Item 3 Disciplinary Information¹

If there are legal or disciplinary events material to your evaluation of Mr. Delp, we are required to disclose all material facts regarding those events.

Items 3.A, 3.B, 3.C, and 3.D below list specific legal and disciplinary events presumed to be material for this Item. If Mr. Delp has been involved in one of these events, we must disclose it under this Item for ten years following the date of the event, unless (1) the event was resolved in Mr. Delp's favor, or was reversed, suspended or vacated, or (2) we have rebutted the presumption of materiality to determine that the event is not material (see Note below). For purposes of calculating this ten-year period, the "date" of an event is the date the final order, judgment, or decree was entered, or the date any rights of appeal from preliminary orders, judgments or decrees lapsed.

Items 3.A, 3.B, 3.C, and 3.D do not contain an exclusive list of material disciplinary events. If Mr. Delp has been involved in a legal or disciplinary event that is not listed in Items 3.A, 3.B, 3.C, or 3.D but is material to your evaluation of Mr. Delp's integrity, we must disclose the event. Similarly, even if more than ten years have passed since the date of the event, we must disclose the event if it is so serious that it remains currently material to your evaluation.

- A. A criminal or civil action in a domestic, foreign or military court of competent jurisdiction in which Mr. Delp

There are no disclosures in regards to Item 3A

- B. An administrative proceeding before the SEC, any other federal regulatory agency, any state regulatory agency, or any foreign financial regulatory authority in which Mr. Delp

There are no disclosures in regards to Item 3B

- C. A self-regulatory organization (SRO) proceeding in which Mr. Delp was found to have been involved in a violation of the SRO's rules and was: (i) barred or suspended from membership or from association with other members, or was expelled from membership; (ii) otherwise significantly limited from investment-related activities; or (iii) fined more than $2,500.

While with LPL Financial, LLC Bradley J. Delp recommended that six clients participate in a non-recourse loan arrangement referred to as "Stock to Cash", a program under which these Clients pledged stock to obtain loans to purchase other investments. Mr.

¹ Note: Our firm may, under certain circumstances, rebut the presumption that a disciplinary event is material. If an event is immaterial, we are not required to disclose it. When we review a legal or disciplinary event involving Mr. Delp to determine whether it is appropriate to rebut the presumption of materiality, we consider all of the following factors: (1) the proximity of Mr. Delp to the advisory function; (2) the nature of the infraction that led to the disciplinary event; (3) the severity of the disciplinary sanction; and (4) the time elapsed since the date of the disciplinary event. If we conclude that the materiality presumption has been overcome, we prepare and maintain a file memorandum of our determination in our records. We follow SEC rule 204-2(a)(14)(iii) and similar state rules.

Delp's customers obtained loans totaling approximately $3.5 million. The pledged stock would be transferred to the loaning entity's securities account maintained at a clearing firm. The loans were typically for three years up to 90% of the value of the stock with no payments required during the term of the loan but clients were required to pay the full principal and interest due at the end of the loan term. The clients actually conveyed full ownership to the loaning entity which routinely sold the securities upon receipt and moved the money into its own bank account. FINRA was concerned that Mr. Delp did not take adequate efforts to find out what happened to the stock conveyed to the lender and did not inquire into what would be done with the stock. He also did not conduct enough due diligence into the financial condition of the lender but relied on unverified statements made by the promoter and told his clients they could receive their stock back at the end of the loan period based on the information he received from the loaning entity. Some of the clients, at Mr. Delp's recommendation and with his participation, initially used some of the loan proceeds to buy equity-based mutual funds along with other products in violation of Regulation U restrictions.

On December 1, 2010, Mr. Delp submitted an Acceptance, Waiver, and Consent (AWC) form, accepting responsibility without admitting or denying FINRA's findings. On December 21, 2010, FINRA responded with a letter of acceptance regarding the AWC filed December 1st. Mr. Delp was suspended for 75 days and fined $25,000 by FINRA.

D. Any other proceeding in which a professional attainment, designation, or license of Mr. Delp was revoked or suspended because of a violation of rules relating to professional conduct. If Mr. Delp resigned (or otherwise relinquished his/her attainment, designation, or license) in anticipation of such a proceeding (and the adviser knows, or should have known, of such resignation or relinquishment), we must disclose the event.

We have nothing further to disclose in this regard.

Item 4 Other Business Activities

A. If Mr. Delp is actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation, including if Mr. Delp is registered, or has an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, registered representative of a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant ("FCM"), commodity pool operator ("CPO"), commodity trading advisor ("CTA"), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA, we are required to disclose this fact and describe the business relationship, if any, between the advisory business and the other business.

1. If a relationship between the advisory business and Mr. Delp's other financial industry activities creates a material conflict of interest with you, the SEC requires us to describe the nature of the conflict and generally how we address it.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

2. If Mr. Delp receives commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities or other investment products, including as a broker-dealer or registered representative, and including distribution or service (“trail”) fees from the sale of mutual funds, we have to disclose this fact. If this compensation is not cash, we are required to explain what type of compensation Mr. Delp receives. We must explain that this practice gives Mr. Delp an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on your needs.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

- B. If Mr. Delp is actively engaged in any business or occupation for compensation not discussed in response to Item 4.A, above, and the other business activity or activities provide a substantial source of Mr. Delp’s income or involve a substantial amount of Mr. Delp’s time, we are required to disclose this fact and must describe the nature of that business. If the other business activities represent less than 10 percent of Mr. Delp’s time and income, we may presume that they are not substantial.

Mr. Delp is licensed to sell insurance and may be compensated for recommending insurance products to advisory clients. Clients are never obligated to purchase insurance products from Mr. Delp.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Mr. Delp for providing advisory services, we are required to generally describe the arrangement. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include sales awards and other prizes, but do not include Mr. Delp’s regular salary. Any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts should be considered an economic benefit, but other regular bonuses should not.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 6 Supervision

We are required to explain how we supervise Mr. Delp, including how we monitor the advice Mr. Delp provides to you. Our firm has to provide the name, title and telephone number of the person responsible for supervising Mr. Delp’s advisory activities on behalf of our firm.
