Item 4 Advisory Business

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. is a SEC-registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in NY. Invictus Timing Service Ltd. began conducting business in 1986.

Listed below is the firm's principal shareholder (i.e., those individuals and/or entities controlling 25% or more of this company).

- Jay Allan Ambroson,

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. offers the following advisory services to our clients:

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS") INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Our firm provides continuous advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Mutual fund shares
- Variable annuities

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

MARKET TIMING SERVICES

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. provides the management of individual clients' portfolios, rendering advice as to the advisability of moving between annuity, equity or bond funds or to a defensive fund (within the same family of funds) in an attempt to capture gains during rising market periods and to preserve the client's capital during falling market periods. Our market timing service is of a continuous nature, evaluating holdings and market positions on a daily basis. We will attempt to move funds from one specific fund group to a money market fund (within the same family) when the capital improvement potentiality is in question. The funds will be switched back to the same type of fund when qualified factors indicate growth possibilities.

In order to effectively manage client funds, we request that each client provide the firm with discretionary authority to effect conversions between mutual funds on the client's behalf. As part of this authority, we request that each client provide us with approximately twelve pre-signed Exchange Forms. In this way, we will be able to execute trades quickly in the event that the client cannot be immediately contacted.

It is also noted that certain mutual funds allow for telephone switching services. This is perhaps the quickest way in which to effect a transaction on the client's behalf. As such, our firm will offer this service to a client, if the particular mutual fund under timing consideration has provisions for telephone switching privileges. If market conditions were to change rapidly, we are able to assist our clients in achieving the greatest possible return, given the individual circumstances.

Our primary objective is to preserve and increase the aggregate capital funds of any client.

AMOUNT OF MANAGED ASSETS

As of 12/31/2014, we were actively managing $146,389,028 of clients' assets on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS") INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT FEES

Our annual fees for Investment Supervisory Services are based upon a percentage of assets under management at a rate of 1.00%. These fees include Market Timing Service Fees discussed below. Our initial fees are billed, payable and due within 30 days of entering into an Investment Advisory contract. On an ongoing basis, our fees are invoiced in advance on an annual basis.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although Invictus Timing Service Ltd. has established the aforementioned fee schedule(s), we retain the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a client-by-client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

We may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee.

Discounts, not generally available to our advisory clients, may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of our firm.

Payment of Advisory Fees: When billed for advisory services, clients may elect, at their option, to pay either by check from their personal funds, or by authorizing a withdrawal from their investment account. If the client selects authorizing a withdrawal from their investment account, the client will sign a form authorizing the mutual fund company to pay Invictus Timing Service Ltd. directly.

MARKET TIMING SERVICES FEES

Fees for these services are INCLUDED in the 1% of assets under management fee discussed above for Investment Supervisory Services. As also mentioned above, our initial fees are billed, payable and due within 30 days of entering into an Investment Advisory contract. On an ongoing basis, our fees are invoiced in advance on an annual basis.

An hourly fee of $150.00 may also be charged for additional review time (e.g., other than annual reviews) or for other client requested services. All hourly fees are charged in arrears and will be billed on a monthly basis.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. As disclosed above, certain fees are paid in advance of services provided. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. In calculating a client's reimbursement of fees, we will pro rate the reimbursement according to the number of months remaining in the the billing period.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to Invictus Timing Service Ltd. for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and variable annuities to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

ERISA Accounts: Invictus Timing Service Ltd. is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employee benefit plans or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"), and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively. . As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation. To avoid engaging in prohibited transactions, Invictus Timing Service Ltd. may only charge fees for investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons do not receive any commissions or 12b-1 fees, or conversely, investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons receive commissions or 12b-1 fees, however, only when such fees are used to offset Invictus Timing Service Ltd.'s advisory fees.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers for similar or lower fees.

Additional Compensation: Clients should note if they elect to implement mutual fund transactions through Gould, Ambrosion & Associates Ltd. (an affiliated company company of Invictus Timing Service Ltd.), separate and typical compensation for these transactions will be received by the affiliated company. These types of compensation may include, but are not limited to commissions, 12b-1 fees and asset-based sales charge service fees. Clients will be informed of the compensation received by the affiliate as Invictus Timing Service Ltd. may reduce or even waive, in whole or in part, its advisory fees. Clients have the option to purchase investment products recommended by Invictus Timing Service Ltd. through other brokers or agents not affiliated with Invictus Timing Service Ltd.

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Charting. In this type of technical analysis, we review charts of market and security activity in an attempt to identify when the market is moving up or down and to predict how long the trend may last and when that trend might reverse.

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially predict future price movement.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. This presents a risk in that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company may underperform regardless of market movement.

Cyclical Analysis. In this type of technical analysis, we measure the movements of a particular stock against the overall market in an attempt to predict the price movement of the security.

Qualitative Analysis. We subjectively evaluate non-quantifiable factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement, and predict changes to share price based on that data.

A risk of using qualitative analysis is that our subjective judgment may prove incorrect.

Asset Allocation. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategy(ies) in managing client accounts, provided that such strategy(ies) are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Risk of Loss. Securities investments are not guaranteed and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

Clients should understand that investing in any securities, including mutual funds, involves a risk of loss of both income and principal.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Management personnel of Invictus Timing Service Ltd. are separately licensed as registered representatives of Gould, Ambroson & Associates Ltd., an affiliated broker-dealer. These individuals, in their separate capacity, can effect securities transactions for which they will receive separate, yet customary compensation.

While Invictus Timing Service Ltd. and these individuals endeavor at all times to put the interest of the clients first as part of our fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation itself creates a conflict of interest, and may affect the judgment of these individuals when making recommendations.

Management personnel of our firm are also partners in Gould, Ambroson & Associates, a partnership providing accounting, tax preparation and insurance services for separate and typical compensation.

Gould, Ambroson & Associates typically recommends Invictus Timing Service Ltd. to its clients in need of advisory services. Conversely, Invictus Timing Service Ltd. typically recommends Gould, Ambroson & Associates to advisory clients in need of tax preparation and insurance services. Services provided by Gould, Ambroson & Associates are separate and distinct from our advisory services, and are provided for separate and typical compensation. There are no referral fee arrangements between our firms for these recommendations. No Invictus Timing Service Ltd. client is obligated to use Gould, Ambroson & Associates for any service it provides and conversely, no Gould, Ambroson & Associates client is obligated to use the advisory services provided by us. Gould, Ambroson & Associates' services do not include the authority to sign checks or otherwise disburse funds on any of our advisory client's behalf.

The principal executive officers may spend as much as 75% of their time with the affiliates, Gould, Ambroson & Associates Ltd. and Gould, Ambroson & Associates. Due to the close nature of Invictus Timing Service Ltd., Gould, Ambroson & Associates Ltd. and Gould, Ambroson & Associates, time spent by the principal officers in these related fields compliments and enhances the services of all three organizations.

Management personnel of our firm, in their individual capacities, are agents for various insurance companies. As such, these individuals are able to receive separate, yet customary commission compensation resulting from implementing product transactions on behalf of advisory clients. Clients, however, are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation by Invictus Timing Service Ltd. and its management persons or employees creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Invictus Timing Service Ltd. endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps to address this conflict:

- we disclose to clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for our firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory clients in addition to our firm's advisory fees;
- we disclose to clients that they are not obligated to purchase recommended investment products from our employees or affiliated companies;
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- our firm's management conducts regular reviews of each client account to verify that all recommendations made to a client are suitable to the client's needs and circumstances;
- we require that our employees seek prior approval of any outside employment activity so that we may ensure that any conflicts of interests in such activities are properly addressed;
- we periodically monitor these outside employment activities to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by our firm; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

Our Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Our firm and/or individuals associated with our firm may buy or sell for their personal accounts securities identical to or different from those recommended to our clients. In addition, any related person(s) may have an interest or position in a certain security(ies) which may also be recommended to a client.

It is the expressed policy of our firm that no person employed by us may purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction(s) being implemented for an advisory account, thereby preventing such employee(s) from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts.

We may aggregate our employee trades with client transactions. Since transactions are in mutual fund shares, and compliant with our duty to seek best execution for our clients, employee trades and client trades will receive the same execution.

As these situations represent actual or potential conflicts of interest to our clients, we have established the following policies and procedures for implementing our firm's Code of Ethics, to ensure our firm complies with its regulatory obligations and provides our clients and potential clients with full and fair disclosure of such conflicts of interest:

- No principal or employee of our firm may put his or her own interest above the interest of an advisory client.

10. We have established policies requiring the reporting of Code of Ethics violations to our senior management.
11. Any individual who violates any of the above restrictions may be subject to termination.

As disclosed in the preceding section of this Brochure (Item 10), related persons of our firm are separately registered as representatives of Gould, Ambrosion & Associates Ltd. an affiliated broker-dealer, and partners in Gould, Ambrosion & Associates an affiliated accounting, tax preparation and insurance services firm (including being licensed as an insurance agent of various insurance companies). Please refer to Item 10 for a detailed explanation of these relationships and important conflict of interest disclosures.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. does not have any soft-dollar arrangements and does not receive any soft-dollar benefits.

As our firm does not have the discretionary authority to determine the broker-dealer to be used or the commission rates to be paid, clients must direct Invictus Timing Service Ltd. as to the broker-dealer to be used.

Invictus Timing Service Ltd. recommends clients direct us to place trades through Gould, Ambrosion & Associates Ltd. ("BROKER"). We reserve the right to decline acceptance of any client account for which the client directs the use of a broker other than BROKER if we believe that this choice would hinder our fiduciary duty to the client and/or our ability to service the account. In directing the use of BROKER, it should be understood that Invictus Timing Service Ltd. will not have authority to negotiate commissions or to necessarily obtain volume discounts, and best execution may not be achieved. In addition, a disparity in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to the client and those charged to other clients (who may direct the use of another broker).

Clients should note, while Invictus Timing Service Ltd. has a reasonable belief that BROKER is able to obtain best execution and competitive prices, our firm will not be independently seeking best execution price capability through other brokers. Not all advisers require clients to direct it to use a particular broker-dealer.

Client assets managed by Invictus Timing Service Ltd. is solely limited to mutual funds and variable annuities. Additionally, these assets are solely custodied by the mutual fund companies/annuity companies themselves, not a broker-dealer. Therefore, Invictus does not have clients in need of third party brokerage or custodial services.

As a matter of policy and practice, Invictus Timing Service Ltd. does not generally block client trades and, therefore, we implement client transactions separately for each account. Consequently, certain client trades may be executed before others, at a different price and/or commission rate. Additionally, our clients may not receive volume discounts available to advisers who block client trades.

The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

We may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee.
