5) Performance History (vs. benchmark); and 6) Realized Gains and Losses (for taxable accounts). In addition, special reporting is available to accommodate unique client needs or requests (e.g., proxy voting, commissions, fiscal year reporting, performance attribution, etc.).

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

SouthernSun may be party to agreements with third-party solicitors pursuant to which SouthernSun pays a fee to such parties in connection with their solicitation of clients and other services that they provide. SouthernSun may compensate these solicitors by sharing a portion of its investment advisory fee or such other means that will be disclosed to a client in accordance with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

Item 15 - Custody

Although SouthernSun does not have possession of client funds, we are considered to have custody in select situations solely for the purpose of debiting fees from client accounts. Each situation is accompanied by a Letter of Authorization which enables SouthernSun to debit management fees directly from the client's account.

The statements that clients receive directly from the account custodian are the official record of the account. We encourage the client to carefully review and verify the information on the statement from SouthernSun with the information on statements received from the account custodian.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

SouthernSun accepts discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship via the client agreement between the two parties. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account. The investment objectives, policies, limitations, and guidelines, along with any particular restrictions, should be given to SouthernSun in writing prior to or at the time of the engagement of our services for SouthernSun's review and acceptance. For registered investment companies, SouthernSun adheres to the relevant fund's Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information.

SouthernSun does not employ securities lending in the execution of its investment strategies nor does SouthernSun advise clients on whether or not securities lending is appropriate for their use. Should any client independently choose to engage in lending any of the securities in a portfolio advised by SouthernSun, the portfolio will be subject to the general investment and operational risks associated with securities lending, and with the specific risks associated with the management, terms and conditions of the program selected by the client.

Furthermore, absent any explicit agreement, SouthernSun does not engage in or monitor legal proceedings, including class-action claims, on behalf of its clients.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

SouthernSun accepts client authority to vote proxies on the client's behalf. As a fiduciary with discretionary authority to manage the client's assets, our responsibility is that we are to vote unless specifically instructed not to do so by the client. The Investment Team has the responsibility for the implementation and monitoring of our proxy voting policy, practices, disclosures, and record keeping, including outlining our voting guidelines in our procedures.

Proxy Voting Summary

Due to our investment philosophy, SouthernSun generally invests in companies only if we believe the management will act in the best interest of shareholders. Because of this confidence, SouthernSun will often vote for management's decisions and recommendations on their proxy ballots. However, when we believe management is not acting in the best interest of shareholders, we will act accordingly by voting against management's position.

In keeping with its investment advisory services and to uphold its fiduciary obligations, SouthernSun will vote proxy material on behalf of those clients who direct us to do so. SouthernSun maintains a written Proxy Voting Policy and Proxy Voting Guidelines, which are used to determine how to vote. As adviser (or sub-adviser) to certain U.S. and non-U.S. funds, we will vote such proxies solely in the interest of its shareholders. We will not subordinate the interests of these funds to any unrelated objectives.

The following are key guiding principles of SouthernSun's Proxy Voting Policy:

- Accountability - Management should be accountable to its board of directors and the board should be accountable to shareholders.
- Alignment of Management and Shareholder Interest - We generally believe that compensation should be designed to reward management for doing a good job of creating long term value for the shareholders of the company, while not rewarding risk which may work in the short term, but also may have the potential to be significantly detrimental to the company's long term health.
- Transparency - We promote timely disclosure of important information about a company's business operations and financial performance.

SouthernSun utilizes Broadridge Proxy Edge in order to access web based proxy voting and meeting information to assist in the administration of the voting process. In addition, we use the Broadridge Integrated Recommendations to provide vote recommendations for proxy votes, which we utilize in our research process to assist the overall decision process on proxy votes.

When a conflict is identified as material, SouthernSun will disclose the conflict to the affected client. Upon contact, SouthernSun will then either vote in accordance with the client specific instructions (e.g. AFL-CIO Proxy Voting Guidelines) or obtain permission to vote, as usual, in the best interest of shareholders or clients. If SouthernSun is unable to contact the client, a third party proxy service provider may be consulted.

Should you wish to receive a copy of SouthernSun's Proxy Voting Policy, Proxy Voting Guidelines, or should a client wish to receive record of votes cast on their behalf, please submit your request by calling our office at (901) 341-2700 or by emailing us at operations@southernsunam.com.

In the event that a client has additional securities that we do not manage in a particular account, SouthernSun will provide the proxy voting information directly to the client so that they can vote the proxy personally.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about SouthernSun's financial condition. SouthernSun has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients. We do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months in advance and have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
