Item 2 – Material Changes

Form ADV 2 is divided into two parts: Part 2A and Part 2B. Part 2A (the “Disclosure Brochure”) provides information about a variety of topics relating to an Advisor’s business practices and conflicts of interest. Part 2B (the “Brochure Supplement”) provides information about advisory personnel of Claro.

Claro believes that communication and transparency are the foundation of its relationship and continually strive to provide its Clients with complete and accurate information at all times. Claro encourages all current and prospective Clients to read this Disclosure Brochure and discuss any questions you may have with us. And of course, we always welcome your feedback.

Material Changes

There have been changes to this Disclosure Brochure that we are required to disclose to Clients. These material changes include:

- The Advisor may place a portion of client assets with an unaffiliated money manager. Please see Item 4 for additional details.

Future Changes

From time to time, we may amend this Disclosure Brochure to reflect changes in our business practices, changes in regulations and routine annual updates as required by the securities regulators. This complete Disclosure Brochure or a Summary of Material Changes shall be provided to each Client annually and if a material change occurs in the business practices of Claro.

At any time, you may view the current Disclosure Brochure on-line at the SEC’s Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or our CRD# 160294. Item 4 – Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

Claro Advisors, LLC (“Claro” or the “Advisor”) is a registered investment advisor with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”), which is organized as a Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Claro was founded in January 2012, and is owned and operated by Ryan S. Belanger (Principal). This Disclosure Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the advisory services provided by Claro.

B. Advisory Services Offered

Claro offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates and businesses (each referred to as a “Client”).

Investment Management Services

Claro provides customized investment advisory solutions for its Clients. This is achieved through continuous personal Client contact and interaction while providing discretionary investment management and consulting services. Claro works with each Client to identify their investment goals and objectives as well as risk tolerance and financial situation in order to create a portfolio allocation. Claro will then construct a portfolio, consisting of low-cost, diversified mutual funds and/or exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”) to achieve the Client’s investment goals. The Advisor may also utilize individual stocks, bonds, non-traded REITs and unaffiliated money managers (as defined below) to meet the needs of its Clients.

Claro’s investment strategy is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. Claro will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance agreed to by the Client. Each Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to the acceptance by the Advisor.

Claro evaluates and selects securities for inclusion in Client portfolios only after applying their internal due diligence process. Claro may recommend, on occasion, redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio. Claro may recommend specific positions to increase sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement. Claro may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position(s) in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client’s risk tolerance.

Claro will provide investment advisory services and related services. At no time will Claro accept or maintain physical custody of a Client’s funds or securities, except for the direct deduction of fees. All Client assets will be managed within their designated account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the Client investment advisory agreement.

Use of Independent Managers - Claro may recommend that a Client utilize one or more unaffiliated investment managers or investment platforms (collectively “Independent Managers”) for a portion of a Client’s investment portfolio. In such instances, the Client may be required to authorize enter into an advisory agreement with the Independent Manager[s] that defines the terms in which the Independent Manager[s] will provide investment management and related services. The Advisor may also assist in the development of the initial policy recommendations and managing the ongoing Client relationship. The Advisor will perform initial and ongoing oversight and due diligence over the selected Independent Manager[s] to ensure the Independent Managers’ strategies and target allocations remain aligned with its clients’ investment objectives and overall best interests. The Client, prior to entering into an agreement with unaffiliated investment manager[s] or investment platform[s], will be provided with the Independent Manager’s Form ADV 2A (or a brochure that makes the appropriate disclosures).

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Claro will typically provide a variety of financial planning services to individuals and families, pursuant to a written financial planning or consulting agreement. Services are offered in several areas of a Client’s financial situation, depending on their goals, objectives and financial situation.

Generally, such financial planning services will involve preparing a financial plan or rendering a financial consultation based on the Client’s financial goals and objectives. This planning or consulting may encompass one or more areas of need, including, but not limited to investment planning, retirement planning, personal savings, education savings and other areas of a Client’s financial situation.

A financial plan developed for or financial consultation rendered to the Client will usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the Client. For example, recommendations may be made that the Client start or revise their investment programs, commence or alter retirement savings, establish education savings and/or charitable giving programs. Claro may also refer Clients to an accountant, attorney or another specialist, as appropriate for their unique situation. For certain financial planning engagements, the Advisor will provide a written summary of Client's financial situation, observations, and recommendations. For consulting or ad-hoc engagements, the Advisor may not provide a written summary.

Plans or consultations are typically completed within six months of contract date, assuming all information and documents requested are provided promptly. Financial planning and consulting recommendations may pose a potential conflict between the interests of the Advisor and the interests of the Client. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor or maintain an ongoing relationship with the Advisor. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations made by the Advisor, the Client is under no obligation to execute the transaction through the Advisor.

C. Client Account Management

Prior to engaging Claro to provide investment advisory services, each Client is required to enter into one or more agreements with the Advisor that define the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Establishing an Investment Policy Statement – Claro, in connection with the Client, may develop a statement that summarizes the Client's investment goals and objectives along with the broad strategy[ies] to be employed to meet the objectives.
- Asset Allocation – Claro will develop a strategic asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance for risk for each Client.
- Portfolio Construction – Claro will develop a portfolio for the Client that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Supervision – Claro will provide investment management and ongoing oversight of the Client's investment portfolio.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

Claro does not manage or place Client assets into a wrap fee program. Investment management services are provided directly by Claro.

E. Assets Under Management

As December 31, 2016, Claro manages approximately $175,559,676 in discretionary assets and $10,036,710 in non-discretionary assets, totaling $185,596,386. Clients may request more current information at any time by contacting the Advisor.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for services provided by the Advisor. Each Client shall sign one or more agreements that detail the responsibilities of Claro and the Client.

A. Fees for Advisory Services

Investment Management Services

Investment advisory fees are generally paid quarterly, in advance of each calendar quarter, at an annual rate of up to 1.00% of assets under management, pursuant to the terms of the Client's investment advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the average daily market value of the assets under management over the preceding quarter. Investment advisory fees for 401(k) and 403(b) accounts are paid quarterly in arrears and are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of each calendar quarter.

The investment advisory fee is based on the market value of assets at the end of the quarter and is prorated from the inception date of the account[s] to the end of the first quarter. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. The Client's fees will take into consideration the aggregate assets under management with Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by Claro will be independently valued by the Custodian. Claro will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

Use of Independent Managers

For Clients referred by the Advisor to an Independent Manager, the Client's fee will be separately billed by the respective managers.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Claro offers financial planning or consulting services on an hourly basis at a rate of up to $300 per hour or on a fixed fee basis, which may be negotiable depending on the nature and complexity of each Client's circumstances. An estimate for total hours and/or costs will be determined prior to establishing the advisory relationship. For these engagements, the Advisor shall complete all services within six (6) months.

Claro may also offer financial planning and consulting services based on an annual retainer. Retainer fees are quoted at the onset of the engagement and are fixed for at least one year. In general, fees for financial planning retainer arrangements may be negotiable depending on the nature and complexity of each Client's circumstances. Fees are billed quarterly, in advance of each calendar quarter, unless the annual fee is below $1,200 whereby the fees may be billed in advance for the year.

The Advisor's fee is exclusive of, and in addition to, brokerage fees, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses, which may be incurred by the Client. However, the Advisor shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs. The hourly fees are determined after considering many factors, such as the level and scope of the services.

B. Fee Billing

Investment Management Services

Investment advisory fees are calculated by the Advisor and deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the beginning of the quarter. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the average daily balance of the account assets under management with Claro over the preceding quarter. The amount due for 401(k) and 403(b) accounts is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the balance of the account assets under management with Claro at the end of each calendar quarter. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the investment advisory fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting Claro to be paid directly from their accounts held by the Custodian as part of the investment advisory agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Use of Independent Managers

For Clients referred by the Advisor to an Independent Manager, the Client's fee will be separately billed and deducted from the Client's account[s] with the respective manager.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Project-based planning and consulting engagements are invoiced by the Advisor and are due upon receipt of the agreed-upon deliverable. Annual/Ongoing Retainer fees are billed at a fixed annual rate, and generally payable quarterly upon completion of the initial financial plan and thereafter at the end of each calendar quarter. The Advisor will provide a detailed invoice to the Client regarding amounts due pursuant to their financial planning agreement.

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than Claro, in connection with investment made on behalf of the Client's account(s). The Client is responsible for all custody and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian. The investment advisory fee charged by Claro is separate and distinct from these custody and execution fees.

In addition, all fees paid to Claro for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. A Client could invest in these products directly, without the services of Claro, but would not receive the services provided by Claro which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate to each Client's financial situation and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund(s) and the fees charged by Claro to fully understand the total fees to be paid.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Investment Management Services

Claro is compensated for its services in advance of the quarter in which the investment advisory services are rendered. Either party may terminate an investment advisory agreement, at any time, by providing written notice to the other party. The Client shall be responsible for investment advisory fees up to and including the effective date of termination. Upon termination, the Advisor will refund any unearned, prepaid investment advisory fees from the effective date of termination to the end of the quarter. The Client's investment advisory agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without Client's prior consent.

Use of Independent Managers

In the event that a Client should wish to terminate their relationship with the Independent Manager, the terms for termination will be set forth in the respective agreements between the Client and that Independent Manager. Claro will assist the Client with the termination and transition as appropriate.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Claro may be compensated for its financial planning and consulting services in advance providing services. Either party may terminate a planning or consulting agreement at any time by providing written notice to the other party. In addition, the Client may terminate the agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's financial planning or consulting agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. Refunds will be given on a pro-rata basis. The Client's financial planning agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without Client's prior consent.

E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

Claro does not buy or sell securities to generate commission income for any Client accounts. Claro is compensated through the investment advisory fees noted above. However, certain advisory persons may earn additional compensation as described below.

Broker-Dealer Affiliation

Certain Advisory Persons are also registered representatives of Mutual Securities Inc. ("MSI"). MSI is a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 13092), member FINRA, SIPC. In one's separate capacity as a registered representative of MSI, an Advisory Person may implement securities transactions under MSI and not through Claro. In such instances, an Advisory Person will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by an Advisory Person in one's capacity as a registered representative is separate and in addition to Claro's advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because Advisory Persons who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Client. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by Advisory Persons. Neither the Advisor nor Advisory Persons will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any products or services implemented in the Advisory Person's separate capacity as a registered representative. Please see Item 10.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Claro does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by Claro are as described in Item 5 – Fees and Compensation above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

Claro does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to recommend any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Claro offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates and businesses. The relative percentage of each type of Client is available on Claro's Form ADV Part 1. These percentages will change over time. Claro generally does not impose a minimum account size for establishing a relationship.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

Claro primarily employs fundamental analysis in developing investment strategies for its Clients. Research and analysis from Claro is derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, and review of company activities, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. These criteria are generally ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included in "Item 13 - Review of Accounts".

As noted above, Claro generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. Claro will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, Claro may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

B. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. Claro will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs")

Investing in Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs") involves certain distinct risks in addition to those risks associated with investing in the real estate industry in general. Equity REITs may be affected by changes in the value of the underlying property owned by the REITs, while mortgage REITs may be affected by the quality of credit extended. REITs are subject to heavy cash flow dependency, default by borrowers and self-liquidation. REITs, especially mortgage REITs, are also subject to interest rate risk (i.e., as interest rates rise, the value of the REIT may decline).

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The Advisor will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor. For more information on our investment management services, please contact us at (800) 604-2838 or via email at info@claroadvisors.com.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving Claro or any of its Supervised Persons. Claro and its advisory personnel value the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider in which you partner. Our backgrounds are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or CRD# 160294.. You may also research the backgrounds of Claro's Investment Adviser Representatives by searching with their full name or Individual CRD#. Individual CRD#s for each Investment Advisor Representative are listed herein on the individual's Form ADV 2B.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer Affiliation

As noted in Item 5.E., certain Advisory Persons of Claro are also registered representatives of MSI. In their separate capacity as registered representatives, these Advisory Persons will typically receive commissions for the implementation of recommendations for commissionable transactions. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by the Advisor or its Advisory Persons. Neither Claro nor its Advisory Persons will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any services implemented in an Advisory Person's separate capacity as a registered representative. Commissionable securities transactions are primarily implemented through MSI when a fee-based product cannot be implemented or serviced through Claro as a registered investment advisor.

Insurance Agency Affiliations

Certain Advisory Persons of Claro are also licensed insurance professionals. Implementations of insurance recommendations are separate and apart from an Advisory Person's role with Claro. As an insurance professional, an Advisory Person may receive customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products are sold. Advisory Persons are not required to offer the products of any particular insurance company. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This may cause a conflict of interest in recommending certain products. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor or any of its supervised persons.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

Claro has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code of Ethics applies to all persons associated with Claro (our "Supervised Persons"). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. Claro and its Supervised Persons owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of Claro Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code of Ethics covers a range of topics that may address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of our Code of Ethics, please contact us at (800) 604-2838 or via email at info@claroadvisors.com.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

Claro allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Claro does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. Claro does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

Claro allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a potential conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted, consistent with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, a Code of Ethics, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons of Claro may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by Claro requiring reporting of personal securities trades by its Supervised Persons for review by the Supervised Person's supervisor or the Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO"). We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While Claro allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterwards. At no time, will Claro or any Supervised Person of Claro, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian(s)

Claro does not maintain custody of the Client assets that we manage, although we may be deemed to have custody if Clients give us authority to withdraw assets from their accounts (see Item 15: “Custody”). Client assets must be maintained in an account at a “qualified custodian,” generally a broker-dealer. In the event that the Client requests that Claro recommend a broker-dealer/custodian (“Custodian”) for custody and execution services (exclusive of those Clients that may direct us to use a specific broker-dealer/custodian), Claro generally recommends that investment management accounts be maintained at National Financial Services LLC and Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (collectively, and together with all affiliates, “Fidelity”), a registered broker-dealer and member SIPC through which provides Claro with “institutional platform services.” (See “Products and Services” below).

Claro is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Fidelity. Fidelity will hold Client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we so instruct. While we request that Clients use Fidelity as the Custodian, Clients will decide whether to do so and will open their accounts with Fidelity by entering into an account agreement directly with them. Claro does not open the account for Clients, although we may assist in doing so. Claro does not require Clients to use Fidelity or any particular Custodian selected by the Advisor. Even though an account is maintained at Fidelity, we can still use other brokers to execute trades for the account as described below (see “Brokerage and Custody Costs,” below).

How We Select Brokers/Custodians

Claro seeks to select the Custodian who will hold assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds {ETFs}, etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate prices
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability
- Prior service to us and other Clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us

Brokerage and Custody Costs

The Custodian generally does not charge Clients separately for custody services, but is compensated by charging Clients commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into the Clients’ account. Claro negotiates the commission rates with each custodian/broker-dealer.

For each Client trade executed through a broker-dealer who is not the custodian broker-dealer, the custodian charges the Client a flat dollar amount as a “prime broker” or “trade away” fee. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation Clients pay the executing broker-dealer.

It is Claro’s responsibility to seek the most favorable terms reasonably available under the circumstances for the execution of Clients’ securities transactions (best execution). In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not always the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best quality of execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealers’ services. (For example, execution capability, commission rates, responsiveness, and other factors described above. See “How We Select Brokers/Custodians”). Accordingly, although Claro will seek competitive rates, we may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for Client account transactions. If Claro determines that the quality and services warrant it, a Client may pay a commission that is higher than another custodian might have charged to effect the same transaction.

The brokerage fees charged by the custodian/broker-dealer are exclusive of, and in addition to, Claro’s investment management fee.

Consistent with our on-going responsibility to provide best execution, we will periodically and systematically evaluate the performance the Custodian executing the Client's transactions.

Products and Services Available to Us from Fidelity

Fidelity provides Claro and the Clients with access to its institutional brokerage - trading, custody, reporting, and related services - many of which are not typically available to Fidelity retail customers. Fidelity also makes available various support services. Some of those services help Claro manage or administer Clients' accounts, while others help Claro manage and grow our business. Fidelity's support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (Claro does not have to request them) and at no charge as long as Clients maintain their assets in accounts at Fidelity. Following is a more detailed description of Fidelity's support services:

Services That Benefit You

Fidelity's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of Client assets. The investment products available through Fidelity include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by the Clients, such as access to many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other institutional share class (no-load) funds at nominal transaction charges. Fidelity's services described in this paragraph generally benefit Clients and their accounts.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You

Fidelity also makes available to us other products and services that benefit the firm but may not directly benefit Clients or their accounts. These products and services assist us in managing and administering Clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Fidelity's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of the Clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Fidelity. In addition to investment research, Fidelity also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provide access to Client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple Client accounts
- Provide pricing and other market data
- Facilitate payment of our fees from the Clients' accounts
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and Client reporting

Services That Generally Benefit Only Us

Fidelity also offers other services intended to help Claro manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession

Fidelity may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to Claro. Fidelity may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees.

Our Interest in Fidelity's Services

The availability of these services from Fidelity benefits Claro because we do not have to produce or purchase them. Claro does not have to pay for Fidelity's services so long as Clients maintain their assets in accounts at Fidelity. Beyond that, these services are not contingent upon Claro committing any specific amount of business to Fidelity in trading commissions or assets in custody.

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker in exchange for research and other services. Claro does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer.
2. Brokerage Referrals - Claro does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing a brokerage account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a “directed brokerage basis”, where Claro will place trades within the established account(s) at the custodian designated by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective brokerage account(s). The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor’s own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client’s account(s)). In selecting the custodian, Claro will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the designated custodian.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. Claro will execute its transactions through the Custodian as directed by the Client. Claro may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular Client accounts.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by their IAR at Claro and periodically by the CCO. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually or more or less frequently depending on the needs of the Client.

B. Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted in Item 13.A., each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client’s request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client’s financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client’s account[s]. The Client is encouraged to notify Claro if changes occur in his/her personal financial situation that might adversely affect his/her investment plan. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

C. Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian’s website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client’s account(s). The Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations, and performance.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by Claro

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

Claro has established an institutional relationship with Fidelity to assist the Advisor in managing Client accounts. Access to the Fidelity Institutional platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The Advisor receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Fidelity.

The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor’s recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, the Advisor may receive the following benefits from Fidelity: receipt of duplicate Client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for Client order entry and account information.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

Claro does not engage paid solicitors for Client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

Claro generally does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of investment advisory fees. All Clients must place their assets with a “qualified custodian”. Clients are required to engage the Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct Claro to the Custodian for the Client’s security transactions. Claro encourages Clients to review statements provided by the Custodian. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see “Item 12 - Brokerage Practices”.

For certain Clients, Advisory Persons of Claro serve as a Trustee over the Clients assets. This level of service results in Claro having custody over these assets based on the signatory authority provided to Claro’s Advisory Person. Annually, Claro engages an independent audit firm to perform a surprise examination to ensure the safeguarding of the Client assets held in these accounts.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Claro generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by Claro. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of an investment advisory agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by Claro will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Claro does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Neither Claro, nor its management has any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of Claro to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither Claro, nor any of its advisory persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. Claro is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the firm does not collect fees of $1,200 for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

CLTC - Certified in Long-Term Care

CLTC stands for "Certified in Long-Term Care," a designation granted by the Corporation for Long-Term Care Certification. CLTC graduates have completed a rigorous multidisciplinary course that focuses on the profession of long-term care planning. The program is recognized by state regulators, through the granting of continuing education credits, as having provided essential information necessary to the appropriate sale of long-term care insurance. Candidates must complete the CLTC Master Class (two-day course or eLearning course) and an examination. In order to ensure that CLTC graduates are up-to-date on the latest information in the Long-Term Care Industry, CLTC has two graduate requirements. Graduates are required to take a continuing education course every two years.

Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor ("CRPC®")

Individuals who hold the CRPC® designation have completed a course of study encompassing pre-and post-retirement needs, asset management, estate planning and the entire retirement planning process using models and techniques from real client situations. Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations. All designees have agreed to adhere to Standards of Professional Conduct and are subject to a disciplinary process. Designees renew their designation every two-years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming adherence to the Standards of Professional Conduct and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

- Apply in-depth knowledge in a holistic manner from a variety of disciplines; namely, estate planning, retirement planning or non-qualified deferred compensation.

The Chartered Life Underwriter ("CLU®")

The Chartered Life Underwriter® (CLU®) is a designation of insurance expertise, helping gain a significant advantage in a competitive market. This course of study helps by providing in-depth knowledge on the insurance needs of individuals, business owners and professional clients.

Program Learning Objectives

- Provide guidance to clients on types and amounts of life insurance needed
- Make recommendations on aspects of risk management, including personal and business uses of a variety of insurance solutions
- Provide guidance to clients on legal aspects of life insurance contracts and beneficiaries
- Assist clients in making decisions about estate planning, including proper holding of assets and title to assets, as well as the implications of various wills and trust arrangements on financial, retirement and succession planning issues
- Provide a holistic and comprehensive approach to addressing the insurance planning needs of their clients

Accredited Investment Fiduciary ("AIF®")

The AIF® mark is held by the Center for Fiduciary Studies, LLC, a Fiduciary360 (fi360) company.

The professional designations awarded by fi360 demonstrate the focus on all the components of a comprehensive investment process, related fiduciary standards of care, and commitment to excellence. AIF® designees undergo an initial training program, annual continuing education, and pledge to abide by the designation's code of ethics.

Since October 2002, the Accredited Investment Fiduciary® (AIF®) designation has been the mark of commitment to a standard of investment fiduciary excellence. Those who earn the AIF® mark successfully complete a specialized program on investment fiduciary standards of care and subsequently passed a comprehensive examination. AIF® designees demonstrate a thorough understanding of fi360's Prudent Practices for investment advisors and stewards.

Item 3 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, civil or disciplinary events to disclose regarding Mr. Tomita. Mr. Tomita has never been involved in any regulatory, civil or criminal action. There have been no client complaints, lawsuits, arbitration claims or administrative proceedings against Mr. Tomita.

Securities laws require an advisor to disclose any instances where the advisor or its advisory persons have been found liable in a legal, regulatory, civil or arbitration matter that alleges violation of securities and other statutes; fraud; false statements or omissions; theft, embezzlement or wrongful taking of property; bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; and/or dishonest, unfair or unethical practices. As previously noted, there are no legal, civil or disciplinary events to disclose regarding Mr. Tomita.

However, we do encourage you to independently view the background of Mr. Tomita on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with his full name or his Individual CRD# 737047.

Item 4 – Other Business Activities

Broker-Dealer Affiliation

Mr. Tomita is also a registered representative of MSI. In his separate capacity as registered representative, Mr. Tomita will typically receive commissions for the implementation of recommendations for commissionable transactions. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by Mr. Tomita. Neither Claro nor Mr. Tomita will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any services implemented in Mr. Tomita's separate capacity as a registered representative. Commissionable securities transactions are primarily implemented through MSI when a fee-based product cannot be implemented or serviced through Claro as a registered investment advisor.

Insurance Agency Affiliations

Mr. Tomita is also a licensed insurance professional. Implementations of insurance recommendations are separate and apart Mr. Tomita's role with Claro. As an insurance professional, Mr. Tomita may receive customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products are sold. Mr. Tomita is not required to offer the products of any particular insurance company. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This may cause a conflict of interest in recommending certain products of the insurance companies. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by Mr. Tomita or the Advisor.

Item 5 – Additional Compensation

Mr. Tomita has additional business activities that are detailed in Item 4 above.

Item 6 – Supervision

Mr. Tomita serves as an Investment Advisor Representative of Claro and is supervised by Jennifer Street, the Chief Compliance Officer. Jennifer Street can be reached at (800) 604-2838.

Claro has implemented a Code of Ethics and internal compliance that guide each Supervised Person in meeting their fiduciary obligations to Clients of Claro. Further, Claro is subject to regulatory oversight by various agencies. These agencies require registration by Claro and its Supervised Persons. As a registered entity, Claro is subject to examinations by regulators, which may be announced or unannounced. Claro is required to periodically update the information provided to these agencies and to provide various reports regarding the business activities and assets of the Advisor.

Privacy Policy – Effective March 31, 2017

Our Commitment to You

Claro Advisors, LLC (“Claro” or the “Advisor”) is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our Clients (also referred to as “you” and “your”) that we obtain as your Investment Advisor, as described here in our Privacy Policy (“Policy”).

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. Claro (also referred to as “we”, “our” and “us”) protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information we have and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

Claro does not sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discrete and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisors (“RIAs”) must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What information do we collect from you?

Social security or taxpayer identification number	Assets and liabilities
Name, address and phone number(s)	Income and expenses
E-mail address(es)	Investment activity
Account information (including other institutions)	Investment experience and goals

What Information do we collect from other sources?

Custody, brokerage and advisory agreements	Account applications and forms
Other advisory agreements and legal documents	Investment questionnaires and suitability documents
Transactional information with us or others	Other information needed to service account

How do we protect your information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use we maintain physical, procedural and electronic security measures. These include such safeguards as secure passwords, encrypted file storage and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. Our associates are trained on their responsibilities to protect Client’s personal information.

We require third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

How do we share your information?

An RIA shares Client personal information to effectively implement its services. In the section below, we list some reasons we may share your personal information.
