Additional Compensation

Mr. Fullerton is independently licensed as an insurance agent and sells insurance products to any client. He receives commissions when selling these products. This is a potential conflict of interest since he could earn commissions as an insurance agent and also earn advisory fees as an investment advisor representative.

Certain product sponsors may provide Steven D. Fullerton with other economic benefits as a result of him recommending or selling the product sponsors' investments. The economic benefits he receives from the product sponsors can include, but are not limited to, financial assistance or the sponsorship of conferences and educational sessions, marketing support, incentive awards, payment of travel expenses, and tools to assist him in providing various services to clients.

Kingdom Financial Group, LLC and Steven D. Fullerton endeavor at all times to put the interest of clients ahead of their own interests or the interests of the advisor's officers, directors or representatives ("affiliated persons"). However, these arrangements could affect Mr. Fullerton's judgment when recommending investment products and present a conflict of interest that may affect his judgment.

Clients are never obligated or required to purchase insurance products from or through Mr. Fullerton and may select any independent insurance agent and insurance company to purchase insurance products. Regardless of the insurance agent selected, the insurance agent or agency will receive normal commissions from the sale.
