To earn this designation, you must have four years of qualified investment work experience, become a member of CFA Institute, pledge to adhere to the CFA Institute's Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis, apply for membership to a local CFA member society, and complete the CFA Program.

The CFA Program is organized into three levels, each culminating in a six-hour exam. The major areas of study are Ethics, Quantitative Analysis, Economics, Accounting, Security Analysis, and Portfolio Management.

In addition to producing an array of industry-supported events, educational opportunities and publications, the CFA Institute has devised a volunteer-based education program that recommends that members complete a minimum of 20 hours of continued education (CE) activities, including a minimum of two hours of standards, ethics and regulatory education each calendar year. Members have autonomy over the activities they engage in as long as they follow two broad requirements: The activity should be educational in nature and geared toward increasing the knowledge, skills and abilities of an investment professional and the educational content should relate to one or more of the Topics for Investment Professionals (TIPs) or a topic that a member deems individually relevant for his or her unique professional responsibilities.

Members receive credit for their continuing education by keeping a CE journal and then receive recognition for meeting annual milestones in their programs. The CFA Institute recognizes these milestones by providing certificates signifying program completion and by publishing the names of CE members in CFA publications.
